Three new meet records were established in the tournament that attracted an entry list of more than 400 athletes from 49 schools. In addition to Gigler's new mark in the broad jump, Mickey Lodoen of Bottineau set a new pole vault mark of 11 feet, 9¼ inches; and Tom Holgrem of New Rockford set a shot put record with a heave of 51 feet, 6¼ inches.

Trailing the Moorhead Spuds in the team-point totals were Fargo Central, 19; Grand Forks Central, 18½; Fargo Oak Grove, 10½; and Browns Valley, 9.

The Prowlers, who had seventeen entrants in the meet, failed to garner a point. Coach Rod Max, who announced that a triangular meet with Fosston and Mahnomen will be held here on Saturday, stated that he was encouraged by the performance of Gary Glungness in the dash events; Rick Wold in the 440-yard run; Arvid Lee and Don Rumstrom in the pole vault; Paul Klungness in the broad jump; and Don Nicholson in the low hurdles.

To Start Mental Health Week May 1

State Group Sponsors Annual Observance

Over 50 public agencies and community organizations thruout Minnesota will join the Minnesota Association for Mental Health and its 16 county chapters in observing Mental Health Week, May 1-7, it was announced this week.

Mental Health Week is a traditional observance carried on annually across the nation to alert the public to the importance of mental health programs and problems in this country, and to help citizens understand why mental illness is America's number one health problem. It will launch a month-long campaign for funds to support the work of MAMH, a non-profit volunteer organization.

Representatives from official government agencies, state hospitals, clinics, educational groups, libraries, churches and all other media of community life have been urged to promote special programs in their groups during Mental Health Week to help the public to become better acquainted with mental health in Minnesota.

During the week citizens will have the opportunity to visit several of Minnesota's state mental hospitals in the second year of the project known as "Operation Friendship." They will hear addresses by leaders in the mental health field and learn what is being done to fight mental illness in the state.

Honors for Sandy

The current May issue of Sports Afield magazine carries the All-America trapshooting squads as selected by Jimmy Robinson. The Sunday Minneapolis Tribune, in an article by Robinson, also mentioned the All-America trapshooting squads. And named to the second team in the Junior division was Stan (Sandy) Wilson of the local club.

To our knowledge, it is the first time that a local trapshooter has been honored by an All-America rating by Robinson. We may be in error on this, and it may be that A. F. (Jack) Jones, during the years that he resided here and participated in the Vandalia, Ohio, trapshooting events, may have gained recognition by Robinson. We know for a fact that Jones one year won the Grand American preliminary event, a 200-target shoot, and that feat surely must have gained recognition.

But Sandy's selection to the All-America squad is well-merited. He has been very active in league shooting here, and, together with his dad, Stan, Sr., he has participated in a number of trap shoots in this area. And in addition, the two have "shot" the Grand at Vandalia the past two years.

The High Gun

The Thief River Trap Shoot club held its annual meeting and awards night on Thursday, and a good time was had by all.

Various merit patches were awarded to shooters who had gained fame during the league season by marking up 25's and 50's. We should mention, though, that Cy Schantzen, a member of the high-average Wilson Bros. squad, was the "high gun" for the season. It marks the second successive year that Cy led the league in high-average shooting. And it's not an empty honor to be the "high gun" for the Thief River Trap club.

And we must mention, too, that a special award was made to Gene Raer, a member of Dr. Jim Diase' trapshootin squad. Bob Baker, also a member of the club, made the presentation to Gene in recognition of Gaer's fondness for pancakes, and that Gaer can spend an entire day in the deer-hunting woods with only a pancake in his lunch kit. The award, of course, was a small pancake. From now on, Gene will be known as Pancake Gaer.

It Was Costly

The baseball Prowlers paid dearly for their 18-0 win over the Goodridge Huskies in the schedule-opening game on Friday afternoon. In the 4th inning, while making a successful steal of third base, Jack Goulet tumbled heavily and dislocated his left shoulder.

Jack, who is one of the finest competitors in Prowler athletics, and who was showing excellent desire in his efforts to aid the Prowler baseball squad, will be out of action for three or four weeks. Jack was playing at first base in the opener against the Huskies but coach Ralph Skay had planned on using Goulet on the mound in a number of games.

The Prowlers will make their second start of the young season this evening, Monday, when at 6:00 P.M., they meet the Argyle Eagles on the Fair Grounds diamond. Veteran righthander Arlan Hjelle will get the hurling assignment against the highly-rated Argyle club.

On Wednesday, with game time marked for 5:00 P.M. at Red Lake Falls' Riverside diamond, the Prowlers will play the Red Lake Falls Eagles. Sophomore Jim Weckwerth, a righthander, will probably be given the pitching duties against the Eagles.

Bemidji College Band Plans 3-day Tour April 26-28

Music ranging from the light opera to popular marches and symphony will be brought to high schools of five north central Minnesota communities April 26-28 by the Bemidji State college band.

The 70 piece band under the direction of Edgar B Gangware will play to nearly 6000 students with the first concert being Tuesday morning at Pine River, Tuesday afternoon they will play at Staples, Wednesday morning Parkers Prairie, Wednesday afternoon at Fergus Falls and the final concert will be Thursday morning at Detroit Lakes.

Soloists on the tour will be Duane Johnson, International Falls, trombone; Noel Gagnon, International Falls, bassoon; Wayne Wegge, Thief River Falls, timpani; David Naylor, Bemidji, trombone.

9th Dist. Convention of DFL Scheduled at Detroit Lakes Apr. 30

Ray Hemenway, state DFL chairman, today announced the dates and locations of DFL district conventions, including the Ninth district meeting, which will be held in the Detroit Lakes high school auditorium Saturday, April 30, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Hemenway stated that the district conventions will elect district officers and endorse congressional candidates. In addition, each district will recommend two persons to the state chairman to serve on the state convention committees including rules, platform, credentials, nominating, endorsements, and constitution.

Each district will also recommend to the state convention four persons, with ½ vote each as delegates to the national convention, plus two alternate delegates. Alternate votes may not be halved. The remaining delegates and alternates, according to Hemenway, will be elected at large at the state convention. Minnesota has 31 votes at the national convention.

Other business of the District Conventions includes the election of one elector to serve on the electoral college as well as to consider the proposed state platform and to formulate resolutions to present to the state convention.

Interest Rates on Price Support Loans Unchanged

3½ Per Cent Rate Applies to All Loan Repayments Made by Maturity Date

The interest rate charged producers on 1960 crop price-support loans will continue at 3½ per cent per year on all loan repayments received by the regular nonrecourse loan maturity dates, the Department of Agriculture has announced.

A. E. Strandquist, office manager, Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, points out that this rate applies to nonrecourse loans and to that part of a recourse loan which is repaid by the regular maturity date. Application of the 3½ per cent rate to recourse loans if repaid during the regular loan period is designed primarily to encourage early payment of these loans.

On recourse loans, which were authorized by recent legislation limiting nonrecourse price support to $50,000, the rate will be 6 per cent per year on the portion of these loans not repaid by the regular maturity date.

Recourse loans must be repaid with interest, but they do not have to be repaid until a full year after the last date for obtaining loans for each of the commodities. The regular nonrecourse loans can be satisfied by forfeiture of the collateral securing the loan, and interest is charged only on the principal repaid.

Under the law, nonrecourse price support is limited to $50,000 on those commodities determined to be in surplus supply. However, any person may obtain unlimited nonrecourse support if he reduces his 1960 prodution of the commodity by 20 per cent below his 1959 production, and any person may obtain recourse loans for any excess over $50,000 without reducing his production but the excess amount advanced must be repaid in full with interest.

Crops determined to be in surplus under this provision of law include wheat, barley, grain sorghums, oats, flaxseed, soybeans, corn and rye.

Crop Surpluses Worth $2.6 Billion Sold During 1959

CCC's Investment in Inventories, However, Increased Last Year

Farm commodities with a cost value of $2.6 billion were moved out of government inventories during the 1959 fiscal year, according to the annual report of the Commodity Credit Corporation, which finances the price support program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

More of these commodities were disposed of through straight sales for dollars than by any other means. Smaller amounts were represented by sales for foreign currency, donations, barter, transfers to other government agencies and payments in-kind under export programs.

CCC's investment in price support loans and inventories totaled $8.0 billion at the end of the 1959 fiscal year, the report shows.

This is an increase of $1.6 billion from the amount invested a year earlier. All CCC program operations combined, including the price support program for the fiscal year 1959, showed a net loss of just over $1 billion, about $150 million less than the net loss for the previous year.

Earlier Weaning of Calves Possible

Tests Show Possibility, County Agent Reports

It may be possible to wean dairy calves earlier than is usually the practice, states County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

In several recent trials, University of Minnesota dairy cattle researchers took calves off all liquid feeds at 28 days of age.

The calves continued to grow well and stayed as healthy as would have been expected if they ahd stayed on milk or milk replacer. They had gained about a half pound per day up to weaning, and by six weeks of age were averaging about a pound per day.

Early weaning can mean more economical calf feeding and would be much more convenient for many farmers.

Most dairy farmers wean calves between six and eight weeks of age, although calves are usually eating quite a bit of dry feed and hay by that time.

The calves in the early weaning trials were fed 8 lbs. milk daily until four days old, and received 4 lbs. milk and 4.4 lbs. of liquid milk replacer from then until 10 days old. From 11 days of age until weaning at 28 days, the researchers gave the calves 11 lbs. of liquid milk replacer each day, and dry calf starter and alfalfa hay.

Starting the 29th day, the calves received no more liquids except water.

The trials were conducted by dairy husbandmen W. A. Olson and J. B. Williams on the St. Paul campus and Kenneth Miller, animal husbandman at the Southern Experiment station at Waseca.

W. E. Peterson to Retire from 'U' M. Post in June

William E. Petersen, internationally known professor of dairy husbandry, will retire from the University of Minnesota in June.

In his 39 years at the University, the colorful Pine City, Minn., native has advanced a number of new findings and principles on milk and milk production — findings noted around the world. He has been a speaker on dairying and dairy research in all but two states and in more than a dozen other nations.

"Doc Pete" as he is known received several major awards including knighthood from the King of Denmark.

Bishop L. A. Glenn Takes Charge of Crookston Diocese

Installed Wednesday as Successor to Bishop Schenk, Now of Duluth

In a symbolic ceremony dating back to the birth of the Catholic church in this country, Bishop Laurence A. Glenn was formally installed as the fourth Bishop of the Crookston diocese Wednesday.

His actual, or canonical, possession of the diocese was completed however when he presented his letters of appointment to the consultors on the eve of the ceremony.

Present to watch Archbishop William O. Brady of St Paul conduct the official installation were 173 clergy, 140 sisters, relatives and lay representatives from the diocese churches.

More than 500 persons packed the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception as Msgr. Victor Cardin, chancellor of the diocese, read documents appointing Bishop Glenn to his new post and Archbishop Brady conducted the enthronement, handing the new bishop his crosier—symbol of his office.

Bishop Glenn replaced Bishop Francis J. Schenk, who was installed as the fourth Bishop of Duluth Tuesday.

Archbishop Brady told the diocese that "whatever changes affect a diocese, and however these may be occasioned by time or death or health or pressure of catholic needs, such (choice) ever come about capriciously. No man assumes the office of bishop for himself."

Better Road Signs Reduce Accidents

Experience in Michigan Is Cited by State AAA

Modern, easy-to-read signs not only help to prevent motorist confusion, but can also be an important factor in reducing accidents, injuries and deaths, E. Ray Cory, Austin, president of the Minnesota AAA, declared today.

Cory based his statement on an extended analysis of re-signing operations on Michigan trunk highways.

"With the improved signs in place," he said, "before-and-after studies for one and two year periods showed these amazing results:

Accidents were reduced by about 65 per cent, injuries were cut by 75 per cent while fatalities at the six points studied were cut from four to none!"

"Better structures and more liberal use of paint are unquestionably great aids to accident prevention," Cory added "The high accident areas in Minnesota should be studied to determine whether this low-cost means of accident prevention should be adopted where modern road signs haven't been installed."

A Minnesota highway department official said the state has had reflectorized signs for many years and the trend has been toward larger road signs.

"Our aim has been to create road signs — especially at dangerous intersections and when approaching the new interchanges — which will leave no doubt in the driver's mind at what he should do to make the right driving decision," the highway department spokesman added.

U.S. Fire Losses Rose Last Month

Estimated fire losses in the United States during March amounted $116,365,000, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported Thursday.

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NFBU's general manager, this loss represents an increase of 16.8 per cent over losses of $99,610,000 reported for March 1959, and an increase of 20.2 per cent over losses of $96,782,000 for last February.

Losses for the first three months of 1960 now total $306,098,000, a decrease of 1.5 per cent from the first three months of 1959, when they amounted to $310,713,000.

A Deserving Solicitation

Minnesota colleges, 17 of them, are conducting a "Phon-O-rama" this week. A Phon-O-rama, as we understand it, is an appeal by telephone to the alumni to make much-needed contributions to the schools from which they graduated. Many thousands of these graduates will be reminded by telephone calls that the old school has problems that require more dollars. There are needs for expansion to provide adequately for the increasing demands of our growing population.

Most of these schools are privately operated, sponsored by religious organizations. They serve a very important need, at no cost to the taxpayer. By the nature of their operations they reduce substantially the cost of higher education in the state to the taxpayer. As a group, the members of the faculties of these schools are dedicated people.

Such an appeal for financial support should meet with an appreciative response from members of the alumni. Those who attended as students were the beneficiaries of sacrifices that had been made by many who had contributed to the maintenance and support of the school.

And whether or not we attended these privately operated schools and are members of their alumni, as taxpayers we owe them a vote of thanks, and a little cash contribution to make possible a continuation of their good service to the people of the state.

Who's Fooling Who?

A recent DFL advertisement stated that "every Minnesota taxpayer would be receiving an income tax refund amounting to 75 per cent of the income tax he paid this year" if the legislature had passed a withholding bill. That is so obviously untrue that it hardly deserves recognition, but we have found a few people who believe it and so maybe there is justification for stating the facts, just to keep the record straight, as Al Smith often remarked.

In the first place "withholding" would have applied only to people on payrolls.

In the second place, "withholding" would have forced these people on payrolls to pay three years taxes in two years. The forgiveness provision that Governor Freeman has so vigorously opposed, would have forgiven a part of that extra year's tax. "Withholding" would not have meant a tax cut for anyone. Those on payrolls would pay substantially more during the first two years. Partial forgiveness would have reduced this increase, but there still would have been an increase.

And as it has turned out we all know now that our state income tax has been increased a half of one per cent in each bracket. And there will be more tax increases as the bigger bills that the spenders have contracted come due.

Governor Freeman's interest in "withholding" has been the extra revenue windfall of 25 or 30 million dollars that would come to the state during the two years when people on payrolls would be paying three years' taxes. Who's fooling who?

De Gaulle Impressive

President Charles de Gaulle made a good impression at his appearance at the National Press Club Saturday. As reported by Jack Wilson, Minneapolis Tribune staff correspondent, "500 reporters, few of whom understood French, listened in perfect silence while de Gaulle explained his position in his own language. The translation of his answers to questions made it clear that he wasn't peddling panaceas for all the problems of the world." Continued Wilson:

"There aren't any easy answers, he said, and if some are discovered finally they are sure to arise in ways that can't even be imagined now.

"The best he could predict for the summit conference in Paris next month was that it might lead to some small progress toward a method of solving such questions as disarmament and the fate of Berlin.

"If so, he said, 'There will be a gradual change in the relations of the East and the West, and solutions to the world today may begin to appear.'

"What came out of the press conference was not a prescription to cure all the ailments of the world, but the picture of a statesman who has examined the problems with care and logic on the premise that they can't be solved until they are understood.

"One of the problems is Russia's Premier Khrushchev, with whom de Gaulle recently had long talks in Paris. Was Khrushchev really a man of good will, one of the questioners wanted to know.

"'Khrushchev is a man who has struggled in behalf of his ideals,' de Gaulle said. He is a great personality, who has been marked by his struggles. He sees that the problems of the world are not as simple now that he has attained his present position, as they seemed when looked at from only one point of view.

"'Russia could not be represented by a man who better expresses the state of the Soviet Union today, which is different than it was yesterday, and will again be different tomorrow.'

"But what de Gaulle said made less impression on his news conference audience than the great dignity and sincerity with which he said it.

"It helped explain why the French people accepted his rewriting of the constitution and gave him almost unlimited power as an individual, simply because he assured them there was no other way to save the country."

Twilight of Empires

Winston Churchill lived to see the decline and fall of the British Empire that he had defended both as a soldier and as a statesman, but the "liquidation" of that Empire, that he looked forward to as a great disaster, has turned out to be a very fortunate development for the people of Britain. England, without an empire, has never been more prosperous.

Writing in the Wall Street Journal, William Henry Chamberlin points up the fact that the end of colonialism has not been beneficial to the native populations of the countries that were colonized and now are independent. Here are a few of his interesting observations on the old theory and the new experience.

"The Nineteenth Century system of overseas empire is hurrying to its end. Events have been running ahead of the tentative timetables set for handing over of former colonies to native rule.

"And, as the twilight of empire deepens (except in the large area of Eastern and Central Europe that is under Soviet domination) the long established imperial myth is in process of being completely discredited.

"On one point staunch conservatives who believed in imperialism as a beneficent civilizing process agreed with extreme revolutionists like Lenin, who dreamed of sweeping away capitalism and all its works, among which he gave a prominent place to imperialism.

"Without their colonies, so it was argued, Britain and France would be enormously impoverished. Small countries with big colonial empires, such as the Netherlands and Belgium, would face catastrophic difficulties of readjustment.

"Now the myth of empire as a great source of national enrichment has been put to the test. The former overseas empires are gone—or rapidly going. And the anticipated dire consequences for the former ruling nations have not occurred. It would be hard to find in the busy, prosperous Britain of today any evidence that the lowering of the British flag in India, Pakistan, Burma, Ceylon, Ghana and other former imperial possessions has brought any discomfort or inconvenience, except to a very limited number of individuals who may have found readjustment difficult after long terms of colonial service.

"Nor has the average Frenchman's standard of living suffered in the slightest degree because France is no longer the mandatory power in Syria and Lebanon, or the administrator of Indo-China. Industrialization has more than compensated the Netherlands for the loss of Indonesia. The ease with which Belgium accepted the demand of the natives of the Congo for independence is a proof that no very disastrous consequences are feared.

"Indeed, one sees just the reverse. Europe has never been so prosperous as at a time when its former colonial appendages were dropping like leaves in the autumn wind. And there is widespread complaint that the peoples who have been freed from "foreign exploitation" are getting poorer while the former colonial ruling countries have been getting richer.

"The truth of the matter is that, while some individuals have done well by themselves under the old colonial system, overseas possessions have long ceased to be an economic asset to the European governing powers, if, indeed, they ever were. Against the benefits of increased trade and access to raw materials in dependent areas (and the raw materials could usually be purchased just as cheaply in the world market) must be set the costs of civil administration and military policing and the substantial expenditures on public improvements and on long-range investments.

"It is an ironic twist of events that, on a purely dollars and cents basis, leaving out the intangible values of national independence, Europe can get along without its former colonies much more easily than these economically retarded countries can get on without European and other outside financial, economic and technical aid."

We noticed yesterday that the setting sun shone through the north windows. The calendar must be right. We are convinced that spring is here and, regardless of what the weather may be, we will not wear our sheepskin lined overcoat again until next fall. Sometimes we wonder if, with advancing years, we are becoming a crank on such matters.

There are rumors circulating around that Congress is considering pay increases for federal employees. We have no reports as to how the federal employees feel about this situation. We are sure, however, that if a poll were taken, a majority of them would be of the opinion that the present time they are not being adequately compensated for their time and effort. In this campaign year, it is not likely that Congress will vote salary increases for members of Congress.

Vienna Beer'burgers

Here's another tasty adventure in beer cookery. Take 1 pound ground beef
½ cup dry bread crumbs
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon garlic powder
2 tablespoons grated onion
½ cup beer
Mix all ingredients together lightly. Shape into 6 or 8 patties. Broil or pan-fry.

Early State Brewer

In 1896, just four years before the turn of the twentieth century, Reinar Hock and Charles Meeske founded a brewery, the Duluth Brewing & Malting Company, at the head of Lake Superior in Duluth. They called their beer "Royal Bohemian Beer," and today it carries the label "Royal 58." Like all Minnesota-made beers, it has held through the years to a high standard of quality. The recent head of the firm, the late Carl G. Meeske, was a son of one of the founders. Beginning with such pioneer brewing families, brewers in Minnesota have contributed a stability and growth to this state, until today about 100,000 persons depend directly and indirectly upon the brewing, distribution, and retail sale of beer in Minnesota.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

More Than Color Blind When It Comes to "Red"

"Red" Dolan has been going to painting class at night at the high school. They had an exhibition and we all went to see what Red had done.

Red's painting was one of the most beautiful there. We stared at it for the longest time, then all agreed it was a painting of a field close to town, and that it showed a woman in the distance who looked a lot like Red's wife. We congratulated our artist on his work. Red smiled, thanked us all, and was quite happy.

When he left, Slim Johnson noticed the title card by the painting. It read: "Storm Scene on The Lake" by Red Dolan.

From where I sit, there are often occasions when we don't see what we're really supposed to see. Why sometimes we can't even recognize intolerance when it comes along. For instance, if you begrudge me the right to an occasional glass of beer, that's as intolerant as if I denied you a glass of iced tea. Why don't we step back and take another look at intolerance and see it for what it is?

Cleanup Week to Be Noted May 2-7

Thief River Falls to Share in Statewide Observance of Week

Governor Orville L. Freeman has proclaimed May 2-7 as Clean-up Week in Minnesota. The executive proclamation was issued in support of the annual "sanitary inspection" of Minnesota communities by the state's nearly 1,000 health officers.

The governor urged all public and private agencies and citizens to help improve and maintain the health, safety and appearance of our communities and to support all programs designed to eliminate those health and safety problems which still confront this state. He also urged that these tasks be approached in a safe, systematic and sensible manner.

Mayor Orin Green and Dr. H. Paul Wendt, city health officer, announced today that Thief River Falls will cooperate in the designated week, and they called on all local citizens to put their premises in shipshape condition.

Under the state's health laws and regulations the health officer of each city and village must make a "thorough sanitary inspection" of his community in the month of May. He must present a written report of the inspection and his recommendations to the village council. A copy of the report is also sent to the Minnesota state board of health.

In signing the proclamation the governor stated that while one week each spring is singled

Strandquist Area People Ask Halt to Watershed Plans

Opposition to the Tamarac River Watershed application in its present form was voted at a meeting of 150 residents of the Strandquist area at a public meeting Thursday, April 21, in the school gymnasium and voters also asked that further planning be stopped immediately.

Those who attended heard Bill Henderson of Warren, county agent, present facts in the matter following the reading of a copy of the application for the watershed survey projects by Edwin Lefrooth, chairman of the meeting. Henderson also answered questions about the project.

Following the question and answer period, the group reached the decision that "we, as freeholders and residents of the upper area of the Tamarac River Watershed application for survey now pending and awaiting action by state and federal watershed authorities, after careful study believe that it would be of no benefit to us nor serve any good purpose in our area. We are aware of the fact that we will be required to pay a great share of the enormous cost of this project."

Voters at the meeting directed that proper measures be taken to let local, state and federal authorities know their decision.

State President Legion Auxiliary Speaks Saturday

Mrs. Gene Lindquist of Clarissa, Minn., department president of the American Legion auxiliary, will speak at a Ninth district auxiliary spring luncheon Saturday, April 30, at 1 p.m. in the Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls. Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, Ninth district president, will be in charge of the program.

Former Local Man Is St. Paul Mayor

George Vavoulis Defeats Labor Candidate Tuesday

Mayor-elect George J. Vavoulis of St. Paul lived in Thief River Falls as a boy, a biographical sketch of his life reveals. His parents came to this city where his father had relatives and found work as a railroad section hand. They lived here several years and left when son George was twelve years old.

That would be 37 years ago at about the time Roy Oen was in that age bracket. Anyone hereabouts have recollections of young George Vavoulis and his family?

Vavoulis, running as an independent and making his first venture in politics, defeated a labor-endorsed candidate by a margin of more than 7,000 votes.

Provide Cost Estimates on Surfacing Job

Council Preparing for Public Hearing Thursday, May 12

At an informal meeting of the city council Monday afternoon, April 25, the costs of surfacing streets between Fourth & Eighth sts. and from Main to Atlantic Aves. were examined and an estimate of assessments was set up.

Cost of the 17-block improvement project has been estimated at $32,000 with city equipment being used by street department personnel.

Total cost per lineal foot of street 40 feet wide was estimated by Bob Jablinske, street commissioner, and D. H. Stewart, consulting engineer, at $2.45. This figure included equipment costs of 78c per foot. After some discussion, council members agreed that the equipment costs should be deducted from the assessments, reducing the cost to benefited property owners to $1.65 per lineal foot of frontage.

Cost of any special equipment rented for the construction would be added to the assesments but this item of cost is expected to be small.

In addition to the assesaments for the lineal frontage of property on improved streets, the council agreed upon a formula to pay for side street improvement. Owners of corner lots would pay 50% of the total cost of surfacing the street on the side of their property and property owners in the middle of the block would each pay 25% of this improvement.

Curb and gutter costs for the small part of the area not already provided with this facility would be assessed against the benefited property owners. A new water main along Sixth st. from Main to Atlantic aves. is also planned.

A public hearing of affected property owners in this area has been scheduled for May 12 in the city Auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Plans Go Forward for Elks Youth Day

Plans are going forward for the annual Elks Youth Day festival Friday evening, May 6, in the Elks club rooms, following free roller skating in the arena from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Edwin Broughton, committee chairman, stated that high school students from Goodridge, Newfolden, Plummer, Middle River and Warren also have been invited to be guests at the party.

Lincoln high school students are voting today on a slate of candidates for honorary city offices proposed by senior high school instructors, there being four nominees each for mayor, municipal judge, police chief and fire chief. The winners will be inducted by their real life counterparts in a ceremony at the party at 9 p.m.

Hot dogs, sandwiches and pop will be served following the program, and dancing will continue until 11 p.m.

Area Music Festival Will Draw Over 3000

EXAMINATIONS of area children who have physical handicaps were conducted on Tuesday, April 26, at a field clinic sponsored by the crippled children's service of the Minnesota department of public welfare. Barry Evenstad, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Evenstad, 510½ Arnold ave. N., was weighed and measured by Marlene Kiemele of St. Hilaire, left, and Sylvia McCullough of Viking, two practical nursing students from the area vocational school. The clinic, held in the Trinity Lutheran church parish house, was sponsored by the Thief River Falls Womans' club.

Record Attendance Seen for Event Here Friday and Saturday

With additional registrations received this week, more than 3,000 high school musicians from throughout Northwestern Minnesota are expected to participate Friday and Saturday in the annual state area music festival at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, it was announced today by Joseph Iverson, high school director in charge of local arrangements for the event.

The total indicated is well in excess of the number sharing in any previous festival in this city, which has been host to the event for many years. More than 2,000 students will share in Saturday's program, when 64 large groups will perform, including 27 bands, 17 mixed choruses, 15 girls' glee clubs, four boys' glee clubs and one orchestra. On Friday 248 soloists and ensembles will be heard.

Sharing in the two-day event will be musicians from 52 schools in Region 8. Lincoln high school will be represented by the girls' glee club, boys' glee club, mixed choir, string trio and the following soloists: Mark Chommie, piano; Judy Wold, flute; Steve Embury, drum; Benjamin Martin and Don Stewart, baritone; and Richard Erickson, tenor.

A panel of ten authorities in various fields of music will judge the entries. Appraising the vocal offerings will be Prof. Carl Kittelson, Mankato State college; Prof. Leland Sateren, Augsburg college; Prof. Hywel C. Rowland, 'U' of North Dakota; and Dwight Sherwood, Grand Forks high school.

The instrumental numbers will be judged by Prof. Ronald Riggs, St. Cloud State college and former band instructor here; Lloyd Swartley, Duluth high school; Dr. Paul Ivory, 'U' of Minnesota; Dr. Donald Berglund, St. Olaf college; Henry Schuldt, Aitkin high school; and Don Campbell, Brainerd high school.

The public, Iverson stated, is welcome to attend any of the festival events, and there is no charge.

77 Lincoln Lettermen to Get Recognition at Banquet Next Monday

SPEAKER at the tenth annual banquet honoring Lincoln high school lettermen, to be held Monday evening, May 2, in the school cafeteria, will be Marv (Whitey) Helling, head football coach at the University of North Dakota.

With the ticket sale now in full swing, the outlook is for a large attendance at the tenth annual banquet in tribute to Lincoln high school athletes to be held Monday evening, May 2, at 6:30 in the school cafeteria, it was announced today by Roger Tunberg, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

A total of 77 letter winners in the various sports activities will be honored, together with cheerleaders and local coaches.

Guest speaker will be Marv Helling, football coach at the University of North Dakota, while Doug Tegtmeier, formerly of this city and now sports announcer at KNOX-TV in Grand Forks, will serve as toastmaster. Musical numbers will be supplied by Lincoln high school students.

Tickets are available at the Pharmacy, Parkins Corner Drugs and J&B Drugs. The banquet is being sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, Rotary and Lions.

Brownie Fly-up to Be held Monday in Washington Gym

Fifty-seven Brownies of the Thief River Falls area will receive their wings and Girl Scout pins at the annual "Fly Up" Monday evening, May 2, in the Washington school auditorium.

Mrs. L. G. Hetland is in charge of the program in which the fourth grade Brownies will become Girl Scouts. Leaders will pin on the wings as the girls fly up and Mrs. Frank Clinton will award the Girl Scout pins.

The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock and the public is invited.

CLOTHING for destitute refugees in the Far East, Middle East and other areas was again collected in Thief River Falls this year under the sponsorship of the Church World Service, Lutheran World Relief Organizations, Friends and the Brethren Service Center and will be distributed by government-licensed agencies. Harold G. Rasmussen, left, local chairman of the drive, and O. O. Hafdal, right, who worked in the city Auditorium receiving the contributions and readying them for shipment, are shown as they piled some of the boxes. The clothing was picked up Wednesday by a Hartz Wholesale company truck which took it to Grand Forks for loading into a train. Boy Scouts of the troop sponsored by the Zion Lutheran church loaded the truck.

4-H Play & Music Finals Tonight

The final county 4-H play and music contest will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Northrop school gym. Winners from three elimination centers will compete for the county title.

The winners at Goodridge were the Kratka play and Mavie music. The runner-up play was presented by the Deer Park club and Highlanding music number placed second.

The best actress was Faye Stucy from the Deer Park play. The best actor was Richard Parnow from the Kratka play.

At St. Hilaire the St. Hilaire club presented the top play and Rockabury was runner-up. In the music division Rocksbury took first place and St. Hilaire was second. The best actress was Mary Lynn Dryden from the Rocksbury play. The best actor was Terry Johnson from the Black River play.

Diane Winjum and John Cunningham Wed At Dallas

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Diane R. Winjum and John I. Cunningham April 22 in Highland Park Presbyterian Chapel of Dallas, Texas. Dr. Mohns officiated at the 5:30 p.m. ceremony with Sam Parker, organist, presenting the nuptial music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Winjum Sr. of Thief River Falls while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Cunningham of Odessa, Texas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a princess styled street length dress of white Alencon lace which featured a fitted bodice, flared skirt, short sleeves and a square neckline. A queen's crown of seed pearls held her shoulder length veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered mums, tulips and stephanotis.

Mrs. Marilyn Weigelt Anderson of Dallas, a friend of the bride, served as matron of honor wearing a street length dress of yellow organza with lace panels and carrying a bouquet of champagne feathered carnations.

Ralph Smith of Odessa, Texas, attended as best man with James Winjum Jr. of this city, brother of the bride, and Brough Hill of Odessa, seating the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Winjum chose a navy blue sheath with matching accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a beige sheath with matching accessories. They were presented corsages of white orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Cunningham entertained at a rehearsal dinner for the immediate families, attendants and friends at the Statler-Hilton hotel Thursday evening, April 21, at 8:00 and Mr. and Mrs. James Winjum Sr. entertained at the reception following the wedding for the wedding party and friends also at the Statler-Hilton hotel. Miss Ruth Pittman of Dallas, friend of the bride, served as hostess with Miss Marsha Larson of Sandstone, Minn., in charge of the guest book.

For their trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, the bride chose a yellow and white knit suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Cunningham is a graduate of the University of North Dakota and was president of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and a member of Pan Hellenic Council, Women's League and secretary of Delta Psi Kappa. For the past two and a half years she has been a hostess for Braniff Airlines.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Texas and is employed by Wesco and Warnit of Dallas.

Hjelle-Stromberg Vows Are Read At Newfolden Apr 23

Rev. Eldor Oscarson officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony Saturday, April 23, in Bethlehem Lutheran church in Newfolden which united Carolyn Eloise Hjelle of Newfolden and Gerald Lloyd Stromberg of Strandquist in holy matrimony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Hjelle of Newfolden, while the bridegroom's mother is Mrs. Richard Weller of Strandquist.

The church organist, Audrey Martin, played the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Karen Carlson, as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown of white lace and tiered net over taffeta and wore a fingertip veil. Her colonial bouquet was of red carnations centered with a pink rose.

Attending as maid of honor was Darlene Stromberg of Viking, cousin of the bridegroom. Her formal was of nile green net over taffeta and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Serving as best man was Clayton Hjelle of Newfolden, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Christ Hjelle chose a rose dress with a white carnation for her daughter's wedding while the bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress and a white carnation.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors with approximately 60 guests attending. A four-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table, which was decorated with yellow roses, lily of the valley and ferns. Mrs. Elmer Johnson served as hostess with Mrs. Hjalmer Hjelle cutting and serving the cake, and Mrs. Willard Stromberg pouring. Thief River Falls Cleanup Week in to Start Monday out to emphasize the importance of clean environment in the maintenance of health and safety, it is most important that this same spirit be used throughout the year to locate and correct those things which threaten our health and safety.

The state health department warns that piles of refuse garbage and other waste materials serve as feeding and breeding grounds for rodents and insects.

Skunks, the chief source of rabies in Minnesota, are particularly attracted to refuse piles in search of food. Rats and mice which may carry human diseases also abound where they can get food, water and shelter. The danger to domestic and farm animals and humans can be lessened considerably if communities and individuals eliminate open dumping methods and change over to sanitary land fill or other safe means of disposal.

Those citizens served by private sewerage systems are reminded that their septic tanks should be examined for excessive sludge accumulation. "If excessive quantities of scum and sludge are allowed to accumulate, the material may leave the tank and clog the absorption mechanism, rendering the entire system ineffective," the health department cautions.

John Eidelbes Succumbs; Rites Are Held Today

Funeral services for John Eidelbes will be held today, Thursday, at 2 p.m. in the Green funeral chapel with Rev. Joseph Swan officiating. Interment will be in the Western Bohemia cemetery in Star township with the Green funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Eidelbes, a resident of Star township, Pennington county for many years, died Monday morning, April 25, at Northwestern hospital at the age of 68 years.

He was born April 25, 1892, at Tabor, Minn., where he attended school and grew to manhood. He came with his parents to Star township when a young man and settled on a farm where they homesteaded.

On Oct. 30, 1936, he was united in marriage to Mary Morovac in Thief River Falls and continued to farm until his retirement in 1956. Since then he has made his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Trontvet.

Mr. Eidelbes had served on the school board of District 59 and on the township board for many years.

Survivors include two daughters, Dorothy, Mrs. Norris Trontvet of rural Thief River Falls, and Rose, Mrs. Gerald Sjulestad of Goodridge; two sons, John, Jr., of Goodridge, and Robert of Tower, Minn.; also two sisters, two brothers, 18 grandchildren, and one great-grandson. Preceding him in death were his wife, three brothers and one grandchild.

Rites Tuesday for Mrs. Esther Lane

Deputy County Auditor 19 Years Died Friday

Final rites were conducted Tuesday, April 26, at 2 p.m. at Community Methodist church for Mrs. Esther Alvina Lane. Dr. Walter Pedersen officiated with interment in Greenwood cemetery and Sinding funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Esther Lane died Friday, April 22, at Northwestern hospital in this city at the age of 66.

Mrs. Lane was born Oct. 6, 1893, in Sandstone, Minn., where she attended school and grew to womanhood. She came to Thief River Falls in 1921 and was employed as cashier for the Great Northern Railway for eight years.

She was united in marriage to Robert Guy Lane in July, 1929, at Thief River Falls. Following the death of her husband in 1941 Esther became deputy county auditor and continued in that capacity until her death.

She was a member of Community Methodist church and also a number of other organizations including Eastern Star, of which she was worthy matron in 1934, the Past Matrons club, Women's Benefit association and the American Legion auxiliary.

Her survivors include one daughter, Patricia Anne, Mrs. Milton Johnson; two grandchildren; six sisters and four brothers.

Gilbert G. Hanson Dies This Morning At N.W. Hospital

Gilbert G. Hanson, a resident of Hickory township, near Trail, for many years, died early this morning, April 28, at Northwestern hospital at 72 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday, May 3, at the Nazareth Lutheran church near Oklee at 2 p.m. Rev. Wilhelm Peterson will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body will lie in state at Green funeral home from Sunday evening until 10 a.m. Tuesday and at the church one hour before the time of services. A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Bert E. Benson of Strandquist Dies; Rites Held Apr. 21

Final rites for Bert E. Benson were held at the St. Edward's Catholic church in Strandquist Thursday, April 21. He died suddenly Sunday, April 17 at the Karlstad hospital at the age of 54.

Mr. Benson was born March 26, 1906 at Lake Bronson and spent his early years in Canada. He moved to Strandquist and resided there all through his school years.

On July 28, 1925 he was united in marriage to Sophie Kleinwachter and they made their home in St. Paul for two years. They then moved to the west coast and in 1934 returned to St. Paul. During his lifetime he worked at many different occupations, truck driving, automobile mechanic operating his own fruit and vegetable business and also as master mechanic for the Northwest airlines. He became disabled in 1951 due to a broken leg. During the past year he has been spending his time in Strandquist and St. Paul.

Surviving are his wife Sophie, two [illegible] Falls R. and Gary G., two granddaughters and five sisters, also many nieces and nephews.

Darrel Nelson's Condition Better

Darrel Nelson, 17 the victim of a train-automobile collision at the First st. crossing April 17, continues to show improvement," according to hospital officials, and has longer periods of consciousness.

The Lincoln high school senior was the driver of an eastbound automobile when it was involved in the collision with train No. 9 early Easter morning.

A total of 53 boys and girls who are suffering from physical handicaps received medical examinations at the field clinic conducted by the Crippled Children services of the Minnesota department of public welfare at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls Tuesday.

Patients included 26 from Pennington county, Mrs. L. B. Hartz local chairman, reported.

The youngsters were examined for crippling bone and muscle conditions by an orthopedist, and the younger ones were checked by a pediatrician. Public health nurses and a consultant from the Crippled Childrens services work with the patient's parents and the family doctor in arranging for needed hospitalization or home care.

Most of the youngsters visiting the clinics can be helped whether their crippled condition has been present since birth or is the result of accident or disease.

Taking part in the field clinic arrangements were volunteer workers as follows: Mrs. H. G. Halverson, co-chairman; Mrs. Roy Oen and Mrs. Harold Buck, appointments; Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Gunder Legvold, registration. Registered nurses assisting were Mrs. Otis Wold and Mrs. Randall Noper, and student nurses and practical nurses in training.

Public health nurses from this area present at the clinic were Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Viola Rud, Marshall county public health nurse.

Serving noon luncheon were Mrs. Leonard Hanson, Mrs. T. C. Aasland, Mrs. Jonas Walker, Mrs. Arnes Pederson, Mrs. Jack McKechnie and Mrs. Charles Vorachek.

Sponsoring organization was the Thief River Falls Women's club. Cooperating were the American Legion, Elks and Eagles organizations. Contributions to the clinic were made by Jung's Bakery, Carlson's Bakery, City Dairy and Bridgeman Creameries.

Offenders Appear in Municipal Court

Clearbrook Driver Has License Plates Impounded

Another relatively light session of municipal court was held Monday before Judge H. O. Chommie, and special hearings last Thursday and Tuesday of this week failed to bring the total up to the normal number of cases.

Three persons were brought in by the highway patrol. Richard E. Ness, Bagley, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $17.50 and for not having a driver's license in possession, was fined $10.

Herbie J. Derosier, Red Lake Falls, pleaded guilty to hauling a load in excess of the legal limit and was fined $25. Elmer Sandberg, city, pleaded guilty to driving without 1960 plates and was fined $10.

All other cases were brought by city police. Last Thursday Robert E. Nelson, rt. 1 Clearbrook, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100 and his license was revoked. It was also recommended that his license be suspended a year, and his plates and registration card were impounded.

Monday, Daniel R. Johnson, rt. 1, Goodridge, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $20. Harry G. Bolstad, rt. 4, pleaded guilty to failure to heed a stop sign and was fined $10, while Vernon C. Belland, city, a minor, pleaded guilty to possession of beer and was fined $20 with $10 suspended on conditions.

David P. Perrault, Brooks, forfeited $15 for speeding and Frank Palm, Grand Forks, forfeited $15 bond for making an improper turn.

Tuesday, Thomas Grovom, city, pleaded guilty to careless driving and was fined $30.

Lincoln High Club Sets Dinner, Rally

Rev. Gordon Berntson to Address Youth Group

Rev. Gordon Berntson of Northwood, North Dakota, will be the guest speaker at the Christian Fellowship club Rally, beginning at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon in the Washington school gymnasium. Serving as pastor of the Lutheran Free church in Newfolden for five years and having been active in youth work in this area, Rev. Berntson is well known to the young people of Thief River Falls.

He will also speak at the teen-age banquet at 6:15 p.m. Saturday in the new banquet room of the Rex Cafe. More than 100 teenagers are expected to attend. Teenagers desiring tickets should contact one of the club members immediately.

Music for the banquet and the Sunday afternoon rally will be furnished by a trio of young men from the University of Minnesota. All Kittala, Jim Bostic and Merton Sheetz will render vocal and saxophone trio numbers.

The Christian Fellowship club, sponsors of the banquet and rally, is composed of more than thirty young people from twelve area churches, all of whom are students of Lincoln high school.

The afternoon rally will be open to the public.

Mrs. K. Lindberg Teaches in Church Leader Institute

Mrs. Kenneth Lindberg returned last Thursday from Winnipeg, where she had spent three days as a member of a team of instructors at a Lutheran Leaders Institute conducted by the parish education departments of the three churches which merged last week to form the new American Lutheran Church, and also of the Lutheran Free Church.

Nearly 100 persons from Winnipeg and surrounding area attended the institute.

Other members of the teaching staff were Mrs. Walter Seeger of Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Marvin Adamson, Hibbing; Rev. Harold Johnson of Minneapolis, formerly of this city; and Mrs. Marie Shupe and Elmer Christianson of the national staff at Columbus, Ohio.

2 Local Women Share in Denver Bowling Congress

Bess Lang and Mary Washnesky left town Wednesday evening to Denver, Colo. and participation in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament. At Crookston Mrs Lang and Mrs Washnesky will be joined by Tillie Gebhardt and Clarice Jones, and at Grand Forks, Ramona Neuhalsen will join the group.

The tournament will be bowled over the 48 lane Belview lanes in Denver, and the team, sponsored by the Ken Johnson Studios at Crookston, will bowl in the team event competition at 7 p.m. on Friday. The singles and doubles events will be bowled at 5 p.m. on Saturday. The group is making the trip by car.

RLF Student at UND Elected to Phi Beta Kappa

The University of North Dakota honored several hundred of its students for high scholarship and academic excellence in their fields of study at the Honors Day Convocation, April 19, according to President George W. Starcher. Among students honored were 11 seniors elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honor society for liberal arts students, including Robert J. Bache, Red Lake Falls.

Lions Members Told How to Gain Success in Life

Sam Carlson, in charge of the Dale Carnegie course conducted in this city, supplied the program at the Lions club meeting Wednesday noon in the Elks club room. Introduced by George Hale, he presented a film in which Earl Nightingale, dynamic speaker, outlined a plan for achieving a success in life. In the club's business session, John Peterson, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted a slate of candidates for club offices to be filled in the forthcoming election, the list being headed by Clarence Mattson, nominee for president.

Two Prowler Games Postponed by Snow

Snow, cold weather, and wet grounds forced the baseball Prowlers to postpone two games they had scheduled this week. The Angle vs. Prowler game, slated to have been played here on Monday, and the Prowler vs. Red Lake Falls game, scheduled for May 3 and the Prowlers vs. Red Lake Falls game, to have been played at Red Lake Falls Wednesday afternoon, has been tentatively slated for Thursday, May 19.

Playing conditions prevailed when the Prowlers were scheduled to play Crookston at the City Coliseum diamond here on Friday evening, April 29. Game time for the district conference tilt is at 8 p.m.

Next week coach Ralph Skaug's squad will have a full slate of games. On Tuesday, May 3, the Angle's will play here at the Coliseum diamond, game time at 6 p.m. and Wednesday, May 4, in the Pine night game of the year, with the Prowlers playing at Fosston. Game time at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 5, the Prowlers will play the Bemidji Beavers at Bemidji at 3 p.m.; and on Friday, May 6, at Ada. Next week the Prowlers travel to Crookston for a district game with Crookston Huskies' game time last week, Saturday, May 14, at 2 p.m.; and at 8 p.m. the Prowlers will meet the powerful Grand Forks Chamberlain team here at the Coliseum diamond.

SIDELINED Jack Gustafson and lightfooted member of the Prowler baseball squad, will be lost to the locals for three or four weeks as a result of an injury he received in the Prowler-Red Lake Falls game last week. Gustafson broke a bone in his right foot. (Staff Photo)

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

End of an Era

The notice that the Big Green, meaning the Bjorkmen's, would not be performing in the baseball league this season does not necessarily mean that baseball has been dropped entirely at the Bjorkman mill. The Bjorkmen may put a team in the league and that is the hope of Huck Olson, Bjorkman's manager. It is certain that this team will have a baseball team in the mill league which has been a feature in annual baseball campaigns of the past.

That a softball league is necessary for Bjorkmen's is indicated by the "grievance" who have been voicing their complaints over the lack of baseball activity this year. Softball, by definition, has been transferred to baseball. So this writer has accepted an executive position with the Bjorkmen baseball league. Eighteen, the portly first baseman, will be the league president; Lefty Lentz, assistant director; Chick TV, Milt Erickson, the capable pitcher who has hurled the Bjorkmen's to immortality by the fifties, has agreed to be entertainment; being elected chief-of-staff; Ole Hanson, the fleet-footed baseman heads Hanson's Hardware; Sullivan, the master of the double play, point to third base, is in operating from an injury suffered in the last game of the season; Ole Lagerquist, the pride of Goodridge, Chuck Lentz, Ole Olson was given his outright release.

As for Bjorkman's how out of the starting role to play softball. Bjorkman's has a number of players and the positions are open as the wings to move out center on the softball team.

He's a Great One

We were fortunate enough to be in attendance at the seventh annual Noon Indoor track meet held at the Bjorkman mill when the Montreal Olympic star performed in the Montreal sports spectacular. Running, jumping, throwing the events and gaining a three way tie for first in the high jump, Clyde Lingelbach set 19 points, which was enough to capture the point total of Fargo Central. It was rumored that was runner up to the championship. Moorhead with the spoils ranked up a total of 18 points to gain the second position.

Lingle won the broad jump with a second making leap, won the hurdle events, and went up and over 5'1" inches in the high jump for a tie. And it must be remembered that he was in a great deal of track competition at Montreal.

Moorhead's popular track coach, Stocky Strand, was pleased by the performance of his charges. Strand, who is a Bjorkmen's employee, brought the Cliffie's best event would be the high jump. Moorhead's other squads will take advantage of Clyde's abilities in the broad jump and hurdles in the district meet at Moorhead.

We also watched Milt Lofdon of Bottineau hotel himself in the high jump event at a height of 11 feet, 9½ inches, for a new record. He received a gold band from the fans.

The Montreal high schools being the largest in the state with approximately 400 athletes participating in the tournament, there naturally will be no individual trophies awarded. The Bjorkmen's are to be congratulated for their fine showing and thanks to Jim Lentz, Bjorkmen's athletic director, for the invitation to participate. Perhaps classify the schools into A and B divisions.

Collins to Bridgemen's

Bill Collins, who has been a regular in the lineup for the Bjorkmen's softball club did not report to the Bjorkmen's baseball squad.

We have learned that Maklert Bridgemen's baseball club, after signing with the orange and black baseball outfit, has released Collins from agent's contract. At a recent meeting in Bill Lackner's office on Thursday afternoon, Collins signed a contract with the Bridgemen's baseball team for the 1960 season.

One Auto Mishap in City This Week

Except for a minor collision at the intersection of Main av. N. and Second st. E. on Monday, it was a very quiet week in the city traffic department.

Cars driven by Thomas J. Collyer, jr. 3, Goodridge was stopped for a stop sign and Gary Eugene Stanley, 17, Main, driven by a car which struck the rear of the Collyer car, causing damage to the Collyer car was reported at $75, none was entered in Hanson's car. The case was not investigated by police, but was reported by the principals after the cars had been moved.

Stan Wilson Jr. on All-American Trap Shoot Team

Two Minnesota sharpshooters were named on the 1960 sports Afield All America trapshooting team released today by Sports Afield editor of short off. He also won the Mid west International Open crown at Winnipeg with a 97 of 100.

Stan represented Minnesota in the Grand American at Vandalia, Ohio, last August and broke 97 of 100 in this event. He also broke 95 of 100 from 21 yards in the feature Grand American handicap event.

Stan Wilson Jr., 18-year-old student at Minneapolis Central high, and Stan Wilson, Jr., 51 of Rose Lake, Shelby, Mont., were selected on the Minnesota state junior title at Minneapolis July 30 with 97 of 100, Stan's team followed today by Jerome Kuiper, 19, of Lake Lillian, Minn., and Myrt Wilson, 51 of Rose Lake, Shelby, Mont., with 97 of 100.

Vehicle Inspection Program Set for May

"The greatest voluntary motor vehicle inspection program in Minnesota history" is in the making, it was the announcement today by Harry A. Sieben state director of highway safety. May is vehicle check month, through out the nation the Minnesota local inspection lanes will be set up in 87 Minnesota communities for the month, including Thief River Falls.

This is a substantial increase over the total of 37 communities in the program during 1959 and should be even greater as other communities join the program in the months ahead. Sieben is confident that the number of vehicles given safety check during the month will top the 50,000 mark due to the great interest in the safety program this year. During the 1959 inspections, 49,000 vehicles were given the check up, and of this number, over 6,000 were found to be deficient mechanically in one or more points of the check.

The voluntary vehicle check for communities is sponsored jointly by the state safety and highway safety offices and Lion local safety clubs, service and veterans organizations, spearheaded by the Minnesota Automobile Dealers Association and the Minnesota Safety Council.

The month long safety emphasis program will be "kicked off" by Governor Elmer L. Andersen who invites his official and family check their cars during the day. Other lanes to be operated by the members of the Minnesota highway department, Sieben said, will be set up on the employee parking lot on May 2, sponsored by local 1012 of the Highway Employes Union.

Mr. Sieben said he would welcome the opportunity to review free checks of trucks and buses to be operated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the state on May 1.

From there on, motorists driving in almost every part of the state will find safety lanes open in various communities with the greatest number to be operating on May 3, Sieben said.

Vehicle Safety Month is part of the year-long "Blueprint for Safety" program, the first one stressed state traffic-safety emphasis program. May is Vehicle Safety Month as that month became law.

Farm Workers Are Advised of Social Security Benefits

Farm Operator Has the Responsibility of Filing Social Security Reports

The social security benefits payable to a farm worker and his family is determined largely upon the amount of taxes paid each year to the worker's personal social security account.

It is the farm employer's responsibility to file a social security report of the wages of any farm worker $150 or more per year each in a year or who worked for him on 20 days or more during the year on a time basis or who was paid on a piecework basis, Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration reported today.

The way in which a worker can be certain his social security account is growing year by year is by making sure his employer has the worker's correct social security number. He should also get in touch with the nearest social security office every three years in order to check the amount of wages being credited to his account.

If a worker has never had a social security number, or has lost his card, he may now apply by a duplicate or his old social security number. He may also apply for a social security number if he has changed his name through marriage since she got her social security card, she should apply for a new card showing her present name.

A representative from the nearest Social Security office will be in Thief River Falls at the City Auditorium on May 9 and will assist persons in filing claims for benefits and accept claims for benefits.

Douglas Lodge Is Available Soon to State Groups

With the announcement that overnight accommodations at Douglas Lodge in Itasca State Park will be available for groups May 26th and dining room service available from June 5th, the division of state parks urged groups and organizations to make their conference reservations for the months of June, September and the first 10 days of October.

Meals will be served in the Pioneer Room in the Douglas Lodge area, from May 26 thru June 4, for groups and organizations only. Information concerning meals may be obtained from Dorothy Farrell, division of State Parks, Centennial Office Building, St. Paul, or by contacting the Douglas Lodge in Itasca, holiday and family reservations should be made by contacting the Douglas Lodge, Lodge Itasca, Minn.

The Douglas Lodge site can accommodate conference groups of up to 100 delegates. A park naturalist is available each week to lead hikes, conduct campfire programs and assist in arranging evening lectures and motion picture presentations.

"One of the most ridiculous statements ever made is that one picture is worth a thousand words. As an example, I give you not a thousand words but 11 words, and I ask you to put across their message in a picture: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." —Richard Powell

Pedestrians' Rights

Early this summer the city no doubt will again paint white stripes across the streets at intersections in the business district. Presumably these stripes are painted for the purpose of establishing a safety zone for pedestrians, an aisle in which the walker has a superior right to the driver of a vehicle, providing the intersection traffic is not regulated by signals.

But whatever good purpose they may be intended to serve, actually they serve no good purpose. Here in Thief River Falls, and in most other small towns of the state, a pedestrian is just as much on his own when he crosses a street within the painted safety zone as he would be if jaywalking in the middle of the block. With few exceptions, drivers ignore the rights of pedestrians in these safety zones and those who walk must be prepared to run.

An awareness of this condition is forced upon us several times a day as we duck and dodge. The following comment by Russ Mills in his Cambridge Star reminds us that the peril is quite general.

"A half-hour's observation of traffic on Main street in Cambridge illustrates how little regard the average Minnesota motorist has for pedestrian rights. As I understand the law, the pedestrian has the right of way at an intersection, but one would never realize that from the behavior of most motorists. When traffic is heavy a pedestrian almost takes his life in his hands crossing the street. The average driver refuses to alter his speed or his course and if a pedestrian narrowly misses being struck by a fender all he gets from the driver is a dirty look for cluttering up the earth. This is in great contrast to the situation in California and Arizona, for instance, where an automobile at an intersection stops immediately if a pedestrian steps off the curb. Pedestrians seem to be held in higher esteem out there."

Wishful Thinking?

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell stated recently in a bureau of labor statistics report, that while the wages of Soviet workers has been increasing steadily in recent years, "the real earnings of the average worker in the Soviet Union, in terms of food buying power, are still below the high point in the Soviet level of living reached in 1928." The report states:

"The study shows that the average worker in Russia had to work about 8 per cent longer in August 1959 than in April 1928 to buy a week's supply of the seven basic foods most important in his diet—bread, potatoes, beef, butter, eggs, milk and sugar."

Our interest in this statement is not due to any special concern about the condition of the economy in Russia, but rather to Mr. Mitchell's interest in the purchasing power of a unit of labor. We are glad to know that Mr. Mitchell is aware of the importance of the purchasing power of an hour of labor, and we believe that the real interest of labor in this country would be better served if greater attention were directed to the buying power of a dollar and less to the number of dollars in the pay envelope.

If Congress should decree that the pay checks of all of the people in this country should be forthwith doubled, we would not be any richer. We would have twice as many dollars but they quickly would adjust to half the buying power. And Mr. Mitchell was aware of this inevitable result when he announced recently that he favored an increase in the legal minimum wage. It is unfortunate that in a campaign year we must be subjected to this kind of political hokum.

A higher minimum means a correspondingly higher level of wages at all levels in the course of time. For the farmer, who sells his products in an auction market, it means a larger spread between what he gets and what the consumer pays. And in competing with the manufacturers of other industrial nations in the world market, which includes our own domestic market, our inability to compete would be further increased.

If inflation is an evil then every effort should be made to check its progress. Small retreats from sound policy have little effect on our economy, but many of these small concessions add up to a very noticeable decline in the buying power of our dollar.

There Could Be A Castro

A year ago last week the American people had their first look at Fidel Castro, when he appeared in Washington as a guest of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The Cuban dictator then talked about freedom and liberty and justice, and undoubtedly, at that time, American sentiment was favorable to him.

But in the year that has passed, sentiment has changed, and Castro now has few friends among Americans who still think well of freedom and liberty and justice. We now know that Castro, weighed on the scales of freedom liberty and justice, is no improvement over Batista, and that as a neighbor he probably is much more dangerous.

Most of the world's tyrants rose to power with great popular approval. Some earned public honor and respect by outstanding performance in the public service. Others advanced themselves by corrupting the masses with gifts and promises.

Some tyrants had been good men before they became powerful. Some evil men became good rulers once they were secure in their power. We never can be sure of what we are getting when we advance a person to a position of great power in our government.

In our government we do have a well established system of checks and balances that provide restraints to abuses of power and these restraints have worked quite effectively in the past.

But our national characteristics are constantly changing, and the system of checks and balances that has restrained abuses of power in the past is not necessarily going to continue to be effective in the future.

For one thing, the attitude of our people toward government is changing, and the change is not all to the good. We now are looking more and more to the goverment for direction and assistance, and we expect it to provide many things for us that a few decades ago we provided for ourselves. This makes for strong government, rather than strong people, and strong government, with broad powers to satisfy or disappoint the wishes, reasonable and unreasonable, of powerful pressure groups, is an invitation to the potential men on horseback.

This year we are electing those who will serve as the heads of our state and national governments for a period of time that is sure to bring many difficulties and some dangers. There will be many promising candidates, and those who promise the most probably should be looked upon with the greatest suspicion. We are not now in danger of having a Castro in the driver's seat, but those who will be responsible for the direction of our government for the next few years, could bring about a condition that would lead to a Castro.

If we continue our present trend of voting ourselves ever bigger and bigger slices of pie in the sky we are headed for disaster. Governments are no more immune to catastrophic illnesses and accidents than are human beings, and our first obligation to ourselves, and to those who follow us, is to keep our national economy healthy.

Open the Door

(Appleton Press)

A matter that is receiving some discussion in the press these days is the matter of open meetings of the university board of regents. This may not seem to be of much concern to the general public, but it should be.

As usually happens in discussions of this kind, there is great misunderstanding on the part of the public as to what newspapers are seeking in this matter. It appears to many people that newspapers are requesting a special right not granted to others, when this is really not the case.

Anything news media may be seeking in this connection is designed not for the personal benefit of the reporter or of his paper, but principally for the benefit of the public which should be kept informed of the activities of its bodies.

A law guaranteeing open meetings was passed by the 1957 Minnesota legislature, but exemptions still exist for the board of regents, since it operates under a territorial charter, and legislative committees, under guarantees of the state constitution. The Press publisher even doubts the wisdom of the latter since he saw nothing as a member of the last legislature in its committee activity that needed to be kept secret.

Relations of the University of Minnesota are bad enough with rural areas of the state. A step to improve these relations would come if the regents opened their doors just a bit more to what they are doing.

We're Paying For It—

(New Ulm Daily Journal)

With a $290 billion debt hanging over our nation, billions more owed on existing and/or future commitments, what we need now is a body of sane, hard-headed men with business sense.

We have seen—and our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren will pay for it—what it means to elect wisecrackers, name-callers and politicians. Included in the sorry array are those who have neither ability nor qualifications for the job. Their only purpose in life is to stay in office. There they control patronage, the taxpayers' money and vote themselves pay increases. Pastmasters in evasiveness, cunning and deceit, they hoodwink the public. The truth is not in them, but is regarded as something to twist and distort.

We, the people, are slow to catch on; but an increasing number are becoming fed up with this coterie of irresponsible, profligate tax spenders. When enough of our citizens do finally catch on, they are going to develop a slow burn that will flare to inferno proportions come election time. Then, we hope, appropriations will be based on calm reasoning and need instead of political expediency. What is there about that, that would be so wrong?

BE REALLY REFRESHED AROUND THE CLOCK!

Here are four easy ways to serve "Fancy Franks." 1) Slice a hot frank, stuff with cole slaw. 2) Roll frank in slice of mustard-spread bread. Fasten with wooden pick, brush with melted butter, brown in hot oven. Add olives. 3) Mix relish into canned baked beans, pile into sliced franks, pop in hot oven. 4) Put hot frank in bun with slice of dill pickle, red mesh of pimento. Serve with ice-cold Coca-Cola and be really refreshed! Only Coca-Cola gives you that cheerful lift... that cold crisp taste that brightens any bite.

Serve this Hors d'Oeuvres Pie for a midnight snack with Coca-Cola... and be really refreshed! Just take a center slice out of a round loaf of dark or white bread. Decorate with a circling of devilled ham and egg salad. Mix yellow pasteurized processed cheese spread with softened butter and pipe along the edges with a pastry tube. Garnish with cucumber slices, sliced olives, cream cheese and a radish. Cut into wedges and serve with ice-cold Coca-Cola!

New Boat Owners Must Get Licenses

Minnesota Licenses Are Sold on a Two-year Basis

Minnesota boat owners were reminded today by the department of conservation that they must have a 1960 boat license before they can operate their boats on state waters.

This reminder is aimed particularly at those who have purchased a new or unlicensed boat during the past winter. Those who have had their boats licensed in the past should find that the boat should make certain that they have a license in the boat in their own name. Transfer of ownership must be made at the time of purchase. The new boat must be submitted to the county auditor in exchange for a duplicate or transferred license.

Snow Bunners are valid until June 30 of each year. Boat licenses run for a year and they are issued for those who have motors on which they acquired a license in 1959 may operate their boats until December 31, 1960.

Licenses are sold only on a two-year basis. The fee for boats of 27.50 to boat 16 feet or less in length plus 50 cents for each additional foot.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—The daughter of a neighbor is a veteran of World War II and is disabled. She has been told she was until her 10th birthday before she can apply for aid under the War Orphans Education Act?

A—No. A law passed recently by the 86th Congress provides that children of veterans who would have had to wait until their 18th birthday to fight for benefits special types of War Orphans starting when they reach age 14.

Q—I was in Korean camp during the fighting in Korea. I have a dental condition now able to my service, but for which I do not receive compensation from VA. Is there a deadline in my case for applying for VA out-patient dental treatment?

A—No. A former prisoner of war you may apply at any time, and receive as many treatments as needed.

Q—If I should add the total disability payments I receive from VA for my service-connected disability, and become disabled, can my survivors and my beneficiaries would receive from Social Security when I die be reduced in any way?

A—No. Social Security benefits are the right to no way decrease payments made to beneficiaries of your GI insurance policy.

Q—Is a veteran obliged to reject disability compensation as in-come when he applies for pension?

A—No. Disability compensation and pension are two separate ones are other VA benefit payments. Interest on GI insurance dividends—income—and not pension.

Q—Under what circumstances would a member of VA hospitals care for marriage services or have a service-connected disability, but a need treatment for a non-service-connected ailment?

A—Wartime veterans who need hospitalization for service-connected disabilities are admitted first. Then come veterans with service-connected disabilities, who need treatment for non-service connected conditions, and finally veterans who have no service connected disability. They must meet the requirements of the law, however, which limits the hospitalization to veterans who have no service connected disability. They must meet the requirements of the law, however, which limits the hospitalization to veterans who have no service connected disability.

Buying Shrubs

Most shrubs are bought for the purpose of beauty and fun-tion. When buying shrubbery, materials, keep in mind the following characteristics, the foliage of the branching habit, the shape stands y-or growing condition

Protecting the environment of the Minnesota River Valley is the responsibility of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Minnesota Department of Conservation.

One day of soil testing caused two-week "vacation" for Mrs. Orvin Olson, vegetable grower from Ada, Minn. Mrs. Olson's soil testing agent said she could not plant Olson's 120 acres of potato and sugar beet almost a week later. Her application was more than 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Treatment to what the test showed she needed, he said, would cost her $5 for his family's vacation this spring.

Want an idea for a farm pond? Stem dug by the University of Minnesota's West Central Experiment Station at Morris, in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service, the station built a pond to hold 1.5 million gallons. They put in a dam 21 feet high at the deepest point and 1,000 feet long to impound the watercourse. Primarily for livestock water, the pond will also be used in research studies at this type of practice.

Think conservation "takes too much time?" Then, how do you like it from Kenny Wolf, Scott county farmer. He says 20 acres with a third of the help he needed before putting in contour strips and other conservation practices is now producing as much as he worked. Wolf has 120 of his 171 acres strip cropped. Wolf has 51 cattle, 16 purebred Hereford cows and more than 200 hogs. Better pasture, plus more cattle and hogs on the farm, has increased his corn yields 50 bushels per acre. Alfalfa does better, too. And it takes fewer acres to raise Wolf's

PICTURE PRETTY

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	13	1-6
Monday	Hebrews	2	13-15
Tuesday	Mark	7	14-23
Wednesday	John	14	1-14
Thursday	John	8	12-16
Friday	Philippians	1	6-11
Saturday	John	16	29-33

Pretty as a picture, isn't she? She looks "downright" angelic. Yet, five minutes from now, she may be a little bundle of fury!

Children change faster than the wind. They haven't learned to hide their feelings. But while grown-ups may present a better camouflage to the world, there are few of us without inner conflicts. And these conflicts can be serious.

It would be a lonely world if we had to keep all our problems to ourselves. We don't. God never intended that we should have to solve all our difficulties single-handed. Remember, He established His Church on earth for us. In that Church we will find understanding fellowship, and the faith to work out our own destinies.

Take your problems to Church. Pray that you will find a solution to them. Talk them over with your minister. And what seems a maze today may become a straight road tomorrow.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

The Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, convened in regular session in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on April 19, 1960, at eight o'clock P.M. Aldermen Christianson, Dahlen, Ranum, Helerson, Lee and Rau were present, Alderman Jenson was absent.

Minutes of the meetings of March 15, 31, April 4, 11 were read. Exception was noted in the minutes of March 15th fourth paragraph, as read "Public Contractor's Bond of Harry Ranum, Ranum Construction Company in the amount of $1,964.00 in connection with installation of Filter Plant Equipment was presented and examined" which should read "Public Contractors Bond of Stanley Ranum in the amount of $3,964.00 in connection with installation of Filter Plant Equipment was presented and read." With such correction the minutes were declared approved.

Applications for building permits were presented by J. K. Sladum, garage $1100.00; Clifford Bjorkman, residence addition, $7500.00, Falls Concrete Company, plant addition, $200 and Neil Stone, garage and breezeway $8,000. Alderman Ranum moved approval and issuance of permits, being seconded by Helerson and motion was carried.

Applications for license renewals were presented, as follows: Arthur Terrian, cigarets; Ole J. Fladeland, Taxi operation; L. J. Cerny and M. T. Emme, Electricians. Alderman Rau moved approval and issuance of licenses of Arthur Terrian, L. J. Cerny and M. T. Emme; the application of Ole J. Fladeland being withheld for approval to 45 days temporary permit of operation, pending investigation of certain operational conditions. The motion was seconded by Ranum and carried.

Chief of Fire Department recommended re-appointment of Art Dicken and C. J. Collins as members of Fire Department Civil Service Commission for terms expiring January 19th, 1962 and 1963 respectively. Alderman Dahlen moved approval, being seconded by Rau. All members voted in favor thereof and said appointments were declared ratified.

There was presented and read a resolution of Thief River Falls Business and Professional Women's Club as follows: "Resolved that this organization Thief River Falls Business and Professional Women's Club consider Thief River Falls Public Library as a cultural and recreational center, serving 1000 city and 530 rural youths of our community. Be it further resolved that we go on record as recognizing our cultural as well as physical recreational 'needs'." "Ruth M. Watson, President, April 12, 1960." The same was ordered filed.

Public Contractors Bond of Chicago Bridge & Iron Company, Chicago, Illinois, in the amount of $31,590.00, with Western Surety Company of Illinois, as surety was presented and examined. Alderman Rau moved acceptance and filing being seconded by Ranum. All members voted in favor thereof and motion was declared carried.

Alderman Rau moved opening and consideration of Bids for furnishing of departmental gasoline, being seconded by Helerson and motion was carried. Proposals were presented by Consumers Co-operative Association; Cities Service Oil Company, Mobil Oil Company, Standard Oil Company and Pure Oil Company, and the same were duly examined. Alderman Rau introduced a resolution accepting the bid of Mobil Oil Company for regular bulk gasoline, excluding all taxes of $.149 per gallon for regular gasoline and the bid of Consumers Co-op. Assn. in the amount of $.253 per gallon, including State Tax, for premium gasoline, station delivery and moved adoption thereof. Alderman Ranum seconded such motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Christianson moved opening of bids for season's supply of bituminous materials, being seconded by Ranum and motion was carried. Bids were presented by Western Oil & Fuel Company, Consumers Cooperative Association and Hydro-Carbon Specialties, Inc. and the same were duly read and considered. Alderman Helerson introduced a resolution accepting the bid of Hydrocarbon Specialties, Inc. at their bid of $.1073 for RC-2 material and $.1048 for MC-3 material and moved adoption thereof. Alderman Christianson seconded such motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Helerson moved that the [illegible] in accordance with [illegible] Wall Company, [illegible] of well at Municipal Airport [illegible] General Electric Company [illegible] Water Treatment Plant [illegible] Stewart & Walker [illegible] engineering services in connection with construction of [illegible] 1960 Waterworks Improvement P.302-8 and moved adoption of such resolution. Alderman Ranum seconded the motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolutions were declared passed and adopted.

3,500 School Musicians in Festival Here

Fosston, Bagley and Greenbush Schools Make Best Records

The largest state area music festival on record Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, attracted an estimated 3,500 high school musicians to Thief River Falls to compete for honors.

Fosston high school with 11 "A" ratings topped the winners' list with Bagley earning 11 top awards, Greenbush won the ratings in 10 events and East Grand Forks placed nine in the top category.

In the Thief River Falls area, Newfolden won one "A" rating with a soprano solo, Middle River won two top ratings with a flute solo and a piano solo and Goodridge won an "A" rating with a soprano solo.

Thief River Falls won six "A" ratings. In addition to the mixed chorus, other winners were Mack Chommie with a piano solo, Judy Wold with a flute solo, Steve Embury with a drum solo and Benjamin Martin and Don Stewart, baritone soloists.

A total of 36 schools won one or more "A" ratings in the field of 52 schools in Region 8. A panel of 10 authorities in the various fields of music judged the entries. Vocal offerings were judged by Prof. Carl Kittelson of Mankato state college, Prof. Leland Sateren of Augsburg college, Prof. Hywel C. Rowland of the University of North Dakota and Dwight Sherwood of Grand Forks high school. Instrumental numbers were judged by Prof. Ronald Riggs of St. Cloud state college, Lloyd Swartley of Duluth high school, Dr. Paul Ivory of the University of Minnesota, Dr. Donald Berglund of St. Olaf college, Henry Schuldt of Aitkin high school and Don Campbell of Brainerd high school.

200 People Attend Achievement Day Program in Gatzke

Homemakers Scholarship Awarded at Meeting to Miss Patricia Hornseth

About 200 people attended the annual Homemakers Achievement Day program held Monday, April 25, at the Gatzke school gym. Presiding over the evening's program was Mrs. Arne Tuura, Middle River, extension home council president.

Elizabeth Sorenson, exchange student from Denmark, gave an interesting account of home life in her homeland. Following her talk she showed a movie portraying Denmark, its cities, homes, people and industry.

Turning from Denmark to our newest state, Hawaii, Mrs. I. J. Russell, rural Thief River Falls, presented a talk and slide traveldg on their trip to Hawaii, showing the homes, volcanos, countryside, agriculture, etc. She was assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Lubitz, Mrs. Caster Moe and Mrs. Eddie Anderson.

Musical solos were sung by Mrs. Carl Torgerson, Thief River Falls.

A style revue, narrated by Mrs. Clarence Lian, Middle River, was presented by the clothing workshop and hat making classes. The garments and hats were made by the women as part of the special interest classes held by home agent, Janice Kyseth.

Following a short talk by Miss Kyseth, the homemakers scholarship was awarded by Mrs. Arne Tuura and Mrs. Norman Roppe to Miss Patricia Hornseth of rural Thief River Falls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hornseth.

The scholarship, given by the homemakers clubs of Marshall county, is presented each year to a graduating high school senior who plans to major in home economics in college.

PLUMMER CONCERT MAY 10

The Plummer high school band and chorus will present their spring concert on Tuesday, May 10, at the high school auditorium. The home economics department will have its fashion show preceding the concert, and will begin at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited, and there will be no admission charge.

BEST actress and actor in the annual county 4-H play and music festival at Northrop school Thursday evening, April 28, were Carolyn Torkelson, left, and Richard Parnow, right. Carolyn is a member of the Smiley 4-H club which presented "Pinch Me" and Richard is a member of the Kratka club whose play, "Be Home by Midnight," won the county competition.

Kratka & Rocksbury Clubs Win County 4-H Play, Music Festival

The Kratka and Rocksbury 4-H clubs took top honors at the annual Pennington county play and music festival Thursday evening, April 28, in the auditorium of Northrop school. The usual large audience enjoyed the program.

"Be Home by Midnight," presented by the Kratka club, was named the top play of the evening and Richard Parnow of the prize-winning club was named the top actor of the festival. Others in the cast were Mary Ann Lendobeja, Bernard Wilson, Mavis Anenson and Peter Lendobeja. Coaches of the play were Mrs. Ray Parnow and Mrs. Julian C. Lendobeja.

Other clubs in the play finals were those from Smiley and St. Hilaire. Carolyn Torkelson of the Smiley club was named top actress of the festival.

The Rocksbury club presented as its award-winning musical numbers the "4-H Pledge" and "Whatever Will Be Will Be." Members of the singing group were Jane Grundhaus, Julie Oen, Sandra Gunderson, Sheryl Mousley, Ronald Braaten, Gary Oen, Ward Johnson, Florence Arneson, Maureen Mousley, Harlan Braaten, Cathy Breiland and Jack Johnson. Jean Dryden furnished the piano accompaniment and the directors were Mrs. Emmett Mousley and Mrs. Arnold Gunderson.

Other clubs competing in the music finals were those from Smiley and Mavie.

County winners will next compete at Mentor Tuesday, May 3, in the district 4-H competition.

Jurors Picked for May Term of Court Here

Judge Galernault of Brainerd Coming May 10 to Preside

Names of 40 persons were drawn Thursday afternoon in the office of Henry Storhaug, clerk of court, for petit jury duty at the May term of Pennington county district court. Of those drawn, 16 were from Thief River Falls and the remaining 24 from other parts of the county. Eighteen of the jurors are women and 22 men.

Judge John T. Galernault of Brainerd will preside over the term, which will open Tuesday, May 10, for the call of the calendar, and he has issued an order for the jury to be summoned for duty Tuesday, May 17, at 9:30 a.m. Other arrangements, however, may be made when the calendar is called, and jurors will be notified by the sheriff's office when to report.

Cases to be disposed of at the coming term will be announced shortly by Storhaug.

Names of prospective jurors from Thief River Falls include Harold D. Anderson, Fred Endres, Mrs. Claire L. Carlson, Mrs. Harry Peterson, Mrs. Roy Oen, John Eisbrener, Harley H. Kelly, Mrs. Edith Sandum, Mrs. S. A. Honebrink, Milton Burstad, Mrs. Norris Ace, Mrs. Jerry Amundgaard, Robert Flynn, Walter Lietzow, Amond Aase and Tony Dorn.

Drawn from elsewhere in the county are James Salveson, Goodridge village; Mrs. Birdean Anderson, River Falls; Earl Akin, Kratka; Arne Markuson, Goodridge twp.; Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, Smiley; Elmer Engstrom, Hickory; Mrs. George Vraa, Reiner; Mrs. Henry Rux, Sanders; Albert Kotrba, Star; Mrs. Lester Halvorson, North; Mrs. Orville Rolandson, Smiley; Mrs. Morris Miller, Reiner; Carl Alberg, River Falls.

Others are Mrs. Alton Carlson, Wyandotte; Mrs. W. A. Corbet and Otto Johnson, St. Hilaire; Malcolm R. Cameron, Black River; Arnold Gunderson, Rocksbury; Mrs. Casimer Radniecki,

TRF Population is 7,112; County Down 550 from '50

The city of Thief River Falls as of April, 1960, had a population of 7,112, compared to 6,926 in 1950, according to unofficial census returns released today by Chauncey M. Carlson of Crookston, district supervisor. This represents a gain of 186 during the past 10 years. At the same time the unofficial population of Pennington county was listed at 12,415, a drop of 550 from the 12,965 counted in 1950.

UPSIDE down were this car and pickup truck after the latter vehicle, driven by Daniel L. Keefe, Rt. 3, city, collided Friday evening with the car driven by Herman O. Rude, also of Rt. 3. No injuries were sustained by either driver or by Mrs. Rude and daughter, who were passengers in the automobile. Keefe was tagged for unsafe passing. Dozens of people searching a field nearby for Billy Fleegel, missing boy whose body was recovered later from Red Lake River, were attracted to the scene by the noise of the impact.

The large crowd which assembled at the scene created considerable traffic congestion for some time. Despite the large number of people in the immediate vicinity, officers experienced difficulty in finding witnesses to the crash, which appeared worse than it actually was.

3 Incumbents File for Reelection to TRF School Board

Three filings for the three Thief River Falls school board vacancies which will be filled at the Tuesday, May 17 election have been made with James Parkins, clerk of the board. Rufus Olson, John Burtness, and Lloyd Howick, incumbents, have signified that they will run for the positions again. Deadline on filing for the openings is Thursday, May 5.

9th Dist. DFL Backs Wiseth for Congress

Convention Sunday at Detroit Lakes Was Harmonious

The ninth district DFL convention at Detroit Lakes gave unanimous endorsement Sunday to state Sen. Roy Wiseth, 59-year-old Goodridge farmer, for the party's nomination for congressman.

The only other candidates proposed for endorsement, Dr. Harding Noblitt, professor of political science and history at Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn., withdrew his name in the interest of unity.

Three other potential candidates attended the convention, but no move was made to endorse them. They were Mrs. Coya Knutson, two-term congresswoman who was defeated in 1958 by Rep. Odin Langen, a Republican; Arthur Carlson, mayor of Lake Park, Minn., and state Rep. B. M. Wichterman, Plummer.

Theme of the convention from the beginning to end was "unity." District chairman Arthur (Spot) Reierson, Fosston, Minn., who saw the district party organization split two years ago over support for Mrs. Knutson, had prepared the way well for harmony yesterday.

Wiseth, midway in his second four-year term in the state senate, can run for congress without giving up his senate seat.

Mrs. Knutson, asked if she intended to file for the DFL nomination even though someone else was endorsed, said she has not made up her mind.

Election of district officers early in the afternoon gave a hint of the delegates' determination to maintain harmony. Three incumbents, including Reierson for chairman, and four aspirants were recommended by the nominating committee.

Civil Defense Alert Set for May 3 and 4th

Operations Alert Features Conelrad Radio Broadcast

The seventh annual civil defense preparedness exercise Operation Alert 1960, will be held from coast to coast Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3 and 4, it was announced today. The object is to train personnel to respond effectively to an all-out attack on the United States with nuclear weapons.

The principal participation by the public in the exercise will be during the half-hour beginning Tuesday at 12 noon (CST) when a Conelrad radio broadcast will be aired on 640 and 1240 kilocycles.

During this period, all television, FM radio stations and other stations not in the Conelrad network must leave the air. Station KTRF will broadcast the CD program on 1240 kilocycles, changing for the half hour from its regular 1230 kc.

The special Conelrad broadcast will originate from the emergency site of the federal government "somewhere outside of Washington", and will include brief messages by President Eisenhower and Leo A. Hoegh, civil defense mobilization director.

Ken Gustafson, local director of civil defense, stated that a skeleton staff of CD workers will be on duty Tuesday in the assembly room in the court house, with the full staff expected to report Wednesday. They will receive sealed orders from civil defense headquarters in Battle Creek, Michigan, relayed thru the area office in Bemidji.

No evacuation of the local schools is contemplated during the exercises, said Gustafson.

82 Cub Scouts to Receive Awards Tuesday Evening

The 82 boys comprising the 10 dens of Cub pack 60 will hold a pack meeting Tuesday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Trinity Lutheran church basement.

The cubs will receive their awards during the meeting, which is the last official meeting of the school year.

Parents and friends of the boys are invited to attend the meeting and see the awards presented, Jim Winjum Jr., publicity chairman, said today.

Nine-year-old Boy Drowns in River

DRAGGING operations for the boy of Billy Fleegel, 9, 207 Kneale ave. N., ended Saturday morning at 11:15 o'clock when the crew on this boat found the boy in about 19 feet of water just down river from the Soo Line railroad bridge. The body lies under the blanket at the rear of the boat.

Billy Fleegel's Body Recovered from Red Lake River Saturday

The whole city today shares the grief of the parents of a 9-year-old boy to whom an errand uptown meant death by drowning.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Fleegel missed their son, Billy, late Friday afternoon and by midnight scores of men had scoured woodland areas surrounding the city without finding any trace of the missing boy.

The search for Billy was directed by Sheriff Charles Richards, who explored every possibility in the hope of finding the boy alive. Search groups were dispatched from the armory to look over every street and alley in the city and a door-to-door canvas was made early Saturday for clues which could lead to the boy. Several of Billy's playmates were also questioned without success.

No one in the city had seen Billy since about 3 p.m. Friday, when he was seen riding his red and white bike behind the fire hall.

Two planes joined the search Saturday, to no avail, while others retraced their steps over areas searched in the pitch-blackness of the night before.

Then, shortly before 9 a.m. Saturday the break came. The package containing the squeeze-bulb bike horn Billy had gone uptown to buy as a birthday present for a neighbor boy was found along the river by the First street bridge.

Dragging crews composed mostly of Thief River Falls firemen, concentrated their efforts near the Soo Line bridge and the hopes of everyone in the city were dashed when, at 9:05 a.m. Firemen Einar Barstad pulled a red and white bicycle from about 18 feet of water near the center pier of the railroad bridge.

The search was ended about 11:15 a.m. when Firemen Albert Lafrenz dragged a small body onto the raft. The Red Lake River had given up its latest victim—it has averaged one a year the past four years. Slowly and sadly the crowd lining the riverbanks on both sides dispersed.

The Fleegels took the news as well as could be expected, according to Rev. Keough Patnode, who stayed to comfort the family.

Union State to Hold Open House Thursday on Its 30th Birthday

HOST J. J. Womack, president of the Union State bank, today invited patrons and friends to come in Thursday, May 5, and enjoy a piece of birthday cake on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the present organization.

The Union State bank of this city is celebrating its 30th anniversary under its present organization on Thursday, May 5, and is extending an invitation to all of its patrons and friends to visit the bank on that day. Birthday cake and coffee will be served from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A mystery guest will reward three winners with substantial savings account deposits, and babies born on that day will each receive a savings account certificate in the amount of $30 to start them on their way to wealth.

While the Union State Bank will be thirty years old Thursday as it is presently organized, its roots in the banking business in Thief River Falls actually date back to 1892 when the First State bank started operations in the Dobner-Mechan building on Main Ave. at Second. That was the year the Great Northern came to Thief River Falls, extending its St. Hilaire branch to this point.

Another bank that fits into this background was the People's State, organized in 1906, and located in the building on Third St. now occupied by Dr. Orion D. Belch. In 1920 the People's State and the First State were merged and became the First & People's State Bank which moved into the new quarters which occupied half of the present site. H. S. Dahlen was president and Ralph Sheldon cashier. That was the year too that Laura Lund, present assistant cashier, started her career in banking.

The First & People's State Bank became the Union State on May 5, 1930 when it became part of the organization of the Union Investment Co. of Minneapolis, directed by J. F. Millard and Theodore Albrecht. The old management was continued and H. E. Nelson, O. D. Osthy and

2 Cars Roll over Near City Friday

Pickup Hits Car in Rear Near Dow-Key Co. Plant

A spectacular collision on state highway No. 59 near the Dow-Key company plant Friday night, April 29, resulted in two vehicles landing upside down, a large group of spectators but no injuries to the four occupants of the wrecked car or pickup truck.

According to the state highway patrol, a 1948 Studebaker being driven south by Herman Oliver Rude, rt. 3 with Charlene Rude and Beatrice Rude as passengers was struck in the rear by a 1951 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Daniel Louis Keefe, also of rt. 3.

Both the car and pickup truck rolled over and wound up upside down after the collision with the car on the west shoulder of the highway and the truck on the east shoulder.

Damage to the Rude car was listed at $200 and to the Keefe truck at $300. Keefe was cited for unsafe passing.

BROWNIE FLY-UP TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Brownies of this area, 57 in all, will receive their wings and Girl Scout pins at the annual "Fly-up" ceremony this evening at 7:30 in the Washington school gym. Mrs. L. G. Hetland will have charge of the program and Mrs. Frank Clinton will present the Girl Scout pins.

250 Expected at Lincoln Athletic Banquet Tonight

An attendance of approximately 250 followers of Prowler sports is expected at the tenth annual banquet in honor of Lincoln high school lettermen to be held this evening, Monday, at 6:30 in the school cafeteria, Roger Tunberg, chairman of the arrangements committee, stated today. The banquet is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees and Rotary and Lions clubs. Marv Helling, football coach at the University of North Dakota, will be the guest speaker.

Three Directors Named to Serve on Red Cross Board

Dr. Leo Herber, Albert Lafrenz and Ray C. Olson Are Elected Thursday

Representatives from three groups were named to the Pennington county Red Cross board of directors Thursday evening, April 28, at a meeting attended by eight persons.

Those who will serve on the board are Dr. Leo Herber of the Lions, Albert LaFrenz representing city employes and Ray C. Olson of the Eagles. Others attending were Jim Carlson of the Jaycees, George Hale of the Chamber of Commerce, Herman Kjos, Ragnvald Eldevik, home service chairman of the Red Cross and Ralph Hunt, county Red Cross chairman.

Hunt told those attending the meeting that the Red Cross is in favor of participation in a United Fund appeal and will take part in it and George Hale expressed the views of the Chamber of Commerce in support of a United Fund drive.

The chapter will continue in its efforts to gain greater representation and support of local groups and from the rural area, according to the county chairman, who emphasized that a good active board is necessary to keep the organization functioning.

Plans at present for a Red Cross fund drive this year "are indefinite," Hunt said.

The next meeting will be Monday, May 9, in the courthouse assembly room beginning at 8 p.m.

WED APRIL 23 Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kuzel, nee Marilyn Matson, were united in holy matrimony Saturday, April 23 at St. Bernard's Catholic church with Rev. Keough Patnode officiating. They are now making their home in Grand Forks, No. Dak.—Photo by Kavanaugh.

Marilyn Matson and Duane Kuzel Are Wed April 23

White gladioli and pink carnations graced the altar of St. Bernard's Catholic church for the 10:30 a.m. ceremony which united Marilyn Matson of Grand Forks and Duane Kuzel of Angus in holy matrimony, Saturday, April 23. Rev. Keough Patnode officiated at the double ring ceremony with Geanne Dryden presiding at the organ, while Sister Hyacinthe and the junior choir sang.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Matson of this city and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuzel of Angus.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white net over taffeta with tiers of tulle lace accenting the back. The bodice featured a v-neckline trimmed with sequins and long sleeves that came to a point at the wrist. Her chapel train was held in place by a crown of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep pink roses, white stephanotis and ivy foliage.

Serving as maid of honor was Gaylene Matson, sister of the bride, with Carol Kuzel, sister of the bridegroom, and Janice Matson, sister of the bride, as bridesmaids. They wore light blue street length dresses with matching headbands and glovettes and carried pink roses and white carnations.

The flower girl, Renae Nelson, niece of the bride, was dressed in a floor length gown of white taffeta, styled similarly to that of the bride, and a matching headband. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bride and she carried a basket of roses.

Attending as best man was Micahel Vanek, friend of the bridegroom, with James Matson, brother of the bride, and Richard Kuzel, brother of the bridegroom, as groomsmen. Adrian Nelson and Leonard Gust seated the guests. The gentlemen of the bridal party wore tuxedos with white dinner jackets and pink carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Matson chose a lilac dress with white accessories and a corsage of light pink and white carnations while the bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of deep pink and white carnations.

A dinner and reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the wedding with approximately 140 guests attending. The bridal table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells. Mrs. Ole Matson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Adrian Nelson, sister-in-law of the bride, poured. The waitresses were Dawne Larson, Marlene Hanson, Margaret Peterson and Yvonne Harder, all friends of the bride. Mrs. Dale Miller and Grace Gust arranged the gifts while Carmen Lokken registered the guests and Hattie Gust served the punch.

The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school, class of 1958, and is presently employed by Armour and Company in Grand Forks. The bridegroom graduated from the Crookston A. C. in 1957 and is now attending the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks. Mr. and Mrs. Kuzel are now making their home at 1711 First Ave. No. in Grand Forks.

Guests from Pickstown, So. Dak., Chicago, Mountain Iron, Fisher and Hendrum attended the wedding.

Spring Meeting of Woman's Club Set for Tuesday

The spring meeting of the Woman's club will be held at the club rooms Tuesday, May 3, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Leonard Hanson, president, will conduct the business meeting with election of officers and a district report on the agenda.

The DeCor group will be in charge of the program. The theme "This Is Your Life" will be enacted and Sjachrani Mochammed, foreign exchange student, will give his impressions of the United States. There will also be musical numbers.

Arrangements for the lunch have been made by the Thor, Laurel and Allegro groups.

Carol Rambeck Feted At Farewell Party

Carol Rambeck was the honored guest at a party given for her Friday evening, April 29, by the members of her Girl Scout troop 21. The party was held in the Terrace room of the Rex cafe with Sandra Furuseth in charge of the program and Kathy Helm presenting Carol with a gift and card from the group.

Dinner was served at 6 p.m., after which games were played, followed by a trip to the Dairy Queen for treats enroute home.

Omundson-Nelson Vows Exchanged In St. Paul Apr. 23

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday, April 23 at 1 p.m. at Gloria Dei Lutheran church in St. Paul, between Ardyce Omundson of St. Paul and Roger Nelson of Minneapolis with Rev. Clifford Ansgar officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Omundson of this city while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nelson of Rochester, Minnesota.

Miss LaCoursiere to Wed Arthur Overbye

Mr. and Mrs. Paul LaCoursiere of Brooks announce the engagement of their daughter, Darleen Marie, to Arthur Vernon Overbye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Overbye of this city.

The wedding is being planned for September 10.

Matthew-Fellman Rites in So. Dakota

Rev. Irwing K. Dietsche performed the double ring ceremony which united Irene Matthew of Thief River Falls and Winton Fellman of St. Hilaire in holy matrimony at the Presbyterian church of Sisseton, South Dakota.

Following a short honeymoon trip through the tri-state area, the couple are making their home in St. Hilaire.

Donald Haney Notes 7th Birthday Sunday

Donald Haney was honored with a party on his seventh birthday Sunday, May 1, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Haney.

The afternoon was spent playing games and Donald was presented gifts from his friends. At the close of the afternoon lunch was served which featured a decorated birthday cake.

Those who helped Donald celebrate were Howard and Dorothy Lawrence, Bobby Craik, Kenneth Thompson, Mitchell and Brian Bruggeman and Holli Drees. Also present were Mrs. Howard Lawrence, Ann DuChamp, Mrs. Harley Drees and Mr and Mrs. David Bruggeman.

Mrs. Arthur Dale To Speak At Banquet

Mrs. Arthur Dale of Grygla will be the guest speaker at the Mother-Daughter banquet which will be held in the Trinity Lutheran church parlors Thursday evening, May 5, at 6:30 p.m.

The W.M.F. and Ladies Aid will sponsor the banquet with tickets being made available through the circles, Mother's club or Dorcas society at 75 cents each. No tickets will be sold after Monday, May 2.

Mrs. Stan Larson and daughter, Karen, will speak for the mothers and daughters and a full program is planned for the evening.

Other trophies awarded were made to team members who had advanced their average the most pins during the season. President aJckie Bredeson made the presentations.

Association president Lee presented merit patches to the championship teams, with Lucille Cota, Mae Patterson, and Bess Lang accepting. Tress Noel received a life membership in the 600 club for her 618 series bowled during the past season.

Gifts were presented to the league officers by Tress Noel and Adeline Quam.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Marty Uggerud, Marge Forsberg, Jackie Bredeson and Betty Pederson.

Guests at the banquet were the team sponsors and their wives. Mr. and Mrs. Al Brunelle of the Family Bowl spoke briefly, and extended invitations to everyone visiting in the River side, Calif. area to stop in for a visit. The Brunelle's have sold the bowling lanes here.

Marjorie Race and Jim Nelson Are Wed April 23

Trinity Lutheran church was the scene of the wedding of Marjorie Race and Jim Nelson, Saturday, April 23 at 11:30 a.m. Rev. Henry Friedman officiated at the ceremony with Bonnie Burrell playing the nuptial music and accompanying Nancy Granger, soloist, as she sang the "Lord's Prayer".

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Race while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nelson, all of this city.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her grandfather, B. D. Bjorkman, also of this city, was attired in a pale pink street length dress which featured an embroidered bodice, short sleeves and lace at the neckline. Her bouquet was of roses and carnations.

Jane Kollitz, friend of the bride, attending as maid of honor, wore a light pink street length dress similar to that of the bride and also carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Serving as best man was Roy Pederson, friend of the bridegroom with Bob Race, brother of the bride, and David Bjorkman, cousin of the bride, as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Race chose a pink dress while the bridegroom's mother wore a pale yellow dress. Their corsages were of roses and carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church lounge with approximately 90 guests attending. Centering the bridal table was a three-tiered wedding cake which Miss Kathryn Nelson, aunt of the bridegroom, cut and served. The waitresses were Judy Unruh, Sharon Solheim and Lynn Whisler, friends of the bride. Doris Humes and Connie Ekeren, friends of the bride, arranged the gifts while Marie Nelson, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a student at the Lincoln high school and the bridegroom is attending the University of North Dakota.

Lincoln PTA Has Varied Program

Enjoys Play, Talk and Exhibits Last Monday

A group of Lincoln school eighth grade English students, directed by Miss Nita J. Dzluk, gave a lively presentation of a portion of Shakespeare's comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream", at the final Lincoln PTA meeting of the season last Monday evening.

Sidney Lieberman, president, was in charge of the program, which also included a talk on Indonesia by Sjachrani Mochammed, exchange student. Roni also presented an interpretive Indonesian dance.

Following the program, the audience adjourned to the school cafeteria to inspect an interesting collection of home economics, scientific and other projects carried out by the students during the past year.

In its business session, the unit adopted a resolution introduced by Raymond Ulferts pointing out that the public library here is a cultural and recreational center serving 1,500 city and 530 rural youths, and recognizing the need for recognizing the community's cultural as well as physical recreation needs.

New Crops Will Be Topic Wednesday

To Discuss Red Clover and Timothy at Court House

Farmers who are looking for new crops for this area which will yield good profits are invited to come to a meeting at the court house Wednesday, May 4, at 8 p.m., stated County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Discussion will center on production of red clover and timothy seeds. Some high yields which produced a high income per acre were secured in experimental plots. Farmers are urged to come to this meeting to review the practices which give these profitable yields of legume and forage crops. There is still plenty of time this spring to seed legumes or grass which can be planted any time during spring or summer months.

The market will absorb all of the certified legume and grass seeds we can produce in this area in the foreseeable future, said Stelmaschuk. These crops would not plug the government storage facilities as grain crops do, and in many instances are much more profitable than grain.

Farmers would do well to consider these crops if they have some land free of weeds. They are urged to come to the meeting on Tuesday to hear a discussion on markets and production of forage seeds.

Fleegels Offer Thanks for Help

Thanks All Who Aided In Search for Missing Boy

The heartfelt thanks of the family of Billy Fleegel to the hundreds of people who took part in the search for the nine-year-old boy Friday and Saturday were expressed today.

Billy's family asked that their thanks be given to the many individuals from Thief River Falls and surrounding communities, to the Thief River Falls police and fire departments, Pennington county sheriff's office, National Guard, the Boy Scouts, the game wardens who searched the area by plane and all others who spent many hours in the search Friday during the afternoon and evening hours and Saturday morning.

Billy the son of Mr and Mrs Willard Fleegel, 207 Kneale ave. N., disappeared while on a shopping trip to downtown Thief River Falls Friday. His body and the bicycle he was riding were recovered from the Red Lake river below the Soo Line railroad bridge shortly before noon Saturday.

The Library Corner

by Eleanor Olson

Sometimes I wish I'd never heard of Mother Goose. This is usually a temporary feeling brought on by the forlorn wail of our two-year-old whose heart is broken because I refuse to sing "Baa, baa, black sheep" just once more when we've already sung it thirty-odd times.

Most of the time I find myself exceedingly thankful for these half-forgotten rhymes that I dig out of the remote corners of my mind to make unpopular food disappear from my daughter's plate or to make the minutes fly by more quickly until it's time for Daddy to come home.

I'm not the only Mother Goose advocate. As my mother said the verses to me, no doubt her mother repeated them to her also. I found myself wondering just where they came from and if there ever was a time when distracted mothers didn't use them to soothe distraught children.

I discovered that the name Mother Goose probably came from a French book of folk stories by Charles Perrault. The French also connect the name with the wife of Robert II who, according to legend, had web feet and told stories to children as she did her spinning.

The name was first used in England around 1710 in Robert Powell's puppet show: he may have been presenting an English version of one of the French stories. At any rate, the nonsense name became popular and was used a little while later on a collection of children's rhymes by John Newbery. (All copies of this book have disappeared; apparently they, like teddy bears and blankets, were worn completely out by their owners.)

Our first American Mother Goose was no doubt a pirated edition of Newbery's collection; it was printed in 1787 in Massachusetts by Isaiah Thomas. There have been many editions since then.

The verses which we find in our most popular collections come from all parts of Europe; some have many variations. Though many are merely nonsense rhymes, others are reflections of history, customs, manners and beliefs.

Royal intrigues, triumphs and tragedies come to light in Mother Goose. Little Jack Horner appears to not have been above a bit of juicy graft. Queen Elizabeth I was the fine lady in "Ride a Cock Horse." Mary, Queen of Scots was Little Miss Muffet, while dour John Knox was the spider. She was also Bo-Peep who lost her followers and Mary, Mary quite contrary. Ann Boleyn was the maid who lost considerably more than her nose to the black-hooded headsman (blackbird).

But the true subject matter of the rhymes doesn't alter the child's enjoyment. He loves the verses for their variety, their action and story, and their musical words and rhythms. Here are ever-popular "play and learn" experiences which, while centuries old, put our contemporary educators to shame for their lack of imagination. It would seem that all attempts to replace Mother Goose with something more modern will continue to fail for that very reason.

Next week I'll tell you why I think this is really a very good thing and something more about the different editions of Mother Goose that are available in the Library.

GREENBUSH was represented in the class 4 band competition at the state area music festival Saturday, April 30, in Thief River Falls with this musical unit shown before the undraped background on the Lincoln high school auditorium stage. The two day festival Friday and Saturday attracted 3,500 high school musicians from as far as Walker in Cass county.

Union State Plans Open House May 5 on 30th Birthday

H. A. Brumund became local stockholders.

On November 29, 1932, the Union State became affiliated with the Northwest Bancorporation of Minneapolis and Leon J. Kalliher became cashier and later president to 1938. The bank came through the hectic period of the bank holiday in 1933, resuming business when the national emergency was declared ended.

E. O. Peterson joined the bank as a vice president and cashier in 1935, coming here from Belle Plaine, and he succeeded Kalliher as president when Kalliher was transferred to Red Wing. Mr. Peterson retired as president a year ago, and is serving now as chairman of the board of directors. He was succeeded by J. J. Womack who joined the bank as executive vice president in 1958. Ken Onken, who came here from St. Cloud in 1953, became vice president and cashier.

During the 30 years of its operation the Union State Bank has greatly increased its resources, the footings have grown from less than one million dollars to more than seven million. During this period its capital structure has grown from less than $100,000 to $488,000.

In 1953 the bank greatly expanded its facilities in a rebuilding job that more than doubled its floor space and made possible a completely modern operation. The improvement included a night depository, a drive-in teller service and a separate installment loan department.

In terms of payroll the bank is one of the community's large industries, supporting a present payroll of 26 employes.

The board of directors includes Andrew Anderson, Lloyd N. Bennes, Justus Larson, Harry Oen, E. O. Peterson, James H. Winjum and J. J. Womack.

Billy Fleegel's Body Recovered from River Pool

ily through the suspense-filled night.

It was surmised that Billy had attempted to ride his bike across the railroad bridge, lost his balance and fallen in. Several local youths have persisted in making this dangerous crossing, despite two highway bridges for motorists, bike riders and pedestrians.

Final rites for Willard Fleegel Jr. will be conducted Tuesday, May 3 at 10 a.m. at St. Bernard's Catholic church with Rev. Keough Patnode the celebrant. Interment will be in the church cemetery and the Green funeral home will be in charge of arrangements. Rosary will be recited tonight at 8 p.m. in the Green funeral chapel.

Willard Fleegel was born April 15, 1951 in this city. He attended St. Bernard's school and was in the 3rd grade. He was also a member of Cub scout troop No. 57.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard M. Fleegel, one brother, Robert and one sister, Rebecca; also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Heltemes and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fleegel, all of Sauk Rapids.

9th District DFL Endorses Wiseth for Congressman

Others reelected were Ted Jansen, Hallock, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Elmer Hamre, Baudette, treasurer.

Named to serve for the next two years were Mrs. Ida Mae Geittman, dean of women at Bemidji State college, chairwoman; Mrs. Benton Rindahl, Barnesville, vice-chairwoman; Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Thief River Falls, secretary, and Robert Irvine, Detroit Lakes, finance chairman.

There was no opposition to a slate proposed for delegate's assignments to state convention committees.

One of the few contests yesterday developed over choice of four delegates and two alternate delegates to the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles.

The nominations committee proposed seven names for the six posts. Two more were nominated from the floor.

Elected as delegates were four committee choices, Releson, Mrs. Kay Peterson, Karlstad, retiring chairman; Irvine, and Wichterman, State Rep. Everett Battles, Warroad, committee choice, was named an alternate. The second alternate, former state Sen. Henry Nycklemoe, Fergus Falls, was nominated from the floor.

TRF Man Recalls Mayor of St. Paul

Dave Morgan responded to our request for information about George Vavoulis, mayor-elect of St. Paul, who lived in Thief River Falls as a boy. Mr. Morgan remembers the family as residents on St. Paul ave. S., and recalls George as a boy a little younger than him. He is under the impression that George's mother was a widow and related to Geo. Christo, former operator of a candy store on East Third st.

Gilbert G. Hanson Succumbs; Rites Set for Tuesday

Funeral services for Gilbert G Hanson will be held Tuesday, May 3, at 2 p.m. in the Nazareth Lutheran church of Trail with Rev. Wilhelm Peterson officiating and interment in the church cemetery.

Gilbert G. Hanson, a resident of Hickory township, Pennington county, since 1907, died Thursday morning, April 28, at the Northwestern hospital at the age of 72.

He was born April 1, 1888 at Erskine where he was baptized and confirmed and attended school. As a young man he moved with his parents to Hickory township in 1907 where they homesteaded and farmed.

On September 30, 1911 he was united in marriage to Julia Kriel at Red Lake Falls. They continued to farm in Hickory township and have since resided there.

Mr. Hanson is survived by his wife; five sons, Herman and Goodwin of Thief River Falls; Alfred of Hayfield; Norman of Trail and Gunder of Perham; also two daughters, Alma, Mrs. Arthur Brown of Floyd, Iowa, and Mildred, Mrs. Verner Arveson of Oklee; 18 grandchildren; four brothers and one sister. He was preceded in death by two brothers and four sisters.

Edwin Nelson Succumbs; Rites Are Set For Today

Funeral services for Edwin N. Nelson will be held today, May 2, at 2 p.m. in the Saint Paull Lutheran church near Hazel with Rev. A E Berg officiating and interment in the Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls.

Mr. Nelson, a lifelong resident of Smiley township, died at Northwestern hospital Friday, April 29, at 61 years of age.

He was born June 9, 1898 in Smiley township where he was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith, attended school and farmed with his father.

June 12, 1926 he was united in marriage to Evelyn Peterson. They continued to farm on the old homestead and have since resided there.

Edwin Nelson has served on the school board for several years and was a trustee of the Saint Paull Lutheran church for many years.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Lois, Mrs. John Ofstedahl of Moorhead and one son, Orville of Minneapolis and 4 grandchildren.

Mrs. A. Udstrand Succumbs At 51 In Minneapolis

Mrs. Arthur Udstrand of Thief River Falls died Sunday afternoon at Northwestern hospital in Minneapolis at the age of 51.

No date has been set for the funeral but a complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times. The Green funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

W. Ballingrud, 36 Dies April 25th

Wallace Ballingrud died suddenly Monday, April 25, in Minneapolis at 36 years of age. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M H. Ballingrud. A complete obituary will follow.

Harold Harrisons Buy Calif. Motel

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Harrison of Temple City, Calif., formerly of Thief River Falls, recently purchased the Mt. Vista Motel, an 18-unit establishment at Bishop, Calif., and are now actively in charge of the business, having sold their home in Temple City. Bishop is a resort center, located 270 miles north of Los Angeles. Their son Bill and his family also have moved to Bishop.

Area Civil Defense Chiefs Meet Here

Hear Senator Wiseth at Session Thursday Night

State Senator Roy Wiseth of Goodridge was the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of Area III Civil Defense directors in the American Legion club rooms Thursday, April 28.

He pointed out the need for greater public education concerning the whole-hearted participation of all patriotic citizens. He indicated that legislators on all levels of government, as well as the general public, might not completely visualize the disaster which preparedness might at least partially avert.

Mobile Support Area II Commander Ed Johnson of Bemidji spoke to the group briefly on the legal obligations of local governments in maintaining adequate civil defense organizations. Area III embraces 14 northwestern Minnesota counties.

The council, composed of civil defense directors from counties and municipalities, meets quarterly and voted to hold its next meeting in Crookston. Eugene Simmons, president and Roseau county director, presided.

PFC. ROLAND AMIOT NOW AT FORT BARRY, CALIF.

Army Pfc. Roland A. Amiot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Amiot, Thief River Falls, recently was assigned to the 40th Artillery Brigade at Fort Barry, Calif. Amiot, a member of the brigade's Headquarters Battery, entered the Army last July and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Dairy Day June 14 Is Topic at Meeting of Area Creamery Men

Plans for the 11th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 14, were discussed at a meeting of creamery operators of district No. 3 in Thief River Falls Thursday, April 28.

Stuart McLeod, chairman of Northwest Dairy Day, discussed rules of the Dairy Princess contest and encouraged individual counties to become active in setting up their contests.

The Norman county Dairy Princess contest will be held Monday, May 2, it was announced by Harry Petry of Ada, secretary of the creamery operators' organization. Representatives from Norman county attributed their success in three previous events to the early selection of princesses which give the contestants an opportunity to acquire experience before the regional contest.

All calf entry blanks will be mailed to county agents in region No. 1 the first week of May with the deadline of entries May 27. Jim Roche, secretary of Northwest Dairy Day, announced.

Tom Scanlon Heads Peace Officers

Named at Spring Meeting of RRV Group Last Friday

Tom Scanlon of the state highway patrol with headquarters in Detroit Lakes was named president of the Red River Valley Peace Officers association at the spring meeting of the group in Ada Friday, April 29, succeeding Richard Gaynor of the Fargo police department.

Chief Keith Lovejoy of the U.S. border patrol at Pembina, N. D., was named vice president of the group.

James Larson, sheriff of Becker county, was named secretary by the new president.

The meeting followed the group's pistol target shoot in the morning and Carl Jackson, warden of the state reformatory at St. Cloud, was the main evening banquet speaker.

The next meeting of the association will be in Pembina.

T. R. FALLS STUDENT IN CONCERT SUNDAY AT UND

The Women's Chorale of the University of North Dakota presented its spring concert Sunday in the Student Union ballroom. The 30-voice chorus was augmented by an 11-member string ensemble for the major work of the concert, which is Stabat Mater by Allessandro Scarlatti. Janice Anderson of Thief River Falls is a member of the ensemble.

Night-time Readings In Low 20s Past week

Partly cloudy and cooler have been forecast for today by the KTRF weather station and fair and continued cool tonight. Highs of near 50 are predicted for today and lows tonight are expected to be in the upper 20's.

Northeast winds of from 10 to 15 miles an hour today should become light tonight and switch to the east. Tomorrow, winds are expected to change to the southeast with a velocity of 10 to 15 miles an hour.

The high for this period was Thursday's 53 and the daytime low was 39 the following day. Nighttime readings have all been in the 20's ranging from a 29 early Sunday morning to 21 Saturday morning.

Continued hard frosts at night have contributed to the delay in field work becoming general in this locality.

Extension Chief to Speak at RLF

Skuli Rutford Will Be Achievement Day Guest

Skuli Rutford, director of the Minnesota extension service, will be featured speaker at the annual Red Lake county Achievement day program Wednesday, May 4, in the Red Lake Falls city auditorium.

Rutford's talk will include ideas on this year's theme: "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

The program, which is open to the public, is being planned by members of the home extension groups to highlight their activities for the year. Chairman of the program committee is Mrs. Don Amiot, president of the Home Council.

There will be exhibits by the clubs on lessons given the past year. The program will include recognition of new members and councilors as well as skits by some of the clubs. Following the program will be a tea.

Roy Langevin and Hemmesch Back from Fire School

Fire Chief Roy Langevin and Lawrence Hemmesch returned late last week from St. Paul, where they represented the local fire department at the ninth annual state fire school on the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota.

A total of 325 firemen were registered and they gained much practical information from speakers and demonstrations on the crowded program.

A highlight of the program was the starting of a series of 16 fires in an old apartment house scheduled for demolition, the blazes being fought by eight teams of firemen.

SAVING IS BOON COMPANION OF FREEDOM

"The price of progress is saving," said the Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in addressing a Minneapolis meeting to extend the federally sponsored payroll savings plan and further the sale of the new high-interest quick-maturing E bonds. "The difference between voluntary and involuntary saving is the difference between a free and a totalitarian country," according to William McChesney Martin Jr., the visiting Washington official. "Progress, private or public, has to be paid for, but when we overspend and under save, and when we substitute to much bank credit for actual savings, then we are heading toward monetary control, and monetary control leads to totalitarianism. The fundamental ingredient of the free economy which has made ours the richest country in the world, is the individual thrift and foresight which have stored our values in savings — funds available for continuing investment in progress."

Forsberg Co. Sells Much Equipment Overseas Lately

Seed and Grain Cleaning Machinery Has Gone to Many Parts of the World

Fred Forsberg & Sons Inc., manufacturers of the Forsberg line of seed and grain cleaning machinery, have enjoyed a brisk business from foreign countries in recent months, Arthur Forsberg, Jr., reports.

So far this year their gravity separators have been shipped to buyers in the Dominican Republic; in Hamburg Germany, Moss, Norway; Kotka, Finland; Gotesburg, Sweden; Milan, Italy; and Lisbon, Portugal. Current orders soon ready for shipment call for deliveries to Southampton, England; Uzwil, Switzerland; Chihuahua, Mexico; Braunscheig, Germany, and Colombia, South America.

Forsberg attributes this increased volume of sales in foreign markets to the addition of new representatives in strategic parts of the world. Orders for equipment in this country are also showing encouraging increases, he states.

Spring Roundup Held in Goodridge

23 Pre-school Children Were Registered Apr. 22

Twenty-three pre-school children were registered to begin first grade next fall at Goodridge during spring round-up activities at Goodridge last week. This is four more than were registered last year.

Under the direction of Mrs. Albert Kassa and Mrs. Ed Geving, PTA co-chairwomen, preliminary records were filled out at the school on Friday, April 22. Here the children and mothers became acquainted with one another, with the school personnel, and the first grade classroom. The first grade mothers served coffee, milk and cookies to the guests at the close of the afternoon.

Monday forenoon the same two women directed the group by bus into Thief River Falls and served as guides, assisted by other mothers, as the children had physical, dental, and eye examinations.

City Firemen Put out Grass Blaze

City firemen were called out Saturday morning, April 30, to extinguish a grass fire at 445 Maple av. S.

Roy Langevin, fire chief, has again asked city residents to use extreme caution in burning and to have equipment and water at hand to prevent fire from spreading. Despite the moisture from the recent snowfall, fire spreads rapidly in the grass and weeds and can easily get out of hand.

Scout Leader to Talk in Greenbush

Charles Griffin, assistant director of rural Scouting with the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the featured speaker at the regular meeting of the Pen-Ro-Shall district in the Greenbush school Wednesday evening, May 4. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Although making up less than 11 per cent of the driving population, drivers under age 25 were involved in nearly 29 per cent of all fatal accidents in the United States during 1959.

MARCH TRAFFIC UP FOUR PER CENT OVER FEBRUARY

Traffic on Minnesota highways during March showed a four per cent increase over February, the Minnesota highway department reported. A survey of the 27 automatic traffic counters located throughout the state indicated substantial gains on Trunk Hwy. 10, at points east of Moorhead and northwest of Anoka. The only significant drop in traffic occurred on Trunk Highway 169, south of Mille Lacs lake, as fishermen stowed away winter ice-fishing gear to wait for the season opening in May.

Prowlers Whip Warren Nine 13-2

Well, it didn't snow. But that was the only thing in favor of the weather that greeted the Warren Ponies and the Prowlers as they met in a district conference baseball game on the Fair Grounds diamond Friday afternoon. The game which was called at the conclusion of four and a half innings of play, was won by the Prowlers, 13-2.

Coach Ralph Skay's Prowlers face an action-filled schedule this week. On Tuesday afternoon, May 3, with game time billed for 5:00 P.M., the Argyle Eagles will meet the locals on the Fair Grounds diamond; on Wednesday night, at 8:00 P.M., the Twin Valley Tigers of district 30 will play the Prowlers in a night game at the Fair Grounds; on Thursday, May 5, the Prowlers will travel to Roseau for a game against coach Ray Kavanaugh's highly-rated Rams, with game time at 5:00 P.M.; and on Friday afternoon, at 5:00 P.M., on Crookston's Highland Park diamond, the Prowlers will meet the Crookston Central Pirates in an important district 31 game.

In Friday afternoon's game, played in near-freezing weather and with a bitter north wind sweeping the field, coach Irv St. John's Warren club gained an early lead, picking up a run in the top half of the first inning. With one out, Wayne Edgar drew a walk, as did Duane Yeado. A pick-off play, with pitcher Arlan Hjelle throwing to second baseman Paul Klungness, erased Edgar for the second out. Tom Howard walked, and then catcher Don Slusar sliced a double over third base, scoring Yeado with the game's opening tally. Hjelle whiffed Earl Rogalla to end the rally.

The Prowlers zipped back for four runs in their half of the opening inning. Gary Klungness slapped a single into left field, and when the ball trickled thru the outfielder's legs, Gary sped on to second base. Paul Klungness poled a two-bagger to the fence in left-center, scoring brother Gary easily. Eddie Lietzow walked; Hjelle was out, first baseman Edgar to Monroe, who covered first base; Paul Saurdiff walked to fill the bases; Gary Anderson was nicked by one of Yeado's pitches, forcing in Paul Klungness; John Aune hit a trickler to third base, with Lietzow beating the throw to the plate, and when the throw went wide, Saurdiff sprinted in with the Prowlers' fourth run.

In the second, Warren picked up their second run. Terry Black and Jerry Cook walked, and leadoff man Milo Monroe sliced a double into left field, scoring Black.

The Prowlers, after adding a pair of runs in the second inning, erupted for six tallies in the third. Hjelle drove out a bases loaded triple in the third inning to provide the "power" for the locals' rally. A single run in the 4th inning, when the Prowlers resorted to bunt-and-run tactics, closed out the game's scoring.

Jim Weckwerth replaced Hjelle on the mound for the Prowlers in the 5th inning, and the sophomore righthander, although tagged for a pair of hits, by Howard and Rogalla, kept the Ponies from crossing the plate. Hjelle, in the four innings that he hurled gave up five hits, walked six, and struck out nine.

Len's Tire Bowlers Win City Tourney

Middle River State Bank Team Takes Second Place

The city bowling tournament, with teams from the various leagues in the city participating, was concluded at the Family Bowl lanes last week, and the Len's Tire Service team, with an aggregate of 3028 pins, won the $30 first prize. The Len Tire Service team competed in the Tuesday night Business league this past season.

Marking up a total of 2951 pins, the Middle River State bank team, a member of the Northern league, rolled into second place in the tourney, and earned $25.

The Winjum's Super Market, chalking up a total of 2911 pins, rolled into third place in the tourney and won $21. The Winjum's team competed in the Commercial league this past season.

The league season has been concluded at the Family Bowling lanes, but the alleys will be available for open bowling during daytime and evenings.

The postal savings system was established in 1910.

WINNER of the trophy for the highest average in the Nite-Hawk league this year was Tress Noel, above, who was presented with the cup at the April 27 women's bowling banquet.

HIGH average bowler in the Moonbeam league this year was Mary Ann Myhrer, shown with the trophy with which she was presented at the annual women's bowling banquet April 27.

The Roll Call

In case you miss the annual banquet at the high school cafeteria this evening, honoring the Prowler lettermen and their coaches, we will call the roll of the athletes who earned letters and who will be honored guests: Ron Amundson, Gary D. Anderson, Gary W. Anderson, Larry Annenson, Mike Aune, John Aune, Bob Benke, Wayne Bjerken, Bob Bredeson, Bob Brown, Mark Chommie, Connely Dyrud, Harvey Ebbighausen, Steve Embury, David Erickson, Dennis Erickson, Gerry Erickson, James Ewing, Jack Goulet, James Hageman, Wayne Halvorson, Wes Halvorson, Gary Hanson, Ron Hanson, Jeff Hartje, Larry Haugen, Dave Hauswirth, and Don Hill.

Included in this list of seventy seven boys are several, quite a number in fact, who are multiple letter winners. And there are a few who have won three or more major letters this past season.

All of these boys have performed to the greater glory of old Lincoln high school and Thief River Falls and they have the added satisfaction of being one of a group of athletes who led the Prowlers into three state high school athletic tournaments, in one year. Last spring, coach Ralph Skay's Prowlers won the Region Eight baseball title and played in the state meet, this year coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers won the Region Eight title, and played in the state tourney in St. Paul; and coach Hartley Story's basketball Prowlers surprised a confident Bemidji team to win the Region Eight cage title and enter the state tournament.

And, too, we're sure that several of the boys who will be honored this evening will enter the rolls of all-time Prowler athletic greats.

The First Night Game

Coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers, weather permitting, will play four games this week, and all four of these tilts are against top-rated opponents. On Tuesday evening, at 5 p.m., the Argyle Eagles will play the Prowlers on the Fair Grounds diamond. On Wednesday night, at 8 p.m., Twin Valley will meet the locals on the Fair Grounds diamond. On Thursday afternoon, at 5 p.m. the Prowlers will play at Roseau against coach Ray Kavanaugh's Rams. And on Friday afternoon, at 5 p.m., the Prowlers will cross bats with the Crookston Central squad at Crookston.

The Prowlers will play five games under the lights at the Fair Grounds this season, and Wednesday night's tilt against Twin Valley will be the first. This game, to start at 8 p.m., could develop into a dandy.

Last spring, in a first round Region Eight tourney game at Bagley, the Prowlers, behind the steady pitching of Harley Drees, defeated Twin Valley, 2-1. The Tigers have Mickey Holen, the classy righthander who hurled that game for Twin Valley available for this season's campaign. It wouldn't be surprising if Holen was given the assignment on Wednesday night.

First Reports

The trout fishing season, brook and brown trout division, opened at 10 a.m. on Saturday, but according to the reports that we have compiled, it was a slow and cold opener. Few fishermen, and fewer fish.

We set up an informal roadblock on highway 59 in effort to waylay the trout fishermen as they came into town with their overloaded creels. Not a very successful effort.

We did see a limit of ten brookies, though, and they were in the creel belonging to Leo Pahlen. Leo came back into town at about six o'clock on Sunday, and he reported having had good luck. And he had the evidence for proof. Asked where he caught the trout, Leo pleaded the fifth amendment and refused to answer. We'll wager it was in the vicinity of Clearbrook. He did say that he had his best luck using stickleback minnows for bait.

Dr. Jim Disse was on the Clearwater river, just west of Pinewood on Sunday, but he reported a blank. He did see one angler with a trout, and that was a dandy, a two-pound brown.

Fosston Greyhounds Win Track Meet Here

Coach Wes Niemi's Fosston Greyhound track squad, with Marvin Schlick winning the last event on the program the broad jump won the triangular track meet held here Saturday afternoon. The Fosston squad scored a total of 53½ points to edge out coach Don Rowlett's Mahnomen Indians, who tallied 50½ points, and coach Rod Max's Prowlers who garnered a total of 16½ points.

A brisk and chill wind that swept across the athletic field, and with traces of snow being in evidence, the weather conditions were disagreeable to contestants and spectators alike.

Fosston won five events and tied for first in the pole vault; Mahnomen won four events and tied for first in the pole vault; and the Prowlers won four events.

For the Prowlers, Gary Klungness won the 100 and 220 yard dash events; Dale Wennberg won the 440-yard dash; and the 880-yard relay team were first place winners.

Burly Doug Urness of Mahnomen was also a double winner, taking first place in the shot put and in the discus throw.

The most exciting race of the meet was the 880-yard run, in which the Prowlers' Don Ulferts just barely failed to catch Fosston's Al Roue at the tape.

It is hoped that the triangular meet will become an annual event.

On Tuesday, May 3, a triangular track meet, with Red Lake Falls, Middle River, and Thief River Falls competing, will be held here.

Thief Lake Game Reserve to Hold Open House May 6

Public Invited to Learn of Purposes of Area and Plans for Development

There will be an open house at the headquarters of the Thief Lake game reserve on Friday, May 6, according to Robert Farmes of this city, area game manager. The purpose of the meeting is to conduct a briefing session during which the purposes of the refuge and plans for its future development will be discussed.

The public is invited to attend, the meeting getting under way at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Visitors are urged to bring their own lunch but free coffee will be served.

Some transportation from Thief River Falls will be available, Mr. Farmes states, cars leaving from the parking lot south of the post office shortly after 9 a.m. In addition to Mr. Farmes, Vern Gundvaldson of Bemidji regional game manager, will conduct the program. If weather permits there will be a tour of the refuge area.

Engineers Report on Status of Lost River, Ruffy Brook Project

Final plans for a $1,164,000 flood control project along 43 miles of Lost river centered near Oklee, were announced Wednesday by the St. Paul district of the army corps of engineers.

The corps will shorten the river three miles by removing about 10 bends.

Other work will include clearing of trees, stumps and debris along a 20 mile stretch from the mouth, near Brooks and Terrebonne, upstream to about two miles west of Oklee and deepening of the channel from that point for 23 miles upstream.

Drop structures—concrete steps in the river to slow down velocity of the water—will be built as well as outlet structures to reduce erosion where drainage ditches empty into the river.

Total federal cost is estimated at $800,000. Local interests will provide about $364,000 in a cash contribution, plus necessary land and land rights and changes to utilities, highways and bridges.

"Work could start by fall if the local interests meet their obligations in time," said Col. Desloge Brown, district engineer.

A second phase of the project, he said, would be flood control on Ruffy brook, estimated to cost $220,000 in federal funds and a local cash contribution of $37,000.

A beginning date for the improvements and final estimates of cost are indefinite, since engineering studies still are in progress.

The corps is studying the possibility of straightening and deepening Ruffy brook from its mouth for about five miles upstream to near Clearwater, shortening the river about two miles.

Ruffy brook and Lost river drain adjacent basins in portions of Polk, Mahnomen, Clearwater and Red Lake counties. Spring and summer floods have occurred in the area in 15 of the years between 1919 and 1957. In 1950, 50 to 90 per cent of crops in the basins were destroyed.

The new projects will protect the area against most floods of this nature, and provide some protection in the event of the rarer, extremely-bad floods, the corps said.

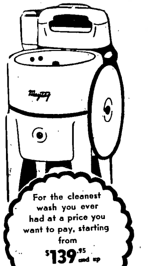
Variety of Foods Plentiful in May

Extension Marketing Specialist Offers Tips

Consumers looking for good buys in May will find a variety of foods on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for the month.

Milk and dairy products, cranberry products, canned freestone peaches, scallops and vegetable fats and oils head the list, reports Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota.



Because milk production will be at a seasonal high, fluid milk and cream will be especially abundant this month, as will ice cream, butter and cheese. The output of milk is at a slightly higher level than a year ago.

Cranberry sauce and cranberry juice are still plentiful from the all-time record crop of cranberries harvested last fall. Stocks of cranberry products on hand are about equal to a full year's supply of these products. Mrs. Loomis points out that cranberry juice makes an appetizing meal starter, and cranberry sauce goes well with almost any kind of meat.

Large supplies of canned freestone peaches are on the market from the record pack made last year. On January 1, almost a million more cases were on hand than a year ago.

Cooking fats and salad oils are available in almost unlimited quantities for every use from last year's large harvest of soybeans, cottonseed and other oil-producing crops.

Charles O. Fisher, Newfolden high school principal, announced this week that valedictorian of the senior class is Wayne Bjornrud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Bjornrud of Newfolden. He has earned an average of 94.22 for grades nine through 12. In addition to his academic work, Wayne has participated in football and dramatics. He has not yet made definite plans for the future.

Salutatorian of the senior class is Maynard Samuelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Samuelson of Viking. He has earned an average of 93.56 for grades nine through 12. Maynard is planning to attend the University of North Dakota next fall. During his high school career he has been active in music, dramatics, the school paper, speech and has served as class officer.

Other senior honor students are Janice Westman, Karen Carlson, Carolyn Fosholm, Dennis Hafson, LeAnn Engelsrud, Janice Carlson, Donald Engelsrud, Mary Sather, Eugene Moen, Dale Johnson and Larry Gustafson.

Lutheran Student Center at Bemidji Makes Fund Drive

200 Congregations Are Asked to Raise $37,500 to Pay Off Mortgage

During the month of May, two hundred Lutheran congregations, located in Northwestern Minnesota will conduct an appeal to raise funds for a Lutheran Student's Center at the Bemidji State college. The purpose of the appeal is to pay off the mortgage on the Student Center in the amount of $37,500.

The two hundred congregations supporting the appeal have been grouped into five areas each having its own organization. Congregations surrounding Roseau and Warren will be directed by Dr. David Berge of Roseau; those in the McIntosh area by Rev. Russell B. Roy; those in the Walker area by Rev. O. R. Swenson and in the Bemidji area by Rev. Vernon Nelson.

Dr. J. N. Brown, formerly president of Concordia college Moorhead, has been engaged as the general director and coordinator of the appeal. He will be assisted by Rev. R. M. Williams of Bemidji as associate director. Headquarters will be located at First Lutheran church, 115 East Ninth Street, Bemidji. Rallies will be held this week in each of the five areas.

The Lutheran Students Center was opened two years ago. It provides religious services, Bible studies, and counseling service to the 500 Lutheran students attending Bemidji State college.

The congregations in this area belonging to the Augustana Synod, the Lutheran Free church and the American Lutheran church will be asked to contribute a "fair share" of the $37,500 goal. Since the amount requested from each congregation is a modest one, the Board of Directors are confident that the goal will be fully subscribed.

Area rallies are being held on the following dates and places: Bemidji area pastors will meet at the Bethel church on May 3, 8 p.m.; Walker area pastors at Pequot Lakes May 4, 8 p.m.; McIntosh area pastors at Kings church in Fosston, May 5, 2 p.m.; Warren area pastors at Warren, May 5, 6:30 p.m.; Roseau area pastors at Roseau, May 6, 6:30 p.m.

Librarians Meet at Detroit Lakes

100 Persons Expected at Meeting May 11th

About 100 public library trustees and librarians from cities in this area are expected in Detroit Lakes Wednesday, May 11, when the Detroit Lakes Library board will be host to a district meeting of the Minnesota Library association.

Representatives are expected from Moorhead, Bemidji, Thief River Falls, Crookston and Mahnomen.

All meetings will be held at the public library with a registration and coffee hour from 9 to 10 a.m. opening the day's activities.

The program includes a talk by David Berninghausen director of the library school of the University of Minnesota, on "Book Selection and Censorship."

J. W. Johnson of Detroit Lakes state agent of the St. Paul Fire & Marine Insurance Co. will discuss insurance for libraries.

A report on library activities in Minnesota will be given by a representative of the Minnesota Library association.

Mrs. Helen Sweasy of Red Wing, chairman of Minnesota's library trustees will conduct a trustees meeting in the afternoon. A noon luncheon will be held at the congregational church.

Why Curbs Are Needed

New York dock workers are picketing an Egyptian freighter because Arab countries have blacklisted American ships that deal with Israel. A single picket on the New York docks has prevented the unloading of the Egyptian ship for two weeks.

Now, in retaliation for the picketing of their freighter in New York, Egyptian port workers have launched a boycott of American shipping and they will neither repair nor unload U. S. vessels at Alexandria, Port Said, or Suez. They have the blessing of President Nasser in this action.

The lone picket on the New York dock who has held up the unloading of the Egyptian freighter for two weeks probably is following the directive of his union's officials. In other words, we may assume, the union bosses are going to settle international differences their way. And they wonder why the public is demanding curbs on union power.

'Ow's That 'Arry?

Harry Truman thinks the Republican candidate for President is going to be in hot water if he attempts to defend the record of the Eisenhower administration. We wil go along with Mr. Truman and admit that the record has some notable shortcomings, but in passing judgment on such things we must consider the good with the bad.

As Abe Lincoln wisely observed, in considering any policy or program, the question isn't whether it is good or bad but rather, in weighing the arguments for and against, which predominates, the good or the evil? And so, in considering the record of President Eisenhower, the good must be given consideration as well as the bad.

Our guess is that if the record of President Eisenhower were compared fairly and impartially with the record of President Truman, Mr. Truman would finish second.

In our book Mr. Truman was a good chief executive when he assumed the heavy responsibility of that office following the death of President Roosevelt. He was humbled by the responsibilitiy with which he was suddenly confronted, and he asked for cooperation. And he received cooperation.

But when he was elected, and he held that high offic as the choice of the voters, his humility vanished, and he became a little too arrogant for his own good, or for the good of the country. From then on he was a very ordinary President.

Throughout seven years of service as President, Eisenhower has retained his humility, and he has continued to ask for cooperation.

Clean and Attractive?

Spring "clean-up" time is here again and this is a community responsibility to which the good people of our city always respond cheerfully. Much of the clean-up work has been done and many of the yards already have that well-groomed look. Residents of our city are proud of their homes and we are sure that the yards and alleys will be kept clean throughout the year, as they have been in previous years.

We wish we could be that confident of the good appearance of the streets in the business section. We are afraid they will also look as usual.

Nothing will be done to discourage the litterbugs who, throughout the long hours of each day will drop paper and candy and cigaret wrappers on the sidewalks. Each night a wind will move them into the doorways of the closed stores where they will rest securely as the streets are vacuumed the next morning. Following the vacuuming the merchants will move in with their brooms and sweep the refuse of the previous days out on the clean pavement, from where much of it will be blown back to add to the next day's deposits of refuse by the litterbuggers.

The city itself is partially responsible for this sorry condition because of the inadequacy of receptacles for refuse along the streets. The few we do have are covered and certainly are not an invitation to cleanliness.

But a first need is a new conception of clean streets in the business section. There are cities, large and small, that distinguish themselves, and acquire excellent reputations, because of the cleanliness of their streets. In some cities it is just as serious an offense to drop litter on the streets as we think it is to drop litter on our highways. People who would do that sort of thing just didn't have good mothers and fathers and are dealt wtih accordingly.

But the main responsibility for this conditon rests wth the merchants themselves. They, who have the most to gain by maintaining a clean, attractive business section, should set the example and provide the leadership that is needed to secure a good result.

We remember, many, many years ago, when Rasmus Oen decided that it would be good for his business if he removed the snow that piled up high in front of his store each winter. He decided to do something about it. He had it hauled away.

The first reaction of other merchants was sympathy. Poor old Rasmus Oen was wasting his money on a foolish idea. But they soon discovered that it was a good idea, and more tried it.

In the course of a few years the demand for snow removal had increased to a point where the city recognized it as a necessity, and since then it has been accepted as a public service. Thanks to Rasmus Oen, Thief River Falls pioneered in snow removal in northern Minnesota.

Thief River Falls will be a much better city in every way if and when the merchants decide that they have a direct interest, as well as a responsibility, in keeping the streets of the business section clean and attractive.

Was It Meddling?

The Syngman Rhee government of South Korea has been overthrown in a comparatively peaceful revolution, and a democratic government is being formed to replace the dictatorship. The reorganization is being directed by a caretaker government that has promised new laws guaranteeing free speech, press, assembly and elections and a return to more local control. The new government will be of the cabinet-prime minister type.

The insurrection had its roots in many years of public dissatisfaction, and exploded into violence following the March 15 election. Rhee's resignation is attributed largely to a sharp letter of criticism from our Secretary of State, Christian Herter. While it appears now that the position taken by our government in siding with the people of South Korea was right, and will prove to be in the best interests of both South Korea and our country, this is a question that will be decided only by future developments.

According to William R. Frye, reporting from the United Nations, the people of South Korea are deeply appreciative of the support given to them by our government in this emergency. He reports:

"The gratitude of the Koreans has been a touching thing to see. There was a poignant scene outside the residence of the highly unpopular Lee Ki Poong, vice president-elect and kingpin of the Rhee party. Angry rioters who had pillaged his home, leaving almost nothing of value intact, came upon an American flag. They saved it, did it honor, and then lovingly folded it and gave it to the first American they found."

This development in South Korea is especially important because what has happened ther may establish a pattern for what may happen elsewhere. South Korea is only one of many countries that have come to be looked upon by us as especially important to our own security, and in which the governments, that we have helped to establish and maintain, have lost popularity among their own people.

Western foreign ministers are meeting this week in Turkey for a NATO conference, and as they are conducting their meetings to maintain world peace the government of Turkey is using force to suppress popular uprisings. While the background of our relations with the people of Turkey and their problems is much different than is the background of our relations with the people of South Korea, now that we have given our moral support to the revolutionaries in one country, the heads of governments in other countries, such as Turkey, will be less certain that they will have our backing under any and all conditions.

Considering all of the angles, our diplomatic intervention in behalf of the people of South Korea probably was the most tenable position our government could take. If future developments prove it to have been unwise, then it will be referred to as meddling, but we must keep in mind the fact that a South Korean revolution probably would have had active Communist support and that the dictatorship of Syngman Rhee might have been replaced by a Communist-dominated government.

Had we lost the confidence and the good will of the people of South Korea we would have lost the confidence and good will of the people in many other countries of the world who are struggling to regain or to retain their freedom.

Cooperation Needed

(Art Suel in New Prague Times)

Not for an instant does this newspaper believe that modern youths are any worse or any better than those of a generation or two ago, but the combination of automobiles and intoxicants gives opportunities for mischief which did not exist in bygone days. Lessening of parental discipline and a complacent attitude toward law obedience are cited by authorities as prime contributing factors.

Most juveniles or "teenagers" are courteous, well mannered, well-behaved, law abiding, order respecting young gentlemen and ladies who are a source of pride to their families and of credit to their communities. It is only a very small percentage of youths who have a mistaken idea of what is smart and adventurous.

The problem is not insurmountable but its solution requires the whole hearted cooperation of the entire citizenry in support of law and order.

The white students from the University of Minnesota, who are trotting around the southern states protesting what they declare to be inequitable treatment of the southern negroes, are embarrassing a substantial number of Minnesota taxpayers. One might think that these vagabond students could better utilize their time by spending it on their study assignments rather than attempting to solve a problem they know very little about. —Don Peterson in Truman Tribune.

Crossword

By THOMAS COLLINS

THE NEXT FIVE YEARS—WHAT CAN YOU EXPECT?

YOU are around age 60. You face retirement at 65. You have begun cogitating about the matter, and you wonder what developments there may be over the next five years that will affect plans you lay now.

Or so it seems from the queries that are coming to me.

Some of the queries suggest that I should tell the readers of this column what I think will be happening over these next five years. They say that what I think—whether I am right or wrong—will have some value because I have had 12 years' experience with retirement problems and because I keep in closer touch with the subject than most people do.

So here is what I see—given with the caution that I am no seer and that I may be wrong:

—Some form of guaranteed medical care is coming for people past 65. I believe it will be here in two years. I'd give odds that it'll be here in five. I believe it will materialize from the Federal Government, with wealthier people supplementing the care with private insurance companies.

It will likely be tied in with Social Security. It will start off meagerly, get better every time Congress meets and be adequate for most normal people in five years.

—I think guaranteed medical care will start off with cries of "Socialism"—as Social Security did—and that ten years later the voters would tar and feather a political candidate who wanted to drop it—which is about what happened on Social Security.

—I think age 65, as a date for retirement, is on the way out—but slowly because the firms that underwrite pension plans, annuities, and life insurance have the whole business world set up on an age-65 basis, and it'll take time to unravel the thing. It seems probable that a labor-management committee in each company will eventually decide whether an employee goes at 70 or 55. And the employee may get the same pension at both ages.

—In five years the idea that an employee will get another job after retirement or start a second career will probably be on the wane. We're on a culture kick, and painting pictures, reading books, etc., in the "new leisure" will grow popular. Also, the people who commercialize leisure—the sellers of boats, travel, cameras, tools, and such, are really making hay.

In five years you're likely to be somewhat peculiar if you don't rush into retirement to scoop up some "New Leisure" activity.

—Inflation in the next five years will probably be paced by increases in your salary, Social Security and investments. Inflation for the five years after retirement will probably be about equal to your declining wants.

—Your money. In the next five years, no matter what, people are going to use electric lights, eat, make telephone calls and go to the bathroom. And with the population explosion more people are going to be doing these things every year. I think I would invest any $250 I had in a company that supplied one of these things.

A 75-bushel per acre corn yield in a drouth year is nothing to sneeze at. But corn yielded that well for Frank Courts, farmer in the Cottonwood county soil conservation district, in 1959. One key to success was contour strips, laid out by Rudy Kehren, SCS technician at Windom. Yields in the surrounding area averaged only 30 to 40 bushels. Courts says his fields held the extra water from one good rain — which was enough to make the crop. "Now," he says, "I want more contour strips and terraces to improve my conservation farming program."

Minnesota's extra profit corn contest this year will have two main divisions. In one, winners will be chosen according to net return from improved corn growing practices on a two-acre test plot, compared with a one acre check plot receiving no fertilizer, chemical weed control or insecticide. In the other division winners will be named according to highest yield on test plots. Farmers wishing to enter the competition may contact the county extension office. The contest is sponsored by the University of Minnesota's Agricultural Extension Service and The Farmer magazine.

Minnesota could profitably raise more durum wheat this year. National durum wheat production last summer was down to 1.2 million acres compared to a 10 year average of more than two million. Durum produces well in Minnesota, too. University of Minnesota trials last year showed recommended durum varieties yielding five per cent above recommended bread wheat varieties. Also, durum wheat brings good prices. A 23-25 cent premium per bushel was paid for No. 1 hard amber durum in 1958 and '59.

Water stayed on the hillsides last summer on the Emil Dullinger farm northwest of St Cloud. After a heavy rain, Dullinger found that a corn field laid out in contour strips had little erosion. Water, though, had stayed in the rows and was there for crop use. Clayton Hart, U. S. soil conservationist, helped Dullinger set up the contour system — which Dullinger thinks is the answer to water erosion on slopes.

Border Council to Meet at Stephen

The Northwest Minnesota Border Council will meet at Stephen Tuesday, May 10 at 7 p.m. Dr. Edwin C. Blackburn of Moorhead State college is the scheduled speaker. STATE SAFETY COUNCIL BUSY ALL THE TIME

Any time is safety time! But especially in summer, with school children "running loose", auto traffic at peak, boats and recreation equipment in full swing, farm work, and other seasonal hazards threatening life and limb, the work of the Minnesota Safety Council becomes increasingly important. Recently installed as president of this guardian organization is an associate justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court who has long given much time and attention to the cause of safety, the Honorable Thomas F. Gallagher. First vice president is a former legislator now president of Minneapolis Gas company, Gerald T. Mullin, with E. Ray Cory, widely known Austin insurance man, as second vice president. State Auditor Stafford King is treasurer of the council. The staff of Executive Secretary Alfred W. Luecke includes Mrs. Henry Shadur and Miss Margaret Ludwig in the office; Rumon V. Juetten, St. Paul; Ervin Nygaard, Brainerd, Frank Stanton, West St. Paul, field representatives. Headquarters of the busy, growing and highly effective organization are maintained in the St. Paul Hotel.

DID YOU KNOW that the Treasury Department turns out about $8 billion worth of new paper money each year? Seventy per cent of this consists of one-dollar bills, because that denomination receives the greatest use and lasts only about 13 months. Ten-dollar bills circulate less and have a life span of approximately four years.

IN THE GADGET DEPARTMENT: There's an anti-tarnish silver spray, in an aerosol can, supposed to protect the finish of silver, brass and copper for years . . . A Word to the Women: If the men in your family keep you on a darning spree, the fault may be yours. The cotton socks you purchase for the children and dad will last longer if they extend about a half-inch beyond the foot. Socks made of cotton usually shrink that much the first time laundered . . . Packing Tip: If you carry liquid or lotion in plastic squeeze bottles, compress the sides a bit as you put on the top. That creates a suction and makes them leakproof.

HOW MANY POUNDS OF STEEL in that car of yours? And how many tons of iron ore were needed to make that steel? The average standard car in 1960 required 3,600 lbs. of steel, and it takes over 5,600 lbs. of iron ore to produce that much steel. Steel men are trying to hold down the cost of the iron ore needed to make steel so they can compete better with foreign steels and other products. That's why they're demanding high-quality from ore—why Minnesota must improve its ore if it's to compete with high-quality iron ores produced in Michigan, Canada and elsewhere.

VACATION TIP: If clothes are mussed up on arrival, hang them in a closet and then put a dampened terry towel over a hanger inside and close the door. The moisture will take out the wrinkles . . . Ever watch those courtroom dramas on TV? After a while, you get the impression that something is wrong with our legal apparatus. A witness takes the stand, swears to tell the truth, and every time he starts to do so—the opposing attorney objects.

Program Subject to Change Without Notice

Homemakers to Hold Their Achievement Day Friday, May 6th

Pennington county homemakers will stage an Achievement Day on Friday, May 6, it was announced today by Mrs. Sig Folkedahl, vice president. The program will get under way at 1:30 p.m. at the Trinity Lutheran church.

The speaker for the achievement day is George Donohue, rural sociologist, with the University of Minnesota. Donohue will speak on the effects of "working mothers" on the home and the changes in rural living.

On display will be exhibits of work done thru the year by homemakers. Women are urged to view these exhibits and take part in the afternoon program. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

The achievement day is designed to focus attention on the learning activities carried on each year by the 260 homemakers in the 17 Pennington county groups. The activities are planned by local women and conducted cooperatively by the extension service, USDA, and the University of Minnesota, states County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Planning activities for the achievement day are the following homemakers:

Exhibits: Chairman, Mrs. Lorenson; Mrs. W. A. Corbet, Mrs. Clarence Peterson.

Reception: Chairman, Mrs. Alvin Burstad; Mrs. Earl Peterson, Mrs. Ernest Swanson, Mrs. Adam Lendobeja.

Tamarac & Vega 4-H Clubs Win in Marshall Event

The Tamarac Tacklers and Vega 4-H clubs won the Marshall county final 4-H play and music contest which was held Saturday, April 23, at the Argyle school auditorium, reports Harlem Sandberg, 4-H club agent.

"The Tamarac Tacklers presented the play "Shock of His Life." Robert Fay, member of the cast, was named top actor.

The Vega Girls Quartet sang the "4-H Chorale" and "Sweet Old-Fashioned Girl." Members are: Doreen Ranstrom, JoAnn Hickman, Rosalind and Caroline Demeyere.

Top actress honors went to Karen Mortenson of the Holt 4-H club.

The two winning clubs will take part in the district 4-H play and music contest to be held Monday, May 2, 7:30 p.m. at the Kennedy community center. Roseau, Kittson and Lake of the Woods counties will also take part in this event.

Other clubs which took part in the county event were Boxville, West Prairie and Holt clubs with plays and Happy Corner, McCrea and Gatzke Busy Beavers clubs in the music division.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Reiersgord and Mr. Fred Shrimpton, all of Crookston. Approximately 350 people attended.

Evangelist Don Fladland Coming

Is Our Savior's Church Guest Speaker May 4 to 8

Our Savior's Lutheran Church located at 401 South St. Paul in this city will be host to a preaching mission next week. The guest speaker is Evangelist Don Fladland of Minneapolis, and the meetings commence Wednesday night, May 4, and continue through Sunday night May 8. The Evangelist will also speak at the morning worship at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday. "The public is cordially invited to any or all of these services," says Lynn Luthard, pastor of the church.

Evangelist Don Fladland was baptized and confirmed at Sharon Lutheran Church at Grand Forks, N. D. Following graduation from high school he entered the armed services serving in Japan. He was graduated from Augsburg College in 1951 and attended the Lutheran Bible Institute the following year.

He later attended Augsburg seminary.

Called to serve Green Lake Lutheran Church, Spicer, Minnesota, he served five years in the parish ministry. Trinity Lutheran Church of Minnehaha Falls invited him to become youth director, which position he filled until called by the LFC Home Mission Board to full time work in Evangelism.

Mr. Fladland has had extensive experience with youth, having served as vice president of the Luther League Federation of th LFC for a numbr of years. He has also taught at a number of our Bible Camps.

Officers Assns. for Retarded to Meet in Bemidji

Officers of Minnesota associations for retarded children will attend a regional meeting in Bemidji May 7, Dr. Donald Berglund, president of the Minnesota Association for Retarded Children, said today.

The meeting to be held in the First Methodist church, is designed to provide guidance and assistance for officers of association chapters throughout the state, Berglund said. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Association members are expected to attend from the northern section of Minnesota. The program will include sessions on chapter management, budgeting and finance, programming, publicity and public education and projects.

Association staff members who will take part in the meeting include Gerald F. Walsh, executive director of the Minnesota association; Mildred Thomson, program analyst; Merlen Kurth, field representative and Virginia Leonard Kunz, public information director.

Achievement Day for Homemakers Scheduled May 6

George Donahue, Rural Sociologist, to Be Guest Speaker at Annual Event

George Donahue, extension rural sociologist, will be featured speaker at the annual Pennington county homemakers' Achievement Day program Friday, May 6, 1:30 p.m. in the Trinity Lutheran church parlors. He will speak on "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

The program, which is open to the public, is being planned by members of the home extension groups to highlight their activities for the year.

The event will focus attention on National Home Demonstration Week, being observed thruout the nation May 1 to 7 by half a million homemakers who take part in home economics extension or home demonstration work.

In Minnesota more than 48,000 women are members of organized groups in the extension home program, as it is known in this state. This is an educational activity planned by local women and conducted cooperatively by the extension service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Universiyt of Minnesota and the local communities to study many phases of homemaking and family living, as well as citizenship responsibilities.

Approximately 260 women who take part in the extension home program in 17 Pennington county groups will join in observance of the week. In addition to the Achievement Day program, they are planning exhibits to call attention to the practical help offered to Minnesota homemakers by out-of-school learning activities provided through the extension home program.

Visitors Week Set at Fergus Falls

State Hospital Noting Mental Health Week

For the second year, "Operation Friendship" will be noted at the Fergus Falls state hospital during Mental Health week May 1-7.

The observance last year attracted between 2,000 and 3,000 visitors and the goal for this second visitation is to double the number.

Officials at the hospital pointed out that the observance has two results; it showed the mentally ill that their relatives, friends, neighbors and fellow citizens do care and it also promoted better understanding and closer relations between the community and the hospital.

As of April 1 this year, 61 citizens from Pennington county were residents at the Fergus Falls state hospitals and, during the past year, 10 were discharged.

This year, the theme, "This is Your Hospital," has been adopted and daily tours of the hospital will be conduced at 1 and 2 p.m.

In conjunction with Mental Health week, a pastors' institute on mental health will be conducted Wednesday, May 4, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

UNION STATE bank in Thief River Falls will celebrate its 30th anniversary Thursday, May 5, and an open invitation has been extended to everyone in the area to help the institution observe the event with free birthday cake and coffee being served. Visitors may register for free Better Homes & Gardens books and will have a chance to meet the mystery personality who has been the object of a guessing game for the past few weeks.

BOOST The campaign for a new center for Red River Valley Winter Shows in Crookston got a boost from Consumers Cooperative Assn., Thief River Falls, and other Midland cooperatives in northwestern Minnesota, when the 15 cooperatives gave a check for $2,000 to Dr. Bernard E. Youngquist, RRVWS president and superintendent of the Northwest School and Experiment Station. From left: Dr. Youngquist, B. B. Public Opinion

Editor Times:

Two recent editorials concerned with railroad crossing signals have set me, and I imagine a few other people, to thinking.

May I begin by saying that I do not quarrel with the fact that Thief River Falls should have better railroad crossing signals.

However, I do question a statement that lays all the blame for such accidents on the lack of such signals.

We are warned of oncoming crossings by stop signs printed on our highways or put in plain view --like--any other warning signs. How many people observe these signs? Why not observe a railroad warning sign as religiously as we do other stop signs? Considering the consequences of being hit by a train, isn't it reasonable to assume that we should stop even if there are no flashing red lights ordering us to do so?

I have sat many times by the Soo Line depot on Third st. and watched cars come racing up to the tracks. The driver will note the signals are on and after a quick look, makes a mad dash across the tracks.

Railroad men can tell of the sickening feeling of sitting helplessly on an engine, watching some car trying to beat the train to the crossing. This happens every day!

People just won't realize that a train cannot stop for them and that this sort of racing will eventually...

I'll concede we need better railroad crossing signals in many places. But I also say its time people learn to respect the life God gave them, and stop flirting with death at every railroad crossing.

And certainly we can't expect our young people to observe these simple rules of safety if we as adults fail to set a good example.

Blue Shield to Offer Plan for Older Folks

Minnesota Blue Shield is currently conducting an enrollment period for its Senior Citizens Plan, which provides medical-surgical coverage for persons 65 years of age and over. The enrollment period, beginning May 2 will run through June 29.

"The plan is a significant step toward solving the problem of financing medical care costs for the aged, which is now being debated in Congress," Dr. C. A. McKinlay, president of the Minnesota Blue Shield board of directors, said.

Dr. McKinlay added, "Minnesota Blue Shield is able to offer this coverage at a low cost, because of its non-profit, community-wide approach to health care. Under this approach, the risks are distributed over the entire community."

At a cost of $2.95 per month, the plan provides coverage for in hospital medical care, surgery, electroshock therapy, x-ray treatment and other procedures. Also included is coverage for diagnostic x-ray and laboratory services, when performed in the patient's home, doctor's office, or out-patient department of a hospital. No physical examination is required.

The enrollment period is timed to include both Mother's Day and Father's Day, and advertising messages will suggest the plan as an appropriate gift for parents.

The plan, which was introduced last October by Minnesota Blue Shield, was developed in cooperation with the Minnesota Medical Association.

Big Ayrshire Sale in St. Paul May 7

40 Outstanding Animals Offered at National Sale

Forty animals consigned from the outstanding Ayrshire dairy cattle breeding establishments on the North American continent will be auctioned at the 1960 Grand National Ayrshire Sale in St. Paul Saturday, May 7. Sale time is 12:30 p.m. at the state fair grounds.

Over-all quality of animals consigned is the best in the sale's history according to Sale Manager Dick Sears of Des Moines, Iowa.

The dams of the 38 female animals in the sale have an average milk production of more than 13,000 pounds on actual 305 day, twice-a-day milking test. Their butterfat production average is 516 pounds.

Animals consigned are from New York, New Hampshire, California, and all parts of the Midwest and also from Canada. Selections come from internationally famous Ayrshire herds such as Lippitt, Meredith, Windrow, Strathglass and Toll Gate.

The sale will be preceded by activities of the 85th annual meeting of the National Ayrshire Breeders association in Hotel St. Paul. Some 400 persons are expected to attend.

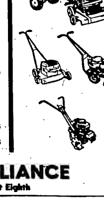
Rotary Club Given an International Service Plaque

Honored at Grand Forks; Soo Line Trainmaster Kemmer Addresses Club

The Thief River Falls Rotary club was awarded one of three plaques for international service during the district assembly and conference in Grand Forks April 21-23, it was announced at the Monday noon meeting.

Douglas Kemmer, trainmaster of the Winnipeg division of the Soo Line railroad, took members of the Rotary club on a verbal tour of the division during the meeting.

Kemmer began the tour with an inspection of the yard office and of the yard where crews checked equipment and arranged cars which were to be added to a southbound freight. The movement of the train until it reached the Thief River Falls yards was described and Rotarians then boarded the freight for a trip to the southern divisional boundary. The work of the train crew prior to departure and during the trip was explained in addition to the rules of traffic including speed limits.



Members of the club who attended the Rotary district assembly and conference in Grand Forks reported that the appropriation of $1,500 to assist clubs in sponsoring foreign exchange students had been renewed. Those who attended the assembly and conference were Jarvis Prichard, incoming president; L. L. Tygeson, incoming secretary and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barzen.

Accidents in the farm home kill more than 2,700 and injure nearly 400,000 farm residents each year.

Few Cases May Calendar of Dist. Court

Decision on Calling Jury to Be Reached Tuesday Morning

One of the shortest calendars of cases scheduled for jury trial in recent years will be acted on next Tuesday morning, May 10, when the calendar is called in the May term of Pennington county district court by Judge John Galernault of Brainerd, who will preside over the term.

Henry Storhaug, clerk of court, stated that if the jury is to be called to report for duty the following Tuesday, May 17, as originally planned, the prospective jurors will be notified by the sheriff's office.

Only three civil cases and one criminal action calling for jury consideration are listed on the calendar prepared Wednesday in Storhaug's office. Included in the civil cases are those of John Wiener et al. vs. DuWayn Thygeson; Jassie Miramontes vs. W. A. Webskowski; and Charles Mercier vs. Isabel Lofgren and Garry Lofgren, based on an automobile mishap.

A fourth civil action, to be heard as a court case, is that of Lloyd Urdahl and Nordeen Urdahl vs. Mary A. Austin, A. F. Whitney et al.

The lone case on the criminal calendar is that of the city of Thief River Falls vs. Clarence R. Kraft, involving an appeal from municipal court.

Senior Class Play Offered May 10 by Lincoln Students

'Room for One More' 2-act Comedy, to Be Presented in School Auditorium

The Lincoln senior class will present the two-act comedy "Room for One More," on Tuesday, May 10, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The play is based on the story Mrs. Rose has written about her family — her own children and those adopted from an agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose operate their household like a well-organized democratic business; only with more love, understanding and fun.

When Poppy dies, Mother is left to manage the cottage and the futures of the five children with very little money. The children help as much as possible, but there just isn't quite enough to get Joey through college and pay for the many expensive operations Jimmy John, the newest addition to the family, needs.

The cast includes Juanita Magnan as Mother; Bob Brown, Joey; Sandra Skay, Trot Rose; Sharon Swanson, Teensie; Jane Ballingrud, Janey; Kathleen Hamilton, Betty; Bonnie Gessner as Miss Winson from the agency; Conley Dyrud, Poppy; Milton Leiran as Jimmy John; Arlene Terrian, Mrs. Biddle; Gene Bergh, George Biddle; and Gail Lindberg as the Rescued Woman.

The play is directed by Miss Nita J. Driuk. Karin Larson is student director, and Wes Halvorson heads the stage crew.

Library to Have Story Hour May 7

Story hour at the Library Saturday, May 7, will serve not only as entertainment for the 1-3 graders but as a reminder for the need for bicycle safety. "Curious George Rides a Bike" is the delightful fantasy about a little monkey who bears a powerful resemblance to the small baldheaded animal who made the recent trip into outer space.

Curious George is a very talented little fellow who launches a paper boat navy, becomes a daring bicycle rider for the circus and rescues a runaway bear. He even finds time to get an ostrich into trouble.

Sociologist to Speak to Homemakers Group Friday, May 6, at 1:30

GEORGE A. DONOHUE

George A. Donohue, rural sociologist, University of Minnesota, will speak at the Pennington county Homemakers Achievement Day on Friday, May 6. All women are invited to attend this event which is to be held at Trinity Lutheran church starting at 1:30 p.m.

Donohue's talk is entitled "Leaders — Born or Developed." He will explore the various views of leadership and how they came about and will explain leadership skills and leadership in action. This topic will be of interest to all women whether they work in ladies aid groups, garden clubs, homemakers, or other community eneavors, and all women are urged to attend the Homemakers Achievement Day.

Homemakers will have on display exhibits of work they did during the year, and refreshments will be served.

The Homemakers Achievement Day is part of the National Home Demonstration Week observance by 7½ million homemakers who take part in home economics extension or home demonstration work.

In Minnesota 48,000 women are involved in organized groups and 260 homemakers participating. The long-range goal of the women is to become more proficient homemakers by studying homemaking and family living as well as citizenship responsibilities.

A native of New York State, Donohue attended the State College of Washington, where he received a BA degree in 1948. Later, he was a teaching and research assistant, director of industrial placement for a year and an instructor in sociology at that institution until 1953, when he came to the University of Minnesota.

T.R. Falls Circuit of WMF Meets Here Next Wednesday

Missionary Federation to Hold Convention at Trinity Lutheran Church

The spring Women's Missionary Federation convention of the Thief River Falls circuit of the Evangelical Lutheran church will be held in Thief River Falls at Trinity Lutheran church on Wednesday, May 11. Registration and coffee will begin at 9:30 with the morning session beginning at 10 a.m.

The convention sermon will be given by Pastor J. Helgeson of Greenbush. A report on 'Our New Church' will be given by Pastor Reuben Wangberg of Thief River Falls. The two customary WMF presentations will be given by Mrs. C. L. Williams and Mrs. William Kaushagen of Thief River Falls on Radio-TV and Higher Education, respectively.

The highlight of the convention will be an address by Mrs. Peter Fossum of Northfield, general president of WMF and president-elect of the ALCW.

Since this is the merger year of the WMF, a historical pageant will be presented by a group of Roseau members directed by Mrs. Torliff Tweet, circuit historian. Special music will be provided by Mrs. Bryant Ulseth and a Lincoln high school string trio. Devotions for the sessions will be given by Mrs. Reuben Wangberg and Mrs. Sig Folkedahl of Thief River Falls.

200 from 9th Dist. Legion Auxiliary at Luncheon Here

Group Saturday Hears Talk by Mrs. Lindquist, Department President

About 200 members of the 9th district American Legion auxiliary attended the annual spring luncheon at the Ecklund Holmstrom American Legion club rooms Saturday, April 30.

Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, Ninth district president, presided and Mrs. Leroy Nabben, unit president, gave the welcome for the local unit. Mrs. Carlton Mortenson of Fergus Falls responded for the district and Mrs. Nels Larson of Bagley, district chaplain, gave the prayer.

Mrs. Gene Lindquist of Clarissa, department president of the American Legion auxiliary was the guest speaker. Mrs. C. J. Paulson, Shevlin, vice chairman of national publications, brought greetings.

District chairmen and 12 past district presidents in attendance were introduced by Mrs. Harold M. Johnson. The spring luncheon is given annually by the unit of the district president.

Big Fire Loss Sustained on F. Wald Farm

Building Is Razed on St. Hilaire Farm with $6-8,000 Loss

Six fires Wednesday kept local firemen busy but, with the exception of the fire at the Frank Wald farm in Rocksbury township, little damage was reported.

Firemen were called to the Wald farm 1½ miles northeast of St. Hilaire at 1:02 a.m. Wednesday where fire in a building 136 by 25 feet used as a chicken house and for storage caused a loss of from $6,000 to $8,000 to the structure and its contents. Listed as destroyed were 200 chickens, 300 chicks, 18 tons of feed and the spring seed. Firemen from St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls were able to save adjacent buildings by using water pumped from the river and stayed at the scene until about 6 a.m. According to the owner, there was $1,000 in insurance on the building but the contents were not covered. The fire may have been started by heat lamps used for the chicks.

At 2:20 a.m., firemen were called to the Stanley Flattum home at 406 Merriam ave. S., where a faulty furnace overheated and smoke drove the family from the house. The building and its contents had only smoke damage and the family spent the rest of the night with friends.

Early Wednesday afternoon, firemen made their third run of the day to the George Larson place ½ mile southwest of the sewage treatment plant. A grass fire was extinguished there with no damage listed.

The next call Wednesday afternoon was to the S. T. Hetland farm three miles south on the airport road where there was a brush and grass fire. No other damage was reported.

A shed was burned at the Ed Christensen home on Greenwood blvd.E. Wednesday when a grass fire spread to the building and the last call of the afternoon was to extinguish a brush and grass fire at the south end of Spruce street.

Washington PTA Sets Show Friday

Ten Lively Acts Will Be Presented in School Gym

The Washington PTA will present its annual variety show Friday evening, May 6, at 9:15 in the school gymnasium.

The old days of the Medicine Wagon with its fast-talking promoter plus variety acts will be the theme of the evening.

The numbers will be introduced by Ellsworth Jorgenson as emcee. A few of the highlights will be Blue Strongarm, John and Ray, the Waverly Brothers, Jane Bussell singing, and Daisy Belle — ten acts in all.

RADIO communication was maintained between headquarters of Ken Gustafson, county civil defense director, and the mobile support area headquarters in Bemidji Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3 and 4, by these two amateur radio operators, Brian Baden, left, and Ron Stordahl, right, with the transmitter and receiver set up at the Stordahl residence at 1200 Taft st. The "hams" are a part of the civil defense effort which had its seventh annual preparedness exercise this week. Brian and Ron were in contact with Bemidji the greatest share of the time but also sent and received messages to and from Red Lake Falls, Warren, Crookston, Detroit Lakes, Moorhead, Hallock, Baudette, Warroad and Roseau. Ten messages were handled Tuesday and 35 Wednesday.

New Pastor Takes St. Hilaire Parish

Rev. Paul J. A. Gustafson to Be Installed Sunday

REV. PAUL J. A. GUSTAFSON

Rev. Paul J. A. Gustafson, for the last six years pastor of a Lancaster church, will be installed in the Black River church Sunday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock as pastor of the Augustana Lutheran parish of St. Hilaire, which also includes the Tarna and Clara churches.

Rev. Gustafson, who has served the Minnesota conference for 28 years, will be installed by Dr. Walter E. Carlson, president of the Red River Valley conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church, assisted by other pastors of the Red River district, which will be represented also by Rev. Marvin O. Rev. and Mrs. Gustafson are the parents of two sons and a daughter. One son, Rev. Paul Abner Gustafson, is a pastor at Warroad, while the other is a cost accountant with Honeywell in Minneapolis. Their daughter is married and living in Minneapolis.

County Board Held Session Tuesday

Receives Petition for Ditch Repair Project

A new petition for repair of a ditch south of St. Hilaire was submitted to the Pennington county board at its May session Tuesday. A hearing on the matter was set for Thursday, May 26, and Lloyd Ofstedahl of Crookston was appointed project engineer.

The board appropriated $2,177.31 to the Oakland Park nursing home to cover this county's share of the deficit incurred during the past year, caused in part by capital expenditures.

Action was deferred on the request of the Carnegie public library board for an appropriation of $2,500 for county library service. This figure is double the allotment made last year, and the library board submitted figures on operating costs in support of its request.

P. G. Pederson to Be Guest of Honor at Dinner Monday

Colleagues to Join in Honoring Retiring City Clerk; Served City 46 Years

P. G. (Pete) Pederson, retiring city clerk who has been a city employe for 46 years, will be honored at a banquet Monday evening, May 9, at the Rex cafe.

Present and former city officials and employes and other members of the community will gather to pay tribute to the veteran city official whose retirement becomes effective May 15.

Pete, a native of Fosston, came to Thief River Falls in January, 1914, and served as deputy city clerk for 10 years and city clerk for 36 years.

He and his wife live at 240 Markley ave. N., where they have three lots, a flower garden and "lots to do."

The retiring city clerk will serve as a consultant to his successor for some time. No one has been named to the position at present.

Lincoln Athletes Banquet Guests

The annual banquet honoring the Lincoln high school athletes and their coaches, held Monday evening in the high school cafeteria, was one of the most successful in the ten years that the event has been a feature of the local athletic scene. The event is sponsored by the city's four service clubs — Lions, Rotary, Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce.

Monday night's event progressed smoothly under the able direction of Doug Tegtmeier, former KTRF sportscaster and now with KNOX-TV at Grand Forks. Rev. Marvin O. Carlson of the First Lutheran church gave the invocation. Don M. Olson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the spokesman for the service clubs and welcomed the guests to the banquet.

The highlight of the evening was the address to the athletes, the coaches, the parents and friends by Marv (Whitey) Helling, the varsity coach of the North Dakota University football squad. Helling was no stranger to local high school fans as prior to his appointment to the North Dakota coaching staff he was a coach in Minnesota high school circles, being for five years the football coach of the Detroit Lakes Lakers.

In his inspiring address, Helling paid tribute to the Prowler coaching staff, and he referred to his days at Detroit Lakes in commenting on the respect he and his Laker athletes held for the Prowler teams.

Helling stated that an athletic coach searches for four important qualities in an athlete, and without these ingredients the athlete and the team will not be successful. The four characteristics, and in the order of their importance, are desire, courage, loyalty, and ability.

To the players, Helling advised them "to be grateful to their school and their coaches for the opportunity they have been given to participate in sports." ...

Brownie Scouts in Fly-up Ceremony Monday Evening

57 Brownies Advance to Intermediate Program at Washington School

The annual Brownie Scout Fly-up was held Monday evening, May 2, in the Washington school auditorium. Fifty-seven Brownies of the fourth grades received their wings and Girl Scout pins as they were advanced into the Intermediate Girl Scout program.

The impressive ceremony opened with the presentation of the colors by members of Troop 53, followed by the Brownies marching in a horseshoe formation, giving the pledge of allegiance and singing "America".

The Brownies and their parents and friends were welcomed by Mrs. R. J. Dryden, president of the Thief River Falls association. This was followed by the Brownie Promise, the "Smile Song" and the Girl Scout promise and laws given by the advancing Brownies.

The leaders awarded wings to their girls, which is an award for having completed the Brownie Scout program. Mrs. Frank Clinton presented each girl with a Girl Scout pin. Two girls of Intermediate troop 8, whose leader is Mrs. Charles Dostal, then welcomed the new Girl Scouts into the Intermediate program.

Leaders and assistants of the four advanced troops are: Troop 48, Mrs. Roy Lee and Mrs. Clarence Mattson; Troop 53, Mrs. Elmer Sandberg; Troop 71, Mrs. Johnnie Ness, Mrs. Dale Iverson, Mrs. George Van Rooy and Mrs. Gladys Borgen; and Troop 88, Miss Beverly Myhrer and Mrs. Ervin Himmerich.

Mrs. Frank Clinton, county office secretary, gave a short talk on Established Girl Scout Camp, which will be at Camp Wabaunaquat, Ogema, Minn., on White Earth Lake this summer from July 31 through August 13, providing two one-week sessions. The girls were reminded that the deadline for registering is June 1st.

Zoe Ann Dill and Daniel Helle Are Wed Here April 23

White gladioli and pink carnations graced the altar of Community Methodist church April 23 for the wedding of Miss Zoe Ann Dill and Daniel H. Helle.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dill of the Mud Lake Refuge of Holt while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Helle of this city.

Rev. Henry Friedman performed the 8 p.m. double ring ceremony with Mrs. Sherman Idso playing the nuptial music and accompanying the soloist, Bryant Ulseth, as he sang "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white lace over satin with a bouffant skirt and featuring a fitted bodice with a round neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of pearls and her crescent shower bouquet was of red roses and white carnations.

Maid of honor, Patricia Dill, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Darlys Karlen, and Laura Carlveau, friends of the bride, wore street length dresses of pastel blue with matching hats and their corsages were of pink roses and white carnations.

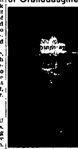
Attending as best man was Harvey Helle of Grand Forks, brother of the bridegroom, with Elmer Kolseth, friend of the bridegroom and Gerald Helle, brother of the bridegroom, as groomsmen. Seating the guests were Mervin Prestebak and Leslie Snetting. The gentlemen of the bridal party wore black tuxedoes with white dinner jackets and carnation boutonnieres. Both mothers were presented corsages of orchids.

A reception with approximately 75 guests attending was held in the church basement immediately following the wedding with Mrs. Leslie Snetting serving as hostess.

The three-tiered wedding cake which centered the serving table was cut and served by Mrs. James Thompson and Mrs. Marvin Mansfield, while Mrs. Parnell Sanford of Detroit Lakes, aunt of the bride, poured.

Joyce Sawyer of Greenbush was in charge of the guest book while Virginia Odberg of Detroit Lakes and Lucy Whitcomb of this city received and arranged the gifts. Each of the ladies who helped at the reception were presented corsages of tea roses and white carnations.

For her going away ensemble, the bride chose a beige suit with brown accessories. Upon the return from their wedding trip to Miami, Fla., the last of May, the couple will make their home at the Northwestern Trailer Court, of which Mr. Helle is co-owner.



ON HONEYMOON Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Helle, nee Zoe Ann Dill, were united in marriage at the Community Methodist Church Saturday, April 23. Upon their return the last of May, the couple will make their home at the Northwestern Trailer Court.

Square Dance Jamboree Provides Much Pleasure

Enthusiastic square dancers flocked to Thief River Falls over the weekend to enjoy the Jamboree held at the city Auditorium under the sponsorship of the local club. Attending the afternoon workshop conducted by Lee Newton of Fergus Falls were beginners, intermediate and advanced dancers. Lee worked with the dancers who found at the close of the session they were anxious to try their newly acquired knowledge at the evening square dance. Lee presented couples attending with a booklet "60 Reasons Why Square Dancing is Fun" which he compiled.

More than 80 members and their guests enjoyed a chuckwagon dinner served buffet style at the American Legion club rooms using a Western motif. Red and blue 'kerchiefs decorated each table, while flickering candles dripped wax over the old bottles used as holders. Old time covered wagons with a typical camp scene centered the serving table.

Immediately following the dinner Sylvia and Lee Newton, honored guests, headed back to the Auditorium to begin the dancing. Alemande left, California Twirl, Red Hot and Square Thru were among familiar calls used to find dancers progressing in an evening of real square dancing fun in typical "Newton" style.

Coffee and sandwiches provided by the Thief River Falls dancers brought to a close a successful evening.

Sunday afternoon Jamboree dancers whirled through one dance after another, Lee building up the tempo of the dance to the delight of the dancers. Spectators enjoyed the colorful sight as brightcolored skirts billowed out and couples whirled through the steps. Callers from the area who took part included Paul Kostuck of Winnipeg, Henry Lasch of Grand Forks, Harry Tack of East Grand Forks and Ed DeLap of Thief River Falls.

Numerous Offenders Fined in Local Court

Another relatively quiet session of municipal court was registered Monday, although three cases the latter part of last week brought the total up to near normal, Judge H. O. Chommie presided.

The sheriff brought three cases, one of which forfeited bond for non-appearance. Allen D. Iverson and Kenneth Hanson, both of Goodridge, pleaded guilty to drinking as minors and were each fined $10. Conrad G. Iverson, Goodridge, forfeited $30 bond for having an open bottle of intoxicants in a car.

Game Warden Carl Sundstrom brought Gerald D. Bakken, rt. 1, in on a charge of transporting a loaded shotgun in a car and Bakken was fined $15 after pleading guilty.

Bakken also pleaded guilty to and was fined for the following offenses charged against him by city police: through stop sign, $10; speeding, $35; reckless driving, $50, and driving after license suspension, $25.

All other cases were brought by city police. Selvin M. Erickson, Badger, paid a $50 fine after pleading guilty to careless driving.

Virginia Austad, city, pleaded guilty to driving without a driver's license and was fined $25, of which $15 was suspended. On a charge of being drunk she was fined an additional $10. Philip C. Megorden, Hendrum, forfeited $15 bond on a speeding charge.

Friday, city police brought in John Myerchin, city, for possession of beer by a minor. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15. Archie L. Schneider, city, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $10, suspended.

Last Thursday, Ernest L. Wappula, Middle River, pleaded guilty to having an open bottle of intoxicants in his car and was fined $25. On the additional charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a car he was fined $10.

Lincoln Athletes Guests at Dinner Monday Evening

he added that the athletes should be certain not "to bring shame on sport, on their town, on their parents, and themselves."

In conclusion, the North Dakota coach reminded the athletes that they should "Thank God for their strong bodies, for their alert minds, for their community, for their friends, and for the competitive spirit with which they are endowed."

Following the address, athletic director Ralph Skay introduced the Prowler varsity coaches, including football coach Joe Mrkonich, track coach Rod Max, golf coach Jack Boyer, tennis coach John Johnson, wrestling coach Charles DeCorsey, hockey coach Gene Sack, basketball coach Hartley Story, and baseball coach Skay. These coaches in turn introduced their respective team members.

Miss Linda Lee was called upon to introduce the Prowler cheerleaders, and the following girls acknowledged the introduction: Susan Ballingrud, Connie Ekeren, Mary Lou Fisher, Doris Humes, Jane Kollitz, Marlon Lietzow, Marie Nelson, Elodee Ranum, Sandra Skay, and Judy Unruh.

Providing the musical entertainment for the banquet was the brass ensemble of Gary Odegaard, Charles Larson, Ron Stordahl, Audrey Terrian, Bill Lee, Bob Brown, Kathleen Hamilton, Dave Hauswirth, and Phil Jorgenson; and the boys quartet, Bruce Nelson, Don Stewart, Benjamin Martin and Richard Erickson.

In recognition of the many years that he has followed the fortunes of the Prowler athletic teams and broadcast their games, he was presented with a gift by Dale Wennberg, who made the presentation in behalf of the Prowler lettermen's club.

Twin Valley Bows to Prowlers by 3-1 Tally

Arlan Hjelle, Prowler right hander, had a no-hit no-run game in the scorebook with one out and two men on base in the seventh inning of the game against Twin Valley here last night, but then Gary Dunbar lofted a double into right field scoring a run and leaving Tiger runners on second and third. Hjelle struck out Mickey Hoen and Dave Bergeson to give coach Ralph Skay's club a 3-1 win over the district 30 Twin Valley Tigers.

Two walks an error and Mike Aune's bum backed double into left field gave the Prowlers two runs in the second inning. Aune, a lefthanded sticker, looped the ball over shortstop, and when the Tiger left fielder, Lyle Klementson, missed his shoestring catch try, the ball fell for a double, with Paul Saurdiff scoring from third and Jim Wegge scoring from second.

The Prowlers added their final run by scoring in the fifth inning off Tiger relief pitcher Irv Samshal. Gary Klungness led off with a walk, stole second, moved to third base on Arlan Hjelle's fly ball into deep right field, and scored on Saurdiff's infield hit to shortstop.

During the seven inning stint, Hjelle collected 17 strikeouts. The Prowler righthander did experience some trouble with his control, doling out nine walks and hitting one batsmen. Hjelle had men on base in every inning, but it was not until the seventh, that the Tigers were able to reach third base.

FAMILY BOWL ownership will change Aug. 1 when Al Brunelle left, present owner of the establishment, turns over its operation to Carl Onkka, center, and Vince Greelis, right. Onkka, who now owns a dry cleaning plant in Cokato was formerly connected with the bowling business in that city. He will arrive here in July. Greelis owner of a half interest in a bowling alley in Howard Lake, will be the other co-owner of the Family Bowl. The three are shown as they talked things over during the bowling banquet Tuesday evening, May 3 in the Eagles hall.

Prowler Cindermen Win Triangular Meet

Coach Rod Max's Prowler track squad with a total of 83½ points, won the triangular track and field meet held here Tuesday afternoon. The Red Lake Falls Eagles, with 57½, were second; and the Middle River Skipper, with 9 points, were third.

On Saturday, coach Max will take a group of the Prowler trackmen to Moorhead for participation in the Dragon Relays.

In Tuesday afternoon's meet, the Prowlers won seven events. Gary Klungness was a double winner, winning the 120 yard dash, and the 220 yard dash. Red Lake Falls' Jason Huseby was also a double winner, taking the shot put and the discus throw.

Civil Defense Alert Here Termed Success

With few exceptions the entire Pennington county - Thief River Falls Civil Defense staff participated in the May 3 and 4 Operation Alert for 1960, Ken Gustafson, Pennington county director, reported.

The theoretical problem did not involve any direct attack on the county area. Nearby attacks however, presented a radiation fall-out problem of mild intensity and brought many evacuees into the city. These were assumed to be processed by welfare and medical services.

The exercise marked the first time that air warning had been disseminated to the rural population. This has been done in the past by the use of sirens in municipalities but has not previously reached farm homes in the county. A sequence calling system, perfected by Morris Owen, warning chief, and Al Bacon, communications chief, permitted warning signal reception by all farm families with telephones. This system will also be used in the future to bring notification of approaching tornadoes and other adverse weather conditions.

The operation pointed up the need for some organizational changes and further training but was generally regarded as a satisfactory effort.

Radio Station KTRF participated in the problem with a half hour CONELRAD broadcast between 12 and 12:30 p.m. Wednesday. The three elementary schools took part in the problem with "a take-cover exercise". Students were to assume that there was insufficient time to evacuate the schools.

Staff personnel were generous with their praise of two high school students, Brian Baden and Ronnie Stordahl, who operated the emergency radio equipment which handled the brunt of communications between the Pennington county control center and the Mobile Support headquarters in Bemidji.

Operation Alert is an annual, nationally conducted civil defense exercise to test the operational efficiency of federal, regional, state and local units.

Donald E. Lawrence to Go to Crookston

SCS Technician to Take New Position about May 15

Donald E. Lawrence, soil conservation technician who has been assisting the Pennington county soil conservation district for the past ten years, will be transferred to Crookston about May 15, according to H. G. Halvorson, area conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

Lawrence will be replaced soon, Halverson stated, but no definite selection has been made at this time.

"Don has done an outstanding job with farmers in the Pennington district," Halverson said, "and has been selected to fill the West Polk position, which is a relatively newly formed district, because of his experience and ability.

"I am sure Don will be missed by Thief River Falls people as well as farmers, but we are always pleased to recommend deserving employees for greater responsibilities."

Jehovah Group to Hear Circuit Head

L. K. Hagenson Speaks Saturday and Sunday

"What Does It Mean to Be a Christian?" has been selected as the theme for the address that will be given by L. K. Hagenson of Brooklyn, N. Y., at Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses 523 N. Knight av., Thief River Falls Sunday, May 8, at 2 p.m. Mr. Hagenson is a circuit supervisor for the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Mr. Hagenson serves 18 congregations in northern Minnesota, spending a week at each congregation. This being Mr. Hagenson's fifth visit here, he is well known by many local people.

While here, Mr. Hagenson will personally contact many of these people working directly from door to door in the preaching work.

During the week meetings will be held as follows:

At 523 N. Knight av., Thursday, 8 p.m., Bible study; Saturday, 8 p.m., Mr. Hagenson will speak on "New Things Learned in Bible Prophecy."

Wednesday there will be a Bible study at the farm home of Roy Mogen at 8 p.m.

N.W. Hospital to Note Week May 8-14

To Be Host Monday to Jr.-Sr. High Students

Northwestern hospital will join with others in the United States from May 8 to May 14 in celebrating National Hospital week, according to Norman Peterson, administrator.

Using the theme, "Many Hands and Many Skills," the hospital, which employs 102 full time and 49 part time persons, will play host to junior and senior high school students Monday, May 9. The visitors will have the opportunity to visit the various hospital departments and to learn more about the various careers and opportunities open in the field of health.

Explanations of the various duties of members of the nursing staff, laboratory and x-ray technicians, physical therapists, dietitians and other work will be given and students will receive information in regard to the kind of training and study necessary for these careers. Literature describing schools, entrance requirements and other information will be distributed.

During the week, films and slides will be shown to illustrate talks at meetings of the Lions and Rotary clubs, the Business and Professional Women, the annual meeting of the hospital auxiliary, Junior Chamber of Commerce and to the hospital staff.

No open house will be held at the hospital during the week.

Mrs. Max Jensen Pupils to Appear in Two Recitals

All local accordion students and the Newfolden class of Mrs. Max Jensen will hold their annual spring recital Sunday afternoon, May 8, at 3 o'clock in the Lincoln high school cafeteria.

Another recital entitled "Calendar Capers," will be presented by the students of Mrs. Jensen's piano and organ class on Wednesday evening, May 11, at 7:30 o'clock in the Lincoln auditorium.

The students will perform in four seasonal groups appropriate to the theme of his individual solo.

The public is invited to attend and there will be no admission charge.

Medical Society Conducts Spring Meeting in City

Sixty members of the Red River Valley Medical society and their ladies attended the group's annual spring meeting Monday evening in the Rex cafe. Following the dinner, the doctors heard talks by Dean Howard of the University of Minnesota medical school and by representatives of the Blue Shield medical care program. The women adjourned to the Northwestern hospital cafeteria, where they witnessed a motion picture dealing with hospital problems.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK
May 8-14
The Helping Hands You Never See
Anyone recently hospitalized would be amazed if taken behind the scenes and introduced to all the people who had contributed, in some way, to his recovery.

The nurses, the doctors, the orderlies—the people one usually associates with hospitals—are but a few of the personnel it takes to keep a hospital going. There are laundry workers, cooks, maintenance people, maids, laboratory and x-ray technicians, physical therapists... the list goes on and on.

Today's average community hospital has two employees for every patient. Approximately 65% of the hospital's dollar goes to pay their salaries and this is a major factor in today's higher hospital costs.

The 56 million Americans protected by Blue Cross are budgeting in advance for hospital services that improve year by year—services that will probably be even greater, by the time they are needed, than they are today.

Argyle Defeats Prowlers 9 to 8

After seven innings of thoroughly chilled and submerged baseball here Tuesday afternoon, the Argyle Eagles of Class C scored a well-earned 9 to 8 win over the Thief River Falls Tri-County Prowlers. The defeat was the first in three games for coach Ralph Riley's defending district and regional champions. Today, Thursday, the Prowlers will play the Roseau Rams on Roseau's home field at 2:30 P.M. and Friday afternoon at 3:00 P.M. on Coach Stan Lund Park diamond, the Prowlers will play the Crookston Pirates in an important district 31 conference game.

Yesterday afternoon's game here was a contest of ably and consistent-ratly, with the two teams having difficulty in gaining and maintaining the lead.

Argyle held a 6 to 2 lead as the ball game came to an end in the first of the fifth inning. Paul Klungness and Eddie Aftervold walked (Lindow drew four bases on balls during the game); Allan Hjelle rammed a double to left-center field to score Aftervold and Klungness. Lindow lost at the plate on a low relay by shortstop Jerry Myhre. Jim Weggs was safe when center-fielder Ray Rykaski muffed a fly ball, with Hjelle scoring.

Paul Sauerhi singled, Jim Werth walked, Gary Anderson was hit by a pitched ball and then Mike Auie singled to left field, scoring on Sauerhi and Gerrnade Simonson. The defeat was the first in three games for coach Ralph Riley's defending district and regional champions. Today, Thursday, the Prowlers will play the Roseau Rams on Roseau's home field at 2:30 P.M. and Friday afternoon at 3:00 P.M. on Coach Stan Lund Park diamond, the Prowlers will play the Crookston Pirates in an important district 31 conference game.

Bowlers Held '60 Banquet Tuesday

The annual meeting and banquet of the men's bowling association, which event officially closed the 1959-60 bowling season, was held at the Eagles club on Tuesday evening with approximately 300 bowlers and bowling enthusiasts present.

In the election of officers for the coming year, Ralph Hanson was elected president; Bob McHoff, vice president; and Ralph Hagen, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the board of directors for a two year term were Gerry Gjestad of St. Hilaire and Emil Johnson of Thief River Falls. Re-elected to the board of directors for the one-year term.

The new secretary of the Family Bowl alleys, Carl Ostlie of Ce-dars and Vince Gosella of Arnes-and Lake,were introduced to the

Paul Sauerhi, re-elected secretary-treasurer of the league, for his fourth year as a valuable member of the Prowler staff, while Sauerhi, except for a spell of wildness, was capable in relief.

According to coach Ralph Riley, the Prowlers will have their hands full as they attempt to clone against the Pirates. And as probably the favorite of each Lin Lehrer will go with righthander Jim Turner. If three boys are "hot," the batting average of the Prowlers should be a force to be reckoned with.

This afternoon the Prowlers are at Roseau, playing the Rams, and this game too, can develop considerable. The Rams, last season's district 32 champions, are considered the veterans and muscle. The big numbers for Roseau are Dave Bina, son of Coach Don Bina, one of Roseau's all-time greats in athletics, who is powerful and an excellent assistant out of the end position.

Also a friendly note from Ray Hendricks of the Enson Rams, who has informed us that Ray Kavanagh and Frank Mc-Guire have signed contracts to play with the Roseau school next year. Kavanagh is known as a basketball and baseball ace. Dave Almquist in hockey. Kavanagh counted the highest in a Northwest conference football tilt last season, quite an accomplishment considering that Kavanagh is a back and Almquist a center. Both are from Crookston, East Grand Forks, Minn. Thief River Falls is conference play.

Lincoln Cage Coach Hartley Story Is Leaving for Osseo

To Take over Duties of Head Basketball Coach in Minneapolis Suburb

The resignation of Hartley Story, coach of the regional championship Lincoln High school Prowler basketball team, was announced by the school board Tuesday by Supt. Irwin T. Mickelson.

Story has accepted an offer to become head basketball coach at Osseo, a Hennepin county suburb of Minneapolis, it was announced.

On December, 1959, graduate of Mankato State college, Story came to Thief River Falls from Grand Forks where he had been on the school faculty 6½ years and was coach each of those years.

Story told the Times that the chief reasons he is making the change is because of the fact that one of the reasons he is making the change. The school at Osseo is about the same size as that of Thief River Falls but is growing rapidly.

Enrollment currently lives at 750 and next year, 9, and the coach and his wife have three children, Judy, 11; Larry, 9; and Kevin, 7.

Golf Course Open for Play over the Coming week-end

The Thief River Falls Golf club will be open for play this week-end, according to an announcement made by club president Arnie Ivers.

Ivers says will notice several improvements in the course, notably the erection of a new bridge across the river in the vicinity of the sixth tee, and the recently completed new tee on the seventh hole. Bridges have been built over the river at another couple of holes, they should be in exact test condition.

Morris Odegaard Is Watkins Agent

Morris Odegard, native of this city and engaged in the hatchery business for 25 years, has been appointed as Watkins dealer for Thief River Falls and vicinity, it has been learned. He has operating out of his office at 315 Arnes ave. N.

Golf sports fans, and high school basketball fans (and parents also) were stocked on Tuesday morning by the announcement made by school superintendent Irwin T. Mickelson that Hartley Story had tendered his resignation. Story has accepted a position in the Osseo high school system, and will be head basketball coach and phy-sical education director for the high school baseball coach.

Story has been at the helm of the Prowler basketball, the blue-and-gold squad made history. For the first time in twenty years, since 1940, the Prowlers were able to bring the Bergen Eight basketball title and the Prowlers back in the state tournament.

About the only crumb of consolation we have is that Story will be leaving quite a nucleus behind for his successor, Coach Story.

Bowler Champions

The Thief River Falls bowling team, which was rated as a "dark horse" squad when they entered the state V.F.W. bowling tournament at Bemidji several weeks ago, was informed this week that they had won the championship trophy in the team competition. Members of the team are Gerald Langseth, Art Mercer (Ingbert Wycoff), Ken Bergerson, Les Dehlin, and Bird Stromberg. The team had a total of 2907 pins with handicap, to win first place. The Thief River Falls team was also leading the second week of the tournament, and that total held up during the remaining weeks of the tourney. The next was concluded Sunday night.

An effort will be made to have Gordon (Bobby) Dunham make the appearance here on May 15 as a guest bowler in state bowling champions.

The Game of the Week

There is no question or argument that the game at Crookston on Friday afternoon, between the Pirates, rated 2nd in rates and the Prowlers, is to draw the largest crowd of the season. The two teams, the Pirates and the Prowlers, have split even in the two games played to date in Crookston and Thief River Falls. Crookston has a good basketball for the past several years, and can field a good baseball team. Coach Lin Lehrer will be counted on for pitching this season. If the Crookston Pirates had had a word in the stands here last Thursday afternoon, when the Argyle Eagles played the Prowlers, the Pirates would have invaded the Prowler ball park and set another. The Prowlers turned in an errorless performance as they dropped a 9 to 8 decision to a veteran Argyle squad. The Prowlers' hitting lacked consistency, but Coach Ralph Riley's pitching staff was not ready, and the pitching, by righthanders Jim Wentworth and

Motor Vehicle Safety Checks Slated in May

"What you can't see can get you killed."

That's the warning of Harry A. Sletten, state highway safety director, in announcing that voluntary motor vehicle checks will be held in more than 70 communities in Minnesota during the first two weeks in May.

"A new feature will be added to the ten point check given in previous years," Sletten said. "To upgrade the quality of the inspection, inspection lanes will be established for the following: steering, suspension, brakes, checking their ability to move across the glass. The arms and blades must be as effective as to actually further reduce visibility by adjusting or replacing the windshield, per the vehicle inspection regulations.

"This is because there is insufficient pressure on the wiper blades to keep the arms and squeegee action to adequately clean the glass.

"The National Safety Council and safety engineers of all major car companies have said that wiper arms exert at least one ounce of pressure for each inch of rubber blade length. This is the minimum standard for all new cars.

"Inspection of vision obstructions will be involved in traffic accidents, the Council reports that a high percentage of all such accidents involved visibility obstructions such as rain, snow, etc., on the windshield.

"The safety conscious community will have only a few inches pressure gauge and be able to measure accurately the ability of wiper arms and blades to perform. So, please, be sure to safely under all kinds of weather or visibility conditions. If it can be taken about a half minute, but may prevent a costly crash some day," the director said.

Sletten explained that springs in wiper arms may weaken to the point where insufficient pressure is applied and smeared windshields result. Worn or torn blades are outlined. These many cars particularly those a year or more old have wiper arm pressure too weak to provide clean wiping and safe visibility.

"Remember, 90 per cent of all traffic accidents are caused by human failure," Sletten said. "That's why we urge everyone in the community to have a safety vehicle check here will be open to have the automobile given the complete check including windshield wipers, lights, horn, brakes, steering linkage, headlights, taillamps, signal lights, turn signals, tires, rear-view mirror and glass."

Don't Touch Young Wildlife, Is Plea

State Game Warden Chief Says Practice Is Illegal

A plea and a warning to "leave young wildlife alone" was heard today by Francis W. Johnson, Minnesota's chief game warden.

"Every spring, during the nesting season, well meaning parents in the Gopher state to leave young wild birds and animals alone," explained Johnson. "Yet every year our game wardens are called upon to relieve people of young birds and animals that they should be left alone."

Since the Minnesota game laws do not provide for the capturing and retaining of wild animals, most birds and animals are protected, it is illegal for persons who have captured them the wild are subject to prosecution, the game and wildlife director.

April '60 Was Wetter Than April Last Year

Colder in the daytime, slightly warmer at night and much wetter — that is the comparison of April, 1960, with April, 1959.

The white April of last year had an average high temperature of 50.6 and an average low of 28.5, this year the month had average high and low temperatures of 47.3 and 26.3, a mean temperature difference of 3.3 degrees. Precipitation amounted to 3.94 inches, 2.27 inches more than fell during the month last year compared to this year's 1.67 inches of snow, much of it heavy and wet, which melted fast.

The warm spell of the month was from the middle two weeks of the month on the 24th when temperatures in the day time were in the upper 70's and 80's with the warmest day of the month the 17th with a high of 84 degrees and a night temperature of 49. The coldest day of the month was on the 25th when there was a low of 16 followed the next day by an additional 1.5 inches of snow.

The thermometer went below zero on two days, two days and two nights in the lower 20's during the month the 9 posted the coldest day of the month, the 9th.

The last went out of the river high April 13, 1960 on the 13th, 3 days later than last year. To those who had their hopes of opening up much as the year going, the 13th was

Disappointing Total

Unofficial census figures for Thief River Falls are disappointing. The less than 200 gain is far less than the total generally expected.

The optimistic view was justified by the number of new dwellings that have been added to the city during the past ten years. According to figures kept by Fire Chief Roy Langevin, 235 new homes have been built during that period and eight have been moved in from beyond the city limits. By annexation more than 80 dwellings were added, most of these dating back to 1952 when a large area north of the city was brought in.

There have been some losses due to industrial expansion but the net gain of new dwellings is well over 300, and, normally, that should account for a population gain of approximately 1,000.

The total is important for several reasons other than local pride in progress. Several state aids are distributed to the city on the basis of population and a difference of several hundred over a period of ten years will make many thousands of dollars difference in city revenue.

The situation deserves further study and if it appears that the unofficial figures are unreasonably low then a recount should be requested.

Will Do More Listening

President Eisenhower has cautioned Soviet Premier Khrushchev that he will not attend the coming summit conference under a Soviet threat of force or "ultimatum of any kind." In this declaration President Eisenhower no doubt has the backing of the other Western powers.

Following the exchange of visits between the heads of governments it appears that the West is in a strong position as the summit conference draws near. There no doubt are differences of opinion among these leaders as to what might be satisfactory solutions for the problems with which they are confronted. But they seem to be agreed as to a general approach, and the efforts that have been made by Khrushchev and his agents to divide them have failed.

A few months ago the prospect was not so bright. There then was concern as to whether the leaders of the Western powers could meet with any semblance of unity, in the session to be held with Soviet representatives whose approach to these problems would be that of practical and thoroughly experienced horse traders. The present prospect is that Khrushchev will find himself dealing with three capable, united leaders, speaking for three united powers. In this coming conference, if it does not fall apart in the early sessions, Khrushchev probably will do more listening than talking.

Time To Conserve

The election of a conservative mayor and a conservative council in St. Paul last week is one more straw-in-the-wind that indicates another political cycle is nearing its end and that a change is on the way in political thinking. Change is in the nature of things. The pendulum swings back and forth, and as long as it remains securely fastened at one end there is little danger that it will get off course so far that it will not be able to find its way back to center.

The trends of politics are like the swing of the pendulum; they do not stop at dead center, and perhaps it is well that they don't. The extremes probably are essential to progress. The dead center might be more comfortable, and less confusing, but the dynamic would be replaced by the static.

Politically, these cycles of change may be radical and reactionary or they may be progressive and conservative. Progress is a proper objective. It is also well to pause occasionally to make sure that we conserve our gains. There are times when we lose all of the gains because we try to make progress too fast.

Progress seldom comes free. Most of the time it requires some sacrifice—sometimes a very great sacrifice.

The inevitable pause in our progress is past due, and it is time for us to strike a balance and get ourselves properly reorganized before we start forward again. That does not necessarily mean that we will have to go backward first, but if we are caught off balance we may have to swing backward a long way before we will be able to resume our progress.

The immediate need is conservation. The danger is reaction. Unless we act wisely, conserving our gains and balancing our accounts, we will get reaction. Past experience teaches us this important lesson.

Church and State

One of the unfortunate developments of the presidential campaign is the fact that the old church and state argument has again become a campaign issue. Senator Kennedy has been forced to defend himself as an American citizen because he is a Catholic.

The result of this is that anyone who supports Kennedy will be suspect as a pro-Catholic. Anyone who opposes him will be suspect as an anti-Catholic. The bigotry that is the basis for such emotional bitterness has its roots in the religious revolutions of several centuries ago.

History teaches us that the most brutal of all wars have been the religious wars, in which one group of advocates of peace and love have battled with another group of advocates of peace and love, all for the glory of the same God.

In present campaigns, as in past wars, when intolerance raises its ugly head, neither faction in the dispute has a monopoly on virtue. In this campaign there are Catholic bigots who will vote for Kennedy because he is a Catholic. And there are anti-Catholic bigots who will vote against Kennedy because he is a Catholic.

We are satisfied that the great majority of Americans look upon such matters and consider them in their proper perspective. We might be justified in voting against a Methodist if we considered him to be a Methodist zealot. And we might be justified in opposing a Catholic if we considered him to be a Catholic zealot. But we are firmly convinced that it would be wrong, and contrary to all of the finest traditions of freedom and liberty upon which our government was founded, to vote for or against any candidate whom we considered to be a good American, and qualified for the office he seeks, merely because he is identified with a religious group or denomination which we looked upon with either favor or disfavor.

We are not for Kennedy for President, but we do not question his loyalty as an American citizen. We are confident that if he is elected president he will serve our country to the best of his ability and will not be prejudiced in his decisions by sectarian considerations. As a young American who has distinguished himself in public service, his qualifications for the higher office that he now seeks should be measured and weighed by the same standards by which the qualifications of any other candidate are measured and weighed.

Getting Too Costly?

A proposed bond issue for school expansion in the amount of $2,600,000 was rejected by the voters of the New Ulm school district last week. New Ulm is a conservative southern Minnesota community whose thrifty people have a predominantly German background. We are sure they are not against good schools but they are not strong for frills. The city of New Ulm has the lowest tax rate in the state, the total for all purposes being 143.7 mills.

Commenting on the results of the election, the New Ulm Journal concludes that the "taxpayers think school systems are getting too costly." It concludes:

> "We are letting the sideshows crowd the main circus, with too much of the plant and cost going to play and recess, and not enough to solid educational development—too much dessert and not enough of the meat and potato educational diet."

Our guess is that the New Ulm community is going to turn out an exceptionally well educated group of young people who will go out into the world thoroughly trained in the fundamentals of getting along in this world. We are sure they will be well grounded in the simple rules of arithmetic, and well informed by both precept and example on how to manage their own affairs.

Liberal vs. Conservative

(John Weber in Murray County Herald)

America is in the midst of a political revolution which eventually must bring about a different designation of the major political parties. The issues are no longer Republican vs. Democrat, but Liberal vs. Conservative.

Sen. Clifford Case, a Republican liberal, handily defeated a conservative in his bid for nomination in New Jersey. The predominantly labor east coast will apparently go for the liberals in either party. The more conservative midwest is doing the opposite, with many democrats in Minnesota abandoning the DFL because of its ultra-liberal leanings.

Things have reached the point where it is almost impossible for a free man to strictly follow the party line of either major party.

Vehicle Check

(Montevideo American)

Eighteen more Minnesota communities have joined the "Circle for Safety," the national voluntary safety check lane for automobiles, to bring the total to 30 where vehicle inspections will be conducted in May.

Lyle S. McCabe, Virginia, state safety check chairman, said that was the largest number of communities enrolled in the program which has been conducted annually for many years. "Minnesota Safety Council field men who are contacting local officials have reported that 1960 may be a banner year for this important safety program. For the first time we may reach our goal of having at least one inspection program in every county."

The following communities have indicated programs will be held: Crosby, Faribault, Northfield, North St. Paul, Ortonville, Wadena, Mankato, Le Sueur, Fairmont, Jackson, Park Rapids, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Hibbing, Virginia, Eveleth and Duluth. Chapters of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, local safety councils and many service organizations will sponsor the lanes in cooperation with the Minnesota Automobile Dealers Association.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

The after-breakfast gathering of oldsters at the community barber shop was enlivened by one graybeard's contention that in every argument with his wife, he always had the last word.

"Amazing if true," spoke up a crony. "How do you manage it?"

"Why," said the graybeard, "I apologize."

Report on Viking News of the Week

Mrs. Maynard Ranum

Viking PTA to Meet

The Viking PTA will hold its last meeting of the year at the Viking school Monday, May 9, at 8 p.m. There will be installation of new officers and a delegate report of the PTA workshop which was held in Warren April 23. Anyone having questions or business to be brought up should bring it to this meeting. Everyone is welcome to attend. It is not limited to parents with children in school or PTA members. A doorprize will be awarded and lunch will be served. The Elmer Anderson, Aaron Hook, Kenneth Dunrud and Milford Olson families will be entertaining.

A week ago Friday afternoon, the following guests helped Mrs. Clarence Gustafson celebrate her birthday: Mrs. Clemens Oberg, Mrs. Emil Beckman, Mrs. Al Osborne, Rose and Royal, Mrs. Clarence Tangquist, Mrs. Helen Johnson, Mrs. Karl Carlson and Mona, Mrs. Lloyd Ranum, Keith and Janet and Mrs. Halward Anderson and Dianne. Mrs. Al Osborne brought a birthday cake and lunch was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Leonard Larson served a chicken supper in honor of her daughter, Paulette, on her birthday, April 21. Guests were Jeanette Steinhauer of Holt, Janice Olson, Bonnie and Harriet Rokke of Newfolden and Janice Carlson, Carol Dau and Lois Thompson of Viking. Evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Potucek and Jimmy of Radium. A birthday cake was brought by Paulette's aunt, Mrs. Potucek.

Indonesia Exchange Student Thanks His Rotarian Sponsors

Mochammed Sjachrani (Rani), Indonesian exchange student who has attended school in Thief River Falls under the sponsorship of the local Rotary club, spoke at the Monday noon meeting of the organization May 2 in what will probably be one of his last talks in the area.

Rani, who has been a guest in the home of George Mostue, local Rotarian, for the past year will return to his native land June 25 following a trip to the west coast where he will join other exchange students. The group will travel to the east coast by bus and spend some time sightseeing before leaving the United States.

The local visitor told Rotarians about life in Indonesia, touching on differences in customs, religions and traditions of the people. He described the rise in literacy since that nation gained its independence and the system of education.

Extracurricular activities of the school-age youngsters are not as prominent a part of Indonesian pupils' lives as in the United States, Rani said, and "parents are parents and children are children." The more formal treatment of parents, especially the fathers, is called for in Indonesia.

Differences in foods were described by the exchange student who said that rice is eaten in his homeland three times a day. Although he now likes American food very much, there were times at first when some foods didn't agree with him. His first encounters with "hot dogs," which he thought were made of dog meat, made him ill for some time even after he discovered what the actual ingredients of the American dish were.

Following his talk Rani thanked Mr and Mrs George Mostue for their hospitality during the past year and said that he would always feel that the home was actually his. He also expressed his appreciation to the Rotary club for its sponsorship and to everyone in the area "who had been his teachers for the past year."

It was announced that the exchange student next year would make his American home with the Maynard Mehrkens family. It is not yet definitely known who the student will be but a request has been made for one from one of the Scandinavian countries.

Following the talk by the Indonesian student, members of the Rotary club directed questions at Rani about the government of his country, exports, population, the incidence of communism and other subjects.

Young Archer, Age 2½, Called Expert

Grandson of Glenn D. Bernstein Gets Publicity

More than a half page of the Merced, Calif., Sun Star was recently devoted to a feature story about the archery prowess of a local resident's 2½-year-old grandson.

Glenn Bernstein, the grandson of Glenn D. Bernstein, 115 Fourth st. W., gathers quite a crowd every time he takes his bow and arrows into the yard, according to the story, and hits the target nine times out of ten at 15 short paces. This has been going on for five months, ever since the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bernstein moved to Merced.

The diminutive archer is now breaking in his second bow—a fiberglass one that is 51-inches tall—about 15 inches taller than its user. The bow has a 22-pound pull and Glenn, who weighs 32 pounds, can pull about 12 pounds. Most of the time, the lad practices at 15 to 25 feet from the target but he is capable of sending regulation-size arrows into the target at 40 or 50 feet.

Glenn's father moved to Merced on temporary assignment at Castle air force base and his mother, Marilyn, watches over the target range when his father is at work.

The young archer has already started to teach his 16-month-old brother, Gregg, how to use a bow and, according to the article, Gregg will get the hang of it in plenty of time to teach his sister, Sherri, who is two months old.

Newfolden Junior Class Play Friday

'Little Women' to Be Given in School Auditorium

Do you think times have changed since Grandma was a girl? If so, you are one of many that should see "Little Women," a dramatization based on the novel by Louisa M. Alcott, which will be presented by the Newfolden junior class on Friday, May 6, in the Newfolden school auditorium at 8 p.m.

The cast consists of Sally Hanson, Meg; Janice Olson, Jo; Sharon Hoseth, Beth; Lois Thompson, Amy; Jeanette Steinhauer, Mrs. March; Howard Davis, Mr. March; Lois Lokstad, Aunt March; LuAnn Lubitz, Hannah Mullet; David Haug, Mr. Laurence; Gary Wilimek, Laurie; Howard Rokke, John Brook; Lloyd Hjelle, Prof. Bhaer; Kathleen Peterson, LuAnn Strandberg, Harriet Rokke, Paulette Larson, Bonnie Rokke, neighbors and friends. Director is Robert Hartz.

Science Institute Set Next Fall at Bemidji College

Bemidji State college will conduct an inservice institute next fall for elementary school teachers and principals in the physical sciences under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation.

The director of the program at Bemidji State will be Prof. Richard E. Beitzel who spent last week in Washington D.C. where he familiarized himself with the program in a short course sponsored by the foundation.

It is anticipated that the institute will be conducted Saturdays. College credit will be given and tuition, transportation and books will be furnished the participants by the Foundation.

Teachers wishing to obtain further information concerning the program should contact Prof Beitzel at the college.

Rural Rehabilitation Needs to Be Studied

Rehabilitation resources to serve the physically and mentally disabled residents of rural Minnesota will be one of the main items for discussion at a Governor's Conference on Rehabilitation scheduled for St Paul on May 26-27.

In inviting several hundred Minnesota community leaders to participate in the conference, Gov. Freeman said, "a legislative interim study made in 1958 revealed that over 40 per cent of the disabled people in Minnesota live in the smaller cities and communities of the state, but our 1960 survey of rehabilitation resources in Minnesota indicates that a very high percentage of the rehabilitation facilities to serve these people are concentrated in the metropolitan areas. That is why I feel this conference is so important; so that we can work out a plan for the most effective use of these existing facilities and discover where and what type of new facilities may be needed."

Participants in the two-day conference will have an opportunity to attend workshops and panel discussions on the rehabilitation services provided by various types of facilities, such as local hospitals, major rehabilitation centers, sheltered workshops, public and private rehabilitation organizations. A special feature of the conference will be workshops organized on a geographic basis in which participants from each area of the state will meet together and discuss the resources or need for resources in their own particular section.

6.3 Million Acres Join Conservation Reserve This Year

Total of 1,945,674 Acres in Minnesota Now Included in Reserve

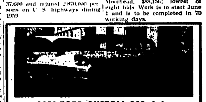
A national total of 6,318,000 new acres has been added to the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve for 1960, according to a report received at the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. This surpasses the announced acreage goal for the program year by more than one million acres.

The new figure brings the cumulative national totals that will be in the Reserve in 1960 to 28,132,000 acres of cropland.

The large acreage accepted for contracts, ASC officials say, is largely the result of two factors: (1) Conservation practices are being established more economically than in the past; and (2) per-acre annual payment rates under 1960 contracts are lower than anticipated.

Approximately 80 per cent of the farmers placing new land in the program for 1960 elected to come in on a "whole farm" basis, that is, to place all their eligible cropland under contract, according to Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the ASC office here.

The new Conservation Reserve participation will be particularly heavy in 1960 in wheat producing areas, Culkins said. The five leading states in new 1960 acreage—accounting for more than a third of the total—are Kansas, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Texas, all major wheat states. The report shows that during the 1960 crop season the Reserve will contain more than 3 million acres formerly devoted to wheat.



In Minnesota the current progress report shows that 219,059 acres will be under Conservation Reserve contracts in 1960 bringing the cumulative total to 1,945,674 acres.

Motor vehicle accidents killed 37,600 and injured 2,870,000 persons on U. S. highways during 1959.

Red Lake Co. Road Project Awarded

Contracts amounting to $1,162,122 for work on 16 county state-aid highways have been awarded by the Minnesota highway department. The projects call primarily for grading, gravel base and bituminous surfacing on nearly 90 miles of county roads located in 12 counties.

The projects include Red Lake county CSAH 13, grading and gravel surfacing of 6.2 miles, located between the west county line near Dorothy and CSAH 9; and of 1.7 miles, located between CSAH 9 and a point five miles northwest of T.H. 32 in Red Lake Falls; Strom Construction Co. of Moorhead, $88,156; lowest of eight bids. Work is to start June 1 and is to be completed in 70 working days.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Samuel	2	1-11
Monday	Ephesians	3	1-3
Tuesday	II Corinthians	13	5-10
Wednesday	Psalms	39	1-7
Thursday	Psalms	41	1-3
Friday	Psalms	46	1-11
Saturday	Psalms	63	8-14

A Mother's Prayer

Dear God . . . help me to live up to the faith I see in my child's eyes. Help me to be the person she thinks I am. I am so very human . . . yet to her I am wise as a sage. I am so very frail . . . yet to her I am a tower of strength.

I can bind her cuts and bruises . . . I can soothe her small hurts, both physical and mental . . . I can give her love . . . I can protect and cherish her. Yet I can never be half of all I must be, without You to guide me.

Help me . . . and watch over her. In Your Church, teach her the things that are beyond my power . . . so that she will one day be a better woman than I; and in her turn, a better mother.

Highlanding FU Variety Show

A capacity crowd attended the Highlanding Farmers Union variety show Saturday evening. Richard Radniecki, master of ceremonies, opened the program with the kitchen band doing their renditions of "Dark Town Strutters Ball," "Just An Echo in the Valley" and "When You Wore a Tulip." Vocalists were Mesdames Bernell Myrum, Orlan Hanson and C. W. Radniecki. A comedy act, featuring the Farmers Union Cow was played by Mrs. Roman and Richard Radniecki, Lyle Mandt and Olaf Stolaas. The Highlanding local's poet laureate, Mrs. Erick Johnson, read her poem entitled "Election Blues." This was followed by the song, "Whispering Hope" done on six clarinets by a group of Reserve members. Due to a previous engagement the "Three Canaries" were unable to attend but the "Three Old Crows" did a tremendous job of substituting. The can can dance was not left out and this was performed by Walter Johnson, Olaf Stolaas and Roy Johnson. The famous matrimonial expert, Ann Flanders, played by Mrs. Jack Radniecki, solved many of the Highlanding community's problems. She announced that most of the problems to cross her desk came from this community and hoped the letters would keep coming so she could cause more confusion. The main event of the evening was women's wrestling. Glen Tasa, announcer, stated that this championship match was not like TV wrestling. This match was not faked. Ernest Swanson, the referee, kept a close watch on all activities. "Tessie Roundabout" played by Raymond Halvorson, won only one fall and the villainous "Yukon Lil," played by Orlan Stolaas, was the evening's winner. Doctor Darrow Lundeen, in providing proper medication to the loser, made a wrong injection which sent the referee flying out of the ring rubbing the sore spot. Merle Lundeen was the time keeper. Sharon Lundeen played accordion solos between the matches. The program closed with the kitchen band playing "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," "Little Brown Jug," and the entire cast joined in the singing of "Good Night Ladies". Alton Skallet's orchestra provided the music for the dancing which followed the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mandt were sponsors at the baptism of Annette Susan, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Magnell at the Ebenezer church Sunday. The other sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Art Frolland of Plummer. After the ceremony they were all dinner guests at the Harry Sorenson home at Plummer. Other guests included Mari Lynn Mandt, Mrs. Betsy Magnell and Mrs. Tillman.

H. S. Students from 4 Towns Visit Hospital

Get Information Today on Careers in Hospital Work

Junior and senior high school students from Middle River, Fisher, Goodridge and Thief River Falls have accepted the invitation of Northwestern hospital to take part in National Hospital Week and will be taken on the tour of the institution's facilities today, May 9.

A group of 23 students from Goodridge signified last week that they would join others in inspecting the various hospital departments to learn more about the many opportunities in the health field. They will also hear a discussion of the duties and responsibilities of registered nurses, physical therapy and dietetics.

Norman Peterson, hospital administrator, said that Northwestern has chosen the theme, "Many Careers in Health," for Hospital Week May 8-14 to "call attention to the nation's recovery in the hospital field, to point out how we can best meet his special needs, complete the picture of the many and varied opportunities for careers in hospital standards, labors, services and facilities that are developed, supplies are kept up-to-date and management is maintained."

Of particular importance for the coming week, Peterson said, will be roll calls for personnel especially needed for part of the week. "It is a call," he said, "and they'll be answered by those who are qualified and who can serve in industry, in the home, in hospitals or in any great extent." He went on to explain that hospitals have machines wherever possible but that the machines must be operated and performed by people and patient care cannot be standardized. "Each patient is an individual, each patient's care

Area Counties Show Decline in Population

Unofficial Returns Reveal Marshall Co. Is Down Nearly 2,000

Marshall county's population, according to unofficial census reports released today by Chairman Ben Grimsrud, census committee, show a decline of 1,962 since 1950 that has been indicated by estimates by the U.S. census bureau department of health.

Marshall county's population in 1950 stood at 19,099. The 1960 census report gives 17,137 persons as the latest estimate of the county's population.

On the other hand Warren's population increased by 212 persons according to unofficial but preliminary statistics. Warren's population last night was 3,279, up 212 from the 3,779 counted in 1950.

Population of the city of Goodridge increased by 23 to 1,023 persons during the past decade from 7,352 in 1950 to 8,498 this year. Early in 1955, Lancaster township was incorporated into the city, thereby increasing the city's population.

Another Polk county city, East Grand Forks, showed a gain of 37 per cent in population during the ten-year period, from 4,049 in 1950 to 5,593 in 1960.

Crookston's population figure was surprised by many that that city's population had declined from 8,307 in 1950 to 8,574 this year.

Share-the-Fun, Good Grooming & Princess Kay Contests May 23

Pennington county 4-H Leaders Council met Monday, May 23, as the date for the Share the Fun, Good Grooming contests, which will be held in the city Auditorium and the Good Grooming event will start at 8 p.m.

After good grooming judging is completed, the Share the Fun contest will be held, with each club having one number to use for minutes. They can be instrumental, vocal, solo, duet, trio or novelty acts. All clubs are encouraged to send in entries.

The Princess Kay contest will be held at the same time as the other contests, with each club sponsoring an names of candidates for the county to compete for the honor, daughters of the Aug. 23 and 24, and who will be 16 years old by June 1 are eligible.

A 4-H assembly will be observed on Sunday, May 15, with 4-H members participating in worship services in their respective churches. Also during special programs, they will each engage here in the day and separate from the Sunday school hour, when they are encouraged to — or in other ways with church work on that day. The purpose of this effort is to make to develop the spiritual aspect of youth development as well as the intellectual and social.

The 4-H Leaders Council members elected presented by New Solum, Black River and Deer Park clubs. Janice Saba of the New Solum gave a demonstration on "Table Setting" and Judy Hillan in charge of the Deer Park tioned the crayon, cutter, ink pad, spatter print, and spatter methods of creating the exhibit.

Judy Johnson, Black River club discussed the proper nutrition, and Sharon Lundeen of the Deer Park club presented a skit which provide a good diet. Sylvia Olson of the Black River demonstrated the use of bandages in first aid treatment.

Committees and Gregory Hillan, Goodridge, discussed the possibilities of a dance as one of the projects.

Latest information put out by the state agricultural experiment and the University of Minnesota indicates that the new Thorsdale rust resistant barley variety will not be employed to get the yield it should.

Experiments show that spraying of red clover to control injurious insects is very important. Red clover is grown for seed in the Red River valley and it needs to be guarded and cared for if it is going to yield as it is hoped and should.

Hospital Auxiliary Guest Day Friday

To Present Style Show in Eagles Auditorium

Guest Day will be observed by the Northwestern Hospital auxiliary at its spring meeting to be held in the Eagles club rooms on Friday, May 13, starting at 2 p.m.

A program of education and entertainment is being planned with local members contributing in presenting a style show of clothes for women and children. Members of the Aux. Mrs. L. L. Thompson, hospital administrator pointed out, "For each patient, there should be a treatment plan to meet his special needs, complete with diet, drugs, and the services of the hospital's professional staff. Hospital standards, laboratory and x-ray facilities, too, are developed, supplies are kept up-to-date and management is maintained."

Of particular importance for the coming week, Peterson said, will be roll calls for personnel especially needed for part of the week. "It is a call," he said, "and they'll be answered by those who are qualified and who can serve in industry, in the home, in hospitals or in any great extent." He went on to explain that hospitals have machines wherever possible but that the machines must be operated and performed by people and patient care cannot be standardized. "Each patient is an individual, each patient's care

Lorraine Landman and Robert Benoit Wed In TRF

St. John's Lutheran church of Red Lake Falls was the scene of the wedding of Lorraine Landman and Robert Benoit Friday, April 22, with Rev. Herman Reese performing the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Landman of Red Lake Falls while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Benoit, also of Red Lake Falls.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta which featured a high neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the wrist. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown trimmed with sequins and she carried a bouquet of red happiness roses with white carnations. Her tear drop earrings and single strand pearl necklace were a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Rollie Taupin, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor with Miss Cheryl Nabben as bridesmaid. They wore ballerina length formals of mint green and medium blue respectively with matching jackets. Their cascade bouquets were of red garnet roses and white carnations.

William Landman, brother of the bride, served as best man with Ralph Landman, also a brother of the bride, as grooms man and Dale Eckstein, cousin of the bride, and Raymond Benoit, brother of the bridegroom, seating the guests. The gentlemen of the bridal party wore tuxedoes with white dinner jackets and red carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Landman chose a light blue dress with white accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress with light accessories and their matching corsages were of red garnet roses and white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception with the attendance of approximately 175 guests was held in the church parlors with Mrs. Tony Paulson of Climax, cousin of the bride, serving as hostess.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the serving table and was cut and served by Mrs. Ted Eckstein while Mrs. Walter Weiland and Mrs. August Hinricks poured.

Mrs. Ray Benoit was in charge of the guest book with Misses Marlyn Henke, Lou Ann Zutz and Lois Schear at the gift table. Miss Deloris Ulrich, Mrs. Merlin Carlson, Mrs. Arnold Lehrer and Mrs. Lester Flage served as waitresses.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of the Lincoln high school and was formerly employed at Northwestern hospital of this city while the bridegroom is employed at Ted's Auto Sales of Red Lake Falls.

Guests from St. Paul, Crookston, St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls attended the wedding.

St. John's Church to Conduct Early Summer Services

Quarterly Meeting Also Arranges to Note 65th Anniversary Next Fall

In a regular quarterly meeting held Wednesday, April 27, St. John's Lutheran church voted to institute a special summer schedule of Sunday services beginning in June and continuing through July and August. According to this schedule divine worship will be held at 7:30 a.m. and at 10:30 a.m. Sunday school will continue at 9 a.m.

Arnold Anton was elected St. John's delegate to the convention of the Minnesota district of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in August. Walter Monroe was elected alternate delegate. The Rev. H. Sieving of Crookston and the Rev. M. Uhlig of Roseau were placed in nomination for the office of circuit counselor, to be elected at the state convention.

Under the supervision of the custodial committee, Elmer Andersen, chairman, the parsonage will be painted this spring. It was decided St. John's men's club will erect any outdoor bulletin board on the new church grounds this spring.

In conjunction with the annual missions Sunday in September of this year, St. John's church will celebrate the 65th anniversary of its organization in 1895. Guest speakers to be invited for this anniversary are the Rev. V. E. Schroeder of Bismarck, N. D., pastor of St. John's from 1926 until 1952, and the Rev. F. J. Seltz of Pequot Lakes, pastor here from 1907 to 1919. St. John's ladies aid will be in charge of preparing a historical display in the church fellowship hall. The meeting was conducted by Maynard Mehrkens, president.

Public Library to Close Wednesday

The Carnegie public library will be closed all day Wednesday, May 11, to permit members of the staff and of the library board to attend a district meeting of the Minnesota Library association in Detroit Lakes, it was announced today by Miss Frances Shanahan, librarian.

Neal Fox Photos in Salon at Fargo

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Fox attended the North Dakota Professional Photographers convention May 2 and 3 at the Grover hotel in Fargo.

Three of the photographs they had submitted were accepted and hung in the salon. They were photos of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Ace, of Karen Carlson of Newfolden and the Arvidson boys from Trail.

Mrs. Elnar Scholin had one of her colored prints accepted and hung also. The portrait was of Mrs. Darrell Lithacom, nee Carol Bjorkman.

Mrs. John Wold to Go to Conference

To Share May 26 and 27 in Panel on Rehabilitation

Mrs. John L. Wold, R.N., acting director of nursing services and supervisor of the rehabilitation service at Northwestern hospital, will be a participant in the first Minnesota governor's conference on rehabilitation at Hotel St. Paul May 26-27, it has been announced.

Mrs. Wold has been invited by Laura Hegstad, nursing consultant in the chronic diseases and rehabilitation division of the Minnesota department of health, to be a member of a panel of three nurses which Mrs. Hegstad will moderate. The panel will discuss rehabilitation nursing as a part of the conference.

Dr. George Martin; Frank Harger, physical therapist at Northwestern hospital and Norman Peterson, hospital administrator, have also been invited to attend the conference because of the work the local institution has done in the field of rehabilitation.

Nearly 1,000,000 American men, women and children were injured or killed last year because an automobile driver exceeded the speed limit.

Ottertail Power Company to Serve St. Hilaire & RLF

To Take Over Service from Northern States Power Company Shortly

The growing power supply needed for the Red Lake Falls area will be furnished by Otter Tail Power Company in the near future, according to a joint announcement made before the Red Lake Falls city council Monday evening by Northern States Power Company and Otter Tail Power Company.

Negotiations for the sale by NSP of all the electric facilities serving Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire and Gentilly have been completed and the transfer will be final when approved by Federal Power Commission.

"Transfer of electric service in this area to Otter Tail Power Company is in the best interests of the customers," a spokesman for the two companies said. "The rapid growth in the use of electricity in the Red Lake Falls region is taxing the power facilities now serving the area.

"The quickest and most efficient way to provide the new sources of power required is to transfer service to Otter Tail Power Company whose service area surrounds Red Lake Falls. Otter Tail has ample new power sources that can be tapped to provide all the power needed for the growth of this area."

Involved in this sale are about 20 miles of transmission line, the distribution facilities serving Red Lake Falls, Gentilly and St. Hilaire, and a hydro electric generating station at Red Lake Falls. The hydro station has a rated capacity of 600 kilowatts.

There are 785 electric customers in Red Lake Falls, 111 in St. Hilaire and 51 in Gentilly.

Stenberg Herd Averages 46 lb. Butterfat in April

George Janssen, Red Lake Pennington DHIA supervisor, announced Friday that the five top producing herds in the association during April were as follows:

	Milk	Bf
A. S. Stenberg	1156	46
Henry Knott	1269	46
Donald Walker	1150	44
Maurice Derosier	1060	43
Clarence Swanson	1229	42

Twenty-four herds were on test with one in central processing. Of interest are reasons why cows were removed from the association herds. Fourteen animals were removed: Brucellosis, 1; mastitis, 4; udder trouble, 2; sterility, 3; low production, 3; and accident, 1.

Free Exercise to Be Topic of Clinic at Bemidji May 20

A traveling "Free Exercise" workshop will be held in the new physical education building on the Bemidji State college campus at 8 p.m. Friday, May 20.

The workshop is for the purpose of training physical education teachers, recreation leaders, and volunteer physical fitness workers in instruction and organization of free exercise as a means of keeping fit. In addition to the instruction offered, instructional manuals will be offered free of charge to the above mentioned groups.

The workshop is sponsored by the Optimist club of Minneapolis in cooperation with the Bemidji State college division of health, physical education and recreation.

The Bemidji workshop is one of a series of statewide clinics designed to popularize free exercise as a means of keeping fit. Climax of the year round program will be the first Minnesota AAU open championships to be held next December 28-29 at Hopkins high school.

Of Swedish origin, free exercise is a form of calisthenics done without old-fashioned cadence count. It is a combination of tumbling, dance movements, balance feats, and gymnastics manipulations put together in a rhythmic pattern.

UNHAPPY is the word for Merle Sampson (center) shown here getting "the works" from the "beauty shop" at the girl scout carnival held Saturday afternoon at the Melville Simon residence on North Arnold. Held by girl scouts of Troop 94 under the supervision of Mrs. Simon and Mrs. Kenneth Lindberg, the money raised by the carnival will go to help defray the costs of Troop 94 scouts' summer camping trips. Giving young Sampson the "beauty treatment" are Valerie Wells, Eilene Lund, Cathy Simon and Mary Patton, others are unidentified.

HOME Garden TIPS

ORRIN C. TURNQUIST
AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA ST PAUL 1, MINN.

Fruits for Home Garden

Two of the most important fruits grown in Minnesota home gardens are strawberries and raspberries. Both may be planted at one end of the vegetable garden where they do not interfere with the plowing of the garden each year.

• • •

These fruits should be planted early, when the frost is out of the ground and when the soil can be worked. Space June-bearing strawberries two feet apart in the row, with rows four feet apart. Plant everbearing strawberries one foot apart in the row. Grow them in the hill system and remove runners. Space raspberries four feet apart, in rows six feet apart.

• • •

On newly planted strawberries remove the flowers for the entire first year on June-bearers, but only until June 1 on everbearers.

• • •

When you plant new raspberries, cut the canes to within 4-6 inches of the soil surface. This practice encourages new shoots for the next year's crop.

• • •

Latham is a good raspberry variety. September is the name of an everbearing raspberry that has become popular with many gardeners.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Sanders 4-H Club

The Sanders 4-H club met on Tuesday, April 19, in the town hall. The meeting was called to order by President Kathy Wold.

Team demonstrations were given by Linda Cameron and Kathy Wold on applying a tourniquet. Andy Welsh and Loren Swanson gave one on an arm sling, and tourniquet. Eddie Wold and Leslie Swanson gave project talks. The remainder of the program was group singing and poems. The table made for the Falls Clinic was on display and the girls were to meet on Saturday morning to buy some toys.

The Harold Swanson family served the lunch and Barbara Wold and Susan Swanson were in charge of recreation.

On Saturday morning Kathy Wold, Barbara Wold and Sharon Swanson met with Mrs. Vernon Wold to buy some toys. We tried to buy toys that would keep the little boys and girls happy as well as quiet while waiting to see the doctors. These, along with a small table by the boys was taken and presented to the Falls Clinic. It was received by Dr. Van Rooy, and we hope that it will get much use. This is part of our health activity for this year. —Marcia Nelson, Reporter

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Wheel-track corn planting might help solve the spring labor problem on your farm. University of Minnesota economists and soils men point out that this method — planting directly on plowed but otherwise untilled land — can save up to $2 per acre in equipment costs alone, and save days of valuable man and machine time. Say you have 100 acres of corn. By eliminating two diskings, that would be a four-day saving alone, figuring a 12-foot disk. Cutting out two trips with the drag would save an additional four days, and if you avoid one cultivation, you've saved three more days. Yet, research shows that wheel-track planting consistently results in yields as good as in soil worked up the old way.

A herd of 22 dairy cows grazed 9½ days on one acre of blue grass sod on the Clent Dreher farm near Mizpah in Koochiching county last summer. That was where Dreher had applied fertilizer according to soil test. On the same kind of blue grass nearby which was not fertilized, the cows got only four days of grazing. And here's the real difference: The fertilized grass produced 5,019 pounds of milk per acre, compared to only 2,066 on the unfertilized pasture. Besides, according to county agent Donald Petman, the system allowed Dreher to have his cows graze closer to the barn, for more convenience.

Grassed waterways solved field erosion and drainage problems on the Warren Hughes farm in Beltrami county. Hughes had found it hard to cope with water during periods of heavy run-off. The water often kept the field too wet to work other times. Last fall, Hughes became a cooperator in the Beltrami soil and water conservation district. SCS technicians looked his situation over, made some surveys and staked out two waterways which Hughes constructed, with ASC cost sharing help. Now, these areas are easy to cross with all equipment. Wet areas are gone. The waterways stopped erosion.

Fire Department Called 3 Times over the Weekend

The local fire department responded to three alarms over the past weekend, damage from none of the blazes being reported as extensive. A flooded oil stove brought the firemen Friday evening to the Charles Sackett home at 601 Markley av. S., no damage resulting. A similar fire Saturday evening at the N. P. Martinson home, 723 Markley av. S., caused considerable smoke damage. The third alarm brought the department to the 700 block on Arnold av. N., where a grass fire developed, there being no damage.

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY MOWER — make the 6 step test of a modern power mower . . . and you'll buy a LAWN-BOY
LAWN-BOY DELUXE

Model 7210
1. TILT the mower, as you would to clean, or mow along a hillside. Oil should not leak or spill. Lawn-Boy mowers keep oil in the engine for full-time protection.
2. FLEX the blade. Long, whippy blades cut unevenly, cause crankshaft damage. Lawn-Boy blade is prestressed, under tension, on a short, hard shaft, with bronze main bearings.
3. TAP mower housing. Thin steel housings vibrate, spring out of shape. Lightweight, rock-solid Lawn-Boy aluminum housings never do.
4. LIFT the mower . . . it should be light. Aluminum-light Lawn-Boy is nimble, easy to use, won't tire you out . . . even the handle fits better.
5. START the engine. Starting should be easy, fast, sure. Self-lubricating Lawn-Boy has hottest starting spark on any mower for year after year of easy, one-pull starting.
6. LISTEN to it. Does it roar . . . spit fumes a step ahead of you? It shouldn't. Quiet Lawn-Boy mufflers direct exhaust under the mower, away from you.

Soo Line Supt. Issues Division Crop Report

A crop report covering the Winnipeg division of the Soo Line, prepared Friday by E. A. Hamerski, superintendent, reveals that spring field work in the area is greatly delayed. It reads:

Alexandria to Thief River Falls

Field work being greatly delayed by rain and cold weather. In the southern area from 25% to 50% of the wheat, oats and barley has been planted. In the northern area wheat seeding has just started. Growth of hay and pastures has been delayed by cold weather. No winter kill of alfalfa reported. Top and subsoil moisture is plentiful.

Newfolden to Orleans

Subsoil moisture good in most areas. Topsoil moisture abundant. Due to cold poor drying weather field work is just starting and growth of pastures and haylands is retarded.

Viking to Bolette, N. D.

There have been only two reports of any seeding accomplished on this subdivision. The weather has been cold with light rains and heavy snow the past two weeks. The supply of moisture is adequate to excessive. Warm, drying weather is needed to dry up the topsoil to permit field work.

Overly to Normo, N. D.

Plenty of top and subsoil moisture. The weather has been very cold, delaying field operations. Only a small amount of wheat seeding has been accomplished.

Dahlen to Ortis, N. D.

Cold weather and snow has delayed field work. Some seeding of wheat has been accomplished varying from 5% to 60%. Top and subsoil moisture conditions are good.

General

The weather has been unseasonably cold the past two weeks with a considerable amount of snow in all areas which has delayed field work. In most areas very little seeding has been accomplished. On the southern portion of the First Subdivision and on the Fifth Subdivision from 5% to 50% of the wheat seeding has been accomplished. Topsoil and moisture is good in all areas.

Students from 4 Towns Get Facts on Hospital Jobs

The administrator also pointed out that the hospital serves in training personnel in the field of health. It is affiliated with the area vocational school in a program of training practical nurses in which students receive their clinical experiences at Northwestern during the year. Last year, 27 students were enrolled in the program.

A rural affiliation program for professional nursing students is also a part of the Northwestern educational program. Individual groups of six students at a time from Twin Cities schools of nursing gain experience in their field and in total community health programs while here.

Northwestern has applied for a program to furnish clinical and work experiences for laboratory technicians and to supply experience and training to students in course of x ray technology and should receive approval within six months, Peterson announced last week.

The hospital also supplies in-service training for nursing personnel of the regular staff as a part of its program.

Grass and Legume Seed Raising Is Discussion Topic

crops. The seed trade will buy certified seed when the rest is going to go "begging for a market," Syverson stated.

All farmers who have clean land are urged to look into production of specialty crops. Everyone is eligible at this point of development in the industry. Formation of a "Legume and Grass Seed Association" for this area was delayed until a large enough number of farmers begin producing certified seed.

Arnt Aune, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture comittee, was in charge of the meeting called to inform all who are interested in specialty farm crop production.

Since seed stocks are now in short supply both of Pennscott and Dollard red clover, farmers planning to plant it this year are urged to contact the county agent's office immediately. Climax timothy seed and other grass seeds are also recommended for production in this area. They can supplement grain income and be a significant part of the economy in this area if quality seeds are produced, Stelmaschuk stated.

Driver of Hit-run Vehicle Charged

Local Man Charged with Hitting 3 Automobiles

A hit run traffic mishap reported last Wednesday resulted in damage to three cars and the driver of the hit run vehicle was tagged for driving under the influence of intoxicants, police said today.

The mishap was reported to police at 5:10 p.m. May 4. Investigation revealed the car was driven east on E. Second st. by Alfred M. Johnson, city. Johnson hit a car parked on the corner of LaBree and Second st. and near the middle of the block between LaBree and Horace struck cars owned by Duane M. Sevre, rt. 1, and Carl Wennberg, city, causing damage, the amount of which was not stated.

Johnson was tagged for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

May 5, a mishap was reported to police that about 6 a.m. a car had struck a tree on Riverside av. Investigation revealed the car had been driven south on Riverside av. by Arlen Hansen, Crookston, who had lost control shortly after rounding the curve near Model Laundry, jumped the curb, hit the tree and bounced back into the street again.

Because the car was left in no shape to be driven it was parked around the corner on a side street from where the mishap occurred. Charges are being filed against Hansen but police did not state the offense with which he is being charged.

May 7 at 1:58 p.m. a car being backed from a driveway in the 300 block of North Tindolph by Oscar Joe Evans, city, struck a parked car across the street, belonging to Gunder Legvold, city causing $35 damage to the Legvold car, none to Evans'.

Police also reported a bike belonging to Neil Jenson, city had been stolen from Jenson while he attended the track meet at Lincoln high school Saturday. It was parked in the rack behind the high school when taken, Jenson said. The bike was described as a Hawthorne red and white with most of the red paint worn off. It has white hand grips and bears 1957 license No. 92 police said.

Olivia deHavilland attempts to pacify Dirk Bogarde, who is disturbed by a haunting secret of his past. The scene is from the film drama, "Libel," in which a wife cannot decide whether the man who claims to be her husband is an imposter. To be shown at the Falls Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

MALE SUPREMACY. For the second year in a row Princess Kay of the Milky Way fell victim to the Future Farmers of America State Star Dairy Farmer in their annual hand milking contest at the University of Minnesota May 3. Paul Thomas, 17, of Lakeville, a member of the Farmington FFA chapter bested Betty Jax of Adams by wringing three and one-half pounds of milk from a Jersey cow in a three-minute trial. Betty was able to coax only three-tenths of a pound from her cow. Score in the annual event now stands 3-2 in favor of the Princesses Kay.

Prowlers Nip Pirates at Crookston 14 to 5

Arlan Hjelle, celebrating his birthday, pitched and batted the Prowlers to a convincing 14-5 win over the Crookston Pirates in a district conference baseball game played at Crookston on Friday afternoon. Hjelle, at the plate, raked the righthanded offerings of Jim Turner for "four for four", getting a double in the first inning, a ground single past second base in the third inning, a triple to left-center in the fourth inning, a walk in the fifth inning, and another triple, this time to right-center, in the sixth inning. On the mound, Hjelle, coming in relief of starter Paul Saurdiff in the third inning, pitched no-hit and no-run ball for 4-2/3 innings, collecting 11 strikeouts.

This week's schedule will find the Prowlers meeting the Roseau Rams here tonight, on the Fair Grounds diamond; on Wednesday, May 11, in an 8 p.m. game, the Fosston Greyhounds will play the Prowlers on the Fair Grounds diamond; on Thursday, May 12, at 5 p.m., the Prowlers will meet the Red Lake Falls Eagles at Red Lake Falls; and on Friday, May 13, at 5 p.m., the locals will play the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Bemidji.

In Friday afternoon's important game at Crookston the Prowlers moved into a 2 to 0 lead in the first inning. Gary Klungness struck out; Gary Anderson slapped a single through the box; Eddie Lietzow hit into a force play, second base to shortstop, erasing Anderson; Hjelle lofted a double into center field, with Lietzow stopping at third; Paul Saurdiff banged a two-bagger into center field, scoring two runs.

The Prowlers added two runs in the second inning on a walk to Jim Weckwerth, Jim Wegge's fielder's choice, Gary Klungness' single, and Anderson's sacrifice fly.

The Pirates, in the last half of the second, entered the scoring column when Alden Hermodson gained a "life" on an error, and then came around to score on Chuck Hannah's triple to center field. Dale Johnson drove a ground single into left field to plate Hannah.

After the Prowlers, on a single by Hjelle, a stolen base, and John Aune's single, had notched a run in the fifth, to take a 5 to 2 lead, the Pirates bounced back with a three run outburst to even the game in the last half of the third inning. With one out, Curt Hannah got a base hit when his pop fly fell safely between Saurdiff and Wegge; Turner doubled to left field, scoring Hannah; Hermodson singled to left field, with Turner scoring; and when Pete Mickelson lined a triple into right-center, Hermodson came in with the game-tying run. Hjelle then moved in from left field to take up the pitching duties and, after nicking Chuck Hannah and Nelson with pitched balls, the righthander snuffed out the Crookston threat. In the fifth and sixth innings he retired the side on strikes.

The Prowlers, after picking up a lone run in the fourth inning, added three runs in the fifth inning, and then erupted for five hits and five runs in the sixth inning. Turner was replaced by Curt Hannah in the seventh inning.

The defensive highlight of the contest was the game-ending double play, Paul Klungness to Gary Anderson. With Curt Hannah on first base by virtue of an error, and one out, Crookston's lanky Alden Hermodson drove a sinking line drive past second base. Klungness with a backhanded stab made the catch, and then easily finished off the double play on a throw to first base, doubling Hannah who, along with the fans in attendance, had believed the ball was going for a hit and had nearly reached second base.

Prowler Nine Bows to Roseau Thursday 12-5

Thief River Falls and Roseau each collected five well-chilled basehits in the high school baseball game played at Roseau on Thursday afternoon, but the Rams scrambled their basehits with fourteen bases on balls, a hit batsmen, and three crucial Prowler errors to score a 12 to 5 win over the locals.

—The Prowlers will have an opportunity to avenge this loss to the Rams when they meet Roseau tonight, Monday, at the Fair Grounds diamond here, with game time scheduled for 8 p.m. On Wednesday evening, May 11, the Fosston Greyhounds will play the Prowlers at the Fair Grounds in an inter-district game, with game time at 6 p.m.

In Thursday afternoon's game at Roseau, coach Ray Kavanagh's Rams, getting steady pitching from southpaw Don Ross, took advantage of loose defensive play by the Prowlers to score ten unearned runs and defeat the defending Region Eight champions, 12-5.

In the first inning, Gary Klungness led off with a single to right field, stole second, moved around to third base on Eddie Lietzow's infield hit, and scored when third baseman Rick Ulvin misplayed the ball. Lietzow scored the Prowlers' second run of the inning on Arlan Hjelle's double to left-center.

The Rams picked up a tally in their half of the inning when Dave Backlund walked (the lead-off man drew five walks during the game), gained second on a wild pitch, advanced to third on Larry Stordahl's long fly ball to Paul Saurdiff, and scored on a wild pitch.

In the second inning, three bases on balls, an error on what should have been the side-retiring out, and a solid single by Keith Brandt, gave the Rams four runs and a 5-2 lead.

In the third inning, with one out, Ross issued walks to Lietzow and Hjelle, and, after Saurdiff had lofted to center field, a walk to Jim Wegge to load the bases. Gary Anderson rapped a two-bagger up against the fence in left field, scoring two runs. John Aune ended the rally by lining out to Ross, who made a fine stab of John's bid for a hit.

The Prowlers experienced a hectic inning in the last half of the fourth, with Roseau shoving seven runs across the plate, all unearned. Hovda opened with a single, was was erased as he tried to steal second, Wegge to Paul Klungness. Ron Ross walked; Rod Nelson struck out; Keith Brandt walked; Rick Ulvin grounded to shortstop, and when Lietzow overthrew first base, two runs scampered across the plate. Dave Peterson and Dennis Andol singled, Backlund and Stordahl walked, and an error on Hovda's ground ball, added five runs, giving the Rams their seven-run inning and a 12-4 lead.

The Prowlers picked up an unearned run in the sixth inning, and had the bases loaded with two men out, but first baseman Backlund made a fine running catch of Saurdiff's foul pop to end the threat.

A SAMPLE of the duties performed by city officials was given two local boys named honorary chief of police and mayor Saturday afternoon, when this traffic check was set up in the 900 block on North Main.

Mercury Reaches High of 59 Sunday

Low Reading of 26 Was Recorded Here Saturday

Variable cloudiness and continued cool has been predicted by the KTRF weather station for today through tomorrow with highs today from 60 to 65 and lows tonight from 40 to 45.

Winds today and tomorrow are expected to be light and from the east. The outlook for tomorrow is for little change.

Temperatures the latter part of last week and over the weekend have been in the 50's during the daylight hours and in the high 20's and low 30's during the evening and early morning hours. The warmest day during this period was Sunday when a high of 59 was registered and 57 was recorded both Thursday and Saturday.

Coldest readings during the period were the 26's during the early-morning hours of Friday and Saturday and the warmest was this morning's 34.

No precipitation has been forecast. The last was the 1.5 inches of snow which fell April 26.

Prowler Track

While the Prowlers didn't cause much concern for the powerful Moorhead Spuds, who won the Dragon Relays team title at Moorhead State College by scoring 70 points on Saturday, coach Rod Max's three entries, all in the relays, did pick up nine points in gaining third place finishes.

The Prowler 440-yard relay team — Gary Klungness, Paul Klungness, Roger Johnson and Don Waldera—won a third place. And the same four boys added another third place in the 880-yard relay event. The mile medley relay—with Waldera running the 440, Gary Klungness and Roger Johnson each running a 220-yard leg, and Don Ulferts running the 880 — had a solid third place.

On Tuesday, May 10, coach Max will take a squad of 25 Prowler trackmen to Bemidji when the blue-and-gold will compete in the Northwest conference tournament. The teams competing will be Thief River Falls, Crookston, Bemidji, East Grand Forks, and Roseau. Last year, in their first season of conference competition, the Roseau Rams won the meet. Coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks squad has been established as the favorites to win the conference title.

Planning a Return Trip

Bess Lang and Mary Washnesky returned last week from Denver, Colo., where, on the Belview lanes, they participated in the annual Women's International Bowling Congress tournament. The two local bowlers, along with Tillie Gebhardt and Clarice Jones of Crookston and Ramona Neuhalsen of Grand Forks, competed in the team event under the sponsorship of the Ken Johnson Studio of Crookston. As of Sunday, May 1, the team was in tenth place in the Division 2 competition, having a total of 2271 pins. The tournament, of course, is an actual pins event.

One of the highlights and thrills of the tournament for the girls came on Saturday, April 30, when in competing in the singles and doubles events, they were on the same shifts as Marion Ladewig and LaVerne Carter. Ladewig and Carter are nationally known bowlers, with Ladewig having been women's national bowling champion a number of years. Mrs. Carter is the wife of Don Carter, the famed St. Louis bowler. Carter was in attendance at the tournament.

So pleased with their experiences at Denver and the tournament were Bess and Mary that they are already making plans to attend next year's WIBC tourney, which will be held in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Trap Shoot League Opener

The 1960 schedule of the Thief River trap shoot league will open Thursday, May 12. The first round schedule will find the high-average Wilson Bros. squad meeting Roy Jorgenson's Northern Chevrolet team; the Oen's Appliance, featuring the left-handed shooting of Orvis Olen, meeting the Pharmacy, including Russ Embury; the Times squad shooting against the league-champion Coast-to-Coast; and Gene (Pancake) Gaer's Ben Franklin team meeting the Starekow Clinic.

A look at the team rosters indicates that the 1960 season will be a case of the other seven teams attempting to upset Don Olson's well-manned Coast-to-Coast team. The league champions are a well-balanced squad, having high-average and low-average guns on the squad, and so are sure of having some handicap in most of their matches.

A rumor was made into fact last week when, after much discussion and certain considerations, Dr. Jim Disse transferred his franchise to Gene (Pancake) Kaer. Gene's squad will carry the banner of the Ben Franklin store this season.

The Season's First Stag

The male members of the local golf club have been notified that the first stag night of the season will be held Wednesday, May 11.

While the league competition hasn't been arranged yet, Jack Boyer will have some sort of golf competition planned for Wednesday evening's opener.

The champion golfer at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Springs, Md., is not human. A hyper-velocity gun in use drives a model of golf ball size at 10,000 feet per second—almost 7,000 miles per hour.

Jaycees Sponsor Wrestling Bouts

Three Matches Slated at TRF Auditorium Thursday

Wrestling fans of the area will be able to see three matches in Thief River Falls Thursday, May 12 when top name contenders meet in the city Auditorium beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

The main bout of the evening will match Tiny Mills against Emil Dupre in a two falls out of three event with a one-hour time limit. Mills, well known to television viewers, is noted for his "lumberjack style" of wrestling.

In the semi final event, Aldo Bagni of the Argentine will meet Joe Scarpello in a one fall match with a 30 minute time limit and in a special bout, Roy McClarty and Frank Townsend will tangle in a one-fall, 30 minute time limit match.

The matches are being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and advance tickets are available at Parkins Corner Drug and the J&B Drug.

Draper Officer of Union Lake-Sarah Development Unit

Dick Miner of Grand Forks was named president of the Union Lake-Sarah Development association at its annual meeting last Wednesday evening in the Crookston Elks club. V. M. Draper of Thief River Falls was elected vice president; Les Spring, Crookston, secretary; and Dave Hanson, Fertile, treasurer.

Roger Bagne of Erskine was appointed chairman of the membership committee, of which H. O. Ness of Thief River Falls also is a member.

Principal topics of discussion at the meeting were additional hard-surfacing of roads in the area, and progress made in restocking the lakes with pike and black bass. It was voted to abandon the mosquito-spraying of the lake area for this year.

TRF Saddle Club Plans Horse Show

The Thief River Falls Saddle club met last Tuesday at Joppru's sales barn, and plans for the club's coming horse show were discussed. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, May 17, at 8:30.

Commissioner Warns of New Forage Grass

Minnesota seed dealers and farmers were warned today by Byron G. Allen, state commissioner of agriculture, against selling or seeding a forage crop or grass, Sorghum Almum until the results of a public hearing are known and it is determined whether or not Sorghum Almum is a noxious weed. The hearing is scheduled for the auditorium of the State Office building at 9 a.m. Tuesday, June 7.

Pursuant to Minnesota Laws, 1957, Section 2001, Minnesota's list of noxious weeds was revised as of August 14, 1958. "However," says Mr. Allen, "Sorghum Almum was not considered at the 1958 hearing because, at the time, it was not known as a possible threat in Minnesota. Sometimes called 'the quack grass of the South' because it is a second cousin of Johnson grass, a common grass weed in the South. It was not feared in a northern climate.

"Since the advent of the soil bank and a great need for new grasses used in permanent pastures and meadows, Sorghum Almum is now being sold to Minnesota farmers by solicitation by mail and some few agents and seed dealers. Should Sorghum Almum be determined to be a noxious weed, farmers would be called upon to eradicate their seedings of the grass or subsequently be judged in violation of the law."

At the hearing on June 7 agronomists, botanists, as well as farmers and seedsmen, are urged to appear and present evidence on the desirable and undesirable qualities of the plant.

"This warning is a practical one," says Mr. Allen "we do not want to prejudge the decision which grows out of the hearing. The June date was the earliest possible legal date for such a hearing after it was learned that Sorghum Almum was being sold in the state."

Large Attendance at Newfolden Fair

Donald Engelsrud Wins Top Handicraft Prize

Several hundred persons turned out to view the projects entered in the Newfolden student craftsman's fair held in the gymnasium on Saturday, April 30. Donald Engelsrud won a cup and electric drill for his grand champion exhibit which was a 14-foot boat.

Other schools entering projects in the fair were Baudette, Karlstad and Warroad. Dick Krantz, Karlstad; Tom Griffin, Baudette; Leonard Thompson, Warroad, and Eugene Moen, Newfolden, judged the projects.

First place winners in various divisions besides Don Engelsrud were: Newfolden, Harold Larson, Wesley Grandstrand, Loyal Huseth, Michael Johnson, Paul Tangquist, Neil Martin, Donald Hanson, Vernon Olson and Wesley Hanson, Warroad, Rolland Huerb and Wesley McFarlane. These boys all won blue ribbons and awards which were donated by merchants from the four participating communities and other hardware houses.

The Newfolden industrial arts club will also enter projects in the regional industrial arts fair to be held at Bemidji on Saturday, May 7. The fair will be held at Bemidji State college and is sponsored by the Ford company. G. Edwin Moupnger, industrial arts instructor at Newfolden, is the head of this fair also.

Dr. F. H. Gambell, Formerly of TRF, Writes Book at 90

Physician Practiced Here from 1902 to 1919; Now Lives in California

Dr. Francis H. Gambell, 90, of Willows, Calif., who practiced medicine in Thief River Falls from 1902 to 1919, and who last year retired from active practice, is the author of a book, "Dr. Gambell's Short Stories," due for early publication according to a California paper received by O. O. Hafdal from his daughter in that state.

Dr. Gambell, whose wife died last February, served as mayor of Thief River Falls nearly 50 years ago, and previously was a member of the local school board.

He left this city in 1919 to join the American Red Cross as chief surgeon on a hospital train operating across Siberia during the war between the White Russians and the Red forces.

On his return from service, he joined his family in California, and in 1921 he established his practice in Willows, where he has remained since.

He recently described his philosophy as a physician in the following words, "Be honest with your patients and yourself. Take time for knowing the whole person, not just his ailments. It makes for a better relationship in times of crisis and for a sounder diagnosis in every way. That is why I have loved being a general practitioner in a small community, where I could be friends with my patients' families for generations. It has been very rewarding, and it still is. I've had a fine life."

Orville Hansons at Bank Opening

Slow Down and Live!

Crookston Hotel Is Hit by Blaze

Fire—the second one in two and one half years—broke out in the Hotel Crookston early Sunday, May 1, forcing some 32 guests temporarily out of their rooms.

Firemen battled the fire, confined mainly to between the walls, for about 20 minutes before bringing it under control.

Chief Bill Herbert, who had 25 firemen fighting the fire, said it started in a stairwell located just off the main lobby. Herbert could give no immediate cause of the fire, but said C. A. Cherry, deputy state fire marshall, was investigating Monday.

"Time does not cease. Change does not end. There is no place where I can stand and say, 'This rock is unchanging; this moment is endless.' Nor is there any place in life where I can stand and say, 'This is what I am, complete and unchanging.' There are forces beyond our willing that beat upon us, and the best we can do is stand against them, firm in our own faith and conviction."

Who Planned It That Way?

Our government is in an awkward position as the result of an American plane being shot down over Russia. Earlier statements by American officials had admitted the disappearance of an unarmed, weather-study plane flown by a civilian pilot. Due to oxygen trouble he may have accidentally violated Soviet air space, it was said.

But this time, it seems, the Soviet officials had proof on their side. The American ship had travelled a long distance into Russia. When his plane was fired on the pilot bailed out and landed safely, to be arrested and questioned by the Russians. Russian reports say he has admitted being a spy.

American officials deny that the scouting flight over Russia had been made with the authority of the government but admitted that such a flight had been made.

All of which does not strengthen our position in the international argument. On many occasions in the past we have complained about Russian spies, and rightfully so. Several of them have been caught and convicted, and no doubt many more are working among us. Our present embarrassment is caused mainly by our apparently being caught red handed, doing a thing for which, on many occasions, we have sharply criticized the Russians.

Considering Khrushchev's more hostile attitude in recent weeks, we may assume that this development was very much to his liking. It fitted in perfectly with his repeated charges that our government is guided by sinister motives and seeks to conquer the world. It couldn't have served his interests better if he himself had done the planning.

And it would not be surprising if future developments proved that he had planned it that way. With this possibility in mind it will be interesting to learn more about the civilian service that is maintained in foreign countries and by what authority their activities are directed.

Protection is For The Weak

As imports increase and foreign manufacturers take a larger share of the American market, the demand increases for bigger tariff barriers. In the years immediately ahead of us the old tariff question is going to become more and more a political headache.

The protective tariff once was a highly controversial partisan issue. The Republican North wanted protection for its "infant industries" and the Democratic South wanted free trade, enabling cotton growers to sell their crop on the world markets in exchange for the manufactured products of other countries.

The tariff question is no longer a regional problem, at least not to the extent that it once was. Both of the major parties give lip service to the desirability of a gradual lowering of trade barriers and a free exchange of goods and services. But as more and more domestic industries are adversely affected by foreign competition, the demand for protection is going to increase. Once again there will be organized demands for high protective tariffs.

We are sure that protection is not the right answer to this problem. Unless we are willing to isolate ourselves from the rest of the world, we will have to remain competitive, and remaining competitive in the world of the future is going to require effort and progress.

If we approach this problem realistically we have nothing to fear. The important thing is that we recognize a few of the obvious facts.

We are not a superior race. We do not have a monopoly on either brains or brawn. We do have one advantage in the competition that is ahead of us and that is that we are entering the race with a long head start, and with effort and understanding we should be able to hold our lead. But there will be times when we will be hard pressed, and extra effort and sacrifice will be required.

But the one thing we do not need, and should not ask for, is protection. Protection is for the weak. We must remain strong.

Mitchell's Advice

In a recent address to a group of railway employees in Chicago, Secretary of Labor Mitchell expressed the opinion that if railroad labor and management would work together harmoniously to help their industry meet competition, the best interests of both groups would be served. With that observation there should be general agreement.

Commenting on this speech, and the labor secretary's references to some of the problems confronting the railroads, and other problems dealing with transportation as a whole, the St. Paul Pioneer Press offers these suggestions:

Mitchell said some things which neither management nor labor will like. But in general he urged a course of action which would benefit both sides. He has little hope that the controversy over work rules — so-called "featherbedding" — can be settled by the current negotiations under the railway labor act. At the same time, he warns the unions that their future welfare will not be served by continued opposition to changes needed to make the rails more efficient.

"Working men and women have something akin to a property right in work procedures and customs engaged in for many years and resulting from bargaining agreements, and these rights should be modified or forfeited by consent, not compulsion," said Mitchell. Management may not wholly approve that statement. On the other hand, he offers this frank advice to union members:

"Management cannot manage or exist without the ability to maneuver flexibly to meet competitive challenges. The status quo is not the answer to the challenge of change; standing pat is often an optical illusion for going backward." This is not the sort of thing which rail union leaders say, at least publicly, in discussing work rules, although many of them must realize that this is the situation.

However, regarding more general transportation problems, Mitchell took a stand which has the support of most segments of the rail industry. Referring to government subsidies for ships and airlines and to federal expenditures which benefit barge lines and truckers, he said: "I suggest that we seek the gradual elimination of all government subsidies in transportation in America and consider the introduction of user charges so that each mode of transportation carries its fair share of the burden of public expenditures from which they now profit unequally."

Between the lines, the secretary of labor seems to be telling railroad labor and management that they had best settle such negotiable matters as wages without a strike, and that they should postpone a decision on work rules while both camps settle down to seek practical modifications in quiet discussions. It would not be surprising if the current contract disputes gradually move in that direction.

A Newspaper's Function

(Brandon, Manitoba, Daily Sun)

An essential duty of the information media in a free society is to fight both prejudice and apathy. A newspaper does it (or should do it) through its editorial page. Not by avoiding all controversial and "hot" issues, but by plunging headlong into all such issues, stating clearly and firmly an opinion which it honestly belives to serve the public good.

Having stated its opinion, the newspaper cannot and does not expect everybody to agree with it. What it does expect is that its stand will stimulate private and public discussion of the particular issue, that it will prod people into serious thinking about it.

Buying Foreign

(Boston Herald)

The United States government is again embarrassed because a foreign producer has underbid all American competitors on a public contract.

The Mitsubishi Company of Japan has offered to supply locomotives to the Panama Canal Company, a United States agency, for $900,000 less than the Plymouth Locomotive Company of Ohio, the next lowest bidder. . . .

Now Washington is under great pressure to throw the contract to the American company under the Buy American Act, but it appears that there is no legal basis for denying the Japanese bid even if all authorized differentials are allowed.

The government should stick to its first position and honor the Mitsubishi offer.

The United States government has just launched a major export drive. We are trying to enter world markets where we have never competed before. But if we are to export successfully, we must also import. We can't enforce a "Buy American" rule at home without inviting a "Don't Buy American" rule abroad. Tariffs beget tariffs, quotas beget quotas, boycotts beget boycotts.

In the long run more trade means more prosperity for everyone. The immediate hurt is less than the eventual gain.

In any case, even if this weren't true, we are honor bound to let the Panama contract on the terms advertised. It is too late to welsh.

Everybody's Best Friend

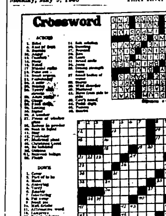
(Wall Street Journal)

It is said that Joseph's dream of the Seven Fat Years and the Seven Lean Years is the first historic reference to government stockpiling. But even the Pharaohs never dreamed of anything so big as Uncle Sam's.

Senator Byrd is chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures — a group whose ambitious task is even longer than its name — and he reports that as of January 1 Uncle Sam had on hand some $51.9 billion of stockpiled stuff, including the Commodity Credit Corporation's wheat, corn and other grains and fibers. There is also a vast pile of aluminum, tungsten, manganese, chrome, titanium, nickel and medical and engineering supplies and materials, either in the General Services Administration or the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization stockpiles. Also some diamonds.

Diamonds are, as everyone knows, as necessary in industry for grinding purposes as they are in society as status symbols. But even Catherine the Great of Russia, who collected diamonds as President Roosevelt did stamps, never had on hand at one time 10 million carats of the sparklers.

Now this hoard of gems hasn't upped the price of diamonds or changed their symbolism one bit—they're still a girl's best friend. But there isn't any doubt either who appears to be the diamond's best friend. Or, so far as that goes, the best friend of everybody with something on hand Uncle Sam is convinced should be bought and stockpiled at the taxpayers' expense.



Borrowed Nonsense . . .

A police surgeon once said one is sober if he is able to say, "Susie sat in the soup." The one we wonder about is Susie.

Father describing his adolescent daughter: "She's fourteen, going on twenty." —Stanley Kramer, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Police captain: So you let him escape, huh? Didn't you obey my orders to guard all exits?
Rookie: Yes, sir, we guarded every exit. He must have slipped through one of the entrances.

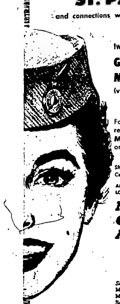
Spring breakup is the time our rough fish removal crews are busy installing carp traps in streams and channels as carp begin their annual spawning runs. Generally the carp runs begin about May 1 but this year some large runs started early in April. Some traps have produced 50,000 to 75,000 pounds within two or three days after they were installed. Over one half million pounds have been taken in a few traps in the past two weeks. Over 180,000 pounds were taken in a trap between Buffalo and Deer lakes, Wright county, over 100,000 pounds in German lake, LeSueur county, 50,000 pounds in Green lake, Kandiyohi county; 85,000 pounds in Lake Waconia and there are an estimated 100,000 pounds in a trap at Big Kandiyohi lake at the present time.

Working under the ice last winter our five state crews and 25 private contract operators removed 7½ million pounds of rough fish from Minnesota lakes. Now we had hoped to install and operate 60 traps this spring but, due to limited manpower and the early carp run, only 15 traps are in operation so far.

Fortunately, some sportsmen's club and individuals are interested in helping out on the carp trapping program by operating traps under free permits. Nineteen permits have been issued this spring and a substantial number of carp have already been taken. One of the largest runs of carp was at Diamond lake, Kandiyohi county, where the Atwater Sportsmen's club is operating a trap under permit.



The Paynesville Sportsmen's club is extremely interested in the carp control program, knows the game and fish division is short on funds, and has an enthusiastic member, Mr. Haynes, who is an electrician. This happy combination resulted in the invention of a new device for catching carp which has been turned over to the state for use in improving the carp trapping operations at Lake Koronis.

This device is installed just above the dam at the outlet of Lake Koronis where there are concentrations of carp during the spring. Below the dam a trap waits but the carp hesitate to make the fatal jump. The shocking device is turned on five or six times an hour and the waiting carp are stunned, turn belly up and float over the dam into the waiting trap.

The ingenuity and manpower of such clubs is especially appreciated at a time like this when we are short of money and men but long on carp.

Resignation of Attorney General Causes Surprise

Miles Lord won't be on the ballot this fall but he seems certain to be a campaign issue.

The unpredictable attorney general, whose resignation last week caught most everyone by surprise, says he quit with eight months to go on his second term to have more time for his family and because he wanted to engage in the private practice of law.

He timed his resignation to give the man named to succeed him, Walter F. Mondale of Minneapolis, active DFL party worker, time to prepare himself for the campaign.

Lord has been criticized repeatedly during his five years in office, most recently in connection with the Albert Lea Wilson strike case, and before that for his handling of the daylight saving time case.

The latter brought him censure from the state supreme court.

By Eleanor Olson

Not long ago I heard a Canadian educator say on the radio that one of the difficulties of fitting Indian children from the reserves into the public school system was the lack of pre-school background training in such things as folk tales and nursery rhymes which most white children receive. At the time I remember thinking, "For heaven's sake's, what good can Mother Goose be?" I knew that my two year old loved them and that for some reason I had automatically begun teaching the nonsense poems to her although I hadn't thought the subject through very thoroughly.

Now with the recent reading I've done on Mother Goose I have concrete answers for my first impulsive question. As a living example of their merits in increasing spoken vocabulary, I have my own very normal daughter whose words until now consisted mostly of "hi" and "no." With her new passion for Mother Goose I hear her trying to say "blow" and "snow" and "water." She would naturally be adding some new words all the time, but the rhymes give her a reason to practice them time and time again.

Captivated by numbers and familiar objects the littlest child loves the counting rhymes like "One, two, buckle my shoe." The slightly older child learns days of the week with "Solomon Grundy, born on Monday." The pre-schooler leaps months with "Thirty days hath September." And on we go to the early graders who use tongue speech with tools that children love. Children brought up with Mother Goose have better speech habits and a better feeling for words. Their imagination has been given something to feed on and their word power is far greater.

Without a doubt both parents and teachers are ready to chuck Mother Goose into the waste basket time and time again. But there are always children who know all the animals as friends, all the people as characters just as nice as mama and daddy, standing by to drag her out again.

If, however you can't stand to read your own copy of Mother Goose aloud even once more you may find the Library copies a welcome change. You'll be surprised and pleased by the many versions of the same rhyme that are to be found. The fresh and different illustrations are sure to cast a new light on your jaded attitude.

The library has fourteen different editions of Mother Goose. Some, worn and falling apart, should have been discarded long ago, but they have been kept because of their marvelous illustrations. Not all can be circulated because of their condition, but you'll enjoy looking at them anyway. "The Tenggren Mother Goose," with 225 rhymes catches the eye with its deep glowing colors and gay mood. Some pictures illustrate the rhymes, some are simply decorative. Marguerite de Angeli's Mother Goose is a real masterpiece in its impressionist-like drawings in both black and white and color. "Happy Mother Goose" is indeed as it is described a "jolly new version." Roly-poly children, mice and animals reminiscent of Disney abound. But I can't write about them all. They'll be on display at the library. Take a look for yourself.

Chevrolet Agents Compete for Trip to Europe in Fall

A group of midwestern Chevrolet dealers is going to Europe in August as good will ambassadors under President Eisenhower's "People to People" program.

The program, designed to foster international friendship and understanding on an individual rather than governmental basis, originated from a White House conference in the fall of 1956. The Chevrolet contingent will be the first automotive group to visit Europe under the program.

The trip will start with a special briefing at the state department in Washington the morning of August 20. Immediately afterward, the dealers and their wives will board a plane for Paris.

Those who will make the trip will be determined by the winners of a May-June sales contest among Chevrolet dealers in the Great Lakes region which encompasses Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and the northeastern one third of Illinois.

Goodridge Pupils Go Home Tuesday at 1 in CD Alert

The Goodridge public schools in cooperation with the local defense authorities took part in Operation Alert 1960 on Tuesday, May 3. Students were sent home at 1 p.m. in a simulated situation as they would be in case of an actual alert.

Dale Moore covered some of the important aspects of civil defense with the staff members after the students had left. Moore had attended a civil defense school for instructors at Karlstad earlier in the school year.

Graduate Makes $25,000 Gift to Augsburg College

An alumnus of Augsburg college presented $25,000 to the development fund today as a matching gift to the amount pledged by 1,475 alumni during a recent phon-o-rama fund raising project.

General L. J. Sverdrup, St. Louis, Mo., matched the $25,000 these alumni pledged when telephoned from a Minneapolis headquarters during the week of April 25-29.

A total of 2,001 telephone calls were completed throughout the U.S. and Canada, with 73.7% pledging a gift to the college development fund prior to June 1, 1961.

Specific pledges were made by 625 alumni, totaling $19,897.25 for an average of $31.83 per pledge.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—A year ago I asked VA to hold my annual GI insurance dividend as a credit, from which to pay my premium in case I should miss a payment. Do I have to renew this arrangement each year with the VA?

A—No. Once the credit arrangement on dividends is authorized by you, it remains in effect until cancelled. It is not necessary to renew your authorization each year.

Q—My husband's electrical appliance shop was burned out three months ago and he recovered his losses through a fire insurance policy. Is it necessary for him to report this money when he tells VA about his income? He is applying for pension.

A—No. Proceeds of fire insurance policies are not considered income for VA pension purposes.

Q—Is every disabled Korea veteran, regardless of the degree of his disability, entitled to special rehabilitation training?

A—No. This training is available only to disabled veterans who need it to overcome the handicap of their service connected disabilities. However, those who don't need vocational rehabilitation training may be eligible for Korean GI Bill training.

Q—My husband died of a service connected condition and I draw death compensation from VA. Does the size of my outside income make any difference in my eligibility to get these payments?

A—No. Your other income has no effect on your eligibility for death compensation. Income limitations, however, do apply in the case of pension payments based on deaths not connected with military service.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
Tune-in on the Pastime?
The electronic age continues to amaze me. Just read in a farm journal that cows can now be wired for sound . . . so that you can tell if they've been overeating!
Seems that before you turn a cow out to pasture, you can feed her a small transmitter powered by a flashlight battery.
Then all you do is sit comfortably at home and wait for a signal to show up on a recorder. Soon as you get a "bleep," you go out and fetch "Bossie"—that signal means she's had enough.
From where I sit, I'd need a lot of "proving" before I would buy an idea like this one. But I'll listen! A closed mind on any subject—even to whether a cup of tea or a glass of beer is the best "refresher"—is not a tolerant mind. The American way is to never "short-circuit" what the other fellow has to say.

Minnesota Banks Solid Supporters of 4-H Activities

Bankers Have Been Aiding Movement in Many Ways Since the Early 1900s

Minnesota banks are solidly behind the 4-H club program and they've been strong supporters of 4-H since the early 1900's.

Extending credit to 4-H members—without security — for the purchase of animals for livestock projects is one of the most valuable contributions the banks have made in helping these young people develop financial responsibility, according to Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader. Last year, 1,371 4-Hers received loans from 184 banks to purchase livestock.

Minnesota banks have given financial assistance to local 4-H programs in many ways. A recent survey by the Minnesota Bankers association showed that 243 of the banks replying helped sponsor 4-H achievement banquets at a cost of more than $9,000 last year. They spent over $7,100 in 1959 in support of 4-H livestock shows in the state and for the purchase of 4-H meat animals at auction.

In many communities local banks provide trophies, buy achievement pins for 4-H members, help finance club buildings, subscribe to the "National 4-H News" for each 4-H family in the county, provide programs and refreshments for meetings, help pay for annual field days.

Well over a third of the banks in the state—295 out of a possible 688—made a direct contribution in gifts and awards to 4-H of $18,316 in 1959. Of this amount, $3,810 went to the National 4-H Foundation in Washington, D.C., which is supported entirely by private contributions.

The contribution to the Foundation from Minnesota banks last year topped that from any other state, as it has in previous years. Among the activities of the Foundation is operation of the National 4-H Club Center, an educational facility located in Washington, D.C., and sponsorship of the International Farm Youth Exchange.

Each year the Minnesota Bankers association finances the trips of four outstanding club members to the National 4-H conference in Washington, D.C.

Studies by The Travelers Insurance Companies show that driver error caused 85 per cent of the highway accidents in 1959.

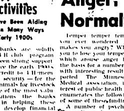
Anger, in Its Place, Is Normal, Doctors Say

Temper, temper, temper! Have you ever wondered just what makes you angry? What causes you to lose your temper? Factors which arouse anger have been the basis for a number of studies with interesting results often reported. The Minnesota State Medical association, in the interest of public health education, enumerates the following results of some of these findings.

A number of psychiatric studies indicate that it is more normal than not for a person confronted with an irritating or provoking situation to express anger. This characteristic was found to be more common among well-balanced persons than those who suffered from some form of personality abnormality.

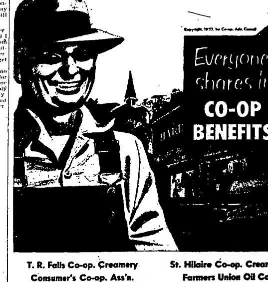
The chronic griper — the person who never seems to run out of gripes, pet peeves, or complaints — is, on the other hand, exhibiting neurotic tendencies. Unlike the neurotic whose list of woes never seems to end, the well balanced person will usually express anger, then forget about it. Similarly, studies report that well balanced persons can take kidding without irritation, while the neurotic tends to become irritated at minor provocation, even in the spirit of fun.

Several studies indicate that during the course of a week, men lose their temper six times while the average for women is three. Men have a greater tendency to become miffed at objects while women are more likely to sense a feeling of displeasure toward other individuals.



Tempers have also been found to vary according to occupation. Doctors, lawyers and other professional persons have been found among the slowest to anger. Next were persons engaged in farming or related occupations. Office workers and laborers have the poorest temper control rating.

Little things do the most effective job of provoking anger because there are so many more of them and they occur more frequently. The small irritations often appear to be a major catastrophe at the time. Minor irritations often have the most irritating qualities. If you want to avoid an argument, don't discuss controversial matters for at least one half hour before breakfast, lunch or dinner.



Repressed anger has been found to be an important causative factor in the impairment of the normal function of the heart, muscles and the circulatory system.

If you must blow your top, do it with discretion. Society frowns at persons who go about poking people in the nose or directing a verbal lashing at an employer. Other methods of relaxing pent-up anger include a walk around the block or participation in some other acceptable physical activity.

Contour strips were a "yield equalizer" for William Effertz, farmer in the Sibley county soil conservation district. Now, his corn on slopes yields as well as corn on level land—100 bushels per acre in each case. And that was in 1959, with dry weather. Effertz is so pleased with the results he is planning field terraces on other slopes, to save water and slow down erosion.

Late Spring May Mean Adjustment in Crops

Delayed grain seeding this spring, resulting from the long spell of wet weather and slow field drying, means many farmers will need to take a second look at their crop plans.

Extension agronomist Harley Otto at the University of Minnesota says late seeding is more likely to result in lower yields, grain diseases and lower grain test weight.

Already, the 1960 seeding season is the latest in five years. By April 30, only 30 per cent of the oats and spring wheat, 10 per cent of the flax and five per cent of the barley was in the ground. That's compared to 85 per cent of the wheat and oats, 60 per cent of the barley and half of the flax planted by the same date in 1959.

At the University's Southern Experiment station, Waseca, wet fields have held spring work back longer than in any other season over the past 441 years.

Otto says late grain seeding may be all right, but crop success will depend mostly on weather later on. If it's cool in late June and early July, late planted grain will probably do all right. But hot weather then could mean trouble; grain needs cool temperatures to form heads and grain properly.

As a general guide, Otto has this advice for grain crops:

Oats— If seeded by May 20, the crop won't suffer too much if weather is favorable this summer. But stick to the early varieties, such as Andrew and Minhafer, particularly in southern Minnesota.

Wheat—In general, May 10-20 is about the latest safe period for seeding, but again, mid-summer weather will determine crop success. Also, check the soil temperature. If soil is too warm at seeding time, there is more chance for root rot to develop in wheat. But if the soil is cool, wheat starts faster and is more likely to outgrow the root rot organisms. Selkirk is the most common hardy spring wheat in Minnesota, and that's as good a variety for late planting as any.

Barley—Research shows that if seeded after May 20, barley yield drops sharply. Malting quality goes down too—partly because the later it is sown, the higher the percentage of thin barley kernels. There is also a variety difference in this respect; Traill, a thin kerneled variety anyway, is more severely affected by late planting than Kindred.

Flax—From now on, the varieties Bolley and Marine are best for Minnesota. And since Marine is the earlier in maturity, it is best for extremely late seeding. As a general rule, May 15-20 is the latest recommended planting date for flax in southern Minnesota, and June 1 is about the cutoff in the Red River Valley. As with other grain, late flax planting raises the risk of diseases and lower yields.

Another point on late planting: Make sure you plant enough seed. Full seeding rates recommended per acre are: oats, 80 pounds; barley, 2 bushels; wheat, 1½ bushels; and flax, 1 bushel.

Where oats are planted late, Otto says many farmers may prefer to cut them as silage. That way, yield reductions may not be as marked as they would be if the crop were left for seed.

While there's still time to get corn and soybeans planted, Otto says early varieties are also better with these crops if planting is delayed much beyond the normal time.

Where a farmer simply can't get small grain planted in time, most will probably prefer to put the acreage in corn or soybeans.

MEMBERSHIP in the American Legion's 9th district is at an all time high following the Legion's statewide aerial round up April 30-May 1. Over 200 memberships from the district were turned into the Minnesota dept. by the three men shown above, prior to take off at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 30.

They are, left to right, Harold M. Johnson, city, 9th district commander; Howard E. Lohman, Moorhead, membership director, 9th district, and Martin Rautanen, local air service operator used for the round up.

This year's operation marked the first time in history the 9th district round-up started from the municipal airport here. Cities visited were Roseau, Karlstad, Warren, Crookston, Fosston and Detroit Lakes arriving at Fergus Falls at 6:30 p.m. Saturday with an overnight stop at that city. From Fergus Falls the trio flew to Crystal airport, Minneapolis and returned here Monday, May 2.

Zone Meeting of Missionary Unit Slated at Fisher

The Thief River Falls-Crookston zone of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League affiliated with The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod will meet in Trinity church in Fisher Tuesday, May 10, with opening devotions beginning at 10:30 a.m. Official league reports will be given by Mrs. Ed Reitmeyer, regional vice president.

The main afternoon speaker will be the Rev. Paul M. Volz, missionary in Nigeria, West Africa. He has spent three years in Nigeria, has done post-graduate work at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., and will return to Africa with his wife and two small children on May 14. Mrs. Volz is the former Judith Seltz of Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Don Pream, St. John's ladies aid president, will head a group of delegates to the rally Tuesday. Mrs. Tom Fuller, zone leader, will be in charge of the meeting.

State Residents Get $58 Million in Health Benefits

Health insurance benefit payments by insurance companies to the people of Minnesota climbed to a new high during 1959, the Health Insurance Institute reported today.

In the period from January 1 through December 31, 1959 said the Institute, an estimated $58 million was paid out to help cover the cost of doctor and hospital bills, and to replace income lost through sickness or disability.

This represents a gain of 7% per cent over the 1958 figure of $54 million, and is based on reports from insurance companies doing business in the state.

The rise in benefit payments in Minnesota was reflected in the figures for the nation as a whole, the Institute declared. Persons with health insurance received a total of more than $2.9 billion in benefits from their insurance company policies in 1959, up 9.6 per cent over the previous year's high of more than $2.6 billion.

Hospital Program Enjoyed by Lions

Administrator Peterson Shows Slides and Movies

In anticipation of American Hospital Week May 8-14, Norman Peterson, administrator of Northwestern Hospital, presented an appropriate program at the Lions club meeting Wednesday noon in the Elks club rooms.

Peterson presented a series of slides, accompanied by a commentary, showing how hospital payrolls and other operating costs have increased sharply during the past 15 years, resulting in a corresponding increase in rates paid by patients. He also showed a motion picture sponsored by the American Medical association, depicting the constant battle waged by hospitals against germ infection.

Completing the program, three vocal selections were supplied by a group of five professional nurse students stationed temporarily at the local hospital.

Filmed Physics Course Offered in Goodridge School

David Brown, superintendent of schools at Goodridge, announces participation in a school cooperative purchase of the complete course on film in basic physics produced by Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, Wilmette, Ill.

Other schools participating in the purchase are Warren, Blackduck, Koochiching co. schools, Kellither and Red Lake.

The filmed course consists of 162 forty-minute lectures and demonstrations in sound and color. The film teacher is Dr. Harvey E. White of the University of California. Dr. White, an internationally famous physics teacher, is the author of several text books.

GRYGLA STUDENT SHARES IN CHORAL FESTIVAL

Nine choirs of seven Lutheran colleges and seminaries participated in two major concerts at Valparaiso University Memorial Chapel for the fourth annual Lutheran Collegiate choral festival Saturday and Sunday, April 23 and 24. Donna Hesse, student at Concordia College, St. Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hesse of Grygla, is a member of Concordia College choral club, which participated.

Erie FU to Note REA Anniversary

Special Program to Be Given Thursday, May 12

The Rural Electrification program's first 25 years will be reviewed at a meeting of the Erie Farmers Union local Thursday, May 12, at 8:30 p.m. at school district 1555 near Erie.

All farmers of the area and interested townsfolk are welcome to attend the meeting according to Albert Kotrba, chairman of the local.

Les Kiefenheim of the Red Lake Electric Coop will speak and show a film. Lunch will be served.

"It is fitting on this 25th anniversary of REA to take a look at some of the great advances it has provided in farming and farm living, and also to look at some of the problems which our REA systems may face in coming years," said Kotrba.

School Choirs to Join in May Fest at Concordia

Approximately 1,000 visiting high school students will participate in the annual May Fest at Concordia college, Moorhead, May 14, Music Administrator Kurt J. Wycisk announced.

The first event on Saturday, which has been designated as High School Choir Day, will be a mass choir rehearsal at 10:30 a.m. At 1 p.m. the Concordia Concert Band will present a half-hour program.

Final rehearsal for the massed choir will be at 1:30 p.m., and at 3:30 p.m. a choral concert will be given by the visiting choirs. The program will include numbers by the massed choir, solo numbers by high school choirs and a short program by the Concordia Choir.

High school choirs participating in the May Fest are from Sisseton, S. D., and the following communities: Two Harbors, Roseau, Brainerd, Red Wing, Robbinsdale, Princeton, Pelican Rapids, Annandale, Thief River Falls, Halstad, Bagley, St. Peter, Excelsior and Fertile.

District Legion Officers Honored

Present Tuesday evening at an appreciation program for Ninth district officers of the American Legion, arranged by the Dilworth Legion post were Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, respectively Ninth district commander and auxiliary president; Robert Bredeson, district adjutant, and Mrs. Bredeson, and Mrs. M. R. Levorson, district auxiliary secretary, and Mr. Levorson. A large gathering was in attendance.

Public Hearing Set Tonight on Street Work

Project Calls for Improvement of 17 Blocks of Streets

A public hearing on the proposed improvement of 17 city blocks of streets in the area between Fourth and Eighth streets and from Main to Atlantic avenues is scheduled for this evening, Thursday, in the city council chambers.

The council has estimated that the complete job of surfacing will cost $32,000 and city equipment and crews will be used in the work.

Cost for the project has been estimated at $1.65 per lineal foot to benefited property owners for streets of 40 foot width. Cost of any special equipment rented for the work would also be added to the assessments but this cost is expected to be small.

The formula adopted by the council for side street improvement would cost owners of corner lots 50% of this improvement along the side of their property and property owners in the middle of the block would each pay 25% of the cost of the side street surfacing.

Curb and gutter cost for the small part of the area which does not now have this improvement would be assessed against the benefited property owners. A new water main on Sixth street from Main to Atlantic avenues is also planned.

Plans call for streets to have a five-inch sub-base, composed mainly of material salvaged from the present streets; a second layer of four inches of crushed gravel; a binder of 1½-inches of road-mixed bituminous topped with a wearing course of 1½ inches of road-mixed bituminous.

EVERYONE enjoyed the gift presented to P. G. Pederson, retiring city clerk, including the recipient, second from right, and his wife, at right. "Pete," who leaves the city as an employe May 15 after 46 years of service, was honored at a banquet Monday evening May 9, which was attended by former and present city officials and employes and their wives. A gardener and grass cutter of note, the retiring city clerk was presented with the power lawn mower in the foreground. Others in the picture are: Mayor Orin Green on the left; Roy Lee, council president, and Sidney Stadsvold of Fosston, a cousin of the veteran clerk.

Friends Pay Tribute to P. G. Pederson for 46 Years of Service

The city's chief business officer, who is retiring next Sunday after serving the community for 46 years, was honored at a banquet in the Rex cafe Monday evening, May 9.

A group of 59 present and former city officials and employes, their wives and others from Thief River Falls, Fosston, Grand Forks and other communities gathered to pay their respects to P. G. Pederson, who began his work for the city in 1914.

"Pete" served as deputy city clerk for 10 years and as city clerk for 36 years and the group which gathered Monday evening was just a small part of the circle of friends he has collected during his nearly a half century with the city.

Several who attended the banquet were called on to make brief talks and, with no exception, was there a change in the main theme, "We've known you a long time, everyone likes you, you have been a tireless and faithful servant and we're going to miss you."

In addition to his work, the honored guest was, for many years, secretary of the cemetery board and a member of the city band in which he was noted as a trumpet player of great skill.

Various references were made to the retiring clerk's constant care of his garden and lawn and, on behalf of the city employes, he was presented with a power lawn mower.

Relatives present at the banquet included his wife; his brother, Ignatius Pederson of Fosston and his wife; his cousin, Sidney Stadsvold of Fosston and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Pederson's son, Don, from Twin Valley.

Mayor Orin Green acted as master of ceremonies for the banquet which was arranged by Harry Hendrickson, superintendent of power and light distribution. Two solos were sung in Norwegian by Harold Anderson.

31 Acts Entered in Newfolden Event Saturday, May 14

Marshall County to Hold 'Share the Fun' Festival in Newfolden Gymnasium

Thirty-one acts are entered in the Marshall county 4-H "Share the Fun" festival Saturday, May 14, at 8 p.m. in the Newfolden school gym, reports Harlem Sandberg, 4-H club agent.

Seven of the acts are skits. The remaining 24 are musical and include trios, solos, duets, quartets and other groups, both instrumental and vocal.

Three acts will be submitted to the district audition committee. Choosing these acts will be one adult and junior leader from each participating club. These leaders will not judge their own club's acts but all others. They will vote for three acts. The votes are then tabulated to determine the three acts selected for the district audition committee, which will select the acts for that event.

Clubs having acts in the festival are Gatzke Busy Beavers, Cedar, Woodland, Comstock, McCrea, Boxville, West Prairie, Tamarac Tacklers, Argyle Hustlers, Happy Corner and Plainview.

The event is open to the public free of charge, so come and join in the fun.

New Regulations on Wheat Allotments in Effect Now Locally

The Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office released the following information today regarding the effect new legislation may have on future wheat allotments in the county.

A change has been made in the method of determining wheat history acreage for wheat allotment farms on which the wheat allotment is underseeded. The change is required by law and will be in effect for the 1960 crop of wheat and may affect future allotments.

The producer does not need to plant wheat for 1960 harvest to obtain maximum history acreage credit for 1960 if:

(1) The actual planted acreage of wheat in either 1958 or 1959 was equal to 75 per cent of the farm wheat allotment, or

(2) The actual planted acreage of wheat in either 1958 or 1959, plus the acreage regarded as planted to wheat because of participation in the Soil Bank Act was equal to 75 per cent of the farm wheat allotment.

If the farm does not meet the above requirements for maximum wheat history acreage credit for 1960 and the wheat grower wants to preserve the maximum wheat history acreage for his farm, he must do one of the following:

(1) Plant an acreage of wheat for 1960 equal to 75 per cent of the farm wheat allotment, or

(2) Have a planted wheat acreage for 1960, plus the acreage regarded as planted to wheat because of participation in the Soil Bank Act equal to 75 per cent of the farm wheat allotment.

In addition to the foregoing, if the ASC county committee determines that you were prevented from seeding wheat for the 1960 crop because of unfavorable weather conditions, you can preserve your maximum 1960 wheat history acreage credit by notifying the county committee of this fact by June 1, 1960.

If you exceed your 1960 farm wheat allotment, history acreage will be lost, which will have the effect of reducing the allotment in future years.

Any wheat grower having any questions in regard to the above provisions is asked to call at the county ASC office and review the matter.

Mrs. Alfred Bakke and Mrs. Agnes Tunheim visited Friday evening at the Andy Bakke home in Newfolden and also attended the Newfolden Junior class play.

Florian Farmer, 89, Fatally Gored by Bull on Monday

Joe Janka, 89, Florian area farmer, was fatally injured by a bull about 6:30 p.m. Monday on his farm located about 2½ miles west of Florian in Marshall county. He died about 9 p.m. in Warren Hospital where he had been rushed for treatment.

Mrs. Leo Blazejewski, who lives with her husband on the Janka farm, said that her uncle was attacked by the bull in the farm yard after the rest of the cattle had been herded into the barn. The farm's dog was unable to keep the animal from fatally injuring its downed victim. Dr. E. E. Pumala, Marshall county coroner, stated that Mr. Janka sustained fractured ribs and likely a punctured lung.

Funeral services for Janka were held Thursday morning from the Catholic Church of Assumption at Florian with Rev. Paul Ishler officiating.

Young women who are nearing graduation from this nation's high schools in June have been given an opportunity through innovations in the Air Force's WAF enlistment program — the Women in the Air Force.

A recent innovation, announced M Sgt. Delber F. Bursau, Air Force recruiter in the Grand Forks post office building, allows potential applicants to take a general development aptitude examination before enlisting. What this means in simple terms is that nearly all of the former guesswork regarding future assignment to a career field has been eliminated.

New age limitations will prevent a few from immediate enlistment following graduation, but will still allow for advance testing. Applicants must now be between the ages of 18 and 27, with those under 21 needing parental consent.

Former TRF Man Invited to Be on Chicago Program

Mr and Mrs. Ray Kiland returned from St. Cloud Sunday night, after having spent the weekend there with their son, Dr James Kiland and family. Dr Kiland, who is chief of staff of the counseling division of the Veterans Administration hospital in St. Cloud, has been invited to present a paper on a survey of a testing program which he conducted while at St Cloud to the American Psychologist's association convention to be held in Chicago in September.

Hospital Week Is Noted by Rotary

Norman Peterson Gives Program at Luncheon

Hospital Week was recognized by the Rotarians at their noon luncheon Monday with an appropriate program presented by Norman Peterson, administrator of Northwestern hospital. He was assisted by a quartet of St. Olaf college student nurses who are serving a six-weeks training course here.

Mr Peterson read the narrative for a series of slides that illustrated the development nationally of our hospitals and their problems of rising costs. Following this presentaion there was a question and answer period dealing with local hospital conditions.

Members of the quartet who sang several songs were Carolyn Townswick of Story City, Iowa; Sandra Overdahl of Badger, Iowa; Joan Roby of Benson, and Rochelle Dahl of Mabel, Minnesota.

Two Local People at Area Meeting for the Retarded

Represent Pennington Red Lake Association at Bemidji Saturday

Officers of associations for retarded children who attended a regional meeting at the First Methodist church in Bemidji Saturday, May 7, heard public education aimed at creating an understanding of mental retardation described as one of the associations' most important functions.

The day long meeting was conducted by the Minnesota Association for Retarded Children and was designed to give help and guidance to chapters from a 13 county area in the northern section of the state.

Included in the program were sessions on chapter management, budgeting and finance, programming, publicity and public education, and chapter relationships with professional workers and with volunteers.

Speakers were Gerald F. Walsh, executive director of the Minnesota association; Mildred Thomson, program analyst; and Merlen Kurth, field representative.

Those attending from the Pennington Red Lake county association for Retarded Children were Mrs Richard Mosbeck and Mrs. Ted Booth.

Meeting Monday to Hear of Bemidji Lutheran Center

Dr. J. N. Brown, Director to Explain Needs to Area Lutheran Congregations

The appeal for the Bemidji Lutheran Center is now reaching its climax. Last week rallies were held in five northern Minnesota cities at which time plans for soliciting the 200 Lutheran congregations in this area were explained to the delegates.

The final rallies are being held this week in the following places: Fosston, May 12, 8 p.m.; Roseau, May 13, 8 p.m.; and Thief River Falls, May 16, 8 p.m. in the lounge of the Trinity parish house.

Each congregation has been asked to send four to ten delegates depending on the size of the congregation. Dr. J. N. Brown, director of the appeal, and Rev. R. M. Williams, associate director, will address each of the final rallies. They will be assisted by the regional directors Dr. David Berge, Roseau and Thief River Falls area; Rev. Russell B Roy, Fosston area.

Soliciting for pledges covering a period of two years, will begin immediately following these rallies. Fifteen hundred visitors will call on the members of these congregations for their pledges. The appeal will end May 26.

The interest of Lutherans in this area for a student center at Bemidji State college gives promise of reaching the goal of $37,500 to pay off the mortgage on the Lutheran Center. The Lutheran Students Foundation of Minnesota assumes all obligations for managing the center and for operating cost after the building has been paid for.

This appeal is a cooperative effort by the Augustana Synod, the Lutheran Free Church, and the American Lutheran Church. Most of the 500 Lutheran students at Bemidji State college belong to these three synods.

Second Monday of each month the Red Lake Falls and Erskine area. Third Monday and Tuesday of each month the Middle River, Greenbush, Badger, Roseau, Warroad and Goodridge area.

Anyone interested in information or application may drop him a card and he will pay a call with no obligation. He stated however, at times there is a waiting list and anyone desiring specific enlistment date should place his application a few weeks in advance in order to be guaranteed enlistment at time desired.

Missionary Volz and Family Leave for Nigeria Field

Returning to Duties in West Africa after Nine-months Furlough

Following her husband's nine-month furlough at Concordia seminary in St Louis, the daughter of a local pastor, her missionary husband and two children will leave this week for their home in Nigeria, West Africa.

Mrs. Paul M. Volz, the daughter of Rev Alfred Seltz, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, will board a North Central airlines plane Saturday morning with her two children for Minneapolis where they will meet Rev. Volz and continue their trip.

The Seltz home at 413 St. Paul av. S. is the scene of the usual orderly confusion of packing for a long trip with the front porch crowded with suitcases, boxes, and sealed steel drums containing their possessions.

Reverend Volz, who was born in Willmar, graduated from Concordia seminary in June, 1956, with a B.S. degree and was ordained and commissioned as a missionary to Nigeria for the Synodical Conference Missionary board in July of that year. He and his wife arrived in Nigeria in September, 1956, where he first served as supervising missionary of the Nung Udoe district of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Nigeria. Later, he supervised the Ndiya district and served as chairman of the board of governors of the Lutheran hospital and, as secretary of the Lutheran radio committee, he was responsible for producing the Lutheran Hour.

From Minneapolis, the family will travel by air to New York and to Amsterdam. They will visit Rome before going to Nigeria. The trip will take about two weeks.

Mercury Hits 70 Here Wednesday

Is Highest Reading Since September 24 Last Fall

The highest temperature since Sept. 21, 1959, was recorded Wednesday when the KTRF weather station reports a top reading of 70 degrees.

The mark will probably fall today for the forecast calls for readings in the 70's and the thermometer reached 63 by 9 a.m. today after an overnight low of 45.

Mostly fair and warmer have been predicted for today with winds from the south at from 10 to 20 miles an hour diminishing tonight. Lows tonight are expected to be from 42 to 48.

Occasional cloudiness tonight and tomorrow have been predicted by the weatherman with overnight temperatures warmer followed by a little cooler tomorrow.

High temperatures this week have ranged from Sunday's 59 to Wednesday's 70 and nighttime readings have varied from the 26 early Wednesday to the 45 recorded this morning.

No precipitation has been recorded since the 1.5 inches of snow which fell April 26.

Senior Class Play Is Well Received in Four Showings

The senior class play, "Room for One More," a two-act comedy, was given the last of four successful presentations Tuesday evening in the Lincoln high school auditorium under the direction of Miss Nita J. Dzuik, English instructor.

The young actors gave an excellent rendition of the play, which produced many laughs as well as having its thought provoking aspects. The setting for the production featured an effective representation of a scene on the seacoast.

Earlier presentations of the play had been given Monday for the elementary school pupils; Tuesday morning for junior high school students; and Tuesday afternoon for senior high.

Penalties Invoked in Local Court Monday

A fairly heavy session of municipal court was held Monday, with Judge H. O Chommie presiding. Traffic law violations made up the bulk of the cases.

The highway patrol had one case. Daniel L. Keefe, rt. 3, pleaded guilty to unsafe passing and was fined $15. Keefe was the driver of a pick up truck involved in a spectacular accident on highway 59 April 29, when he struck a car he was attempting to pass, causing both to overturn.

Two of Sheriff Charles Richards' cases appeared and two forfeited bond. Wayne D. Harder, rt. 4, pleaded guilty to improper passing and was fined $30, and Robert H. Borstad, Detroit Lakes, pleaded guilty to fighting and was fined $15.

Duane Bjerke, rt. 4, a minor, forfeited $25 bond for drinking and Robert Anenson, Goodridge, forfeited $30 for fighting.

All other cases were brought by city police. Kenneth D. Halvorson, rt. 1, pleaded guilty to making an improper U turn and was fined $15.

Donald R. Steinhauer, rt. 2, and Olaf Langie, rt. 3, each pleaded guilty to speeding charges and each was fined $15. A plea of guilty to a careless driving charge brought a fine of $15 against Larry A. Anderson, rt. 1.

Alfred M. Johnson, city, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100 and his license was revoked.

Heikki Tiilikainen, Helsinki, Finland, forfeited $17 bond for speeding and Burton L. Green, Grand Forks, forfeited $30 bond for driving over the center line.

Car Safety Check Set for May 27-28 by Local Jaycees

Chief Elton Cummings reported to the council that an accident involving a go-cart had occurred in the city and recommended that the council call public attention to the hazards of the vehicles. The recommendation was approved.

Hazards along the river were discussed and Martin Gulbranson and Chief Cummings were appointed to examine further potential hazards at the Soo Line railroad bridge. Swimming in the river before life guards go on duty was also discussed as was the problem of youngsters fishing from the bridges and the hazards on the east end of the dam.

Open well and other "attractive nuisances" were discussed and it was recommended that the sheriff be notified of the existence of such hazards so that proper action could be taken.

Carl Sundstrom gave a favorable report on the gun safety program and suggested that a letter of commendation be presented to the instructors when the course is completed.

Special Train to Take Shriners to Williston Event

Local Members to Make Trip on Train Leaving Grand Forks on May 22

A Great Northern special train will take Shriners and their ladies from Grand Forks to Williston, N. D., for Kem Temple's spring ceremonial, and a number from this area are expected to be among the more than 300 that will be aboard.

The ceremonial is scheduled for May 23, but the special train will leave Grand Forks the day before — May 22 — at 9.45 a m and arrive in Williston late that afternoon. Delegations of Shriners and ladies will be picked up along the way as the train stops at Lakota at 11.01 a m; Devils Lake at 11:32 a.m., Leeds at 12:01 p.m.; Rugby at 12:32 p.m. and Minot at 1:50 p m.

Kem officials pointed out that there will be no advance registration for train tickets, but that they can be obtained at any of the stations where stops will be made.

More than 1,000 Shriners from eastern and western North Dakota and Canada are expected to be in Williston for the ceremonial.

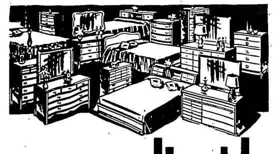
There will be parades and social events throughout the day as well as ritualistic sessions at which one of the largest classes of candidates in Kem's history will be initiated. A dance for all Shriners and ladies will bring the ceremonial to a close following a huge demonstration by all visiting uniformed units that will be open to the public.

The special train will leave Williston the morning of May 24 and arrive in Grand Forks that afternoon.

Honor Students at Lincoln Feted by Legion Groups

Eckland Holmstrom post of the American Legion and auxiliary held a banquet Monday evening honoring 125 local junior and senior high school students who are on the Alpha and Beta honor roll.

The dinner was served by members of the American Legion juniors. They also planned and presented a short program which consisted of a novelty fashion parade by the Tiny Tots, a duet by Michele Quam and Martha Hosick and a pantomime, "Sex, Little Girls" by the older girls.



Legion Commander C W Rodecki and unit president, Mrs LeRoy Nabben welcomed the students. Also present were Supt and Mrs Irwin Mickelson, Mr and Mrs Arnold Larson, Mr and Mrs Francis Hamerlinck, Mr and Mrs Joseph Iverson, Mr and Mrs Charles DeCursey, John Zeigler, Mr and Mrs John Eishrener and the two junior activities leaders, Mrs Morris Olson and Mrs Rex Sullivan.

Senator Humphrey Gives up Contest for Presidency

Withdrawal Follows His Defeat by Sen. Kennedy in W. Virginia Primary

One side of the political picture in Minnesota's fall primary became much clearer this week with the decisive defeat of Sen Hubert Humphrey in the West Virginia presidential primary election.

Sen Humphrey, withdrawing from the presidential race is coming back to Minnesota to run for a third term.

That decision put the remainder of the Democratic Farmer Labor slate "back on the track."

Gov. Freeman was not prepared to comment on his future plans, but is regarded as almost a certainty that he will seek an unprecedented fourth term as governor.

The earlier wholesale refusal of Republicans to run against Humphrey may change. GOP leaders said today that the Minnesota senator's defeat in West Virginia will encourage many potential candidates to "consider and reconsider" making the race.

Republicans have been casting about for a candidate to oppose Humphrey. Mayor P Kenneth Peterson of Minneapolis has been suggested at several of the district GOP conventions and by some Republican officials but he doesn't appear to be interested.

Prowler Ball Club Tips Fosston 12-1

In a game which found the Prowler infield clicking off four double plays, coach Ralph Skay's baseball squad marked up a 12 to 1 win over the Fosston Greyhounds in an interdistrict game played on the Fair Grounds diamond Wednesday evening.

In the first three innings of play the Prowlers, with shortstop Eddie Lietzow initiating the play, completed three double plays, and in each instance the twin killing snapped off a Fosston scoring threat and retired the side.

In the first inning, with runners on first and second and one out, Lietzow grabbed clean-up hitter Larry Blomdahl's ground ball, flipped a toss to Paul Klungness, who tagged second and threw to first baseman Mike Aune to retire the side. In the second inning, with runners on first and second and one out, Lietzow caught Dennis Hegg's "soft" line drive and threw to first base to double up Jim Thoreen. And in the third inning, also with runners on first and second, Lietzow snared Dave Evenson's ground ball near second base, stepped on the bag and whipped the ball to first base for the twin killing.

In the seventh inning, with the Prowler reserves in the lineup the locals completed a double play on an "infield fly," with the batter being called out, and when the fly ball was muffed the runner on second tried for third and was out, Jim Ellingson to Richard Earl Johnson.

The Prowlers on offense scored five runs in the second inning to give righthander Gary Anderson a comfortable "cushion."

Although the Prowler batsmen garnered but seven hits off the righthanded slants of Bruce Erickson (catcher Jim Wegge had two hits in two trips to the plate), the locals did receive the benefit of fourteen bases on balls, and two Prowler batsmen were nicked by pitched balls.

Fish and Fishing

Entitled to top rank in the category of "fish and fishing" is the feat of Bill Ranta, who caught a 3 pound 8 ounce brown trout last Sunday.

Ranta, one of the city's most enthusiastic trout fishermen, made his catch on the Clearwater river. Using a spinning outfit, and a French-type spinner, Bill hooked the "huge" brown—it weighed in at exactly 3 pounds and 8 ounces on a postal scale, and the fish measured 22 inches (in length) after making an upstream cast. After quite a tussle, Bill succeeded in bringing the trout to net, and then he discovered that his net was too small! He solved the problem by applying a two hand strangle-hold on the trout and lugging the trophy up the river bank. He didn't stop until he had gotten a block from the river, as he wasn't taking any chances of losing the fish.

And speaking of fish and fishing. Our advice to the anglers planning on opening the pike season by fishing the Lake of the Woods water is to take plenty of warm clothing. We made a trip up there on Tuesday afternoon, checking into the ice conditions at Warroad, Rocky Point, and Morris Point. And these conditions are not very favorable, for the lake appeared ice-bound. The bay at Warroad was open for a short distance out into the lake, as was the Morris Point gap. And the Rainy river at the Wheeler's Point inlet had opened up a channel for a mile or so into the lake.

With the weather taking a turn for the more favorable, and the thermometer readings up in to the high sixties or low seventies, it is probable that the ice will "go out" of Lake of the Woods in a couple of days.

Prospects Dubious

Whether or not the walleyed pike fishing will be crowd pleasing this weekend is a question. We had an interesting conversation with Roy Cyrus, a commercial minnow dealer at Morris Point, and he was dubious about the prospects. He had been out at the Point attempting to seine lake shiners and he didn't have much success. In ordinary years, he would catch walleyes in the minnow seine as he made his sweeps off the bars while seining minnows, but so far the pike have not made an appearance.

With ice remaining in Lake of the Woods, it is doubtful if anglers will be able to do much fishing at Rocky Point and Long Point. These two areas, which get quite a play on opening day, are exposed to the shifting ice to a greater degree than Morris Point and Wheeler's Point.

So with the unfavorable prospects prevailing a Lake of the Woods it's probable that the greatest concentration of pike fishermen will be at Waskish on upper Red Lake. We'll venture the guess that that area will be host to three or four thousand fishermen. The Shotley brook and Blackduck river area will also be crammed to capacity. And the fishing up there, according to the pre season predictions, should be excellent.

Senior Baseball

The senior baseball season, on the local level, will get under way this week when, on Sunday evening, Wally Grovum will take his Bums to Bagley for an exhibition game against the Bagley Merchants. The Bums are members of the Pen Ro Shall league while the Merchants are members of the Northern Minny loop.

According to manager Grovum, Freddy Jensen, the stylish southpaw of the Bums' staff, will get the starting assignment against the Merchants. Harley Drees, a member of the senior baseball Thieves, will accompany the Bums to Bagley, and if Jensen gets into difficulty the chunky righthander will be available for relief duties.

We have observed Fred driving around town on numerous occasions lately, and we should judge that his right arm is in excellent condition. We have some doubt though, about his left arm.

The senior baseball Thieves, of the Northern Minny league, will open their league schedule on Sunday, May 22. John (Bubba) Drury, the former Moorhead high school athlete, will manage the Thieves again this season.

Warning

Ralph Skay, Prowler athletic director, is in receipt of a reminder from the Minnesota State High School League warning that high school athletes are subject to a year of ineligibility if they participate in so-called all-star games.

Last year several athletes were penalized, losing a year of high school athletics, as a result of participation in an all star baseball game. According to athletic director Skay, the state high school league's interpretation of all star competition is very broad and it could very well include softball and such sports. Prowler athletes who are tempted to play in an all star contest, should consult with Ralph before making any commitments.

The Trip to Bemidji

One of the highlights of the Prowler baseball schedule will take place Friday afternoon on the Bemidji diamond. At 5 p.m. Friday, coach Ralph Skay's squad, with righthander Arlan Hjelle due to pitch, will meet coach Horace May's proud Lumberjacks. Knowing Horace as well as we do, and knowing how the Jacks relish a win over the Prowlers, we imagine the Bemidji coach will send righthander Pete Barthelemy against the locals. With Hjelle and Barthelemy doing the hurling, the fans attending the game will witness a well pitched game.

PLUMMER FU LOCAL TO MEET TUESDAY EVENING

The Plummer Farmers Union local will meet at the village hall next Tuesday evening, May 17. A speaker is being arranged for, and lunch will be served.

Roseau Defeats Prowlers 2 to 0

The Roseau Rams scored two runs in the seventh inning to break up a scoreless pitching duel and give southpaw Don Ross and the Rams a 2 to 0 decision over Arlan Hjelle and the Prowlers in a high school baseball game played under the lights on the Fair Grounds diamond Monday night.

This afternoon, Thursday, the Prowlers will be meeting the Red Lake Falls Eagles at Red Lake Falls in a district conference game, on Friday afternoon, at 5:00 P.M., coach Ralph Skay's squad will play the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Bemidji, and on Monday night, May 16, the Fertile Falcons will meet the Prowlers in a night game on the Fair Grounds diamond.

Monday night's Rams vs Prowlers tilt at the Fair Grounds was featured by the low hit strikeout pitching of lefty Don Ross of the Rams and righthanded Arlan Hjelle of the Prowlers. Ross gave up four hits and collected thirteen strikeouts, while Hjelle allowed but three hits and blazed his fast ball past seventeen batters.

In the top of the seventh inning Roseau's Gerry Hovda, who had loped a single into right field in the first inning, banged a slow roller between third baseman John Aune and shortstop Eddie Lietzow for a hit. Don Ross sacrificed, Hjelle to Gary Anderson, moving Hovda to second base. Rod Nelson was hit by a pitched ball. Keith Brandt, a righthanded batter, punched a ground single past second base into right field, scoring Hovda and moving Nelson around to third base. Dave Peterson dumped a "squeeze play" bunt in front of the plate, scoring Nelson with the Rams' second run, with Nelson being retired at first, Hjelle to Anderson. Dennis Andol struck out to end the Rams' rally.

The Prowlers had several opportunities to break into the scoring column, but the Rams defense, and Ross' pitching, kept the locals away from the plate. In the first inning, Anderson gained a "life" on an error, and on Hjelle's loping double into right field, between the right fielder and the first baseman, Anderson attempted to come around to score but was retired at the plate on a fine throw from Dave Backlund.

In the fourth inning, Lietzow led off with a walk, but was forced at second base on Hjelle's grounder to shortstop Larry Stordahl. Hjelle stole second. A double play on Paul Saurdiff's pop fly to shortstop Stordahl, with Stordahl tossing to second baseman Peterson to double Hjelle, ended the threat.

In the fifth, after Paul Klungness had lined out to right field John Aune drew a walk, advanced to second on a wild pitch and, after Mike Aune struck out moved to third when Jim Wegge, getting his second hit of the game, singled off Ross' glove. The Roseau southpaw struck out Gary Klungness to snuff out the scoring threat.

St. Bernards Holds Athletic Banquet

School Hockey, Football Players Honored Tuesday

St. Bernards school hockey and football players were honored Tuesday evening at an athletic banquet, 26 letters being awarded to participating pupils. Dennis (Spanky) Sullivan, hockey coach, and Don Houfek, football coach, were also recognized.

Joe Mrkonich and Gene Sack, Lincoln high school coaches, along with Father Patnode, were the principal speakers, and Lawrence Brown presided. The letters were presented by Ted Kusmak. Tributes were paid to the parents of the lettermen who were special guests.

This was the first banquet of this kind held by the school and it probably will be made a regular annual event.

Newfolden Nine Wins 2 and Loses 2

Defeats Strandquist, Loses to Middle River

Coach Jack Junker's Newfolden Nordics baseball squad, with eight lettermen on the roster, have scored two wins and taken two losses in the four games played to date. The Nordics marked up a pair of victories over Strandquist, winning by 5-3 and 6-5 scores. In the loss column the Nordics dropped a pair of decisions to the Middle River Skippers by scores of 4-2 and 7-3.

Newfolden squad members are David Bakke, Dave Elseth and Merlin Anderson, catchers; Lowell Halvorson, Don Engelstad, James Dahl, and Verne Hagenbeck, pitchers, David Haug, first base; Ronald Euland, second base; Wendell Hagenbeck, third base; and Darrell Bakke, shortstop. Ronald Shern, Jim Elseth, Ernie Melvie and Harlan Halvorson are the outfield candidates, while Wayne Dahl, John Dill and Terry Strandquist are utility players.

Coach Junker states that if the Newfolden pitching staff develops the Nordics will be a factor in the district 32 tournament. Last year the Nordics dropped a 5 to 4 decision to the Argyle Eagles in a district tournament game. The district 32 tourney will be played at Newfolden on June 2 and 3.

Legion Safety Day on Eve of Memorial Day

The third annual American Legion Safety Day has been announced for May 27 by Carl L. Lundgren, Minneapolis, state legion commander. All of the 630 posts in the state are cooperating in the program and will have uniformed Legionnaires working in the organization's accident prevention program.

"The American Legion will again kick off the annual summer vacation safety emphasis program," Lundgren said, "in coordination with all states and provinces using the theme 'Highway Safety makes driving FUN'."

Harry A. Sieben, state highway safety director, said that the American Legion had been selected as the kick-off team because of the great work done by that organization in traffic safety particularly in the school patrols.

Between the hours of five and seven war veterans will be out at controlled intersections to distribute safe driving reminders and to wish travelers a safe journey.

Lundgren pointed out that safety was one of his organization's primary projects. "This is in line with our 'service to community, state and nation' a fundamental objective of the Legion which has nearly 100,000 members enrolled in Minnesota," he said.

The summer program is part of the "Slow Down and Live" campaign coordinated by the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators.

Lake Bronson Park to Get Facilities

Toilets and Laundry to Be Installed Shortly

Plans for contracts that will total an estimated $52,000 in state park improvement projects have been submitted by the department of conservation's engineering bureau to the state purchasing department.

The projects will be offered for bids following the sale of bonds which are being used to finance the state's building program.

Robert J. Owens, chief bureau engineer, said today that the plans call for the construction of a building containing toilet, laundry and shower facilities at Lake Bronson state park in northwestern Minnesota and a modern toilet in a picnic area at McCarthy Beach park north of Hibbing.

Before the present program to improve park facilities has been completed the engineering bureau, in addition to its work for other divisions in the conservation department, will have completed plans for park projects totaling $288,000.

Missionary Due at TRF Tabernacle

Rev. Kingsriter Speaks Friday, Saturday Evening

REV. DELMAR KINGSRITER

Rev. Delmar Kingsriter, missionary to East Africa, will be featured in a special missions rally on Friday, May 13, at 7:45 p.m. at the Gospel Tabernacle in Thief River Falls, the Rev. Waldo Trask, pastor, announced to day.

Mr. Kingsriter will also speak and show his film at the Tabernacle Saturday evening at a Northwest area men's fellowship rally.

In the services, the Rev. Kingsriter will show a color sound film, "African Safari" which he made showing the work of the Assemblies of God missionaries in Tanganyika. Curios will also be on display.

Rev. Kingsriter has spent the past four years in Tanganyika. He was an instructor in the Tanganyika national worker's training center and served as acting principal. Between school terms the Rev. Kingsriter and some of the students from the training center evangelized three new areas in Tanganyika and along Lake Nyasa in East Africa. Together they directed the construction of ten new churches and opened a mission station in the capital city of the Wanyakyusa tribe. Rev. Kingsriter was secretary of the Field Missionary Fellowship.

Rev. Kingsriter is now traveling in the United States presenting the mission work of the Assemblies of God in Tanganyika. Accompanying him are his wife and three children, David, aged eleven; Joan, aged nine; and Bryan, aged five.

At the conclusion of his furlough, the Rev. Kingsriter plans to return to Limbe, Nyasaland.

Rev. Trask extends an invitation to the public to hear the Rev. Kingsriter.

"I have learned too much of the vanity of human affairs to expect any felicity of public life. But I am determined to be cheerful and happy in whatever situation I may be. Somebody Will Pay

Minnesota went another $50 million in debt last week. This is a part of the added obligations Governor Freeman told us last winter that we should be happy about. This isn't debt, this is an investment, he assured us.

Well, call it whatever you wish, we know that it isn't going to be a self-liquidating investment. The $48,820,000 that was borrowed will have to be paid back and those dollars will be paid back only by the sacrifices of taxpayers. And in addition to those $48,820,000, the taxpayers will have to shell out an additional $16,673,791 during the next 19 years for interest.

We are sorry that we cannot share the Governor's enthusiasm for this good news. We somehow can't get it out of our mind that this is just one more additional burden. Maybe most of the money will be wisely spent. But somebody is going to be forced to pay.

But Without Understanding

The American Rifleman, speaking for the millions of Americans who enjoy the privileges of hunting and target shooting, keeps a watchful eye on proposed legislation that would place unreasonable restrictions on the ownership and use of firearms. Justifying its position, it states:

"Freedom of the individual is the foundation stone of American liberty. The right to keep and bear arms, and other basic liberties guaranteed to the people in the Bill of Rights, are a priceless heritage. They must be cherished and protected from those who would impair them. We must guard them against gradual abridgement or they will be destroyed."

That is well stated and completely correct. We will retain our liberties only as long as we value them and are willing to defend them.

The right to bear arms has been limited by some desirable regulations that were not needed when the Bill of Rights was adopted, and changed conditions have justified modifications to other rights secured by the Constitution. But when fundamental rights are involved, all legislative tinkering should be looked upon with suspicion.

We like this quotation by Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court, which was used by the magazine in its editorial:

"Experience should teach us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the government's purposes are beneficient. Men born to freedom are naturally alert to repel invasion of their liberty by evil-minded rulers. The greatest dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachment by men of zeal, well-meaning but without understanding."

Civilian Defense

As a result of last week's Civil Defense drill, we presume the country is better prepared to survive a sudden air attack. We have not kept up on the developments in this program, which probably is only natural. Our personal interest in survival drops a little year by year, but we still retain a reporter's interest in exciting events and so we do wonder about how things would be managed if we suddenly were threatened with the real thing.

From our observation over a period of quite a few years, some of it at fairly close range, we have not been favorably impressed with the Civil Defense organization and its operations. Somewhere in the city, as we understand it, there is a warehouse full of supplies that will be available in case of an emergency. In last week's drill, as far as we know, this equipment was not made ready for emergency use. Perhaps that is just as well. There probably would be no immediate need for an extra dentist's chair unless we would want to set up an emergency barber shop. That however would require a permit from the board of barber examiners.

One of the things about this, may we call it civilian defense program, that confuses us is the complete lack of coordination between the Civil Defense organization and the National Guard. On Tuesday of last week our city was in serious trouble. We didn't know but what at any minute the streets would be littered with the dead and the dying. The fire department would be trying to answer 60 or 70 emergency calls and men and women would be running every which way with only a few policemen available to direct traffic. We were equipped with two notebooks and six pencils, ready to write a terrific story. Then we inquired about the National Guard.

Well, it seems that the National Guard was standing by, awaiting orders to proceed at once to Squash Hollow or Cairo or Oslo (Norway). They must be prepared to find and fight the enemy at some far distant point. They are not organized to deal with these local skirmishes.

Maybe it is unfair to bring the National Guard into the picture in this way. As one of the charter members of the organization we would not wish to discredit it or in any way reflect upon its importance in the national defense picture. But we do think that the National Guard does fit into this emergency civilian defense program and, instead of being relegated to the background in planning for our emergency needs, the National Guard should be recognized as basic in the emergency organization.

We have confidence in the National Guard. We do not have confidence in the Civil Defense organization. The National Guard is officered by men who have experience in emergencies and tough situations. Its members are disciplined and are trained to follow instructions under difficult circumstances.

The Civil Defense program should include the National Guard as a major force in meeting the needs of an emergency attack. After that first emergency attack the whole defense structure probably would have to be reorganized.

New Program Inevitable

Our country has agreed to deliver 16 million tons of wheat and one million tons of rice to India during the next four years. That will be good for India and for the ships that will be paid to make delivery. It also will provide a little room for the new surpluses that will be harvested here each year.

It is an interesting cycle. First the government subsidized the American grower to produce the crop. Then the government subsidized the organizations that provided the storage for the surplus. Now the government will subsidize the ships that will deliver the surplus to India. And India will pay us for the wheat and rice with rupees that will never leave India and that will be spent by our government in India for many kinds of projects and programs.

The people of India, we are sure, like this bargain. Our neighbors in Canada are not happy about it. They call it dumping, and they probably are right. India will not buy Canadian grain as long as American wheat is available free, f.o.b. India. And what we have done for India will be expected by the people of many other backward countries of the world.

We all know that the present program is not the right solution for the problems of the wheat growers and the rice growers. And because it is not right it is going to be changed. That is inevitable. The only question is, who is going to make the changes? Who is going to give us a better program?

The changes will come either by those who are the friends of the wheat growers and the rice growers, or by those who are fed up with this sort of wasteful bungling and don't give a hoot about the wheat growers and the rice growers. Stating it more plainly, if the friends of the wheat growers and the rice growers don't agree among themselves on a more realistic program, then they will be handed a program that will be dictated by those who are not friendly.

Our guess is that it's high time for the wheat growers and the rice growers to get together and act in self-defense. Wasting tax dollars is losing popularity.

Cranberry growers are being reimbursed for their losses last year which resulted from the bungling manner in which a government agency attempted to protect the public from berries contaminated by spraying. The desired protection could have been provided just as effectively with less hysteria and less cost to the industry.. The public alarm that was sounded several weeks before Thanksgiving ruined the market and the reimbursement to the growers is in order. The government's share of the cost is estimated at $10 million.

A Sensible Solution

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The compromise proposal on territorial waters and fishing rights reached between Canada and the United States at the conference on the law of the sea at Geneva represents a promising advance towards a solution of this vexing problem.

By international law, accepted by most countries, a nation has control of its waters to a distance of three miles from its coastline. Not all countries, however, subscribe to the three-mile limit and have, for various reasons, sought to extend it.

Canada would like to have control of her territorial waters to a distance of six miles from shore, and to exercise exclusive fishing rights for another six miles, making 12 in all. As a conservation measure, Canadian fishermen have been subject to strict regulation within the 12 mile limit; but these restrictions cannot be applied against foreign fishing fleets which have continued to fish to within three miles of our shores.

The Canadian proposal has been opposed by both the United Kingdom and the United States on the ground that nations, which in some cases have fished for centuries close to the shoreline of other countries, should not be deprived of their historic rights. The U.S. therefore suggested a six-plus-six mile limit, but with the understanding that foreign countries with historic fishing rights would be allowed to fish within the six miles of another nation's shore.

The new proposal appears to bridge the small gap between the Canadian and U.S. viewpoints. A six-mile territorial waters limit is agreed upon; and in the next six-mile zone, countries with historic fishing rights will be permitted to continue to fish—but for a ten-year period only.

The compromise falls short of what Canada wants; it also falls short, in the other direction, of the previous demands of fishing nations like the U.K. and the U.S. But with these countries subscribing to it, the new proposal should stand a reasonable chance of getting the two-thirds majority of votes at the Geneva conference necessary for its acceptance.

Silence

More eloquent than any words is the silence of the 1960 Cadillac in motion. Eloquent, too, is the delighted look of the man who has just driven one for the first time. It says so unmistakably, "Never before, a car to compare with this!" It is a literal fact that you must concentrate to detect the sound of a 1960 Cadillac—except, of course, for the gentle whisper of the wind and the soft hum of the tires on the pavement. Your authorized Cadillac dealer invites you to try this unique driving experience.

21 IS A MAGIC NUMBER IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG FELLOW —

—That's the year he comes of age. He has reached maturity. Most important, it marks the beginning of real living. At 21 life takes on new meaning and becomes more interesting.

We hope it will work out that way for our store too! We want this 21st birthday to be the starting point for a bigger and better Bjorkman's.

During each of the past 21 years our business has grown. Each year we have served more customers. That is the yardstick by which we measure our past progress. If the number of customers served by our store ever starts dropping off, then we will know that we are approaching the period of retirement.

On this occasion we wish to thank old friends for the patronage that has enabled us to grow. And of course we are always glad to have an opportunity to serve new customers. Thank you.

Couple Wed in British Columbia

Cut spring flowers from British Columbia decorated St. George's Anglican church of Kinistino on Saturday April 16 when Rev. R. Adlainson united in marriage Ida Irene Wikstrom daughter of Mrs. and the late John Wikstrom and John W. J. Dover son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dover both families of Kinistino, B.C. Given in marriage by her uncle Peter Wikstrom the bride was dressed in a white nylon lace and net over taffeta gown. The bodice featured sequin and pearl trim with small bolero; her lace edged chapel veil on a pearl and sequin trimmed coronet. She carried a white Bible topped with pink roses and streamers. Mrs. Richard Porter attended as matron of honor and wore a blue nylon lace sheath with silk organza sash. As bridesmaid, the bride's sister, Judith, chose a yellow chiffon over net with shirred bodice and full skirt. The flower girl, Gloria Wikstrom, sister of the bride wore a dotted yellow nylon over net dress. They all carried nosegays of tea roses and violets. For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a navy blue dress with white accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a light blue floral oriental dress. Assisting the groom were two close friends. A reception was held following the ceremony in the Anglican parish hall. Judith and Gloria Wikstrom were among those who assisted. Telegrams of congratulations were received from the bride's uncle George Wikstrom. Among the out of town guests was the bride's brother John Wikstrom of Nile. The couple honeymooned in Prince Albert, Canada. The newlyweds will reside on the grooms farm north of Kinistino. The best wishes of people in this community go out to the young couple.

Arthur Windahls Take 3-month Vacation in Southern California

On Feb 1, we left by train from Thief River Falls bound for Holtville, California where our daughter and son in-law, Eloise and Don Deihl and their three boys live. Conveniently only one change of trains was necessary which was at Minneapolis where we boarded the Twin Star Rocket going all the way out to Yuma We saw very little snow in any state. A little in the Panhandle in Texas. In El Paso it was all clear and some seeding being done. New Mexico with its hundreds of miles of desert and wasteland was yet quite bleak and cold However, by the time we got to Yuma, Ariz, the state of unsurpassed scenic beauty, the Painted Desert and Grand Canyon, it was in colorfulness of green with flowers and fruit trees loaded with ripe fruit, especially grapefruit, lemons and oranges. The same throughout the Imperial Valley California, where we spent our vacation Holtville is the carrot capital of the world Besides the large carrot fields there are also numerous other vegetables raised such as lettuce, onions tomatoes and cantaloupe. Also thousands of acres of alfalfa and other crops such as barley flax and sugar beets We also went out to see some good sized cattle ranches, the largest we saw contained 21,000 head of cattle We also spent a week in Los Angeles a day at Disneyland and also the Knotts berry farm Then having a gracious invitation out to the homes of two cousins Mr and Mrs Jim Wills (nee Alma Eide) at Santa Monica and Norman Eide and family also have a beautiful home at Van Nuys We were also invited to the home of a teacher of both of us 50 years ago, Esther Thomas, now Mrs Robert Larson living in the San Fernando Valley, Granda Hills, where we and also Eloise, Don and Norlan enjoyed a most pleasant afternoon The Wills live only a few blocks from the beach where we all went in and had a splash in the Pacific The Wills also graciously entertained us by taking us out to the most beautiful places of interest and also to a Chinese dinner Along the way home from Los Angeles we went by way of Palm Springs where we closely by passed the home of Bing Crosby, and the Lucille Ball Desi Arnaz home as well as the Thunderbird Golf course where President Eisenhower plays golf Also the Salten Sea and other places of interest. More orange groves and long stretches of date palm trees. We had planned to return about the first part of April but Eloise and Don encouraged us to spend Easter with them, which we accepted and enjoyed They were always willing when time permitted to take us out to places of interest such Old Mexico and mining country in the mountains where the old die hard prospectors are still panning for gold. We went into the great Emperial Dam on the Colorado River which supplies the entire Emperial Valley with water for irrigation, etc. About 20 miles north of Yuma we also saw the old Territorial Prison and Boot Hill at Yuma. And such as we are accustomed to, there was church every Sunday and activities during the week. Also social gatherings between neighbors, dinner parties, etc. Our son, Norlan also left home the latter part of March and joined us there at Holtville when his prospective job started in the alfalfa harvest and will continue through the summer. When plans for leaving were again being made, we received a letter from our daughter, Mrs Jim Gander, that they had decided to come out to California for a quick trip and to bring us home, which was pleasant news. In a few days a thrilling reunion with three of our children there. But on Friday morning, the time had come for goodbyes. Hitting the trail home by way of Yuma, we drove until we reached a town by the name of Tombstone, where we stopped for lunch at the Wyatt Earp Cafe and saw the O.K. Corral. Then on to Bisbee, the great mining center of copper, silver and gold, of which the Western part was deserted for newer diggings and very much of a ghost town. From there into New Mexico and along the White Sands Proving Grounds and into Aurozozo where we stayed in a motel overnight. Saturday morning, we came to a town by the name of Tucumcany, where Jim located a schoolmate of his from Wisconsin where we spent a couple of hours. Then into Texas where we had lunch at "Cowboy Cafe". Then in Salina, Kansas, we again made a stop overnight in a motel. Sunday morning, with about 600 miles to Grand Forks, we reached our destination about 10 o'clock that night, staying over with the Jim Ganders until Monday evening when they took us home to Viking, where at our home were June and Omer Sorenson and Delores and Floyd Bakke to greet us It is nice to be back after a very enjoyable and interesting three months in California

Co-chairmen Chosen for June Dairy Month

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES
FOOD SECTION Pages 1 thru 8
Volume Forty-nine — Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota — Thursday, May 12, 1960 — Number Thirty-eight

Co-chairmen and principal events for June Dairy Month — in which Minnesota is the nation's pacesetter — were announced today

Axel Hansen Minneapolis dean of Minnesota dairy cattlemen and veteran agricultural columnist, will head the month's activities Chairwoman is Mrs Leonard Harkness St. Paul, wife of the state 4 H Club leader and mother of three children

They will keynote the annual June Dairy Month kickoff luncheon in St. Paul's Hotel Lowry, May 24, before some 400 leaders of state agriculture, business, education and government

Official "hostess" of the event will be "Time O Day Lady Belle," a champion purebred Holstein from the herd of Mr and Mrs. Henry Bartel, Hastings, Minn The 12 year old "Lady Belle," who has produced more than 100,000 pounds of milk, is the official representative of all the state's 1,305,000 cows of milking age She will hold the place of honor on the ballroom stage

Scores of June Dairy Month events—festivals, pageants, picnics—will be held in individual communities, counties and regions across the state in addition to statewide activities Food stores, dairies, banks and other businesses are planning special promotions throughout the month.

A series of 11 regional Dairy Days will be held during June. Nine of them will include dairy cattle shows for Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club boys and girls. All 11 will feature dairy princess contests. One of the 11 regional finalists will be crowned Princess Kay of the Milky Way VII on the opening night of the Minnesota State Fair August 27

Between 1,500 and 1,700 dairy farm girls will compete in preliminary contests leading up to the regional state events

Here is the schedule of regional Dairy Days

Region I at Thief River Falls June 14; Region II at Moose Lake June 8, Region III at Long Prairie, June 23, Region IV at St Cloud June 22, Region V at [illegible] June 11, Region VI at Glencoe June 28, Region VII at Minneapolis (Knollwood Plaza) June 21, Region VIII at Lewisville, June 30, Region IX at Albert Lea, June 16; Region X at Caledonia June 29; Region XI at Slayton, June 18

Dairy cattle shows will be held at all regional Dairy Days except Region IX at Albert Lea and Region X at Caledonia

Charming Betty Jax of Adams, Minn., reigning Princess Kay of the Milky Way will appear at each of the 11 regional celebrations as well as the kickoff luncheon

Coordinating agency of all June Dairy Month activities is the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee, state unit of the American Dairy Association, which is financed directly by dairy farmers

Minnesota June Dairy Month Leaders Named

★ "Time-O-Day Lady Belle" meets Princess Kay of the Milky Way ★

Axel Hansen
Chairman

PACESETTERS in Minnesota's 1960 June Dairy Month celebration are these four. Axel Hansen, Minneapolis, dean of state dairy cattlemen and recognized dairy industry authority, is state chairman. Mrs. Leonard Harkness, wife of the state 4-H Club leader and trained home economist, is chairwoman. Official mascot cow for the month-long dairy foods promotion and salute to dairy farmers is "Time-O-Day Lady Belle" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartel of Hastings, Minn. Getting acquainted with "Lady Belle" prior to the May 24 June Dairy Month kickoff is pretty Betty Jax of Adams, Minn., reigning Princess Kay of the Milky Way.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

An old slough in Swift county has become a popular "rest center" for waterfowl. Harry Jagow's slough had mostly dried up — until he built a dyke across the outlet and diverted water into the area. County agent J. L. Edman says Jagow built up an island in the slough for resting and nesting, and is planting shrubs and feed crops in the area for ducks. This is only one example of how Minnesota farmers are helping provide special areas for wildlife.

Drought, ACP cost sharing and SCS technical assistance were the incentives for building livestock watering pits on 13 farms last year in the Stevens county soil and water conservation district To keep cattle on remote pastures, farmers needed water badly. Judging from how well the pits turned out, SCS men expect many more to be constructed this year

• • •

"Terraces are the best erosion control practice on my farm," says Henry Munsterman, in the Swift county soil conservation district. He built terraces on a rolling field last spring, and found that he saved more moisture for the crops In spite of dry weather, corn yields on the terraced field yielded 59 bushels per acre Munsterman plans to construct more terraces this spring.

• • •

Minimum tillage at corn planting time can fit in nicely with fall plowing John Carlson Buffalo, did it this way. On 120 acres of fall plowed land he dragged once but didn't disk at all. Then he put the cultivator on the front of the tractor, hitched the planter to the rear, and worked up the land planted all in one operation. University of Minnesota soils men say this is a good idea for any farmer to try on fall plowing.

Park Facilities in State Offered for School Events

Students from grade and high schools planning picnics in Minnesota's state parks have been urged to cooperate with park personnel in the observance of established rules and regulations.

Director of State Parks U. W Hella said today that he wished to encourage use of the parks by students and that compliance with existing regulations and the practice of common sense would contribute much toward the pleasure to be derived from such outings.

Park buildings may be reserved for group picnics when facilities are available and if such groups have adult supervision. The arrangements should be made by the parents with the park manager several days in advance.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—My husband a World War II veteran passed away recently Since he had no service connected disability I was ineligible for VA death pension as his widow I understand that under a new pension law I may now be eligible. Is this correct?

A—Yes Widows of World War II and Korea veterans may be eligible for pensions even if their husbands had no service connected disabilities at the time of their death This new pension program, however, does not go in effect until July 1.

Q—With my pension check, I received a special form and an information pamphlet from VA This was to help me decide if I want to come under the new pension program I did the calculations VA asked me to do, and it looks like the new system is best for me. Will VA check my computations?

A—Yes That is the purpose of the special election form you received You were asked to compute how much you expect to get under the new system, for this year as well as for the next year. VA is now checking over the election forms. If it appears you have made the wrong choice, you will get another chance to decide.

Q—I'm a Korea veteran with GI term insurance. Please give me the details about the new-type, lower-cost term insurance I've been hearing about.

A—If your policy has the initials "RS" before its number, you may exchange it for a term policy costing about two-thirds less than your present premium. This new-type term gives the same protection, but cannot be renewed after age 50. You may convert this policy permanent-type GI insurance at any time before the last renewal period runs out.

Q—I have to go to a VA hospital for treatment of a service-connected disability. Will my compensation check continue to come to me while I am in the hospital?

A—Yes. Your disability compensation will continue while you are in the hospital and will be paid directly to you. Special rules, however, cover special cases, as for instance, where there are allotments to dependents or in cases of incompetency

The Master's Touch

God must love beauty, to use it so lavishly. The Master Artist dapples the soft green leaves with golden sunshine, turns the brook to flowing crystal, and puts a song into Spring itself.

There is beauty in us, too . . . because He put it there. In His sight, none of us are ugly, none of us are forsaken, none of us are "lost."

But sometimes, in the busy process of day-to-day living, we turn blind eyes upon the world's loveliness, and take for granted the gifts which should brighten the hours and years. We need a faith that gives us vision to find again the inner beauty He gave us in the beginning . . . a gift which He never takes away. Let us go, then, to His Church. Let us "enter into His gates with thanksgiving . . . for the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His Truth endureth forever."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: The annual Sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Post 2793 of Thief River Falls, Minnesota an organization chartered by the Congress, has been officially recognized and endorsed by the President of the United States and Veterans Administration and

WHEREAS the proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans and

WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living;" therefore,

I, Orin J. Green, Mayor of the City of Thief River Falls do hereby recognize the patriotic merits of this cause by urging the citizens of this community to contribute generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies on the 20th and 21st of May, 1960. I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this county who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

ORIN J. GREEN, Mayor.

CARS magazine reports The Lark is the best overall buy among all 23 American automobiles... including all other compacts.

BEST... After judging The Lark—"the Best of the Compacts"—the editors of CARS enlarged their enthusiasm and declared The Lark, "The Best Overall Buy." Here's how they summed up their expert opinion in the June issue of CARS:

MANY REASONS... "The Lark will do anything and go anywhere the larger cars will, at a lower cost.... The Lark is styled for both today and tomorrow, and engineered for hard, economical use.... On any basis, this is a tough car to beat."

FREE COPY... Pick up your free copy of CARS buyer's guide at your Studebaker Dealer's.

With five of the six compacts, you have to compromise . . . but with The Lark, there's no compromise on selection, roominess, performance or luxury.

All Counties in Area Except Polk Show Loss

Unofficial Count for Area Villages Revealed Last Week

All of the 11 counties in the northwestern corner of Minnesota except Polk registered a decline in population during the past decade, according to preliminary census figures, with seven of them taking substantial losses of 1,000 or more.

Total population loss for the 11 counties was 14,349, with Roseau recording the greatest decline of 2,525.

Next in order was Beltrami with a loss of 2,172, Marshall, 1,995 loss; Norman, 1,730 loss; Clearwater 1,396 loss; Kittson, 1,355 loss and Red Lake with 1,072 loss.

Polk county, the largest of the 11 counties, showed a gain of 10, while Mahnomen lost 792, Lake of the Woods lost 682 and Pennington lost 550.

In Minnesota's Ninth Congressional District, which embraces these 11 counties and four others, the population on farms has shrunk nearly 20,000 in the past 10 years.

In 1950, 54.4 per cent of the district's population resided outside a city or town, while in 1960, this percentage has shrunk to 48.8.

For the entire district, a total gain of 10,097 in cities and towns helped to offset the large decrease in farm population, leaving an overall loss in population for the 15 counties of 9,834.

Here are the preliminary census figures for the 11 northwestern Minnesota counties and their cities and towns:

State Jr. Sheep Shearing Event at Greenbush June 9

Sheep Shearing School Also Will Be Conducted at Show June 7 and 8

The 22nd annual Sheep Days program to be held in Greenbush will be host to the 1960 state junior shearing contest on June 9. A shearing school will be held under the direction of Ed Warner of the Sunbeam corporation on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 7 and 8. Junior shearers must qualify for the finals of the shearing contest by participating either in the school or the elimination contest which will be held during the afternoon of June 8. The top shearer will win a trip to the national shearing contest to be held at the Indiana state fair.

Eliminations will also be held June 8 for those entering the senior shearing contest. The shearing school is open to both boys and adults. Anyone who is interested is asked to register his name with his county agent.

"This Is Sheep Country" is the theme around which the Thursday afternoon program and evening banquet program have been planned.

Curtis Charlson, local attorney, will be principal speaker in addition to which the ladies' drill team will give an exhibition, and Skallet will supply music. The public is invited to attend the program.

g Gathering Views shion Show Staged —y Hospital Auxiliary

By Mrs. Hugh N. Boroson

Who said Friday the 13th is unlucky? Nonsense, as far as the Thief River Falls lovelies are concerned, Friday the 13th ushered in an array of styles and smiles.

Over 150 members and guests attended the spring meeting of the Northwestern Hospital auxiliary held Friday afternoon at the Eagles' club rooms, which were attractively and appropriately decorated with centerpieces of daisies on summer pastel colored cloths.

Mrs. L. B. Hartz, president, called the meeting to order welcoming all to the "Garden of Daisies". She reported that as of the fall of 1960, a packet of stationery, envelopes and information relating to Northwestern Hospital, attractively packaged, will be distributed to every patient entering the institution.

Mrs. Hartz then introduced Dr. George B. Martin who discussed the controversial subject of federal medical aid for the aged. Dr. Martin informed the group that political medicine is the type of medicine this country could expect if a measure now before Congress were made law.

This measure is known as HR-4700, or more commonly called the Forand Bill. If enacted, he stated, it would mean medicine controlled and administered by the federal government. It would mean red tape, bureaucratic control, high costs and inferior medical care. Further, it would establish a system of socialized medicine for a large segment of the population. Americans rejected socialized medicine overwhelmingly in 1950. But here it is again, under a different label, said Dr. Martin.

Dr. Martin therefore proposed a "Laissez-Faire" policy with regard to medicine and politics, and he requested that all write to their congressmen expressing their opinion of the Forand Bill, either pro or con.

Mrs. M. D. Starekow drew up a resolution against the Forand Bill and other such legislation, which was passed around the assembly for signatures. This will be forwarded to Rep. Odin Langen.

Norman Peterson, Northwestern Hospital Administrator, presented a talk and slides on "Many Hands and Many Skills".

Plan for Local Share in Dairy Day June 14th

Princess Aspirants for Pennington Co. to Be Named May 23

Local committees for various activities on Dairy Day Tuesday, June 14, were named at a meeting of officials at the Chamber of Commerce office Thursday afternoon. The meeting was called by Stuart McLeod, president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsoring organization.

Solicitation of contributions in Thief River Falls will get started Wednesday. J. J. Womack, treasurer and chairman of the fund raising drive, will meet with 12 team captains at the Rex Cafe at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. McLeod announced that Ralph Wayne of the University of Minnesota and Olaf Kyomme of Winnebago have accepted invitations to serve as judges again this year. The regional Princess judging team assigned to this area consists of Myrna Pederson of St. Paul, Ray Wolf of St. Paul and W. J. McConnell of Minneapolis.

Three Pennington county Princess candidates will be selected Monday, May 23. Members of the committee in charge of this county program are Paul Furuseth, chairman; Paul Stelmaschuk, Paul Rossi and Morris Howick, all of Thief River Falls; and Clem Gigstad of St. Hilaire and James Salveson of Goodridge. In charge of the regional Princess contest again will be R. A. Mehlhoff.

"Let's Get the Show on The Road" Lew Conlon will be ringmaster for the calf judging activities, and Les Ihle will direct the presentation of awards. William LaFave will be in charge of the parade; and directing the preparation of the street facilities, shavings, tractors, ropes and [illegible], will be William Frolland, Bob Carlson, Don Lawrence and Evonne Olson.

President McLeod has named a local executive committee to direct all activities, consisting of J. M. Roche, Les Ihle, J. J. Womack, Paul Rossi and Wallace Jordet. They will meet tomorrow with Irving Meade of Roseau, who will spend several weeks in the field directing organizational work.

Thursday morning, May 12. Mrs. Thompson is confined to Northwestern hospital for observation suffering from minor bruises. The driver of the car, Mrs. Clara E. Olson, 1005 Dewey ave. N., has been charged with failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

Few Objections Are Raised at Hearing Thursday Evening

Work is expected to begin in the near future on a 17-block street improvement project between Fourth and Main sts. and Main and Atlantic avenues following a public hearing Thursday evening, May 12, in the city council chambers.

Only a few residents of the area were present for the hearing and they asked few questions about the project.

Clarence Knudsen, 603 Horace ave. N., and Victor Anderson, 704 Horace ave. N., both raised questions about traffic on the new streets. Knudsen stated that he had no objection to paving that would eliminate the dust problem but objected to paying for the improvement if heavy trucks would be allowed in the area. "Let the trucks use the routes the state has helped to pay for," he asked.

Roy Lee, council president, told those attending the hearing that this matter had already been discussed, that the ordinance will be changed to limit loads to less than is permitted at present and that the area will be posted.

Anderson asked how the restriction would be enforced and was answered by both Alderman Lee and Robert Wurst, city attorney. Lee suggested that residents get the license numbers of violators if they are not seen by the police and sign complaints against them. The city attorney suggested that strict enforcement from the beginning would stop the violations when truck operators passed the word around that the ordinance was being enforced.

A question was asked about the durability of the streets and D. H. Stewart, consulting engineer, told the audience that the improvement would be permanent and, with proper maintenance, would last a long time.

The question was raised about why some curb and gutter and some sidewalks had been taken out, and Stewart said that this had been done during the recent storm sewer work in the area but would be replaced as part of the project.

Exhibit Reveals No. Central Service to TRF Is Profitable

Exhibits filed by the Bureau of Air Operations showed that Thief River Falls service is a profitable operation for North Central Airlines. The bureau, representing the federal government in Washington, D.C., states that the expenses attributable to Thief River Falls during 1959 were $47,864, while total commercial revenue amounted to $61,425, leaving an operating gain of $13,561.

The bureau also stated that its tentative position concerning the temporarily certificated points, Winona, Thief River Falls, Bemidji, and Brainerd is, (1) those points which have generated an average of five or more enplaned passengers daily during the most recent 12 months will warrant continued certification, but that (2) unless unusual or compelling circumstances are developed on the record, those points which have generated less than an average of five enplaned passengers daily during the most recent 12 months will not warrant further certification.

Statements presented in North Central exhibit also indicate that 1959 was a profitable year for the airline at Thief River Falls. However, the airline argues that 20% of the Thief River Falls passengers would continue to use North Central even if service at the Thief River Falls airport is stopped.

All exhibits will be formally put before CAB Examiner Walter W Bryan at the June 7 hearing. Witnesses from Thief River Falls and the state of Minnesota will also appear and give testimony in support of continuation of airline service.

Outdoor Living Is Theme of Stores' Promotion Here

TRF Stores to Conduct Sidewalk Sales Today, Friday and Saturday

Summer means more outdoor living and, to celebrate the season, Thief River Falls merchants will have their Outdoor Living celebration Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Permission has been granted by the police department to display merchandise in front of the stores and merchants will show boats, motors, barbecue sets, sports clothes, golf equipment and other equipment for enjoying outdoor living.

Some stores are expected to demonstrate barbecue equipment by using it to prepare meats and other edibles.

Whether it is to look or to buy, everyone is invited to visit the displays and enjoy themselves. The event is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

TRF School Dist. Election Tuesday

No Contests on Ballot; Voting at H.S. 5 to 9:30

Unless there is a last-minute write-in vote for unannounced candidates, as has been the case in some previous school district elections, it appears safe to predict the retention of the three incumbent aspirants for places on the Thief River Falls board of education in the annual election Tuesday, May 17.

The three candidates, all of them representing the rural portions of the large district, are Rufus Olson, John Burtness and Lloyd Howick. They will have no opposition on the ballot.

The polls will be open from 5 to 9:30 p.m. in Home Economics room 111 in the Lincoln high school building.

Concert Choir and Chorus of Lincoln to Perform May 17

Annual Spring Concert Offered Tuesday Night in Lincoln Auditorium

The Lincoln high school concert choir and the junior high school chorus will present their annual spring concert in the Lincoln auditorium on Tuesday, May 17, at 8 p.m. It has become traditional at Lincoln that this concert will find the senior high participants dressed in formal wear.

The Lincoln choir consists of 60 members in senior high school who have just returned from a concert trip to Minneapolis in which they sang concerts in New York Mills, Hopkins and also participated in the May Fest held at Concordia college, Moorhead. Don Stewart, president of the choir, is in charge of the concert arrangements, Shirley Peterson is the choir accompanist.

The junior high school chorus consists of 70 members and will present several sacred and secular a cappella compositions. The girls' sextet and boys' quartet will sing, and Ben Martin, baritone, and Mark Chommie, piano, will give the selections which earned them "A's" in the recent state area music festival held in Thief River Falls in April.

As a finale, the two choirs will join in singing a patriotic selection, "I Like It Here" which depicts the many reasons why young people like the United States of America.

All students participating in the concert are selling tickets and tickets will also be available at the door.

FIRE destroyed the cookshack on wheels in the center of the picture and piles of fence and telephone poles on the Olaf Kauppila place north of the fairgrounds Thursday morning, May 12, but city firemen were able to save a car and tractor and contain the fire. Grass and rubbish was being burned the night before and apparently spread to a pile of the poles. Firemen were first called out to put out a fire at 6:50 Thursday morning and were called out again at 9:30 when the blaze started up again.

Rev. Otto Wedul Married to Audrey Fossum May 8

Rev. E. J. Raanstad officiated at the ceremony which united Audrey J. Fossum of Rochester, Minnesota, and Rev. Otto E. Wedul of Albert Lea, Minnesota, in holy matrimony Sunday, May 8, at the Lands Lutheran church of Hudson, South Dakota.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fossum of Canton, South Dakota, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ahn Wedul of this city.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of pink and white snapdragons, baskets of white gladioli and candelabra for the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony. Lois Schlager Ekeren of Wells, Minnesota, presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Rev. Walter Ekeren, also of Wells.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white nylon over satin featuring a bouffant skirt with a lace overskirt, fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves trimmed with palliettes and matching guantlets. Her fingertip veil fell from a Swedish wedding crown which was sent from Stockholm, Sweden, following an old custom of brides sharing the crown and which belongs to the parish church. She carried a bouquet of white Cymbidium orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible and her jewelry was a Norwegian filigree pin and earring set.

The bride's attendants, matron of honor, Mrs. Laurence C. Sendelback, sister of the bride, of Pipestone, Minn., and bridesmaid, Margaret O. Fossum, sister of the bride, of Canton, South Dakota, wore ballerina length dresses of petal pink silk organza over taffeta, white gloves, floral headbands and Norwegian filigree pins. The bouquets they carried were of white orchids and pink roses arranged on white lace fans.

Attending the bridegroom were his brothers, Kenneth O. Wedul of Valley City, North Dakota, as best man, and Maynard T. Wedul as groomsman with Arvid B. Wedul and Glenn R. Wedul seating the guests.

Mrs. Fossum chose a navy blue dress with navy accessories for her daughter's wedding while the bridegroom's mother wore a brown dress with matching accessories and their corsages were of white orchids.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony with approximately 225 guests attending. Serving as dining room hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Koester and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman W. Morton.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Willard Ambur and Mrs. E. C. Sundt while Mrs. Robert P. Johnson and Mrs. Roger Stensaas poured. Mrs. William T. Thompson was in charge of the guest book with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fossum and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knutson receiving and arranging the gifts and Beatrice Molberg and Carol V. Johnson serving the punch.

Music during the reception was furnished by Mrs. Orris P. Juel and Mrs. Leonard Rollag.

For their wedding trip to Chicago, Illinois, and Holland, Michigan, the bride chose a green and white checked suit with white accessories. After May 15 the couple are at home at 1417 Edina Avenue, Albert Lea, Minn.

The bride has been employed as director of Christian Education at the Zumbro Lutheran church of Rochester, Minn., and Rev. Wedul is assistant pastor of the First Lutheran church of Albert Lea.

Out of town guests were from Thief River Falls, Pipestone, Barrett, Glenwood, Albert Lea, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Rochester Minnesota; Eau Claire, Wisconsin; Sioux Falls, Parker, Hurley, Irene and Florence, So. Dakota.

WED MAY 8 Rev. and Mrs. Otto Wedul are residing at 1417 Edina Avenue, Albert Lea, Minnesota. They were united in marriage May 8 at Hudson, South Dakota.

Does hold Mother-Daughter Banquet Tuesday, May 10

The B.P.O. Does held their annual Mother-Daughter banquet Tuesday, May 10, at the Elks hall. Approximately 70 mothers and daughters attended the banquet, which was served by the Elk Club officers.

Lois Adolphson presided as toastmistress of the program which included a welcome speech given by Dolores Wilson, president, response for the mothers by Marie O'Hara and response for the daughters by Karen Kelly.

Following the program, boys and girls of the Len Martin Dance Center entertained with Bea Nelson at the piano. The acts presented were as follows; Jan Aaseby, David Wegge and Gail Froiland in a tap specialty; Lynette Schmitz, Kristy Helm, Kristy Baker and Pam Wendt in a tap number; ballet solo by Bonnie Burrell, tap solo by David Wegge, tap solo by Sue Bakke and the final number, Three Dolls, a tap dance by Virginia Burrell, Meg Wurst and Kathy Helm.

DeCor Group To Meet May 23

The DeCor group of the Thief River Falls Woman's club will meet at the home of Mrs. T. E. Aasland Monday, May 23, at 8 o'clock. This will be the final meeting of the season, as the group recesses during the summer months.

JEWELERS

Carol Grendahl Weds Conley Nygaard April 30

Baskets of pink roses and white gladioli graced the altar of Zion Lutheran church April 30 for the wedding of Miss Carol Grendahl and Conley Nygaard, both of this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Andrew Grendahl while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nygaard, all of this city.

Dr. Walter M. Pedersen officiated at the 8 p.m. double ring ceremony with Jerry Joringdal presiding at the organ for the nuptial music and accompanying Duane Rafteseth, friend of the couple, as he sang "Crown With Thy Benediction", "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white lace over taffeta with tiers of net over taffeta accenting the front of the bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline trimmed with pearls and sleeves that came to a point over the hand. Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap trimmed with pearls and her pearl earrings and necklace were a gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of pink roses and white carnations and the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue was carried out.

Miss Sonja Aaseth of Velva, No. Dakota, cousin of the bride, attended as maid of honor with Miss Phyllis Simon of Duluth, friend of the bride, and Mrs. Fred Marquette of Goodridge, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid and bridesmatron. Their street length dresses were of blue and white nylon over taffeta accented with blue schiffli embroidery and necklines which came to a V in the back. Their white gloves and pearl earrings were a gift of the bride and their bouquets were of pink roses and white carnations similar to that of the bride.

Linda Nelson, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl wearing a white taffeta and lace dress and carrying a basket of rose petals.

Attending as his brother's best man was Robert V. Nygaard of this city with James Grendahl also of this city, brother of the bride, and Fred Marquette of Goodridge, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, serving as groomsmen. Norman Tunheim of this city, cousin of the bride, and Kenny Noreen of St. Paul, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, seated the guests. Ringbearer, Lynn Ward Shattuck of Velva, No. Dak., cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a satin pillow. The gentlemen of the bridal party wore black tuxedoes with white dinner jackets and pink carnation boutonnieres and their sterling cuff links were gifts of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grendahl chose a blue lace dress with navy accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress with beige accessories. Their matching corsages were of small red roses and white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors with approximately 400 guests attending.

A four tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the serving table and was cut and served by Mrs. Jorgen Aaseth of Velva, No Dakota, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Leonard Johnson of Fisher, aunt of the bridegroom, while Mrs. Newell Nelson of this city, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Thomas Mattson, city, aunt of the bridegroom, poured.

Waitresses were Miss Marie Borstad of Fort Totten, No. Dak., and Mrs. Harlan Olson of Holt, cousins of the bride, and Miss Carol Carlson, city, Miss Vangi Thorkelson and Miss Beverly Haack of St. Paul.

Mrs. Kenny Noreen of St. Paul sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests while Mrs. Duane Hanson of Minneapolis and Mrs. Calvin Shattuck of Velva, cousins of the bride, and Miss Ann Zinter and Mrs. Palmer Roos, city, received and arranged the gifts.

For their honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, New York, the bride chose a beige and white checked dress with black accessories. Upon their return the couple will be making their home in Fergus Falls.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Lincoln high school and is now employed as a teller in the Northern State bank. The bridegroom graduated in 1950 from Cassadaga Valley Central high school in Sinclairville, New York, and is a lineman with Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Friends and relatives from Trondheim, Norway; Fort Totten, Devils Lake, Minot, Velva, Carrington and Grand Forks, No. Dak.; Warren, Newfolden, Plummer, Holt, St. Paul, Fisher, Cloquet, Barnesville, Karlstad, Goodridge, Detroit Lakes, Minneapolis and St. Hilaire attended.

Mr. Holmquist was born in Sweden. He was superintendent of the Warren public schools from 1918 to 1934. He had been residing in Rochester but returned to Warren several weeks ago to live at the nursing home.

STATE FARMS MOST NUMEROUS IN 1904

A little more than a century ago, when the earliest U. S. farm census was taken in 1850, Minnesota proudly boasted 157 farms. In ten short years that small beginning grew to 18,181, and by 1900 the records show 154,659 farms in the state. The high point was reached at 204,000 in 1935, dropping to 201,000 the following year. Latest authentic figures show 162,000 Minnesota farms in 1958. This also, 1958, was the best recent Minnesota year for barley, oats, rye, wheat, and flaxseed. Corn and potatoes hit top recent performance in 1956, sugar beets in 1957. Current census is likely to show another decline in the number of Minnesota farms.

St. John's Church Confirms Class

Class of Five Speaks Vows at Church Rites Sunday

This year's confirmation service at St. John's Lutheran church Sunday morning was begun by the dedication of a new Christian flag and of a new 50-star United States flag in the church chancel.

In the dedication rite, the Rev. A. C. Seltz, pastor, said, "As citizens of the kingdom of Christ we dedicate this Christian flag and place it in this house of worship as a mute but impressive reminder of the devotion and loyalty we owe to our God and Savior, Jesus Christ, and to His Church."

While in the class of 1961, 19 boys and girls are already receiving instruction, the class of five confirmed last Sunday was the smallest in the history of St. John's congregation. Members of the class were Lannette Gregory, Floyd Borgen, Gary Borgen, Steven Honebrink and Wayne Zitzow.

A group of adults are also to be privately confirmed in the near future at St. John's. Both the children's classes and an adult membership class will be reorganized in September.

$100,806 Savings Bonds Bought Here

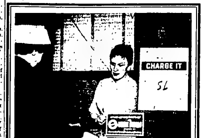
Purchases in 4 Months Run Ahead of Last Year

"Statewide savings bonds purchases continue to top the same month of the previous year, a trend that began last October and has continued for seven consecutive months," J. M. Roche, Pennington county chairman, announced today.

April purchases of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Minnesota totaled $6,127,000 and were 8.7 per cent above April 1959.

Year to date purchases of Savings Bonds now total $28,051,000, and are $2,200,000 or 8.5 per cent higher than the first four months of last year.

Purchases of Series E and H bonds in Pennington county totaled $100,806 or 41.8 per cent of the county goal for 1960.



Counties leading in quota attainment are Kittson 67.3%; Mahnomen, 66.0%, and Clearwater, 65.2%.

CHARGE ACCOUNT — Eleanor Genega, S&L Store cashier, takes an application for a credit account at the Thief River Falls store. The store is one of a limited group which has been selected to offer optional charge accounts for the first time in the history of the company. The services started in Thief River Falls on Monday, May 16th.

FIRST TIME IN STORES' HISTORY

S&L Stores offer Charge Accounts

Mr. Waldera, manager of S&L Stores in Thief River Falls, announced today that his store has been designated as one of the group which will provide charge accounts for its customers.

This new service is started here today, May 16th. The store manager explained that the credit plan will be the same modern type of Charge Account as is being used by the largest stores in the country.

MR. C. R. WALDERA
Manager of S & L Stores in Thief River Falls

"The use of credit, Mr. Waldera said, "has become an important tool for maintaining a sound budget in the majority of American families. It is a means used by millions of people to purchase better quality goods that give longer, more satisfying service. Because requests for best quality merchandise are increasing greatly each season, your S&L Store is introducing optional credit for the convenience of our customers."

The S & L Stores' credit plan offers a 30-day charge which makes it possible for a customer to pay her account in full within 30 days of billing date without any credit charge. In addition, this same plan also provides an option for customers who prefer to spread their payments over a longer period of time. A designated minimum amount can be paid at the time of the receipt of the bill, and the balance extended over a longer specified time. A minimum credit charge is added to the balance after each payment is deducted.

The S & L Charge Account Plan should be especially convenient for purchase of the store's expanded stocks of higher-priced apparel, home furnishings and appliances. Waldera emphasized that the credit plan will in no way affect the company's long standing policy of always selling at the lowest possible prices.

"It's the great combination we always hoped to be able to give our customers," said Waldera, ". . . the opportunity to enjoy S&L's high-quality and low prices without their having to pay for their purchases all at one time."

TRF Bottlers Are Co-sponsors Miss Minnesota Event

Pepsi-Cola Bottlers to Present Winner $1,000 Scholarship May 21st

A $1000 scholarship will be awarded to Miss Minnesota by the Pepsi-Cola Bottlers of Minnesota following her selection Saturday night May 21 in the pageant and coronation ball at the St Paul Auditorium it was announced today by Frank Kiewel Thief River Falls Pepsi-Cola bottler for this area.

Participation by the state's bottlers in the contest provides a total of $2000 in scholarship money to the top 4 contestants. The runner up will receive $500 and the third and fourth place finishers will receive $250 each.

The contest is sponsored by the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce. The St Paul Jaycees are hosts for the finals. Local Jaycee chapters conducted contests in more than 50 cities thruout Minnesota. Seventeen semi-finalists were selected in regional eliminations at Austin Brainerd, Fairmont and Hastings.

After the 17 candidates have competed in talent, swim suit and evening gown divisions, the panel of five judges will select five finalists for further tests leading to the coronation.

Miss America of 1960, Lynda Lee Mead of Natchez, Miss., will be guest of honor.

Baudette Bridge Dedication Set

Many Notables to Attend Ceremonies on July 30

An outline of the international bridge dedication ceremonies which are scheduled to take place at Baudette July 30 is beginning to take form. A sketch of plans revealed at an executive meeting Tuesday night that the dedication gives promise of being the biggest single event to be staged in Baudette and neighboring Rainy River.

Here are some of the guests who will be present: Edward Thye; Senators Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy, Rep. Odin Langen; Gov. Orville Freeman; P. Kenneth Peterson; Elmer L. Andersen; and L. P. Zimmerman, commissioner of highways.

Cedric Adams, Minneapolis columnist has agreed to be master of ceremonies.

Several bands will be on hand. Among the ones asked are those at International Falls, Bemidji, Baudette, Fort Frances, Thief River Falls and Warroad. There is also a good possibility that a Canadian military band, the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery Guards will be present.

Lake Agassiz Unit of Scouts Leader In Rural Service

Council Is One of 50 in U.S. to Reveal Gain in Rural Extension in 1959

The Lake Agassiz Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to Robert Hadlich, council president, has been notified by the rural service committee of the National Council that it is one of 50 councils in America to show a gain in rural extension of Scouting during 1959.

This recognition is based on a gain in membership of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers and organization of Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer units in rural areas. Rural membership includes boys who live in communities of under 2,500 or in open country. During 1959, the Lake Agassiz Council had a gain of 8.1% in rural membership of Cub Scouts and Explorers and at the same time showed a gain of 12.6% in Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer posts.

Representatives from the council have been invited to attend the luncheon meeting as guests of the National Council Rural Service on June 1 in Washington, D. C., to receive this special recognition. This luncheon will be part of the National Council Annual Meeting that will be held June 1, 2 and 3.

The subjects that will be discussed will include membership promotion and extension, rural financing, leadership motivation, to help available from partner organizations and institutions and an outline of the changing patterns and needs of youth in rural America.

During the past week, Charles Griffin, assistant director of rural scouting, has been meeting with Scouters throughout the Council. During his visit to several districts plans were made to conduct a rural extension conference in a county in each of the professional staff members service area this next fall. The final meeting will be conducted in November with organization of Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer units in each of the three districts. This is part of the long range program of extending Scouting in other counties in the council in the future.

Langen Announces Academy Openings

Interested Young Men Invited to Contact Him

Rep. Odin Langen today announced that a competitive examination will be held July 11 for all persons interested in appointment to the United States Air Force, Naval, and Merchant Marine Academies for the class beginning in the summer of 1961.

The Ninth district is entitled to one appointment for the Air Force Academy, one Naval appointment, and nominations for six state wide appointments to the Merchant Marine Academy. No Ninth district vacancies will occur at West Point in 1961.

To qualify for this examination, the applicant must be a male citizen of the United States, have reached his 17th birthday but not have reached his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1961, maintained a single marital status, and reside within the Ninth congressional district of Minnesota.

All individuals meeting these qualifications and who wish to participate in this examination may submit a letter of application to Rep. Odin Langen, Room 1120, New House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C., no later than June 15. All additional necessary information will be furnished upon receipt of the application in Congressman Langen's office.

Hospital Auxiliary Presents Spring Style Show Friday

This speech acquainted the group with the many and varied services offered in hospitals in the United States.

The lighter side of the meeting ensued with Mmes. Rudolph Sagmoen and George Westlein pouring tea and coffee. Those present feasted on hors d'oeuvres and delicacies prepared and served by Mrs. M. G. Johnson, chairman; Mrs. A. F. Berge, Mrs. Wm. LaFave, Mrs. Ole Ekeren, Mrs. Justus Larson and Mrs. F. E. Tunberg. They were assisted by members of the hospital staff, Miss Rose Baldwin and Mrs. Wilma Arnold, and students in practical nursing Barbara Aanerud, Magdalone Hesse, Judy Kling and Yvonne Wells.

Following the "Daisy Tea" came the much anticipated event, the style show. Mrs. L. L. Tygeson read the commentary while the models displayed the summer fashions available at Thief River Falls apparel shops. Mrs. Curtis Nelson accompanied on the piano as the models appeared on the daisy bedecked stage.

During intermission, Mrs. Lowell Swenson, accompanied by Mrs Al Purdy, sang three selections. The ovation she received was answered with an encore, "Summertime."

At the conclusion of the program, door prizes donated by The Pharmacy, Parkins Corner Drug, J&B Drug and Gift Shop, Hall's and Mostue's were given the lucky winners, Mrs. Gaston Ward, Mrs. John Moum, Mrs. Otis Wold, Mrs. Wm LaFave and Mrs V. L. Carlson.

A group of auxiliary members arranged the fashion show and the decorations. Mrs. J. J. Womack headed the committee of the Mmes Everett Amundgaard, Robert Baker, O. D. Belch, L. N. Bennes, Russ Embury, L. W. Rullen, Gene Sjoberg, D. H. Stewart, L. L. Tygeson and Paul Wendt.

Serving as models were Mrs Everett Amundgaard, Mrs. Tom Anderson, Mrs Robert Bredeson, Mrs Gordon Dow, Mrs. Milo Gulbranson, Mrs. Les Ihle, Mrs. Doug Kemmer, Mrs. J. L. Nepper, Mrs. C. T. Reich, Mrs Clarence Stromberg, Mrs. George Van Rooy and Mrs. Clarence Waldera. Modeling children's fashions were Mary Gilbert, Sally Nepper, Julie Onken, Barbara and Patty Waldera, Ted Baker, Ward Kemmer, Bradley Onken and Jeffrey Wendt.

Council Votes to Proceed with Big Street Project

fited property owners was raised and the audience was given an information sheet itemizing estimated assessments. The total project cost has been set at $32,000, the assessment for a 40 foot wide street will be $1.65 per foot and $1.20 per property foot for a 30 foot wide street.

Owners of a 50-foot corner lot now having curb and gutter will be assessed $189.75 for surfacing the front and side street and 50-foot interior lots would be assessed $136.13 where curb and gutter are already installed on both streets.

Following the statements by affected property owners, the council adopted a resolution calling for the work to be done and directing the engineer to prepare plans and specifications. A motion was made and passed calling for bids to be opened May 31 for crushing rock to be used in the project.

A second resolution was passed calling for the preparation of plans and specifications for the replacement of the Sixth st water main from Main to Atlantic ave. and a third resolution was adopted that property owners on Sixth st be instructed to replace service connections unless they are now of approved material.

Following the hearing a request was made by Stanley Peterson, 326 Crocker ave. S. that something be done this year to do away with the dust problem. The council agreed that something must be done and discussed the matter at some length. The problem will again be discussed at the regular council meeting May 17.

Supt. Hamerski Tells of Area Crops Status

Alexandria to Thief River Falls

The weather though cold the early part of the week, warmed up nicely the latter part of the week. Growth of pastures and haylands is slow. Seeding of wheat, oats and barley is progressing rapidly. In the southern area from 50% to 100% of the wheat seeding and from 50% to 90% of the oats and barley seeding has been completed. In the northern area from 30% to 90% of the wheat seeding and from 20% to 50% of the oats and barley seeding has been accomplished. Although little rain was received this week moisture conditions are good. Because of lateness of seeding some farmers are rather apprehensive as to general prospects.

Newfolden to Orleans

Because of cold weather very little seeding was done the early part of the week. Good drying weather together with higher temperatures the later part of the week enabled farmers to make good progress in seeding of wheat, oats and barley. Potato planting has also started. Moisture conditions are good. Pastures and haylands making slow progress.

Viking to Rolette, N. D.

Very little rain was received this week. Little seeding was accomplished the early part of the week because of cold weather. With favorable weather the last part of the week seeding of wheat has progressed rapidly in most areas. It is expected that the acreage of durum will be increased and hard wheat decreased this year. In most areas seeding of wheat is 20% to 60% and seeding of oats and barley from 10% to 40% completed. However, in some areas, especially in the Red River Valley, most fields are still too wet for seeding. Because of good moisture conditions, general prospects are favorable.

Overly to Norma, N. D.

Field work is progressing rapidly now that the weather has moderated. From 10% to 40% of the durum and hard wheat is seeded. Top and subsoil moisture is very good though little moisture was received this week.

Dahlen to Orrin, N. D.

Very little moisture received this week. However, top and subsoil moisture conditions are good. From 70% to 90% of the durum and hard wheat and small percentage of the oats and barley seeding has been completed.

General

Cold weather continued the early part of the week. Later in the week favorable weather enabled farmers in nearly all areas to make very good progress in seeding of wheat, oats and barley. On the 5th subdivision and the southern part of the 1st subdivision seeding of wheat is nearing completion. Over the balance of the Winnipeg division, reports indicate that wheat seeding is less than 50% completed. Because of good moisture conditions in practically all areas, general prospects are considered good.

State DFL to Open Convention May 20 in Minneapolis

Nearly 1,300 Delegates and Alternates Expected at Biennial Conclave

Minnesota DFL'ers will meet in Minneapolis this weekend, May 20, 21 and 22 at the biennial state convention. Almost 1300 delegates and alternates will convene to endorse candidates for state office, for the U S Senate; to elect new party officers and to elect delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention.

The convention committees on platform and resolutions, constitution credentials, endorsements and rules will meet beginning Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

The convention proper will open at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday when Gov Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin delivers the keynote address. Following preliminary committee reports, Gov. Orville Freeman will address the convention in the afternoon at 2:00.

Saturday night Hennepin county will be host at a dinner where Sen Eugene McCarthy, Sen Hubert H. Humphrey and other party leaders will speak. Sunday the balloting on endorsements and nominations will take place and final committee reports will be adopted.

Mercury Hits 81 Here Last Friday

Spring Seeding Makes Rapid Progress Past Week

The high pressure system which has been over Minnesota since last week continues to hold and temperatures for the past five days have been in the 70's and 80's. Spring-seeding operations have made rapid headway in this locality.

Friday's reading of 81 is the warmest for the month with 77's recorded both Thursday and Sunday. Nighttime lows for the last five evenings have been above freezing with a 51 during the early morning hours of Saturday the highest.

Traces of rain were recorded both Saturday and Sunday but was hardly enough to settle the dust. Late Sunday afternoon, the area was treated to a beautiful double rainbow.

Partly cloudy today and tonight with cooler readings today have been forecast and the temperature at 9 a.m. was 67. Tomorrow, occasional cloudiness with little temperature change is expected.

Low humidity has been predicted for today with a high in the low 70's and an average overnight low in the 40's.

EARLY HARVEST of red clover seed on the Birdean Anderson farm a half a mile east of St Hilaire brought a gratifying return. From 20 acres he was unable to combine last fall Mr. Anderson states he recovered 4,000 pounds of No. 1 clean seed and 500 pounds of No. 2. After turning the swaths once he was able to complete the combining on Saturday, May 7.

Air Force Station at Baudette Plans Open House May 21

Radar Installation to Be Open to Inspection from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Baudette Air Force station will be the scene of an Armed Forces Day open house Saturday, May 21, similar to that staged by the 692nd Radar Squadron in May, 1959.

More than 5,000 people toured Baudette Air Force station last year to help the base and the Air Force celebrate their mutual observance of Armed Forces Day.

Theme for this year's observance will be "Power for Peace" on parade. The gate to the Air Station will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free.

Captain Paul J. Sobonya, station commander, and officers and airmen from the radar station will be on hand to greet visitors and escort them about facilities of the $1,500,000 Air Force radar installation.

For the convenience of both youngsters and their parents, a nursery will be located near the main gate. Refreshments and movies depicting the Air Force mission will be included on the visitors' itinerary.

The 692nd Radar Squadron (SAGE) was organized in September, 1959, and began operating as an integral part of the Duluth Air Defense Sector and 30th Air Division in December, 1959.

Mission of Baudette station, along with other radar installations thruout the north central United States, is to operate and maintain radar and radio equipment as directed by headquarters 30th Air Division, Madison, Wisconsin.

Don Waage Given High Post in FDIC

Former TR FMan Joins Deposit Insurance Corp.

Don Lester Waage has joined the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as an assistant to the chairman of the board in the capacity of director of publications and information, Jesse P. Wolcott, chairman of the board, announced today.

Mr Waage has been assistant manager for finance and secretary of the finance committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for the past four years. From 1954 to 1956 he served as director of public relations and bank promotion for the Minnesota Bankers association.

Waage is a graduate of Lincoln high School, Thief River Falls, and received his B. A. from St. Cloud college, Minnesota. He was a graduate student at the University of Minnesota and will receive his master's degree in public relations from American University, Washington, D.C., in June.

Ayrshire Auction Averages $1,027

Top Animal in St. Paul Sale Fetches $3,000

A four-year old cow purchased by a Red Wing, Minn., breeder brought the highest price of 35 animals auctioned in St. Paul May 7 in the most successful National Ayrshire dairy cattle in 14 years.

R. B. Graves, owner of Mor-Ayr Farm, Red Wing, paid $3,000 for "Jon-Ell Grand Butter Maid," consigned by John Knipp & Sons of Lindsey, Ohio.

Average price on 35 head was $1,027. It was the first sale average over $1,000 in 14 years.

Second highest price paid was $2,750 for "Lippitt Vista," a bred heifer consigned by Robert L. Knight of Hope, R. I., and purchased by William H. Ashton of Edgemont, Pa., who was reelected president of the national Ayrshire Breeders Association at the dairy cattle group's 85th annual convention held here in conjunction with the national sale.

Sixteen of the 35 animals, consigned from top Ayrshire breeding establishments of the United States and Canada, were purchased by Minnesotans. Fourteen of the animals brought over $1,000 each.

Hibbing Track Squad Wins Beaver Relays

The powerful Hibbing Bluejackets track squad easily won the team honors in the 18th annual Beaver Relays held at Bemidji on Saturday. Hibbing, picking up points in every event on the twelve-event program, and winning eight firsts, rolled up a total of 67 7/12 points in the Class A competition. In second place, with 24 points, were the Roseau Rams; while Alexandria scored 17 points for third place. Other team point totals were: Coleraine, 13; Fosston, 13; Baudette, 11; Park Rapids, 9½; Thief River Falls, 6½; Mahnomen, 5¾; Crookston, 4¾; Warren, 3½; and Bemidji, 2 7/12.

Two records were broken, both in the hurdle events, with Anderson of Hibbing skimming over the high hurdles in 15.1 to break the mark of 15.5 set by Howard Brown of Barnesville in 1952. And Anderson raced over the low hurdles in 20.2 to also break Howard Brown's old record of 20.4 set in 1952.

Jack Nielson of the Baudette Bears was a double winner, winning the 100-yard dash in the fine time of 10.1; and winning the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 5¼ inches. Ronnie Thompson of Grand Forks held the 100-yard dash mark with a 9.9 set in 1949; and Grand Forks' John Bennett is the broad jump record-holder with a leap of 21 feet set in 1949.

On Tuesday, May 17, at 7:00 P.M. on the Lincoln high school athletic field, the Prowlers will be hosts to a quadrangular meet, with Plummer, Middle River, and Warren joining the locals.

The summaries:

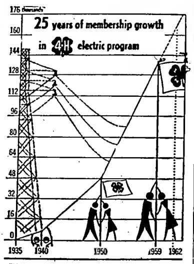
Coast-to-Coast vs. Starekow Clinic



The opening round of competition in the trap shoot league schedule for 1960 was held last Thursday evening, and twenty-one shooters marked up "25"." Tony Dorn of the Pharmacy squad had the line actual-bird twenty-five, with the other shooters reaching that figure with their handicaps.

The Wilson Bros.' squad had four twenty-fives — Sandy Wilson, 21-1; Roy Peterson, 22-6; Al Tonder, 21-4; and Orv Feragen, 18-8 — as they scored a 124 to 119 over the Northern Chevrolet. For the Chevy team, Walt Jung, 20-7, and Walt Fisher, 19-8, had twenty-fives.

The Times squad, with three twenty-fives — Clarence Mattson, 23-2; Bob Mattson, 22-3; and George Mostue, 22-6 — defeated the league-champion Coast-to-Coast team, 122 to 121. For the champions, Fred Mittlestadt had and 18-7, Darrell Wood a 21-4, and Emil Malwitz a 19-8.

The Pharmacy, paced by Dorn's twenty-five straight, and with Russ Embury having a 20-8 and Ray Johnson a 21-4, defeated the Oen's Appliance, 121 to 117. Orvis Olen, with a 19-6, and Hank Storhaug, with a 20-5, had "25's" for the losers.

Gene (Pancake) Gaer's Ben Franklin squad chalked up four twenty-fives as they won by default from the Starekow Clinic squad. Dr. Jim Disse had a 22-4, Bill Ranta a 17-8, Bob Baker a 19-8, and Don Lawrence a 19-7.

This month marks the 25th anniversary of the 4-H Electric program sponsored by Westinghouse and the Cooperative Extension Service.

From a beginning of sporadic leadership and limited information in less than half the states, the program has developed into a highly successful activity in 50 states involving trained leaders and special educational materials.

During the last 10 years, enrollment has steadily risen from 48,000 boys and girls to the all-time high of 138,000 in 1959.

Teenagers' interest in electronics and engineering has undoubtedly spurred participation in the electric program, according to Extension surveys.

Next fall the top winner from each state will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as a guest of the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. The six cited for national honors will receive $400 Westinghouse scholarships.

A farm pond on the George Koosman farm in Swift county is filling both private and public needs. County agent J. L. Edman points out that for Koosman, the pond provides water for livestock. For the public, the pond slowed spring runoff so the township road nearby no longer suffers erosion. The culvert through the road handles the reduced runoff easily.

Drainage helped change the landscape on Rudy Locken's farm in north Beltrami county. Morris Blackburn, SCS technician, says that in 1958, Locken was disgusted with crops being drowned out and hay and pasture land flooded. With SCS help, Locken laid out an outlet drain and installed a half mile of it that September. It worked so well that the following year he laid out laterals into the original drain. Pastures too soggy for much use before now produce top quality forage. ASC cost sharing helped make the drainage possible.

"Best corn on the farm." That's testimony from Glen Nelson, Louisberg, after summing up results from corn on terraced land. He told Hector Olson, Lac qui Parle soil conservationist, that the terraces held more moisture, enough for a good corn yield in an otherwise mighty dry year.

Another testimonial for contour strips: A. L. Wilkerson, cooperator in the Rice county soil and water conservation district, had some strips laid out by SCS technicians last spring. After a full season of using them, he said "Those strips saved me a lot of soil and moisture. I plan to put in more in 1960." And he adds he will probably do some terracing on other fields, too.

Kart Racing Soon to Furnish Sport Here

One of the fastest growing competitive sports in the nation has begun to reach this section of the state and local spectators are expected to get their first taste of karting this spring and summer.

At first appearances, the diminutive four wheel racers look like toys which could be constructed in a short afternoon in the garage or basement and powered by a motor from the family lawnmower. After short exposure to the sport, this misconception is soon dispelled. The tinkering and modifications which go on are a fine art that requires both time and skill as well as a moderate outlay of cash.

Karting probably had its start in California three or four years ago and has grown rapidly because it offers competition for only a small investment compared to stock cars or micro-midgets.

Basically, a kart has a tube framework, four high speed wheels with pneumatic tires, a well designed steering mechanism, internal or disc brakes and a motor of from 2½ to unlimited horsepower. This, and a driver of no specific age, is sandwiched into a vehicle approximately 2½ feet wide and four feet long.

Don't let the size, the weight of about 150 pounds and the handful of motor fool you. A class "A" kart with a 2½ horsepower motor is capable of 35 to 45 miles an hour on the straight away and a class "B" kart with slightly less than 10 horsepower can average slightly over 50 miles an hour during extended endurace runs.

In competition sanctioned by national kart organizations, racers are divided into classes with class "A" restricted to motors costing less than $100 and less than 5 horsepower; class "B" from 5 to 10 horsepower, and class "C" over that limit. Regular four cycle engines once thought to be adequate, are unheard of on carts—they just can't fill the bill. Recently, two cycle engines modified from those powering chain saws have become most popula, and hold the majority of the records from coast to coast.

But, as with every new sport, there are those who have spoiled things for others by their actions. Karts, with a clearance of only a few inches between the seat of the drivers' pants and the ground were never designed for street or sidewalk use and the equipment does not meet licensing requirements.

Recently, one driven by a local youngster during evening hours collided with a pedestrian injuring his leg and requiring medical attention. Elton Cummings, police chief, had the kart impounded and warned youngsters and parents alike that the four wheel motor vehicle cannot be operated on the streets or sidewalks and that using them in this way is a violation of the law which will require arrest and an appearance in court. He added that the karts with their low profile, are also difficult to see and are endangering the lives of drivers.

Locally, karting will get a boost this year with the construction of a track 1/4 mile north of the fairgrounds. Ten acres have been leased to the North West Racing association for a three year period and both a track for stock car racing and a kart track will be ready in the near future.

At present, 11 karts are being constructed in Thief River Falls or are on order and others are expected to be purchased or built in the near future.

"Big things come in small packages" and the proof of the saying is when you see your first kart race this year.

Rani Will Speak to Odd Fellows

Care of Evergreens

Evergreens are among the most popular of the trees and shrubs for the home landscape. Like other shrubs, they need good care and maintenance to give their best performance.

Newly planted evergreens, both in windbreaks and in the landscape, should be cultivated to avoid competition from weeds and moisture. Cultivation should be shallow.

Evergreens planted in fertile soil will need little fertilizing. The tree itself will indicate when nutrients are lacking. Fertilizer may be helpful for trees which are growing slowly or for trees which have poor green color. Use a complete fertilizer with nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Apply it in early spring. As a general rule, apply ½ lb. of the fertilizer for each foot of tree.

It's usually best to prune evergreens in early spring while they are making new growth.

For more information on evergreens, get a copy of Extension Bulletin 258, "Evergreens," from your county extension office or from the Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

Leading causes of fatal home fires, according to a study made jointly by the U. S. Public Health Service and the National Safety Council, are combustible materials too near flames, falling asleep while smoking, starting fires with flammable liquids, and defective equipment.

Prowler Nine Blasts Bemidji Friday 12-1

Playing errorless ball behind the five-hit pitching of Arlan Hjelle and pounding the offerings of three Bemidji pitchers for 13 hits, coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers scored a decisive 12-1 win over the Lumberjacks in a game played on the Bemidji diamond Friday afternoon.

The Prowlers made short work of gaining a lead in Friday's tilt, scoring a run in the first inning, and piling up five runs in the third. Coach Skay's squad added a run in the fourth inning, picked up four runs in the fifth, and closed out their scoring with a run in the seventh.

In the third inning, Lietzow opened with a single, was forced at second on Hjelle's bounder to the mound. Paul Saurdiff lined a double to left field, scoring Hjelle. Gary Anderson reached first base on a boot by shortstop Fawbush. A double steal, with Anderson taking second and Saurdiff coming home, gave the Prowlers their second run of the inning. John Aune grounded out, short to first.

An error on Lietzow's ground ball with Bob Glas dropping the throw from Larry Higgins, and Hjelle's powerful two base hit up against the fence in right field accounted for the Prowlers' final tally.

While the Prowlers were tagging the Bemidji hurlers for solid base hits, the Lumberjack batsmen were having difficulty solving Hjelle's delivery. Hjelle retired the side in order in three of the first five innings, with Fawbush getting an infield hit in the fourth inning, and Glas drawing a walk in the fifth inning.

The Lumberjacks averted a shutout when, in the seventh inning, Glas again walked, advanced to third base on Higgin's looping single down the right-field foul line, and scored on Dean Fossand's fly ball to Mike Aune in right field, coming in after the catch.

It Was the First

Said a Bemidji fan, after the Prowlers had scored that 12-1 win over the Lumberjack baseball squad on Friday afternoon: "Why don't you quit picking on us? First it's basketball and now it's baseball." Those were joyous words to hear, believe us.

Looking back over our baseball records, and they are complete as far as the Bemidji rivalry is concerned, we find that Friday's victory was the first that a Prowler baseball team had scored over the Lumberjacks at Bemidji.

And there wasn't much doubt but that the Prowlers were the stronger and better team on Friday. Righthander Arlan Hjelle had control of the game all the way, but he didn't appear to have his usual scorch on his fast ball. And Hjelle admitted that he had been faster and sharper in his outings against Crookston and Roseau than he was on Friday. But we'll take Hjelle at his second best anytime.

It appeared, too, from the sidelines, that Bemidji's veteran Pete Barthelemy was missing some of his magic. Pete is a dedicated baseball player, and he is one of the better hurlers in Region Eight, but on Friday it seemed he was laboring and giving evidence of having a sore arm. There was no alibis from the Bemidji camp, and we have learned never to expect an alibi from a losing Lumberjack team. They are fine rivals.

And so it is a three-game home stand for the Prowlers this week, with Fertile, Ada, and Crookston due into the Fair Grounds on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. All three games will be played under the lights, with game time billed for 8 p.m.

Jack Goulet, who has been marking time on the sidelines while recovering from a left shoulder injury, will be given the pitching duties against the Fertile Falcons tonight, Monday. Hjelle will be available for the game against the Ada Vikings on Wednesday night, and if rangy Dwayne Stadum gets the nod for Ada, the fans will be given a pitching treat comparable to the Roseau Rams vs. Prowlers game last week.

Well Done, Oscar

Oscar Bakke and his Park Board crew are to be complimented on the work they have done in conditioning the Fair Grounds baseball diamond. The playing field is one of the finest in the district and region.

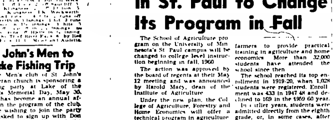
Oscar's boys put in quite a bit of clay sand fill on the skinned part of the diamond—and they intend to add some more later—and this face lifting process has been of great benefit to the infield play.

Ock is an old time Thieves player, having been a first rate catcher in his younger days, and he realizes that a well groomed playing field is the first requisite to building a baseball team. During the season the Fair Grounds diamond gets quite a workout, being the playing field for the senior baseball Thieves and Bums, the high school Prowlers, the Legion juniors, and the Midgets.

Grunt and Groan

The wrestling fans that were in attendance at the Auditorium Thursday night, and there was a goodly crowd on hand, appeared to enjoy the three bout program of professional wrestling that was sponsored and promoted by the Jaycees.

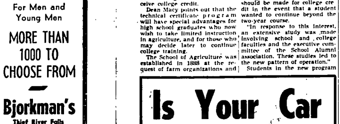
We have watched the 'modern' style of wrestling since the days when Abe Kashey and Dirty Dick Raines were villains that were able to stir up the local fans. We can recall one instance when a near riot occurred during a Kashey bout in the Arena, and the police were called in to quell the chair-swinging of the more rabid fans. But Thursday night's program, featuring such TV performers as Aldo Bogni, was as entertaining as any we have witnessed.



In the first match on the program, and which was the best of the evening, "hero" Roy McClarity of Winnipeg defeated Frank Townsend in a one fall match, winning in 26:38. In the semi final match, burly Aldo Bogni had too much weight and experience for his smaller and younger opponent, winning the one fall match in 21:58.

The feature match, a three fall affair, was won by Tiny Mills, a villain, who won the odd fall from agile Emile Dupre. Dupre, to the cheers of the partisan crowd, won the first fall in 12:19. Mills won the second fall in 5:08 and then made quick work of gaining the deciding fall, winning in 0:38.

It was an interesting evening, but as veteran Ludvig Monson said, "It really isn't wrestling, but it is first-rate tumbling." Monson was a top flight wrestler in this area during the early 1900's, and at 73 years of age he still appears able to engage in a bout or two.



The National Safety Council says these are the crucial areas of a car that can most easily become infected with "vehicle virus": brakes, headlights, rear lights, turn signals, tires, wheels, exhaust system and muffler, horn, rearview mirror, windshield wipers, and glass.

TURN TO PAGE 6 FOR ADDITIONAL SPORTS

Paul and Gary are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Klungness of rural Thief River Falls.

PAIR John, left, and Mike Aune join the Klungness boys in providing coach Skay's baseball Prowlers with brother combinations. John, a freshman, is a catcher and a third baseman, while Mike, a sophomore, has seen duty in right field and at first base. The two boys are active in basketball, tracks, and football in addition to baseball. They were baseball lettermen last season.

John and Mike are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arnt Aune of this city.

RLF Edged out by Prowlers 11 to 10

With the bases loaded with Eagles in the last half of the seventh inning, two men out, and the Prowlers leading by an 11 to 10 score, Arlan Hjelle was called in to pitch to Darrel Hinrichs, and the veteran righthander collected a strikeout to protect the lead and give coach Ralph Skay's club a district conference win in a baseball game played at Red Lake Falls Thursday afternoon.

Tonight, Monday, at 8 p.m., the Prowlers will play the Fertile Falcons on the Fair Grounds diamond; on Wednesday night, at 8 p.m., the highly rated Ada Vikings of district 30 will play the locals at the Fair Grounds; and on Friday night, also in an 8 p.m. game, the Crookston Pirates will invade the Fair Grounds for a district tilt against the Prowlers.

In Thursday afternoon's game at Red Lake Falls, the Prowlers appeared to have the game well in hand entering the seventh inning, and after tallying a pair of runs in the top half of the inning, the locals held an 11 to 5 lead. The Eagles, with Steve Demarais and Hinrichs hitting singles, and with Willy Hultin and Tom Byers drawing bases on balls, scored a run and ignited a rally.

Lowell Kalbakdalen struck out, but lead off batter Jim Fellman singled, scoring Hinrichs. Bill Phillion struck out. Douglas Theroux walked, forcing in a run. Paul Klungness replaced Saurdiff on the mound for the Prowlers and immediately uncorked a wild pitch, scoring a run. Jason Huseby was given an intentional walk, filling the bases. Demarais, at bat for the second time in the inning, walked adding another run and paring the Prowler lead to 11 to 10. Hjelle then came in to retire Hinrichs.

The game found Jim Wegge's consecutive hitting streak coming to end after the Prowler catcher had banged out seven straight hits. Jim opened his streak by getting "two for two" against Roseau here on Monday, and had a walk and two hits in three times at bat against Fosston on Wednesday evening. In his first three times at bat against the Eagles on Thursday, Jim drove out singles. In the seventh inning, after fouling off a couple of pitches, Wegge was called out on strikes.

Sharing offensive honors with Wegge against Red Lake Falls was Gary Klungness who scored four runs, had a single and a triple, and stole a pair of bases.

Agriculture School in St. Paul to Change Its Program in Fall

The School of Agriculture program on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus will be changed to college level instruction beginning in fall, 1960.

The action was approved by the board of regents at their May 12 meeting and was announced by Harold Macy, dean of the Institute of Agriculture.

Under the new plan, the College of Agriculture, Forestry and Home Economics will offer a technical program in agriculture. The certificate will be granted to students who complete 60 credits of course work.

Upon completion of this program—which would involve four college quarters—students who wish to do so may apply these credits toward a full four-year course for a B.S. degree.

Previously, students in the School of Agriculture did not receive college credit.

Dean Macy points out that the technical certificate program will have special advantages for high school graduates who now wish to take limited instruction in agriculture, and for those who may decide later to continue college training.

The School of Agriculture was established in 1888 at the request of farm organizations and farmers to provide practical training in agriculture and home economics. More than 32,000 students have attended the school since then.

The school reached its top enrollment in 1919-20, when 1,028 students were registered. Enrollment was 433 in 1947-48 and declined to 169 in the 1959-60 year.

In earlier years, students were admitted directly from the eighth grade, or, in some cases, after reaching a certain age.

Several years ago, the school program was changed to a two year course of six months each year and was intended primarily for high school graduates. Students did not receive college credit, however.

In recent years, Dean Macy says, "Students and alumni alike have felt that some provision should be made for college credit in the event that a student wanted to continue beyond the two-year course.

"In response to this interest, an extensive study was made involving school and college faculties and the executive committee of the School Alumni association. These studies led to the new pattern of operation."

Students in the new program will meet existing admission requirements of the College of Agriculture, Forestry and Home Economics — the same as for students enrolling in a four year program.

Courses presently available for the program include instruction in agricultural economics; animal, dairy and poultry husbandry; English and rhetoric; agronomy; entomology; forestry; horticulture; agricultural engineering; soils; public health; mathematics and biological sciences.

Under the school program, no students entered the home management or home economics program as first year students in fall, 1959. Therefore, for the time being, home economics will not be offered under the technical certificate program.

J. O. Christianson, who has been superintendent of the School of Agriculture since 1929, and in recent years director of agricultural short courses, will now devote full time to an expanded program of short courses and to his duties as contact officer for foreign students in the Institute of Agriculture.

Agent Explains Social Security Disability Rules

Plan Not Intended to Apply to Temporary Ailment, Says Kistler

In order to receive social security disability benefits, only those are eligible who have a permanent disability which is so severe that it prevents doing any substantial gainful work.

Walter D. Kistler, district manager of the Grand Forks social security office emphasized, "The disability which the claimant has must be a condition which is expected to last indefinitely and one which will not likely improve with time or medical treatment."

Many people think a partial, or temporary, disability is sufficient to enable them to receive disability benefits until they can return to substantial work and substantial earnings again. In effect, they believe that the social security disability payment is a "stop-gap" income on which they can depend until they are well enough to return to work. Mr. Kistler stressed that such provisions are not a part of the social security law.

"Rather," he said, "social security benefits are intended to provide some relief from loss of income due to a permanent disability." If the disabling condition will improve with time; or with medical treatment; or if the claimant can work at a job that is less demanding than his usual work, he will not be considered to be disabled under the social security law, and should not count on receiving disability benefits.

Mr. Kistler added that the local office has a booklet titled, "How Disabled Must You Be?" which sums up briefly the major points of the disability provisions in the law, and he suggested that anyone desiring further information should write or telephone the Grand Forks Social Security District Office, and ask for a copy of this booklet.

Pick Strawberries After Snow Flies

When snow fell at the beginning of last winter, a new variety of everbearing strawberry was still bearing heavily at Bemidji, Minnesota, and the cold berries were delicious. Here, a Minnesota lass in winter garb picks a basketful for short cake in November. The giant berries are from the extremely hardy new everbearing variety called Chief Bemidji, after an Indian leader of long ago. The sturdy plants will survive 40 to 50 degrees below zero without any winter cover. The new strawberry has been introduced this spring by Farmer Seed & Nursery of Faribault, Minnesota.

Concordia Offers Sixty Courses in Summer Session

Sixty courses in 15 departments will be offered in the 1960 Concordia College summer session beginning June 6 at Moorhead.

Courses are conducted at double speed, enabling the performance of a semester's work in courses taken, in the eight-week period. In some fields, such as beginning and intermediate German, the full-year course will be covered in the eight-week period.

Classes meet each morning five days a week. A student may earn up to nine semester credits in the summer session.

Registration will be held in Main building at Concordia college beginning at 8 a.m., June 6.

Bemidji College Opposes Creating One in Crookston

John Glas, assistant to President C. R. Sattgast of Bemidji State college, told Wednesday's task force hearing on state colleges in St. Paul that Bemidji was concerned about the university proposals for establishing branches at [illegible] Crookston and [illegible] Rapids agricultural schools.

"We beseech you not to hurt those people up there by breaking up [illegible] college and having three little ones instead," Glas said. "We have made quite a study and there just aren't enough students for all the junior colleges being discussed and there major colleges, too."

Editorials . . .

"Fear, the most unbecoming of our emotions, is terribly infectious, but I think that often its purely manifestations check rather than accelerate its spread. If, in a dangerous situation, one man is seen by his companions to be trembling or showing other symptoms of having lost his nerve, the spectacle acts as a sort of challenge or a warning, and may even be reassuring in a back-handed way. "At least," each of them feels, "that man is more frightened than I am;" and they take a firmer grip on themselves, summoning up pride to help keep fear at bay." —Peter Fleming

We Are United

Last week was a big week for news, both national and international. The American spy plane accounted for many headlines. The Summit meeting, getting under way in Paris today under very unfavorable circumstances, has been looked forward to with growing concern. An American nuclear submarine completed an undersea voyage around the world. Russia launched a space ship that now is in orbit. Protestant West Virginia gave Catholic Kennedy an overwhelming victory. It was an eventful week.

The events of last week were important not because they brought solutions for any of our problems but rather because they pointed up problems that remain unsolved. And the international problems with which we now are confronted have suddenly become more threatening.

Under the circumstances it is encouraging to know that here at home we are united. Leaders of the opposition party are to be commended for the position they have taken. Instead of being critical of the administration, and some criticism might be justified, they are standing firm with the administration, giving to President Eisenhower the assurance that he has the undivided support of the people of his country in his dealing with Khrushchev.

Prospect Not Good

The first reaction throughout the world to the spy plane incident was unfavorable to us, and the Russians took full advantage of the situation. Khrushchev exploited to the hilt the tactical advantage he had gained by the plane incident itself and also the manner in which our government first denied and then admitted the spy flight. He blasted President Eisenhower personally, indicating that he now is hoping that the President will not visit Russia.

The Khrushchev attack probably was most effective as it was directed at our use of bases in foreign countries for the launching of such spy flights. It is believed that planes of the type shot down in Russia are operating from bases in several countries bordering the Communist controlled area in Europe and Asia, and the incident probably has not been helpful to our relations with the governments of the small countries in which these bases are located.

But while the first reaction was not favorable to us, Khrushchev has helped us by overplaying his hand. As he has thundered on about American duplicity and Russian virtue he has gone so far afield in stating his grievances that he has made himself appear ridiculous, and later reactions from around the world have been more favorable to our side, as the vast spy system of the Communists and their repeated violations of the rights of other nations are recalled.

These late developments do not encourage the hope that the Summit meeting being held in Paris will accomplish good results. Certainly Premier Khruschev and President Eisehower are not going to be palsy-walsy and full of the spirit of Camp David. Fortunately the British and French representatives at the meetings will be helpful in maintaining orderly procedures. On the cheerful side, it might be well to keep in mind that sometimes we get the best results when we have every reason to expect the worst.

West Virginia

Regardless of how we feel about the qualifications of the candidates themselves, there is reason to be happy about the result of that West Virginia primary. Maybe it will serve the good purpose of taking bigotry out of American politics. The West Virginia victory strengthens materially the chances of Senator John F. Kennedy and with West Virginia out of the way let's hope that from here on in the campaign in both parties will be confined to proper campaign issues.

Kennedy may be hard to stop but there are other candidates to be reckoned with and there is no reason to believe that he has it in the bag at this time. From now on the candidates who up to this time have remained silent, probably will become more vocal.

Public Accounting

Elsewhere in this issue Boyd Holcomb expresses his views on public accounting, questioning a statement we made in commenting on the Sister Kenny Foundation fund-raising practices. Mr. Holcomb is justified in defending the profession of which he is a member. We have no quarrel with the Certified Public Accountants. As a group we hold them in high regard.

We do believe however, that there still is a need for a type of public accounting service that the CPAs are not providing. Getting back to the Kenny Foundation, the auditing firm that audited the records of the organization, acted honorably according to the code of ethics of the CPAs. It was in 1951 that this auditing firm uncovered fund raising practices that it considered improper, and refused to bring in a report that concealed these practices.

When Foundation officials objected to such information being included in the report the accounting firm withdrew, and presumably some other accounting firm that would make the kind of a report the Foundation officials wanted, was hired. The accounting firm that withdrew is to be commended.

But by merely withdrawing, the accounting firm did not protect the public interest. The facts were not revealed to the public until eight years later when a complaint was filed by a private citizen. We may not have all the facts but, according to the information we have, we think we are justified in saying that the public is entitled to complete reports on the financial operations of organizations such as the Kenny Foundation, and that the records of such organizations should be audited by public accountants in the public interest.

How far we should go in providing for public accounting in all matters involving public funds probably is questionable. We have never heard anyone question the desirability of having our banks, and other financial institutions handling public funds, audited by bank examiners who are on the public payroll and are hired for the sole purpose of protecting the public. We respect our bankers, and of course we trust them, but we get a little comfort too out of knowing that they show a little concern about when the bank examiners are going to drop in.

And for the same reason we believe that the city and school district should be audited by the public examiner rather than by an auditing firm hired by the city and school officials. These city and school officials handle a lot of dollars that are not their own. Of course we trust them, but we would like it better if they were audited by auditors that they themselves did not hire and that they could not fire.

No system is fool-proof, and there are good arguments for and against public audits. Maybe there is a middle ground that might be considered. The public is now protected to the extent that a small group of citizens may petition for an audit by the public examiner, and if the petition is in good order then such an audit must be made.

Officials are concerned about the danger from grass and forest fires and are asking people to be extra careful in disposing of matches and cigarets and extinguishing camp fires. This is one appeal that should have wholehearted support.

Two North Dakota counties are considering consolidation. That would be a step in the right direction for many counties that were large in area in the horse and buggy days but which the automobile has made needlessly small for efficient administration. But people living in a county seat town are not going to vote for giving up the prestige and the payroll that such a designation means.

Taxing the Little Children

(Wall Street Journal)

A big to-do is blowing up in New York State over the tax collectors' attempts to make parents include earnings of their children—teenagers' baby-sitting or caddying, for example—as part of the parents' taxable income.

Understandable enough, many mothers and fathers are aghast at this idea. They point out, among other things, that it is a sure way to destroy any incentive the children might have and thus is probably a contribution to juvenile delinquency. And indeed there is something of a reduction-to-absurdity air about this business of taxing the little children.

But without getting into the deeper philosophical implications, we would just like to ask a simple practical question. Whatever gave the tax-takers the improbable idea that Junior's earnings add anything to Father's?

No English Need Apply

(Financial Post, Montreal)

It's against the law in New York state to advertise or even ask for an English secretary, meaning one born and bred in England. This is a ruling by New York's Commission Against Discrimination.

Executives in New York, it seems, have recently made a fad of "hiring English."

English girls, they think, have some special attributes that recommend them. They're allegedly polite to the clients. Their accent is said to add "chic" to the premises. They don't chew gum—it is said.

Most of this, of course, is sheer nonsense.

But the commission sternly points out that the law forbids an employer to "specify" race, creed, color or national origin" when taking on staff.

But what if he needs a secretary who speaks Swahili or served in the Chinese women's corps under Chiang Kai-shek or has a cousin in a Peruvian embassy?

Laws like this New York one are, of course, proliferating all over North America. In practice, their effect is to restrict, in a wholly illegitimate way, the individual's freedom to associate with, hire or work for whom he pleases.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Summit meetings would be much better if they were held on the level.

Well, here's another one about Texans, doggone it.

Seems this fellow walked into a store and stumbled across a small object. Looking down he saw that it was a money clip containing several $50 bills.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

I've had the April 7th issue of the Times on my desk for a month as a reminder to drop you a line to present a little different viewpoint from the one expressed in the editorial article "Public Accounting Needed."

The heading can't be disagreed with, and I hope I have misunderstood the reasoning behind some of the content.

When your article mentions "public accountants," does it refer to professional accountants, CPA's who are certified by their state to hold themselves out to the public as qualified in the art of accountancy? In the same sense that a doctor or lawyer is licensed. Or does the article intend to suggest that an army of government auditors should be hired, with a legal requirement that they audit every public and semi-public organization?

Many, perhaps most, of our public and semi-public organizations need periodic examinations by auditors who have met reasonably severe qualifying requirements. All of our states now have provisions for "certifying" accountants. The qualifying requirements are not unreasonable.

A logical question for the public to ask is, "Would a CPA be apt to criticize his meal-ticket?" The answer is that we do it every day, that's the purpose of our existence. If a client wants an outsider's unbiased opinion, he retains a CPA. We are not employees of our clients—we are retained as independent professionals. We want to be fair to our clients of course, but our all-consuming concern is to be sure that our name is not attached to anything that conceals or fails to reveal any kind of misrepresentation, that our signed opinion cannot reasonably be attacked as being biased or prejudiced.

We are not dependent upon one "employer," one client. Any practicing CPA has a number of clients. The loss of even the largest one, because of criticism by the CPA, would cause only momentary disappointment, not financial disaster or loss of livelihood. And losing clients for that reason does happen to all of us. If it doesn't happen occasionally, we become concerned that we may be losing our punch, not doing our job.

To require that every public and semi-public organization be audited in the public interest does not seem unreasonable. To require that the audits be conducted by government auditors is another matter. On this point I realize that I am prejudiced. We must have independent CPA's, private businessmen, who have developed a rigidly circumscribed profession to perform just such services, and I wouldn't want to see them replaced by a Civil Service gang under Big Government's politically jaundiced eye.

Perhaps your article gave me the wrong impression as to its intent—if not, I hope the above long dissertation will be of some interest to you.

Paul Revere's Steins

Evidence of the importance of beer in Colonial America is found in the relatively large number of fine, silver steins made by the master silversmiths of that era. Paul Revere, best known for his midnight ride from Charlestown to Concord, was among the famous early American silversmiths who made steins (or tankards) for beer.

Beer Mayonnaise

Here's a Mayonnaise dressing that's given a new tang with beer. It's ideal for coming summer salads, on coleslaw, and with cold cuts. Take ½ cup beer and 1 cup Mayonnaise. Gradually add the beer to the Mayonnaise. Makes about 1½ cups.

20,000 Farms

Farmers benefit from the Brewing Industry in the United States each and every year. Last year U. S. brewers purchased 113 million bushels of grain. This is close to 4 million acres worth—or equivalent to over 20,000 average size Minnesota farms!

Enjoy your springtime puttering more with the light, golden refreshment of a glass of Minnesota-made beer. It's good to know that Minnesota-made beer is among the finest in quality of any in the world. Beer belongs. Enjoy it.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Regular Meeting
March 11, 1960

The regular meeting of the Thief River Falls School Board of Independent School District No. 564 was held at the office in the Lincoln High School at eight o'clock on March 11, 1960.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Pearson. The following members were present: Burtness, Disse, Helm, Howick, Olson and Parkins. Superintendent Mickelson was also present.

Motion was made and seconded to approve the minutes as read. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Burtness, seconded by Howick to accept the resignations of the following teachers:
Barbara Paulson—Second Grade
Beatrice Gehlis Adams—Second Grade
Gladys Barron—Girls Physical Education
Marilyn McGinley — Business Education
Barbara Nagg—Home Economics
Motion carried.

Motion made by Rufus Olson, seconded by John Burtness to accept the request of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Martini to excuse Bruce Martini from school attendance. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Parkins, seconded by Burtness to approve the recommendations made by Mr. Burger, Librarian for added books to the library. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Helm, seconded by Disse to contract the Holcomb Auditors to audit the Independent School District No. 564's books for the school year 1959-'60. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Helm, seconded by Disse to discontinue the Teacher Training Department for the school year 1960-61. Motion carried.

The following letter was received from Mr. T. C. Engum of the State Department of Education:

Mr. Charles Christianson
County Superintendent
Roseau County
Roseau, Minnesota

Dear Mr. Christianson:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter regarding the continuance of the Teacher Training Department at Thief River Falls for the school year 1960-61. We have discussed this matter with Dr. Dean M. Schweickhard, Commissioner of Education and reviewed the minutes of the State Board of Education of March 1959.

In the minutes of the State Board on this matter of the above mentioned date, the following resolution appears:

"In motion of Mr. Petrich, seconded by Mr. Huntley, the Board voted to retain its present budgetary request for the continuance of the existing Teacher Training Departments in high school through the first year of the biennium 1959-1961, but that the Board would have no objection if an amendment is initiated by the 1959 Legislature to provide an additional year's appropriation for the second year of the biennium (1960-'61) or this purpose."

Dr. Schweickhard and I both agree that the time has arrived when a definite action should be taken to discontinue the Teacher Training Departments, and that the recommendations to the State Board of Education would be submitted on the basis of the above quoted resolution. No requests will be made for funds for the continuance of the Teacher Training Departments after the current year. It is necessary to take definite action on this matter at this time so that the school boards of the districts maintaining teacher training departments can take definite action towards either termination or the modification of the contracts that the boards have with the instructors of the teacher training departments.

Sincerely yours,
T. C. Engum, Section Chief
Elementary & Secondary Education

Motion was made by Helm, seconded by Howick to give Elwood Lirenstrom the authority to act as the agent for the Independent District No. 564 and to sign the application for the Beech Aircraft. Motion carried. The following resolution was drawn.

Be it resolved that the School Board of Independent District No. 564, Thief River Falls, Minnesota hereby authorizes Elwood Lirenstrom to act as the agent for the Independent District No. 564 and to sign the application for Beech Aircraft Registration Number N3-5011 and Beech Aircraft Registration Number N3582.

Motion was made by Howick, seconded by John Burtness to pay the bills as audited by the auditing committee:

General Fund	$ 17,908.48
Hot Lunch	10,247.84
Vet Training	624.35
Capital Outlay	497.55
Debt Redemption	497.55
National Defense	3,400.02

Motion was made and seconded to adjourn until a special meeting could be called by the Chairman. Motion carried.

ADJOURNED MEETING

March 19, 1960

The adjourned meeting of the Thief River Falls School Board was held at the office in the Lincoln High School on March 19 at 8:00 P.M.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Pearson. The following members were present: Howick, Disse, Burtness, Parkins, Helm, and Olson. Absent: none. Superintendent Mickelson was also in attendance.

The Board listened to a committee of teachers.

The Board took no action on teacher salaries because the Board had taken action in March 1959 for the two years, 1959-'60 and 1960-'61.

Motion was made by Olson, seconded by Pearson as per the agreement that the Board add the last two steps on the salary schedule. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Disse, seconded by Howick that all purchases be made locally as much as possible. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Burtness, seconded by Parkins to continue the Department of Secondary Director for the school year 1960-61. Motion carried.

Voting, Yes—Parkins, Burtness, Pearson and Olson
No—Helm, Disse, & Howick

The following amendment was made by Pearson, seconded by Burtness:

The job of the secondary director be limited to the school year 1960-61 and that the Board study the durability of replacing the job of secondary director with a business manager. Motion unanimously carried.

Motion was made by Olson, seconded by Burtness that the salary of Joseph Iverson, Secondary School Director, be set at $8600 for the school year 1960-'61. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Helm, seconded by Disse, to discontinue the contract of Miss Bernice Troumbly as there will be no funds available for the teacher training department for the coming school year. Motion carried.

Motion by Howick, seconded by Burtness that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried.

Saturday, April 23rd at 11 a.m. Janice Ilene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Sorby of Gully, became the bride of Edward Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Miller of Brainerd, Minn. The First Lutheran church at Northwood, Iowa was the setting of the double ring ceremony with the Rev. W. L. Otterdale, officiating. The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white taffeta with an overskirt of white net and tulle lace, with a high neck, and fingertip pointed sleeves. Her finger tip veil was held by a crown of sparkling shells. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses with white satin streamers. Shirley Nelson, of Duluth, friend of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a dress of powder blue polished cotton, with an overskirt of powder blue chiffon, white accessories. She wore a cultured pearl necklace, a gift of the bride. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations. The groom wore a light blue suit, the best man, Ronald Sorby, brother of the bride, wore a dark blue suit, each wore a white carnation boutonniere. For her going away dress the bride chose a beige sheath dress, with white accessories. Her going away corsage was of white carnations. After a honeymoon trip through Iowa and the Crystal Caves in Wisconsin, Eau Clair, Wis. the couple will make their home in a mobile home in So. St. Paul, where the groom is employed with Ashback Construction Co. Their address is: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, 1001 Church St., Box 22, So. St. Paul, Minn.

The Library Corner

by Eleanor Olson

Two very nice things have happened to the Library in the last few weeks thanks to two thoughtful and generous people.

The first was an expression of gratitude and appreciation in the form of a fifty dollar check from a man who grew up in Thief River Falls, Clifford Buoen. He lives in Minneapolis now, but he says he has never forgotten all the happy hours he spent in the Library when he was here. He used the Library constantly as a youngster and as an adult maintained an active interest in it. He accepted a position on the Library board and served on it for several years.

Now, although his job with the Soo Line has taken him to the "Cities" he still continues to offer his support. Knowing how very badly the Library needs additional room for expansion Mr. Buoen asked that his check be used to start a Library Foundation that someday will make that possible. No doubt he also hopes his gift will encourage others to add to the fund to make Library expansion a reality.

The second nice thing that happened was the presentation of a beautiful new 50 star flag to the Library by one of its best friends and boosters. However, the flag is such a lovely big one that the old flag holder will no longer function properly. So the Library finds itself in dire need of a flag pole. Since new ones are quite expensive and funds are short, we'd like to find a used one. It seems possible that one of the school districts which no longer uses its buildings might have a steel pole that is no longer needed.

If any of our readers has an idea where we might find one I wish you would drop the Library a card. We'll have the flag displayed indoors where it can be seen, but we hope it will soon be swinging in the breeze outside to remind one and all that the U.S. has two big new bountiful states that we all need to learn about.

Another item of note that I wanted to mention is the lovely display at the Library now of truly fine needlework. It consists of tatting and cutwork of Christine Giefer, a long time postal employee, who is meeting the challenge of contented retirement with this beautiful creative handicraft. Cutwork is her specialty and you will marvel as I did at its tremendous delicacy and dimension.

DOW | WEED AND GRASS KILLERS
Enjoy a bigger, more profitable flax crop . . .
CONTROL FOXTAIL with DOWPON
for only $1.15 per acre!

Tests show that control of foxtail can increase flax yields up to 35%. The picture tells why—heavier stands, cleaner harvesting, less dockage.
For low-cost control, spray your flax field with Dowpon®—one pound per acre, when flax is one to six inches tall. The cost is only $1.15 per acre—or at present prices, less than one-third the cost of a bushel of flax. Best of all, Dowpon does not require rainfall to become effective. Instead, it goes to work through the leaves, yet kills the entire plant—roots and all! A single spraying is up to 95% effective—and Dowpon will not harm underseeded legumes. Easy to mix, Dowpon is applied by either ground or aerial equipment. In addition, Dowpon kills other types of objectionable grasses. You can use it with other crops . . . along ditches and fences . . . wherever grass threatens to take over. Get your supply of Dowpon and other specialized Dow chemical vegetation killers from one of the Dow dealers listed below.

TEXAS — An "Air Scooter" that can skim along inches off the ground has been developed. Technically known as an air-cushion vehicle, the machine is 30 inches high, 53 inches wide, 85 inches long, and weighs 160 pounds. It gets up to 20 miles per gallon and can travel up to 25 miles per hour over roads, water, ice and snow.

Can Hummingbirds Read?

Instinct is a powerful and wonderful thing. It has been the salvation of many living creatures, and recent experiments with hummingbirds have thrown some interesting sidelights on it.

These tiny birds pump their wings at blurring speeds and burn energy at a faster rate than other warm blooded creatures . . . thirty times as fast as humans.

Where do the birds get this tremendous store of energy? It comes from nectar . . . a mixture of sugars formed naturally in flowers.

One ornithologist, Walker Van Riper of the Denver Museum of Natural History, offered hummingbirds a choice between a sugar solution and one containing a synthetic sweetening agent.

After weeks of observations, Mr. Van Riper reported: "A bird that tried the synthetic first took one dip, backed up with a little shudder (which is characteristic for something that tastes bad) then flew to the sugar cup. After a few tries, practically all the birds flew directly to the sugar."

Mr. Van Riper ascribed the "little shudder" to the taste factors involved. The birds did not like the synthetic taste. But another aspect could be instinct . . . hummingbirds have no stomach for foods whose nutritional value is reckoned at zero and the shudder undoubtedly expressed their feelings.

THERE'S A NEW REASON for watching that waistline: Insurance will most likely cost you more. Long-term studies which were just completed prove that the hefties are a much poorer risk for insurance companies than average or underweight clients. And now auto insurance actuaries are taking a long, hard look at recent medical tests which show that stouts don't drive as safely as regulars or thins.

CANINE CLEANLINESS: Veterinarians recommend that dogs' teeth be cleaned weekly with dry baking soda applied with a damp cloth . . . Quote from Fred Waring on the subject of rock 'n' roll: "I think music will survive it" . . . A New York restaurant now issues "guest certificates"—you give them to your friends who can charge meals to your account . . . If you keep luggage stored in the basement or any spot where it might be dampish, use a board to keep it off the floor. You'll prevent mildew this way.

BUSINESS COMPETITION affects all of us. Witness the effect of competition in the iron ore market. A few short years ago, Minnesota produced over two-thirds of the iron ore used. Today, we produce less than 50%. High quality iron ores from other states and nations have reduced Minnesota's share of the iron ore market. How does this affect us? Between them, iron mining companies and their employees spend more than $200 million in our State each year. Producing iron mines provide—provide for almost everyone, in one way or another. It's important to all of Minnesota that our iron mines continue to produce.

FEELING DISCOURAGED? It helps to remember that even the darkest hour can't have more than 60 minutes. To feel better fast, count your blessings. If this doesn't work—you can forget most of your troubles by wearing a pair of tight shoes . . . A UN report indicates that single gals ought to look to Alaska, Samoan Islands or Panama—where the men far outnumber the women . . . When the parents for whom she was baby-sitting telephoned to apologize for staying away so long, the frazzled sitter replied, "I understand. I wouldn't be in any hurry to come home either."

Facts Presented on Brucellosis Ailment

Several dairy herds in Pennington county have had "brucellosis or Bangs" infections in the last year. A series of five articles have been prepared by County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk and Dr. Kenneth Rye, veterinarian, to cover this problem. They will appear in the next several issues of the Times. The first article follows:

Brucellosis is a common communicable disease that threatens the health of both man and livestock.

Brucellosis is known by several other names. In man it is often referred to as Undulent Fever or Malta Fever.

In livestock it is also known as Bang's disease, infectious abortion or contagious abortion. Yet all these names mean brucellosis as they are all caused by the brucellosis organism. Let's use this one name, brucellosis.

To eradicate brucellosis, we must first know more about it; therefore let us see what brucellosis is in man.

Dr. Bruce, English army surgeon, found this disease among soldiers on the Island of Malta in 1887. Brucellosis organism was found in goat's milk and disease was known as Malta Fever. However the name Malta Fever has been changed to brucellosis in honor of Dr Bruce.

Some sources say that brucellosis in man ranks as the fourth most common communicable disease in the U.S.

Only one of 10 cases is ever diagnosed.

Four times as many men as women get the disease. Dr Spink, Professor of Medicine, U of Minn. stated that 20% of rural people admitted to University Hospital reacted to the disease.

Dr Bang, a Danish investigator, discovered these germs in cattle in 1896, hence the name Bang's Disease.

Losses to cattlemen:

In a beef herd the calf crop is the source of income. Sterility in cows is common in brucellosis herds, it makes the calf crop more hazardous and costly to raise. Brucellosis cuts the calf crop 40 per cent or more.

In dairy herds brucellosis cuts milk production 25-30 per cent. A great loss to dairymen. It cuts calf gain in beef animals.

Infected cattle need more veterinarian service. An infective herd needs extra veterinary service in removing retained-afterbirth, treating sterility, etc. However, do not overlook the fact that a livestock man needs a veterinarian as much as the farm family needs the family doctor.

Clean cow is a two-way cow deal. Packers and feeders bid on her. A brucellosis cow (note B brand on jaw) can be sold for slaughter only. This may mean a lower price.

How Brucellosis Acts

A. Man

Enters by mouth or through handling infected tissue.

1. Mouth-drinking raw infected milk.
2. Handling infected tissue — calving, castrating, butchering, etc.

Symptoms of the disease are fever, chills, and sweats, aching arms and back, severe headaches, difficult to be diagnosed.

B. Livestock

Brucella germs usually enter through the mouth.

The consumption of feed and water soiled with brucellosis germs is the greatest single factor in the spread of the disease. Germs also enter when cattle lick contaminated areas, older calves nursing infected cows, breaks in the skin, the eye, and possibly thru breathing or respiration.

Brucellosis is a blood infection. Upon entering the body, the germs enter the blood and lymph stream and are carried to various parts of the body.

Pregnant uterus furnishes ideal conditions for Brucella germ growth. Brucella infection in the uterus usually cuts off oxygen and normal nutrition to the calf; frequently resulting in death or premature throwing of the calf — aborting.

Abortion may occur any time after second month of pregnancy. Greatest number of abortions occur from the fifth to the seventh months. In this group, retained afterbirth and breeding troubles most commonly occur. During this time the cow is a germ spreader. Millions of brucellosis germs pass from the womb with the dead calf and discharge, which continues from 20 to 30 days.

Udders of a large percentage of infected cows harbor brucellosis germs and discharge them more or less continuously with the milk. The disease occurs more often in swine than in cattle. The disease may persist indefinitely unless affected animals are removed from the premises. Test and slaughter method is now the most effective means by which the disease may be controlled.

TOURS PLANNED TO RARE HISTORIC SITES

Designed to help Minnesotans know Minnesota better, several history tours are conducted each year by Minnesota Historical Society. At least five are projected for 1960, beginning May 15 with a one-day trek up the Minnesota Valley, ending with a three-day voyageur tour in September. Included in the mid-May jaunt into the past are the quaint old Harkin store and blood-stained Fort Ridgely near New Ulm, an early Winnebago agency, and a pioneer church at Belle Plaine. June 11-12 will cover logging operations in the Grand Rapids-Bigfork area, with a genuine lumberjack meal. June 26 an authentic Indian museum, gift of Mr. and Mrs Harry Aver, Vineland, will be dedicated. Later tours cover the St. Croix valley and the Border trails of the voyageurs. Details are readily available from the State Historical Society, St. Paul 1.

Respiratory Disease Continues Thru Year

Coughs, sneezes and wheezes will continue to affect many persons although winter, the most critical time for respiratory ailments is over, says the Minnesota State Medical association.

Chronic respiratory conditions asthma, hay fever, sinusitis and bronchitis affect an estimated 10 per cent of the nation's population.

Hay fever and asthma affect at least forty out of every 1,000 Americans in the civilian non-institutional population.

The respiratory disorder sinusitis (not sinus) has a prevalence of 59 cases per 1,000 population. Additional statistics pertaining to respiratory disorders indicate that more than 12 persons per 1,000 population suffer from chronic bronchitis. Other respiratory conditions, including chronic laryngitis, pharyngitis and deflected nasal partitions, are among the conditions found to affect at least 13 out of every 1,000 persons.

The medical association cites statistics which indicate that loss of time due to the common respiratory disorders, asthma and hay fever, account for at least 97 million days of restricted activity annually. About one-third of the total of 30 million were bed disability days.

Of the 55 million restricted days attributed to sinusitis, again approximately one-third were disability days. For bronchitis the count was 32 million days of restricted activity with 12 million causing disability days.

Economically speaking, respiratory ailments can also be costly. In terms of production, nine million production days were lost during the course of a year by asthma and hay fever sufferers; sinusitis, seven million; and bronchitis, four million.

Boys, according to the survey, are more subject to asthma and hay fever than girls. Figures show that the rate for males under the age of 15, was discovered to be 48 cases per 1,000 persons compared to 30 per 1,000 persons for females in the same age range. Without allowing for an age factor, the incidence of asthma and hay fever was found to be almost evenly divided with 49 cases per 1,000 males and 47 cases per 1,000 females.

MEET MINNESOTA'S 13 VALUABLE MINERALS

When the game "Animal, Vegetable, or Mineral" was popular not long ago, many people realized perhaps for the first time that just plain water is a mineral. This fact is brought home by a University "Report to the People on the Economic Future of Our Region". In an imposing list of our mineral resources, water is mentioned as existing in "exceptionally good supply." The report continues, "Water will become a very important factor in the future location of industry, and Minnesota should profit by its fortunate position." Our state is credited with considerable actual or potential value in clay, copper, dolomite, granite, iron, manganese, marl, nickel, other rocks (limestone, travertine, etc.) sand, sandstone, shale, and water. "For over 60 years Minnesota has been the world's largest source of iron ore," says the report, "and it is probably not an exaggeration to say that Minnesota produces a greater variety of beautiful granites than any other state."

GROWING COMO ZOO TEEMS WITH INTEREST

What's the difference between a monkey and an ape? What do captive grizzly bears eat? How far can a kangaroo jump? Ever see a real stork? A king vulture? Can a macaw bite? Lots of interesting questions are answered in the Como Park Zoo Guide, or, better still by a visit to the zoo. It's just across Snelling Avenue from the well known Minnesota State Fair Grounds, in northwestern St. Paul, covering with modern facilities 18 acres of the famous 450-acre park around beautiful Lake Como. Beginning as a deer pen in 1897 Como Zoo grew to such importance that Frank "Bring-Em-Back-Alive" Buck was an honored guest at the dedication of the main building in 1937, and the zoo is now a major Minnesota attraction. The property and responsibility of the City of St. Paul, Como Zoo is staffed by a foreman, a keeper and dietician, a director, and several attendants. Promotion and expansion are in the hands of a Volunteer Committee headed by three prominent Minnesota executives.

Fast Time Begins Sunday at 2 a.m.

A number of years ago, the song, "I Didn't Know What Time It Was," was popular.

The ballad will lose what little popularity remains next Sunday morning, May 29, when the state changes to daylight saving time at 2 a.m. to the utter confusion of many and the dislike of others.

In its simplest form, the confusion can be alleviated by setting your clocks AHEAD one hour when you go to bed Saturday night.

The Northwest Trails and Lake of the Woods buses, North Central airlines planes and the railroads will remain on standard time. Trains, buses and planes will arrive and depart one hour later when daylight saving takes effect.

Television programs originating in North Dakota will be on standard time schedules while clocks here are one hour ahead. Programs from east and west coast origins have already caused some confusion which will be intensified Sunday.

At least the whole state of Minnesota will be on a single time standard this year. To change or not to change was an issue last year for one of the legislature's greatest battles and he attorney general was censured by the supreme court for his advice to metropolitan areas that they had the authority to fix their own times.

This year, the governor's office, supreme court, administrative offices, the cities and towns and every home will have one time—daylight saving time.

Remember, turn your clocks AHEAD one hour before you retire Saturday night. By the time you get used to this change it will be time to set the clocks back again.

1960 Community Chest Meeting to Be Held Monday

The annual Community Chest meeting has been scheduled for Monday evening, May 23, in the court house assembly room beginning at 8 o'clock.

A review of last year's drive will be given and plans will be discussed for a United Fund organization and drive this year.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

Buddy Poppies on Sale This Weekend

VFW Post and Auxiliary Ask Public Cooperation

"Wear your Veterans of Foreign Wars Buddy Poppy on Memorial Day", is the request of Commander Russell Berger of the local VFW post. He explained that the poppy is a symbol of respect for those who gave their lives in the service of their country and should be worn on the day given over to their memory.

The local VFW auxiliary with Mrs. Agnes Israelson in charge, will begin the sale on Friday, May 20. Mrs. Israelson announced that auxiliary members are asked to turn out to sell poppies in three shifts. The first at 11 a.m., the second at 2 p.m. and the last in the evening. The men will be out selling poppies this year and are expected to sell at their place of business.

3 Incumbents Are Retained on TRF Education Board

The annual Thief River Falls school district election Tuesday evening was one of the most unexciting on record, only slightly more than 100 votes being cast. Reelected without opposition for three-year terms were incumbents Rufus Olson, with 108 votes; John Burtness, 111; and Lloyd Howick, 107. Dr. M. D Starekow, former member of the board and not a candidate this year, received nine write-in votes.

T. R. Falls Circuit Holds Its Annual Convention in Trinity Lutheran Church

The spring WMF convention of the Thief River Falls circuit of the Evangelical Lutheran church was held May 12 in Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. There were 325 persons registered.

Pastor John Helgeson of Greenbush gave the convention sermon on the theme "Press Forward."

The general WMF president, Mrs. Peter Fosaum of Northfield, spoke using a theme, "Press Forward to the ALCW." She gave an informative message on how merger plans will affect the WMF.

The annual WMF scholarship was presented to Miss Coralie Christianson of Roseau. The $100 scholarship is applicable in the second semester at Concordia college in Moorhead. Life membership pins were presentd to Mrs. C. M. Isaacson, out-going president, and Mrs. Arthur Dale.

Because of the coming merger of the E.L.C. with the American Lutheran Church, and the United Evangelical Church, Pastor Reuben Wangberg of Trinity Lutheran, gave "A Look Toward the American Lutheran Church." A historical pageant was presented by the Roseau WMF under the direction of Mrs. Torliff Tweet.

The two WMF presentations were given by Mrs. C. L. Williams and Mrs. William Kaushagen of Thief River Falls on their respective departments, radio and TV and higher education.

School Board Fills Several Posts Tuesday

Arnt Aune to Head Vocational School; Beadle is Principal

The board of education of the Thief River Falls school district, at its postponed May session Tuesday evening, accepted the low bid of the Forkenbrock Motor Co. in the amount of $6,527 Wayne school bus body. Three other bids were received, all being within a narrow range.

The board adopted a resolution expressing its appreciation to Miss Betsy Legvold, who is retiring as principal of the Northrop school. It cited her "splendid services rendered to the children of the school district" and her devotion to the teaching profession. At the same time the board voted to offer the Northrop principal post to Philip Beadle, currently sixth grade teacher at the school. He indicated he will accept the position.

In other action, the board appointed Arnt Aune as director of the area vocational school for the ensuing year. He is now serving as acting director.

Resignations of Hartley Story, basketball coach, and Robert Gramstad, algebra teacher were accepted. Contracts with five new faculty members were approved, including Margaret Baril, now of Gary; Patricia Bjellos, 1960 graduate of Bemidji college; and Marion Gigstad of St. Hilaire, all of whom will teach elementary school classes. Richard Brooks, in addition to teaching upper elementary classes, will coach grade school football and hockey. Patricia Ann Heagley, graduate of Aberdeen, S. D. normal school, will teach girls' physical education.

The board signed a contract with the Minnesota State High School League for the athletic accident benefit plan. It also voted to set up a class for the educable retarded if a teacher can be secured.

Harry Simons of L. B. Hartz Wholesale conferred with the board relative to the firm's proposal to install a large underground gasoline storage tank in a location which would be near the west and north boundaries of the Lincoln school grounds. The board took no action on the matter other than to ask that the company first secure the approval of the state fire marshal's office.

Before adjourning, the board canvassed the vote cast in the school district election earlier in the evening, and declared that John Burtness, Rufus Olson and Lloyd Howick had all been reelected for three-year terms.

To Open Bids May 31 on City Street Project

Council to Sell Refinancing Bonds Thursday, June 2

Plans and specifications for the 1960 street improvement project in storm sewer district 2 were approved at the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, May 17, and bids will be opened May 31.

Included in the work will be the replacement of the water main on Sixth st. between Main and Atlantic aves., the replacement of service connections where needed, necessary curb and gutter work and the replacement of sidewalks where necessary in addition to the street surfacing. In a separate resolution, the council ordered that property owners in the area to be improved be required to have branch water and sewer installations made or it will be done and assessed against the property.

Following additional explanations by James Anderson of the bond consulting firm of Juran & Moody, St. Paul, the council passed a resolution approving the adoption of the general sessions law which allows the refinancing of city bonds. A second resolution was adopted calling for bids to be opened Thursday, June 2, at 7:30 p.m. on the sale of $113,000 in general obligation bonds. The move will make these funds available to the city by the first part of July.

The session, which was long and meandering, took up a variety of other matters including the opening of bids for a truck and police radio equipment.

Bids received for a two-ton truck for street department use were tabled until the May 23 meeting. Northern Chevrolet, Inc., bid $2,780 to furnish the truck with an old unit traded in; Forkenbrock Motor company's bid including the trade in was $2,650; Tunberg Motor company's bid including the trade in was $2,878 and C. Gustafson & Son, Inc., made a bid of $2,825 with a trade in.

A resolution was adopted to accept the bid of the Motorola Communications and Electric company of Minneapolis to furnish a radio base station and a transistorized mobile transceiver for the police department for $1,137.

Lloyd Knutson, 1209 LaBree ave. N., appeared before the council to ask that an alley be established in the 1200 block between Main and LaBree aves. The matter was referred to the street committee for study. Knutson also asked that something be done to prevent the accumulation of drain water from the highway in a coulee which has become a breeding place for mosquitoes. He suggested that water be drained into the storm sewer. The matter was referred to the city's consulting engineer.

Art Nelson, 805 Seventh st. E., asked that surplus dirt from city projects be used as fill in a low area near his home that has become a breeding place for mosquitoes.

SIX HUNDRED dollars was turned over to the Thief River Falls Foundation by the Northrop School PTA Monday night. Philip Kays, president, presenting the check in this amount to L. B. Hartz, vice president of the Foundation. The fund will be administered by the foundation for the purposes prescribed by the PTA, to be determined at a later time, probably for loans to students preparing for teaching, according to Mr. Kays.

In accepting the money in behalf of the Foundation Mr. Hartz explained briefly the purposes of the organization. With the $600 presented by the Northrup PTA the Foundation will have a total of $4,294.74 in trust for various purposes. Eight loans to students totalling $2,550 have been made, two of which have been repaid, he said.

The money turned over to the Foundation was a balance of the profit the organization earned two years ago when a home talent program was presented at the Lincoln High School auditorium.

Salvation Army Notes Its 80th Year in U.S. and 53d in T. R. Falls

On March 10, 1880, the first contingent of the Salvationists arrived in New York City from England to bring the Salvation Army's religious and social welfare ministry to this country. After 80 years in the United States, the Salvation Army has grown to 1274 corps, or churches, with a membership of 251,928.

Beginning Sunday, May 22, the 80th anniversary of the establishment of the organization in the United States will be observed during National Salvation Army Week.

The Salvation Army of Thief River Falls will be taking part in this observance with special events and services. A window display in the Ben Franklin store will show the various services available thru the local post, with some information on the local level included, and a radio interview and ½ hour program over KTRF is being planned. The St. James Citadel Band of Winnipeg, Canada, will be featured in a weekend of activities, including a concert at Knox school Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., and books will be presented to the library.

The Salvation Army began its work in Thief River Falls in August, 1907, making 53 years of

Showers Tuesday Halt Planting Bee

Rain Tuesday afternoon interrupted a planting bee on the Albert Busse farm south of Hazel where relatives and neighbors assembled in the morning with 12 tractors to put in Mr Busse's crop. Continued rain Wednesday further delayed the work but it will be resumed as soon as conditions permit, according to Mrs. Dave Christensen. Most of the work Tuesday morning was limited to dragging and discing but some seeding was also completed she said.

Participating in the bee were Morris Mogen, Carl G. Larson, Henry Sandberg, Henry Burstad, Carl Peterson, Donald Erickson and Clair Larson. From the Wylie community were Alvin Willard, August Hinrich, Vernon Knaack, Richard Weiss, LaVerne Schultz, Alvin Peterson and Dave Christianson.

Mr. Busse is hospitalized at Rochester and has been unable to get any of his spring work done.

Two Men Thresh '59 Crop in May

George Zachar and Kenneth Sanders, both of the Mavie community, completed harvest last week of clover fields which had not been threshed last fall. Zachar threshed sweet clover bundles, and Sanders combined red clover which had laid in swaths over the winter. Both reported good yields and excellent quality.

Attorney General Renames Voldness

Walter F. Mondale, Minnesota attorney general, today announced the reappointment of Perry Voldness as assistant attorney general assigned to the state department of taxation.

Voldness, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Johnson, is a native of this city and graduated from Lincoln high school in 1942. Prior to joining the staff of the attorney general, Voldness was engaged in the private practice of law in Minneapolis.

In 1955 he joined the staff of the attorney general and was counsel for the state department of agriculture. Since 1956 he has been chief counsel for the state department of taxation. Mr. Voldness resides in Bloomington, Minnesota, with his wife, Donadean, and their three children.

Four-H Share the Fun, Good Grooming Event in Auditorium May 23

4-H'ers will take the stage in the 1960 Pennington county Share the Fun festival to be held in the Thief River Falls Auditorium Monday, May 23, according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Acts entered to date are: Bonnie Finstad, Rocksbury, monologue; Ronnie and Gloria Philipp, Smiley; Carol Stenseth, Gloria Philipp, Nancy Newton, JoAnn Kraemer, Smiley; Anita, Linda and Sharon Swanson, Linda Anderson, Lynette Paulson, Marilyn Johnson, Highlanding, musical; Karen Moe, Steiner, solo; Margaret Hillyer, Angela Gregory, Steiner, novelty; Kathleen Torgerson, Steiner, solo; Karen and Lorna Moe, Steiner, duet; Catharine and Judy Oski, Mavie, musical; Marlene Rolland, and Sheryl Rolland, St. Hilaire, tap dancing; Margie Vik, St. Hilaire, piano solo; John Vik, St. Hilaire, solo; Jeanette Nelson, Silverton, piano solo; Milton Leiran, Silverton, humorous monologue.

A good grooming contest will be held with the Share the Fun event. The good grooming contest will start promptly at 7 p.m. (daylight saving). It will be followed immediately by the Share the Fun which is expected to begin at 8:30 p.m. Both contests are to be held at the city Auditorium.

Any 4-H'ers is eligible to enter. Acts may be in one of four classes: musical, dramatic, folk and square dancing or novelty, stunt or skit. The number of participants is not limited. Whole clubs are urged to plan an act, Stelmaschuk says. Each performance should be no longer than six minutes. Accompanists need not be club members.

Share the Fun originated in 1949 as a Search for Talent contest co-sponsored then, as now, by the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service and Cargill, Inc. No winners are chosen. District and state participants are picked on the basis of their ability to contribute to a well-rounded entertainment program. The program offers fun and fellowship for participating 4-H'ers. It also encourages creativeness.

Area Lions Share in Zone Meeting Here Wednesday

75 Club Members and Ladies Enjoy Dinner and Program at Elks Club

Seventy-five or more Lions and their ladies from five area clubs shared Wednesday evening in a zone meeting and ladies night program in the Elks club rooms. Clubs represented included McIntosh, Karlstad, Warren, Hallock and Thief River Falls.

Carl Olson of Karlstad, deputy district governor, presided over the program, which included short talks by Norman Peterson, president of the local club; Sig Quam, zone chairman; Ben Jansen of Hallock, international councillor; and James Parkins, district governor. Quam also presented a gift to the zone secretary, Arman Sannes of McIntosh, in appreciation of his efficient services.

The meeting was concluded with a lively entertainment program, including skits by Karlstad club members, and numbers by a Winnipeg trio composed of Frank Giltrain, emcee, and Burks and Arlene Baker.

Welcome .87 Inch Rainfall Arrives Here Wednesday

Will Benefit Pastures and Spring Seeding, Now Nearly Half Completed

The .87 inch of rain recorded Wednesday, May 18, and the continuing drizzle today is "very welcome," according to Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agent.

Although there is no general shortage of moisture in the soil, the rain will promote the growth of pastures, which were quite dry and will also be beneficial to grain already planted.

Stelmaschuk said that about 40 to 50% of the total seeding has been completed with some farmers finished with their spring work except for flax and corn.

Showers and a few thunderstorms have been predicted for today and tonight by the KTRF weather station followed by decreasing cloudiness tomorrow. Little temperature change is expected today or tomorrow.

Highs today should be from 60 to 65 and cooler readings are predicted for tonight with lows in the 40's.

Highs this week have ranged from 65 Wednesday to 77 Sunday and lows from 38 early Tuesday morning to 55 this morning.

Mrs. Agnes Larson returned last Friday from Inverness, Mont. where she spent a week visiting her mother and other relatives.

Enlarged Gamble Store Sets Grand Opening May 19-21

Gambles enlarged and remodeled store at 208 LaBree ave. N. will have its grand opening today, tomorrow and Saturday, May 19-21, featuring a sale which started this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

According to Stanley Pindson, store manager, Gambles will be open every evening during the grand opening until 9 o'clock with free coffee and doughnuts served.

Featured in this issue of the Times is the two-page advertisement of the events during the celebration, and some of the specials which will be on sale.

Roses will be given to the first 200 ladies who enter the store each of the three days. Free door prizes are also being offered with drawings three times each day. Registration for the drawings is without obligation.

The store, which recently doubled its ground floor space with the addition of a section on the south, has been able to expand its lines of merchandise with the increased facilities. Everyone is invited to visit the store during the grand opening, to meet the personnel of Gambles and to take part in the festivities.

Audience Enjoys LHS Vocal Concert

Groups Perform Tuesday under Ulseth's Direction

Included in the program were selections by the 60-voice concert choir, the 70-member junior high school chorus, the girls' sextet and boys' quartet. Ben Martin supplied a baritone solo, and Mark Chommie a piano solo.

Janet Dahl, Duane Lian Are Married May 7 in Gatzke

Miss Janet Ann Dahl, daughter of Mrs. Pauline Dahl of Gatzke, became the bride of Duane Lian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Lian of Grygla, Saturday, May 7, at the United Lutheran church of Gatzke.

Miss Mardella Shager played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Duane Thompson as she sang, "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," before the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Elmer Dahl of Minneapolis, was attired in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta which featured a bouffant skirt with a lace overskirt and tiers of ruffles accenting the front. The fitted bodice was styled with a lace collar and long sleeves that came to a point at the wrist. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations on a white Bible, a gift from her mother.

Miss Linda Foldoe of Plummer, friend of the bride, attended as maid of honor with Miss [illegible] Lian, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. Their [illegible] styled dresses were of light blue and they carried bouquets of yellow roses and white carnations. Their pearl earrings and necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Mrs. Dahl, mother of the bride, chose a light print dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding while the bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress with white accessories. Their matching corsages were of yellow roses and white carnations.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlors with approximately 150 guests attending. A four tiered cake tipped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, baked and decorated by Mrs. Juel Aune, centered the bridal table. Mrs. John Loven and Mrs. Albert Brandt, aunts of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake while Mrs. Luella Solbert, friend of the bride and Mrs. Edward Schmidt, sister of the bride, poured. Waitresses were Laura Sorenson, Elaine Koskela, Mrs. Gene Berg and Mrs. Al Borch.

Miss Joyce Lease, friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest bok while Margaret Fultz, Mrs. Larry Dahl and Mrs. Jo Jean Monson received and arranged the gifts.

The bride is a graduate of the Middle River high school and teacher training dept. of this city and is now teaching at the Grygla school.

The bridegroom is engaged in farming near Grygla where the young couple will be making their home.

Relatives and friends from Hillsboro, Cummings, and Fargo, No. Dak.; Duluth, Minneapolis, Hibbing, Roseau, Plummer, Thief River Falls, Minnesota; and LaCrosse, Wisconsin attended the wedding.

Girl Scout Troop 94 Host to Roseau Scouts

Girl scout troop No. 3 of Roseau presented the program "Fire Prevention" over station KTRF Saturday, May 14, under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Cephus Crocker.

Following the program, the girls, Mrs. Crocker and Mrs. Johnston, also of Roseau, were entertained at Tindolph Park with "Games around the World" and a noon cook-out by Girl scout troop No. 94 of Thief River Falls under the leadership of Mrs. M. Simon and Mrs. K. Lindberg.

State Federation of Women's Clubs Met in Litchfield

The sixty sixth annual convention of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs was held at Litchfield, Minn., May 3, 4 and 5. The theme of the convention was "We Must Prove Ourselves."

Special emphasis was given to the departments of conservation, education and community affairs. Workshops were held on program planning, international affairs, public speaking, parliamentary procedure and legislation.

National officers in attendance were Mrs. Henry Smith, chairman of the department of education, and Mrs. Dexter Arnold, third vice president.

Exhibits consisted of yearbooks, scrapbooks and art. Mrs. Fred Mittelstadt was one of the winners in the art division, her entry being an oil painting. She is a member of the Laurel group and received a certificate of honor.

Mrs. Millard Peterson, a member of the DeCor group, was named Ninth district art chairman and Mrs. C. W. Vorachek will continue as Ninth district legislation chairman.

Henry Dau Announces Daughter's Betrothal

H. S. Faculty Man Speaks to Rotary

Cliff Wiklund Shows Film on Occupational Training

Cliff Wiklund, coordinator of the distributive education sequence at Lincoln high school, showed a film on the occupational training program and gave an explanation of the local program at the regular noon meeting of the Rotary club Monday.

Wiklund told the Rotarians that the program was of benefit both to employers and employes and asked that students be allowed to train in additional business places to permit the expansion of the local program.

Supt. Irwin T. Mickelson, president of the club, told members before the program that a few larger schools in the state are trying to have the state abolish the system of providing equalization funds to schools like Thief River Falls and are asking that all schools be put on a system which provides only straight state aid.

This would make it necessary to increase the levy about 50 mills to make up for lost aid, Mickelson said. He urged that club members contact their legislators and express their opinion to a change in the school aid law.

Seeding Limited in Conservation Reserve Program

Farmers Warned to Bear Restriction in Mind in Doing Spring Planting

Farmers who have placed part of their cropland in the Conservation Reserve have an important crop acreage limitation to consider before completing their planting this spring, according to Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

That limitation is the acreage of Soil Bank base crops that may be planted on the farm. In general, the Soil Bank base crops include the grains, row crops and oilseed crops.

When part of the cropland on a farm is placed under a Conservation Reserve contract there is a permitted Soil Bank base acreage established for the farm. The permitted acreage then becomes the maximum acreage for Soil Bank base crops that may be grown under the contract. On farms where all the cropland has been placed in the program, the permitted acreage of crops for harvest is zero.

In addition to the limitation of acreage devoted to crop production, the contract also provides that the cropland retired into the Conservation Reserve must not be grazed nor a crop harvested from it, nor can noncropland be brought into crop use.

A. Christopherson Local Pioneer, Dies At Anoka

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Christopherson will be conducted Friday, May 20, in Duluth.

She was born Sept. 12, 1890 in Excel township, Marshall county, where she attended school and grew to womanhood.

In 1915 she was united in marriage to Carl Christopherson in Thief River Falls and following their marriage they made their home in Holt for approximately ten years, after which time they moved to Duluth where she has since resided. She has been a patient at the Anoka hospital for the past five months.

She is survived by two brothers, Arnold and William Steinhauer of this city and two sisters who live in Duluth. Her husband preceded her in death in 1942, also two brothers.

FRIDAY, May 20, has been proclaimed Straw Hat day in Thief River Falls, the day when the battered and winter-weary headgear is replaced with the lighter and airier headgear of the more temperate days that are here. Present at the reading of the official notice and to try the latest in summer hats were, from left to right: Roy Lee, president of the city council; James Womack, president of the Union State bank, Mayor Orin Green and Stanton Dahlen, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan association.

Mrs. John E. Havel Dies in Owatonna

Succumbed Monday; Lived in TRF More Than 40 Years

Mrs. John E. Havel, for more than 40 years until 1953 a resident of Thief River Falls, died early Monday morning in the Owatonna hospital at the age of 65.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday morning at St. Peter and Paul Catholic church at Mankato. The body is lying in state today at the Green Funeral Home, and graveside rites will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Bernard's cemetery.

Rosary will be recited this evening at 7:30 at the Green Funeral Home, and again Friday morning at 10:30.

Born in Wells, Minnesota, October 21, 1894, Mrs. Havel came as a child to the Badger and Greenbush vicinity. She was married in 1912 to John E. Havel, long-time compositor with local newspapers, and lived in this city until October, 1953, when she moved to Mankato. For the past eight months she had been in a nursing home at Owatonna.

The surviving family includes two sons, Cyril of Thief River Falls and Jerome of Little Silver, New Jersey; and four daughters, Mrs. James Howley (Martha), Good Thunder, Minn., Mrs. Edward Schindler (Angeline) of Barnesville, Mrs. W. W. Wyant (Vivian) of Red Bank, N. J., and Miss Marjorie Havel of Mankato.

Also surviving are a brother, Frank Lubinski of Crookston, and four sisters, Mrs. Albin Dostal of Badger, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Waterloo, Iowa; Mrs. Theodore Nowick Truman, Minn. and Mrs. Paul Dulas, Wells, Minn.

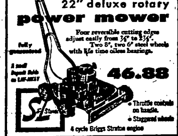
$100 was donated to the Friends of the Library at the organization's first executive board meeting Monday evening, May 16, by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The check was presented to Curtis Charlson, center, president of the library association, by Lloyd Quesnell, left, president of the A.M. Senstad lodge No. 436 of the union, and Robert Looker, right, secretary-treasurer. In making the presentation, the lodge president said that his group had become aware of the library's needs for expansion and support and wished to do all they could to help.

Railroad Trainmen Give $100 to Friends of the Public Library

Friends of the Library were the grateful recipients of a check for $100 from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at its first executive board meeting at the library Monday night.

The check was presented on the behalf of the Union by its president, Lloyd Quesnell, and Robert Looker, secretary-treasurer. Also in the presentation delegation was Henry A. Brennan who has been a member of the Brotherhood for 44 years.



Mr. Quesnell said in presenting the check that his group had become aware of the Library's need for expansion and support and wished to use this means to express their desire to do all they could to help.

At Monday night's meeting the following committees and committee heads were named and approved to form the executive board of the Friends of the Library.

Coordination of all activities, Mrs. Milton D. Starekow and Mrs. J.J. Womack. Membership, Mrs Sigurd Folkedahl. Finance, Ray Ulferts. Publicity, Mrs. Harold C Olson. Display, Mrs. Lloyd Bennes.

Book clubs and interests, Virgil Burger. Liaison with library and its board, Mrs. Hans Chommie. Ideas, Mrs. A. E. Jacobson. Library expansion, Lloyd Quesnell.

The membership drive for Friends of the Library will be held throughout the summer. Adult memberships are 50 cents. Junior memberships for 25 cents will be accepted and encouraged to make the organization a family affair. The first general meeting will be held when membership is completed in the fall.

Final Rites For Edwin B. Olson Were Held May 17

Funeral services for Edwin B. Olson, a resident of St. Hilaire and Black River township for more than 40 years, were conducted Tuesday, May 17 at 2:00 p.m. in the Sinding funeral chapel with Rev. Reuben Wangberg officiating. Interment was made in the Greenwood cemetery with the Sinding funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Olson died Saturday, May 14, at the Northwestern hospital at 82 years of age.

He was born April 28, 1878 in Watonwan Co., near St. James, Minnesota. There he was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith, attended school and grew to manhood. He moved to Minneapolis in 1912 where he was employed and was united in marriage to Randie Iverson there October 26, 1914. They made their home in Minneapolis until 1919 when they moved to Crookston and since that time have resided in Wylie township, Black River township and in 1956 moved to the village of St. Hilaire.

His survivors include two sons, Clarence of Thief River Falls and Russell of St. Hilaire; two daughters, Clara, Mrs. Lawrence Harder of Thief River Falls and Gladys, Mrs. Sargent Cantwell of Oregon; also one sister, ten grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his wife, one daughter, one son, two sisters and five brothers.

Chester W. Beyer Succumbs; Rites To Be Held Today

Funeral services for Chester W. Beyer will be conducted Thursday afternoon, May 19, at 2 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran church in Red Lake Falls with Rev. A. C. Seltz officiating. Military services will be under the direction of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion with the Petterson funeral home of Red Lake Falls in charge of arrangements. Interment will be in the Wylie Lutheran cemetery.

Mr. Beyer, 63, a resident of Wylie township, rural Red Lake Falls, died Sunday evening, May 15, at the Bethesda hospital in Crookston where he had been a patient for the past three weeks. He had been in failing health for the past nine months.

He was born June 18, 1896 at Lake Benton, Minnesota, where he attended school and after graduation attended an Automotive school at Detroit, Michigan. He was a veteran of World War I, entering the service in 1918 and serving overseas with the American Expeditionary forces. Following his discharge he was employed in Michigan.

On Feb. 28, 1920 he was united in marriage to Beatrice Lampe at Lorain, Ohio, where they made their home until 1927 when they moved to Los Angeles, California. In 1933 they moved to a farm in Wylie township where they have since resided.

Mr. Beyer was a member of the St. John's Lutheran church of Red Lake Falls and was very active in civic and community affairs, serving on the school board, as town assessor and also assisted in forming the Red Lake Electra Cooperative.

His survivors include his wife, two sons, Chester T. and Irving Beyer, both of rural Red Lake Falls, one daughter, Jean, Mrs. George Weinberg of Brookfield, Wis., 16 grandchildren, two brothers and five sisters. He was preceded in death by one son.

Law Men Report Quiet Week Here

Car Is Stolen and Home Break-in Last Week-end

Another relatively quiet week was reported in and around the city by local enforcement officers, with neither the sheriff nor highway patrol reporting accidents.

A minor traffic mishap, a car theft and a home broken into were reported to police this week. The traffic mishap occurred Monday at 11 p.m. when a car being backed from the curb on Second st. between LaBree and Horace avenues by Albert G. Anderson, city, struck a passing car driven by Ole K. Lerol in the right rear fender, causing $15 damage to Lerol's car.

At 11:54 p.m. Monday Gary Forsberg, city, reported his car, a 1951 Plymouth, stolen from where it was parked near Second st. and Horace av. The car was discovered 10 minutes later parked near the Eagles hall.

The Harvey Hanson residence at 120 S. Kendall was broken into last weekend while the family was away on a fishing trip, police said Hanson reported. The north side door of the home had been locked by barring it with a knife wedged into the jamb and someone had forced it open, bending the knife. However, nothing was reported missing.

Junior Chamber to Enjoy Hospital Program Tonight

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet this evening at 6:30 in the Elks club roms, Bruce Hall, retiring president, stated today. He added that Norman Peterson, administrator of Northwestern hospital, will supply the program, including a motion picture, slides with explanatory commentary, and vocal selections by a group of student nurses.

Many Forfeit Bonds in Municipal Court

Numerous forfeitures of bonds on various traffic and other violations were noted at Monday's session of municipal court, held before Judge H. O. Chommie.

City police cases were most numerous. In a hearing Saturday, James A. Jacobson, Viking, pleaded guilty to having an illegal muffler and was fined $10.

Robert J. Veloski, Grand Forks, forfeited $30 bond on a careless driving charge, while Kendall L. Kalseth, Aurora, and Richard A. Kalseth, city, each forfeited $25 bond for having an open bottle of intoxicants in their car.

Margaret G. Burrow, Middle River, pleaded guilty to driving without a driver's license and was fined $30. Edmund L. Menglen, Fargo, forfeited $125 bond for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Vienna S. Grondahl, city pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $15, of which $5 was suspended.

Neither of Sheriff Charles Richards' cases showed Monday. Emmie Asp, Goodridge, forfeited $50 for fighting and Harvey Ellison, Goodridge, forfeited $50 for driving after license revocation.

All other cases were brought by the highway patrol. Russell H. Beiswenger, rt. 4, pleaded guilty to careless driving and was fined $15. Orlando J. Uggerud, Oklee, was fined $10 after pleading guilty to displaying license plates on a vehicle other than the one for which they were issued. John O. Uggerud, city, pleaded guilty to failure to display 1960 plates and was fined $10. Roger J. Swanson, St. Hilaire, forfeited $30 bond for careless driving, while Orrin P. Aune, rt. 2, Grygla, forfeited $17 for speeding and Milton D. Conklin, Glenwood, forfeited $20 for speeding.

PVT. EUGENE WECKWERTH FINISHES RADIO COURSE

Army Pfc. Eugene C. Weckwerth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil C. Weckwerth, Thief River Falls, completed the 25-week field radio repair course May 5 at the Army Signal school, Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. He was trained to maintain and repair radio equipment used in the field to sustain vital communications during actual combat conditions. Weckwerth entered the Army last July.

Many Problems Face Council at Meeting Tuesday

quitoes. No action was taken on the request but the council said it would consider the matter if any fill dirt is available.

Elton Cummings, chief of police, told the council that Mayor Orin Green would be attending the governor's safety meeting in St. Paul May 25 to receive a traffic safety award to be made to the city.

Cummings stated that people are going to the dog pound and releasing their dogs. He also reported that the pound had no facilities for segregating female dogs or those which might have rabies and asked that approval be given to fix up the pound. The request was granted.

The specific assignment of dog pound duties to the dump ground operator during his work period was made by the council following a lengthy discussion concerning the man's legal protection in his duties.

The city attorney was directed to draw up an ordinance prohibiting the use of go-karts on city streets.

Following reports by aldermen on streets in their wards which need dust control treatment, the council authorized Bob Jablinske, street commissioner, to order two carloads of oil.

The matter of a request by the Soo Line railroad that the city specify the shipment of materials for the new elevated water tank by Soo generated a long discussion involving legality and other aspects of the problem. Robert Wurst, city attorney, again told council members that inasmuch as the contract has already been let to the Chicago Bridge & Iron company, the city could not specify any individual carrier. A long and involved discussion followed with a resolution offered by Alderman E. B. Benson suggesting to the Chicago Bridge & Iron company that they ship their materials "by a railroad which has a direct route from Chicago to Thief River Falls." Aldermen Dahlen, Christianson and Lee abstained from voting on the grounds that the resolution was restrictive.

Following a report that the City Cab company at 305 Atlantic ave. N., will move its office building back from the sidewalk to conform to the established line and would make other changes, the council accepted the recommendation of Police Chief Elton Cummings that a license be granted.

Ole Ness, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, presented plans and specifications for a power auger for cleaning sewer lines and the council agreed to call for bids on the equipment to be opened at the regular June meeting.

A resolution was adopted approving the request of Inga Berg that she be permitted to extend water and sewer mains to service her property on Spruce ave. S. She will be absolved of all future assessments for these improvements.

Building permits totaling $17,200 were approved. They included: Lampert Lumber company, new dwelling at 435 Maple ave. S., $14,000; Willard Sletten, dwelling addition at 521 Fourth st. W., $1,000; Fred Grant, dwelling addition at 307 Kneale ave. S., $1,500; John Blskey, addition of six motel units at Falls motel, $16,000; Melvin Steen, dwelling addition at 322 Crocker ave. N., $600; and Arthur Bredeson, new dwelling at 305 Arnold ave. N., $15,000. A request for a building permit by William Kvalsten, Knight ave and Fourth st., for a $1,800 cafe was rejected because of the amount and the address as listed.

Moving permits were approved for the City Cab company to move its office building back from the sidewalk and to Adrian B. Nelson to move a garage from 415 Arnold ave. S. to 601 Eighth st. E.

Resignations by Alan Noreen, patrolman, and Devonna Noreen, waitress at the liquor store, were accepted.

Five appointments of summer recreation program employes were approved. They included: J. C. Plymire, custodian of Tindolph park from June 1 to Sept. 1 at $250 a month; Philip Beadle and Alan Adams as life guards from June 1 to Aug. 1 at $250 a month and Joe Mrkonich and Gene Sack as baseball coaches from June 1 to Aug. 1 at $250 a month.

Several communications were read including one from the Northwest Dairy Day association asking for facilities and help during Dairy Day; from the University of Minnesota juvenile officer's institute notifying the city of a meeting in June, and from the state department of business development on funds available for planning.

Robert Wurst, city attorney, reported on communications in regard to recent city census figures. Both the census offices in Crookston and Washington suggested that the disappointing figure for the city might be caused by building outside the city limits. A recheck has been asked by Congressman Odin Langen to see if an error has been made.

A final matter concerned the case of Carl Johnson, operator of the city dump ground, who was injured two years ago in his work when a tractor he was using went over an embankment. Johnson was a hospital patient for some time and a recurrence of a hip injury now makes it necessary for him to be on crutches. According to the report the man has used all his vacation and sick time and workman's compensation is not adequate for his needs. The matter was referred to the insurance committee which was instructed to see that Johnson is receiving all the benefits to which he is entitled.

HARD lines at Gambles are now housed in the south section of the store which was recently added. Everyone in the area is invited to attend the grand opening which starts Thursday, May 19, to see the new addition and the remodeled section of the original store when extra large grand opening savings are offered and door prizes will be awarded. In this section of Gambles are a complete line of interior and exterior paints and supplies, tools for the lawn, garden and the craftsman, auto supplies, sporting goods including boats and motors, utensils for the kitchen and many other offerings.

FARMERS on the left and their families, at right, turned out Sunday, May 15, to help Morris Johnson, whose farm is 14 miles southeast of Thief River Falls. Starting at 7 a.m., the 70 helpers plowed Johnson's fields, put in a crop of small grain and did other work around the farm while the women prepared the meals. By late afternoon, the work had been completed. Johnson, who was operated on at Northwestern hospital about six weeks ago, has been receiving treatment at University hospital but was at the farm to see the work being done. He returned to Minneapolis for further treatment after his friends had given him a helping hand. Gasoline and lubricants were furnished by the Midland Co-op truck at left.

service to this community and surrounding area. Some of the services available are: Christmas cheer, family service, Home league, missing persons bureau, Sunday school, transient aid, rest home services, maternity hospital, camps, plus many more. This special week gives an opportunity to become better acquainted with the work of the Army of the Helping Hand, these Soldiers without Swords.

To honor the Salvation Army in its 80th year of service in the United States, Mayor Orin Green proclaimed the week of May 22 to 29 as Salvation Army Week in Thief River Falls. Citing the organization's 53 years of service to those in need in this community, the mayor called upon the local people to express their gratitude to the Salvation Army during this time.

Acts will be selected from this festival for the district Share the Fun program scheduled for Clearbrook high school July 20. Six district festivals will be held in July. From these festivals 15 to 18 acts will be chosen for the state Share the Fun program held during the Minnesota State Fair.

Story Hour Series at Public Library Ends for Present

The story hour series at the public library will be discontinued for the present Miss Frances Shanahan, librarian, announced today. The success of the spring series can be measured by its excellent attendance, she said. But, there are so many other activities scheduled now as school draws to a close, that it was felt advisable to discontinue the series until school is out and Bible schools are over. Miss Shanahan added, however, that plans are being made for a summer series to begin sometime in July.

Extract of Minutes of Meeting of City Council City of Thief River Falls Pennington County, Minnesota Held May 17, 1960

A Regular meeting of the City Council of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, was held at Municipal Building and Auditorium in said City on Tuesday, the 17th day of May, 1960, at 8:00 o'clock P.M.

The following aldermen were present: Benson, Christianson, Dahlen, Ranum, Refsdahl, Lee, Rau and the following were absent: None.

RESOLUTION APPROVING MINNESOTA SESSION LAWS OF 1959, CHAPTER 90

BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, as follows:

1. Chapter 90 of Minnesota Session Laws of 1959, entitled "An Act Authorizing the City of Thief River Falls to Issue Refunding Bonds," is hereby approved.

2. The City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to file forthwith with the Secretary of State of the State of Minnesota, a copy of this resolution and a certificate, in accordance with Chapter 58 of Minnesota Session Laws of 1959.

Passed by the City Council this 17th day of May, 1960.

ROY G. LEE, President of the Council

Attest: L. H. Thorstenson, Deputy City Clerk

ORIN J. GREEN, Mayor

The motion for the adoption of the foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Member Rierson, and upon vote being taken thereon, the following voted in favor thereof: Benson, Christianson, Dahlen, Ranum, Rierson, Lee, Rau; and the following voted against the same: None; whereupon said resolution was declared duly passed and adopted by the vote of not less than a majority of the members of the Council, and was signed by the President of the Council and his signature attested by the Clerk. The resolution was thereupon ordered to be presented to the Mayor for approval.

Alderman Ranum thereupon introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

RESOLUTION DETERMINING NECESSITY OF ISSUANCE AND PROVIDING FOR PUBLIC SALE OF $113,000 REFUNDING BONDS

BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, as follows:

1. It is hereby found and determined that it is necessary for the City of Thief River Falls to issue and sell its negotiable coupon general obligation bonds in the amount of $113,000 in accordance with the authority conferred by Minnesota Laws of 1959, Chapter 90, for the purpose of refunding the principal amount of valid outstanding general obligation bonds of the City which mature in the current year, and for the payment of which no moneys on hand in the respective sinking funds for said bonds are sufficient.

2. This Council shall meet at the time and place specified in the form of notice herein contained, for the purpose of receiving, opening and considering sealed bids for and awarding the sale of said bonds, and the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause notice of the time, place and purpose of said meeting to be published in the official newspaper of the City and in the Commercial West, Minneapolis, Minnesota, not less than 10 days prior to the date specified for said meeting, which notice shall be in substantially the following form:

NOTICE OF SALE $113,000 REFUNDING BONDS CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, will meet at Municipal Building in said City, on Thursday, the [illegible] day of June, 1960, at [illegible] o'clock, for the purpose of considering sealed bids only, for the purchase of not less than par of $113,000 negotiable coupon general obligation refunding bonds of said City. Said bonds, of $1000 each, will be dated June 1, 1960, and will bear interest at a rate or rates to be designated by the successful bidder, expressed in integral multiples of 1/4 or 1/10 of 1% per annum, payable on December 1, 1960, and semiannually thereafter on June 1 and December 1 of each year, and will mature serially on June 1 in the amount of $[illegible] in 1961, $[illegible] in each of the years 1962 through [illegible], and $10,000 in each of the years 1976 through 1981. Bonds maturing subsequent to June 1, 1970, will be each subject to redemption and prepayment at the option of the City on said date and any interest payment date thereafter, at par and accrued interest plus a premium of $40, and the bonds maturing in 1976 and later years will be redeemable on June 1, 1965, and any interest payment date thereafter at par and accrued interest plus a premium of $40 for each bond redeemed prior to June 1, 1970. Principal and interest will be made payable at any suitable bank designated by the successful bidder. The City will furnish and deliver in Thief River Falls, Minneapolis or St. Paul, Minnesota, without cost to the purchaser and within 40 days after award of sale, the executed bonds and unqualified approving legal opinion of Messrs. Dorsey, Owen, Barber, Marquart & Windhorst of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Delivery elsewhere may be made at the purchaser's expense.

Each bid must be unconditional and must be received at the office of the undersigned Clerk before the time of said meeting, and must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check or bank draft in the amount of $2,260, to be retained as liquidated damages if the bid is accepted and the bidder shall fail to comply therewith. The bid offering the lowest net interest cost (total interest from date of issue to stated maturities, less any premium offered) will be deemed most favorable. No bid for less than par plus accrued interest from date of bond issue to date of bond delivery will be considered. Oral auction bids will not be received. The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informality in any bid.

Dated May 17, 1960.

BY ORDER OF THE CITY COUNCIL
L. H. THORSTENSON, Deputy City Clerk.

3. Each and all of the terms and provisions of the foregoing form of notice are hereby adopted as the terms and conditions of said bonds and of the sale thereof.

Passed by the City Council this 17th day of May, 1960.

ROY G. LEE, President of the Council

Attest: L. H. Thorstenson, Deputy City Clerk

ORIN J. GREEN, Mayor

The motion for the adoption of the foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Alderman Christianson, and upon vote being taken thereon, the following members voted in favor thereof: Benson, Christianson, Dahlen, Ranum, Rierson, Lee, Rau, and the following voted against the same: None; whereupon said resolution was declared duly passed and adopted by the vote of not less than three-fourths of the members of the Council, and was signed by the President of the Council, which was attested by the City Clerk. The resolution was thereupon ordered presented to the Mayor for approval.

State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.

I, the undersigned, being the duly qualified and acting Clerk of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, hereby attest and certify that

(1) as such officer, I have the legal custody of the original record from which the attached and foregoing extract was transcribed;

(2) I have carefully compared said extract with said original record;

(3) I find said extract to be a true, correct and complete transcript from the original minutes of a meeting of the City Council of said City held on the date indicated in said extract, including any resolutions adopted at such meeting, insofar as they relate to $113,000 Refunding Bonds of the City; and

(4) said meeting was duly held, pursuant to call and notice thereof as required by law.

WITNESS my hand and the seal of said City this 18th day of May, 1960.

Fertile Defeats Prowlers 9 to 1

Although limited to but three hits by the pitching of Jack Goulet, coach Chuck Johnson's Fertile Falcons, playing heads-up ball to take advantage of ten bases on balls and an epidemic of Prowler errors, defeated coach Ralph Skay's defending Region Eight champions, 9-1, in an inter-district baseball game played here Monday night.

On Friday night, in an 8:00 P.M. game, the Prowlers will play the Crookston Pirates in a district conference game on the Fair Grounds diamond. On Monday night, at 7:30 P.M., the Prowlers will play the Bagley Flyers on the Bagley diamond.

Goulet, making his first start injuring his left shoulder in the season-opening game against Goodridge, pitched creditable ball against the Falcons on Monday night, giving up but one earned run, that being tallied in the first inning. A two-out error allowed a pair of Fertile scores in the fourth innings; two errors and a pair of walks added a run in the fifth inning; two errors, a walk, a fielder's choice, and a sacrifice fly accounted for three runs in the sixth inning; and an error, two walks, a fielder's choice, and a caught pop foul, on which a runner scored from third, plated two runs in the seventh inning.

The Prowlers evened the game in the last half of the second inning when Arlan Hjelle led off with a double to the fence in right-center and scored when Paul Saurdiff looped a single into right field.

The locals had the bases loaded with one out in the fourth inning, but shortstop Rod Nelson snared John Aune's line drive and then ran over to take second base and double Jim Wegge for the side-retiring out.

In the sixth, the Prowlers again had the bases filled, with two men out, but righthander Bill Kostick struck out Goulet to snuff out the rally.

Saddle Club Plans for Horse Show Sunday, June 12

Plans for the horse show scheduled for June 12 by the Thief River Falls Saddle club were further developed at a meeting of the club Tuesday evening at the Joppru sales barn. Lunch provided by Mrs. Duane Manning was served following the meeting.

Arrangements were made to hold a get-together at Connie Haugen's place Sunday afternoon, May 22, to make further arrangements for the show. Members are asked to bring their horses if possible.

The next regular meeting of the club will be Tuesday, May 31, at 8:30 p.m. at Joppru's.

Erskine to Face Thieves Sunday In Season Opener

The seven-team Northern Minny league, one of the oldest baseball leagues in northwestern Minnesota, will begin play on its 1960 schedule on Sunday, May 22. Opening round games will find the Erskine Merchants meeting the Thief River Falls Thieves at Thief River Falls at 2:30 p.m.; the Bagley Merchants, the defending league champions, playing the Winger Tigers at Winger; and Gonvick, a new member in the league this season, playing Cass Lake at Cass Lake.

Few Complaints

The weather was favorable and, for the most part, the walleyes were accomodating, with the result being that last week-end's pike fishing season-opener was one the more memorable of recent years.

As usual the greatest concentration of anglers, and the greatest activity, by the fish and fishermen, occurred at Waskish. A carnival atmosphere prevailed as the three or four thousand fishermen congregated along the Tamarac river. In fact, so great was the congestion at the outlet on Sunday that game wardens were forced to regulate the boat traffic and keep the channel open.

Limit catches of walleyes were the rule, with the six walleyes being brought to net and on the stringer in an hour or less. The fishing on Saturday, from the early morning hours until about ten o'clock in the morning, was at its best in the river. The furious boat traffic, up and down the river, apparently "spooked" fish, and later on in the day it was necessary to move out into the lake and resort to trolling methods in order to "fill." A number of anglers had walleyed pike breakfasts on Saturday morning.

Lake of the Woods didn't attract the anglers in the numbers of former years, and this may have been due to the lateness of the ice break-up. In fact a sheet of ice lay out on the wide reaches of big Traverse on Saturday and Sunday, but this ice did not affect the fisherman who were at Morris Point and Wheeler's Point, and the fishermen having Ontario licenses who were angling off Sable and Burton Islands.

The limit catches that were brought in off Lake of the Woods were made up of walleyes that were of the two and three-pound average. There were a number of "lunkers" brought in, too. Mrs. John (Fran) Langseth caught a 9-pound 13-ounce walleye, one of the larger pike reported on the opening day. And we are informed, by reliable eyewitnesses, that a ten-year old youngster, fishing the Rainy river just off the Wheeler's Point, caught a 12-pound 8-ounce walleye. And did this youngster have a time in landing this fish!

A few of the sidelights of the Lake of the Woods fishing reveals that Arnold Kelly "showed up" such Master Anglers (they have the certificates of proof) as Harlan Huseth and Am Wysoski. Orvis Olen, as a true sportsman, gave the walleyes off Burton Island an even chance by fishing left-handed and using live bait.

While last week's fishing must be rated in banner headlines, it is probable that next week's fishing, and the Decoration Day week-end, will be better. Long Point, Rocky Point, and Springsteel Island on Lake of the Woods weren't very productive last week, because of the idle conditions, but these areas should be "live" from now on.

Corky's Progress

Clark (Corky) Johnson, the Bemidji Lumberjacks gift to Organized Baseball, has won five games in a row for the Springfield Giants of the Class A Eastern league.

In his fourth game, Corky recorded a two-hit shutout over Williamsport, winning by a 1-0 score. Last year as a member of the St. Cloud Rox pitching staff, Johnson had a four wins and twelve losses record in Class C Northern league competition.

In the five games to date, the stocky righthander has hurled forty-four innings, struck out thirty-eight batsmen, and has posted an earned run average of 1.02.

The Springfield Giants, leading the Eastern league with ten wins and eight losses as of May 12, is a farm club of the San Francisco Giants.

Corky was signed to a professional baseball contract a couple of years ago while playing with the Erskine Merchants of the Northern Minny league, receiving a considerable sum as a bonus.

The Season Openers

The city's senior baseball teams, the Thieves of the Northern Minny league and the Bums of the Pen-Ro-Shall league, will open their respective league schedules on Sunday.

Coach Jack Drury's Thieves will meet the Erskine Merchants in a 2:30 P.M. game at the Fair Grounds diamond; and Wally Grovum's Bums will travel to Plummer for a game against the Red Sox.

Drury announced that righthander Harley Drees will be given the pitching assignment against Erskine in Sunday's opener. The Merchants, who are managed by Ronnie LaChance, the former Red Lake Falls high school and Laker player, will perhaps rely on LaChance for the Sunday pitching duty. Game time is at 2:30 P.M.

The Bums, who were 10-5 winners over the Bagley Merchants of the Northern Minny league in an exhibition game played at Bagley on Sunday night, will be anxious to defeat the Plummer Red Sox and Arnold (Casey) Stengel. Last year, in a Pen-Ro-Shall league playoff game, the Red Sox upset the Bums. Righthander Stengel will hurl for the Red Sox, while manager Grovum will give lefty Fred Jensen the mound duties for the Bums. The Bums game at Plummer is a Sunday afternoon tilt, too.

Hockey Boosters Smelt Fry

Clarence Amiot of the city's Hockey Boosters club announced that a smelt fry will be held at the V.F.W. club on Friday, May 20. According to Clarence the chefs have plenty of fresh smelt, and the serving will continue until all of the diners have been "smelted."

The serving will begin at 6:00 P.M., and at fifty cents a plate the customers are sure of receiving a bargain. The net proceeds will be used for the city's hockey program, a worthy cause.

Prowler Cindermen Tops in Tuesday Meet

Scoring heavily in the dash events and in the shot put and discus throw, coach Rod Max's Prowler track squad piled up a total of 111½ points to win the quadrangular track meet held here Tuesday night. Coach Tex Morgan's Warren Ponies with 56 points, were the runners-up. The Plummer Cardinals tallied 20 points for third place; and the Middle River Skippers, winning the pole vault scoring in the 440, the 880, and the broad jump, marked up 10½ points.

The Prowlers will enter the 31st district track and field tournament at Grand Forks on Saturday, May 21. The meet will be held in the Memorial stadium on the UND campus.

Karl Ekstrand, winning the high hurdles event, the first event on the program, gave the Prowlers an early lead. In the second event, the 100-yard dash, Gary Klungness was the winner, with Dale Wennberg and Paul Klungness tied for second place.

The Prowlers' classy 880 yard relay team of Gary and Paul Klungness, Roger Johnson, and Dale Wennberg ran the distance in 1:37.9, not too far off the district record mark of 1:37.2.

Other Prowler first place winners were Lloyd Ranum in the shot put and discus throw; Gary Klungness and Dale Wennberg who shared first place in the 220-yard dash; Dave Wangberg in the mile run; and Paul Klungness in the broad jump.

Warren's Bill Gilbert was the high point performer of the night, winning the high jump, the low hurdles, and the 440 yard dash, and scored a fifth in the 220 yard dash.

The summary:

Reservations Being Received for Annual Women's camp June 21

Homemakers in all Red River Valley counties are invited to attend the 35th annual Women's Camp to be held at Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, June 21-24. Registration will begin at 3 p.m. on Tuesday, June 21, and camp will officially close Friday afternoon, June 24, for "resident" campers.

Homemakers who cannot attend for the entire camp period are invited to take part in the "Day Camping" program to be held Thursday, June 23. There will be a general program and special demonstrations. The day campers are invited to attend the meetings as well as the evening program on that day. Meals may be secured at the camp for the "one day" if reservations are in at the school by June 3. Also, day campers are welcome to bring picnic lunches; coffee will be available for picnickers.

A varied program including crafts, special demonstrations, interesting speakers, and recreation has been arranged for the three-day "Homemakers' Holiday."

The cost for "resident" campers will be $10 for the camp period of June 21-24, which includes lodging and meals. Women who are interested in attending the Women's Camp may write to the Northwest Sachool of Agriculture, Crookston, Minn., for information or reservation.

The 1960 women's camp officers are Mrs. John Taus, Angus, president; Mrs. Albin M. Nelson, Kennedy, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Skolness, Glyndon, secretary; Mrs. C. H. Roholt, Mayville, N. D., treasurer; and Mrs. Wilfred Nelson, Thief River Falls, sergeant-at-arms.

Bob Farmes Cites Grouse Increase

More Sharptails Found in Koochiching and L. of Woods

Some good news for hunters of sharp tailed grouse was released this week by state game officials. Following a census in the northwest region of the state, Robert Farmes, area game manager, reports about a "25 per cent increase since last spring".

Considerable increases were recorded in the north central range (Koochiching and Lake of the Woods counties). Decreases were recorded over other parts of the northwestern range.

The decreases were noted where there are large acreages of soil bank lands and it is probably that the extensive cover on these lands prevented observers seeing the birds present.

While spring breeding populations appear to be up in general, there still remains the nesting and rearing season in which adverse weather could offset any present gains.

Game Law Arrests Increase in April

Fishing Law Violations Lead List of Offenses

Arrests for violation of the state game and fish laws continue to show an increase for the fourth consecutive month, reports Francis W. Johnson, Minnesota chief game warden.

Arrests in April totaled 181 as contrasted with 144 for a similar period last year. Fishing violations topped the list of infractions, with 131 making appearances in court. Transportation of loaded or uncased firearms in motor vehicles accounted for 16 arrests.

"We have noted increases in arrests since the beginning of the year," explained Johnson. "We plan no let up in our efforts to uncover violations. Beginning with the opening of the fishing season on Saturday, May 14, we will be conducting a relentless crackdown on license violators. Our special target will be non-resident anglers who purchase resident licenses. These people are depriving the state of much needed revenue when they don't pay the established fee for non-residents.

"We have also given our 5,000 or so license agents fair warning that they must check closely the identification of everyone purchasing a license. Our wardens will also be checking up on agents to see that they are complying with laws relating to the issuance of licenses. Agents who are found lax in handling licenses may find that the con-

Marshall 'Share the Fun' Festival Held in Newfolden

Three Acts Nominated for Consideration by District Committee

Happy Corner musical number, Plainview girls trio and a Plainview novelty number are the three acts nominated at the Marshall county 4-H Share the Fun festival to be submitted to the district audition committee. The county festival was held at the Newfolden school Saturday, May 16, reports Harlem Sandberg, 4-H club agent.

The Happy Corner musical number includes Judy Jensen, Paulette Halfmann, Crystal and Peter Schmidt, with Bonita Halfmann as accompanist. They sang a medley.

The Plainview trio includes Marlys and Arlene Wilmer and Joan Grundstrom. Sharon Anderson is accompanist. They sang "Harbor Lights" and "The Happy Wanderer."

Judy Peterson's novelty number was "Mockin' Bird Hill," which she sang and acted out. She is from the Plainview club.

Sixty three members took part in 29 acts from 11 clubs. Last year, 22 acts took part in the event.

Clubs which took part and the number of acts from each are as follows:

Gatzke Busy Beavers, 4; Cedar, 3; East Folden, 2; Woodland, 3; Comstock, 1; McCrea, 4; Boxville, 2; West Prairie, 3; Happy Corner, 4; Plainview, 3; Argyle Hustlers, 2.

Helen Dyrud of the East Folden club was emcee for the program.

Self judging was used. Each club taking part furnished one adult leader and one junior leader as judges. Each judge voted for three acts. The votes were tabulated and the three acts with the most votes have their names sent to the district audition committee which will select one or more acts to take part in the district auditions which will be July 20 at the Clearbrook high school.

About 250 people attended the festival.

"Moderation is the only virtue. The other so-called virtues are virtuous only in so far as they are joined with moderation. To be overcourageous is to be foolhardy. To be overthrifty is to be parsimonious. To be overloving is to be doting. To be too unselfish is to weary the world with the spectacle of your martyrdom. To give a child, a mate or a friend too much attention or too little is equally disastrous. Self-abnegation and self-glorification are both vices. To be too thoughtful is to be incapable of action, and to be over-active is self-defeating and likely prove to be fatal. Moderation is what counts."

—Charlton Ogburn, Jr.

Amazing Feat

As had been predicted, the Russians put a space ship into orbit a few days before the Summit meetings were scheduled to start. The propaganda value of that achievement was offset by the arrival home of the American atomic submarine at the end of an 83 days world underwater cruise.

The submarine had not surfaced during the entire cruise and navigation, we presume, was entirely by instruments. Groping around in the dark for so long a distance and getting the ship safely back to its destination was an amazing feat.

In its cruise the Triton established several new records. Being submerged 83 days, 10 hours and 15 minutes far exceeds the 60 day record set two years ago by the nuclear submarine, Seawolf. The 41,500 mile trip was longer by thousands of miles than the previous nuclear submarine voyages from Hawaii to the Atlantic by way of the North Pole.

No More Sassafras

For more than 80 years a popular beverage has had as one of its ingredients an oil made from sassafras roots. But federal health department officials suspect that this oil causes liver damage in laboratory rats and that it may therefore be harmful to human beings. The beverage bottlers have been ordered to quit using the oil.

We do not object. As a matter of fact we think the health authorities are to be commended for their moderation in issuing the order. There was no hysteria and no one was hurt. Science may some day prove that the doctors had guessed right.

In the meantime we are going to give up sassafras.

The Population Pattern

Minnesota population figures are now sufficiently complete to give us a fairly accurate picture of the general trend. There no longer is any question about growth of the metropolitan area and the decline in farm population.

Minnesota is a better state because of the growth of the metropolitan area. The industrial development in that area is not detrimental to us, and in some ways we benefit from that development. And a drop in farm population does not necessarily mean a decline in rural areas. Fewer farmers are producing more and have more per capita income. It would not be in the best interests of our area if we went back to quarter-section farms.

Our problem is to adjust our operations to a new set of facts. Yesterday is gone. We are living in the present but our planning must be for the future. And as we see the overall picture, we have every reason to look forward to the future hopefully.

The census figures do point up the need for concern in the outstate areas about the possibility of political domination of the state by the metropolitan area. It should now be clearer to all that if representation in the Legislature were to be apportioned strictly according to population, the metropolitan area would soon control both houses of the law making branch of the government. That would not be good for either the metropolitan or the outstate area.

It is the purpose of an amendment to the Constitution, to be voted on in the coming election, that would limit the five counties of the metropolitan area to 35 per cent of the membership of the Senate. That would mean that while the metropolitan area would control, and steadily increase its control of the House, the outstate area would always control the Senate.

This would provide a fair arrangement, similar to the pattern established for our federal Congress, in which all states, large or small, have equal voice in the United States Senate.

The amendment is in no sense partisan and should have the support of both parties.

Revive The UN?

Secretary-Genral Dag Hammarskjold of the United Nations is disturbed about the possibiltiy of that organization falling apart. He has expressed concern several times recently about the tendency to bypass the organization in various proposals for disarmament and international law enforcement. Such bypassing, he stated, could disrupt the development of an ordered world, perilously divide responsibilities for keeping the peace, and perhaps even lead to the disintegration of the UN itself.

There is justification for Mr. Hammarskjold's concern if we are to be concerned about the future of the United Nations as an agency to preserve peace. We hear little about the organization, and international problems are not being referred to it for consideration as they once were.

There no doubt are good reasons for this. One of the main reasons probably is the barrier that divides the free world from the Communist world and the conflicting views of these groups on some of the basic issues. The problems involved in the Summit meetings are problems that probably should be before the United Nations. But, it may be argued, if the Eastern and Western powers cannot adjust their differences at their private meetings there would be little chance of achieving harmony through United Nations debate.

This organization probably would not be able to stop a major war. It has proven to be an effective agency in controlling small wars. And there is always the danger that small wars may become big wars.

Under the circumstances, a serious effort should be made to revive interest in the organization. It has notable shortcomings but it does provide a common meeting place for the nations of the world and does encourage a better understanding of problems. Because it has not established perpetual peace throughout the world during the 15 short years of its existence, it should not be put on the shelf.

Vice President Nixon classifies himself as a conservative, and that is an interesting departure from established custom. He stresses the point that he is not a reactionary and is not opposed to government participation in programs that will make for progress. He does think however that the cost of any such program and how it is to be paid for must be taken into consideration. He favors fiscal responsibility. For most of the present generation this would be a novel idea but old timers can remember way back to when it was standard practice and, by gum, it worked.

Polio time is ahead of us again and now is a good time to have the youngsters immunized. We have it on good authority that there now are ample supplies of Salk vaccine.

Governor Nelson Rockefeller recently signed into law two legislative acts that will help solve the health insurance problems of the state's senior citizens. These laws require insurance companies to offer an individual policy to each retiring worker who has been protected by a group policy. No age limit will be permitted and the policies will be non-cancellable. This additional protection will require an additional premium but it does make the protection available at a group rate and that is the important thing. This is a step in the right direction.

Brazil coffee growers are giving serious consideration to a proposal that substandard coffee beans be destroyed by burning. Brazil supplies 42 per cent of the world's coffee but is burdened with a huge surplus that hangs over the market. American fruit growers destroy their surpluses and the program seems to have some merit. Brazil's problem is to get the other coffee producing countries to share in the cost of getting rid of that surplus.

A Profit for France

(Wall Street Journal)

The French government reports that France came out $1,500,000 ahead in its foreign dealings in 1959. This substantial profit is in sharp contrast to the balance-of-payments losses the country showed for the three previous years. Moreover, the black ink is directly attributable to the hard money policies adopted by Paris shortly after DeGaulle assumed power.

Balance of payments, you must remember, is the difference between a nation's public and private expenditures abroad and its total foreign receipts. It reflects not only how a country fared in the international marketplace but often how soundly that country is managing its money.

Before France devalued the franc and tightened its belt in December, 1958, the nation was beset by trotting inflation, gold hoarding, and balance-of-payments losses. Since then, Frenchmen and the world have regained confidence in France's currency and economic outlook.

The French experience is simply a repetition of history's oldest economic lesson. Sound money management is an important key to prosperity—for an individual, a business or a nation. Sadly, it is a lesson often ignored by politicians who, moved by election-year concern for the "needs of the people" or by an any-year philosophy of squanderlust, lead the country down the road to economic trouble. And, as France so well knows, the route back to solvency is all uphill.

Bonus March

(Washington Post and Times Herald)

Recently Maryland became the first state to apply formally for the "bonus" it is due to receive for enacting billboard regulations that meet federal standards. The percentage may be small—½ of 1 per cent of the total cost of interstate highway projects begun after 1956—but the amount Maryland may receive is scarcely negligible: between $2 and $3 million. Maryland ought to be proud that it is leading the way, and the check the state receives ought to speak eloquently about the rewards of virtue. The news of the bonanza will surely make it more difficult for other states to accept money for interstate highways but refuse the added dividend for protecting the new roads from encroachments.

Describes Ways to Prevent Brucellosis

Several cattle herds in Pennington county have had "miscarriages or fetal infections in the last year. A series of five articles have been prepared by County Agent Paul Reichenbach and Dr. Kenneth Hoff, veterinarian, to help with the problem. They will appear in the next several issues of the Times. Following is the second in the series.

How to Eradicate and Prevent Brucellosis

A. In Herd

1. Test herd with blood card serum agglutination method before purchasing new cattle for herd. Reactors will be identified by number. Buy only cattle from accredited herds. Accredited herds are those that have passed two negative tests at least 6 months apart. Calfhood vaccinates are considered negative reactors if vaccinated between 4 and 8 months of age.

2. Wear rubber gloves when aiding calving, farrowing, treating animal abscesses or castrating.

4. Handle aborted fetus with pitch fork and bury deep with quick lime.

5. Disinfect the stall, pitch fork and your boots with a disinfectant as directed. Disinfectants are sold in various strengths and should be used according to directions.

6. Protect hands with gloves during rough handling of livestock to avoid bruises and cuts or chafing.

7. Disinfect hands after butchering.

8. Handle meat as little as possible when preparing for the table.

B. In Livestock

Clean Herd.

There is no drug, chemical or medicinal compound that has been proven effective in treating Bang's disease.

Prevention is the answer.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Preventing the entrance of brucellosis into the healthy herd will stop the disease. This is done by sanitation, sterility and herd mile production.

How to Prevent:

1. Replacements or additions to the dairy herd should be made from herds that have passed a blood testing of all cattle before selling all cattle over six months old should go a long way in controlling the problem of infecting cattle. If you do not know the herd history, quarantine for 60 days and retest all newly purchased animals.

2. Isolate any aborting animal until a blood test can be made.

3. Place animal away from all other animals.

4. Separate implements such as forks and pails for feeding and watering should be used.

5. Keep clothing, coveralls, etc. for exclusive use on sick animals thoroughly with soap and water. Clean up the gutter, floor or overalls and wash soiled thoroughly with 3% cresylic disinfectant.

6. Aborted fetus and afterbirth should be burned or buried deeply in quicklime.

7. Care in which abortion occurred should be disinfected and ventilated.

8. Call the local veterinarian for a blood test. Contact the Livestock Sanitary Board to make a blood test in dairy cattle, one milk ring test for spot testing the herd.

9. Have hands and sheds with drainage facilities. Standing water is a source of contagion and should be removed.

10. Producers do not use non-A.I. sires.

If there are any bruzellosis in among the swine herd such as sterile boars, sterile sows, sterile stock hogs, ovitis, enlarged joints or deformed backs, the best procedure is to eliminate those showing these symptoms. Clean up the premises and blood test.

Spots of the U.S. have turned out more than 4.5 million nickel coins since 1956 when they were authorized.

School Patrol at Mound Gets Safety Award on May 25

Pennington County Will Receive Agriculture Safety Honor in St. Paul

One of the smallest schools in the state whose safety patrol program will be honored for outstanding work is the best operating system in Minnesota at the Annual Governor's Award Banquet of Minnesota Safety Council in the St. Paul Hotel Wednesday, May 25.

Our Lady of the Lake School at Mound will receive a bronze plaque and citation award signifying top honors in the Minnesota Educational Safety Patrol award program according to announcement made by Safety Council Director Harold Hjelle, state chairman.

The Industrial school of Mound was designated as finest by judges who studied the 1959-60 report, made personal inspection and observed the patrol in action and compared their operations with other public and parochial schools.

Receiving awards of merit in the program will be Lincoln school at Pennington county and Fairmont, Mansfield and Hibbing.

Following words of praise that the award is being presented, Hjelle said, "In an effort to improve the standards of school safety patrol work throughout the state, each of the six award were formulated and Hibbing.

Minnesota agricultural safety awards will also be presented by Governor Orville L. Freeman at the banquet.

Winning the top plaque award is Carver county, with awards of merit going to six other counties including Chisago, Goodhue, Olmsted, Stearns, St. Louis and Sherburne.

An individual award for outstanding performance in farm safety will be presented to Miss Audrey V. Tvinnereim, Jackson.

For the first time, the outstanding women's organizations of Minnesota, Minnesota Farm Women's Clubs award of merit will be presented to the Tuesday Women's Civic and Improvement club, Tower, Minnesota.

WILDLIFE in Minnesota

Our Minnesota warden service is learning to sell its wares. Following each conservation campaign, wardens are out in the stinking and in the well calculated to make epic that every fisherman out has a license, but has the feeling that he is supporting the game department by the purchase of every one of them.

During the winter I had a series of meetings throughout the state. Wardens were present at each meeting they declared a full-scale drive against lowlife violators should be their next move. The wardens then drew a committee of their number to see what we here were that successful drive. I was appointed chairman. In the past this committee has prepared a training manual entitled, "Strengthening the Fisherman's Line." You would be surprised at the number of fishermen who are interested in whether a fisherman is a resident or nonresident. These are the men for wardens only, and anyone requesting a copy could first be well under grave suspicion.

Another project now being readied to either strictly to the law. Fewer do not be annoyed when your agent asks for your identification when you buy a license. Only the fisherman will be revoked if he does not follow the law.

Minnesota's stock may many licenses but this year they will be issued on a three year basis. Fewer checks each one more thoroughly. Nonresidents will be required to get licenses in their homes when fishing—not in the car or in camps. Licenses will be sent out the year wardens will be on the job to check on them. Also the nonresident driver will be required to have a satisfactory coverage of certain fakes. There will be no advance notice of when and where these will be. We must realize that the real, and a full fishe school is a well calculated to make epic that every fisherman out has a license, but has the feeling that he is supporting the game department by the purchase of every one of them.

DRIVE COMET—AMERICA'S NEWEST COMPACT CAR

FIRST COMPACT CAR WITH FINE-CAR STYLING. Comet is the only compact with fine-car flair. The look of the Comet is distinctive—its proportions classic.

PRICED WITH OR BELOW THE OTHER COMPACTS. Though Comet gives you more car, it is priced with or below the other compact cars. Its ride has a big-car feel because of its longer wheelbase (114"—an average of 7" longer than the other compacts).

MANY EXTRAS THE OTHERS CHARGE EXTRA FOR are included in Comet's low, low price. Dual headlights, front and rear arm rests, door-operated dome light, a cigarette lighter, fine fabrics and handsome appointments are standard equipment.

STATION WAGONS, TOO! In addition to Comet's two- and four-door sedans there are two- and four-door station wagons with over 76 cubic feet for cargo space. See all of the Comets now at your Mercury-Comet dealer's.

CHEVROLET

The engine is Chevy's famous Thriftmaster 6!

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day. Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon . . . with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

Doubling of Twin City Area Traffic Foreseen by 1980

Population of Large Metropolitan Area May Hit 2,170,000 by 1980

By that year traffic in the area is predicted to nearly double its present volume of 2.4 million daily vehicle trips to 4.2 million.

The population of the 900 square mile metropolitan area is expected to soar from approximately 1,370,000 (1958 figure) to 2,170,000. This is expected to result in an additional 565,000 vehicles of all types for a total of 1,033,000 vehicles.

Predictions include travel expected to develop between all of the 387 traffic zones into which the area is divided for study purposes. Zones of high growth show increases of 1,000 or more vehicle trips daily. Such data indicates desired lines of travel where new transportation routes can be located to the best advantage.

Forecasts are based on data collected by a twin cities transportation study the department has been conducting since 1958. The study has collected information on present traffic volumes and routes of travel, on land use, population, vehicle ownership and all other factors affecting travel.

The purpose of forecasting future travel is to provide the Highway department with a basis for planning and designing an adequate highway and freeway system for the future. According to Stephen George, assistant director of the study, the forecasted data gives a reasonably true picture of 1980 traffic.

Soil Stewardship Week May 22 to 29

Agriculture Secretary Calls for Observance

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today called attention to National Soil Stewardship Week, May 22 to 29, and urged participation of all citizens because of the importance of soil and water resources to the nation's welfare.

Soil Stewardship Week, sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and various national church organizations, begins on Rural Life Sunday, May 22, and continues through May 29. The week is observed in thousands of communities by local soil conservation districts, churches, civic, farm, youth organizations and schools.

Secretary Benson said: "It is proper that townspeople and farmers join in this annual observance. The soil holds spiritual riches for all of us besides being the source of what we eat and wear. We see God's handiwork in each greening leaf and in brooks and springs."

"A kind Providence gave us the use and enjoyment of this choice land. We are its stewards with the right to use but not to waste or destroy. Without good soil and adequate water, life as we know it today and the living standards we enjoy would cease to exist. Since soil is a resource on which mankind depends, regardless of race, color, creed, or type of government, it may yet become the common ground on which the brotherhood of man may meet to develop a life of peace and security."

4-H Clubs to Note Rural Life Sunday

Observance Next Sunday to Center about Churches

Rural Life Sunday will be observed May 22 by Pennington county's 400 4-H'ers, according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

All of the county's 14 clubs are making special efforts to get 4-H'ers to participate in church activities next Sunday. Some clubs will aid ministers with their services, others will sing hymns, others will have special programs. All 4-H'ers are urged to attend the church of their choice on that day, and to take part in programs planned by the leaders.

Since ancient times, this Sunday, the fifth after Easter, has been set aside as a day for blessing the seed before planting. Rural Life Sunday is closely connected with Rogation Days celebrated for centuries in the Christian Church during the three days preceding Ascension Day. It was first observed interdenominationally in 1929 at the suggestion of the International Association of Agricultural Missions.

The second H in the 4-H clover stands for the heart, says Stelmaschuk. In keeping with Heart H, this Sunday emphasizes the spiritual values and character-building qualities of 4-H work.

Marshall Co. ASC Processing Wool Payments for '59

With the deadline now past to apply for payments in the national wool program for the 1959 marketing year, a total of 472 shorn wool and 369 pulled wool Marshall county growers have applied, according to A. E. Strandquist of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. The deadline for applications was May 2.

Applications received throughout the country will now be used in computing the rate of payment, after which payments will be made to growers through their ASC offices. Payments are expected to be made some time after July 1.

Under the wool program, payments are made at the percentage rate necessary to bring the national average farm price of wool up to 62 cents a pound, which is the announced incentive level. For 1958, the payment rate was 70.3 per cent for shorn wool and $1.02 per hundredweight on unshorn lambs.

Bemidji College Graduation May 29

Nearly 300 Students Will Receive Diplomas

Dr. Harvey M. Rice, president of Macalester college, St. Paul will be the commencement speaker at Bemidji State college Sunday, May 29, at 8 p.m.

The address by Dr. Rice will highlight the day of commencement services which will begin with baccalaureate rites at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Thomas Smatla, pastor of First Presbyterian church of Bemidji, being the speaker.

After baccalaureate services, the president and faculty of Bemidji State college will entertain parents, guests and graduates at a tea in Birch hall.

Presiding at the ceremonies will be Dr. C. R. Sattgast, BSC president. Herbert E. Olson, resident director of the state college board, will introduce Roland Muller of Windom, director at large, who will present diplomas to nearly 300 members of the class of 1960.

The college will grant master of science degrees to 14 students, bachelor of science degrees to 257 students, bachelor of arts degrees to 14, three year provisional certificates to four students and associate in arts degrees to five students.

The title of the commencement address by Dr. Rice will be "Horizons Unlimited." The Rev. Smatla will talk on "An Attitude Toward Learning."

Seeding Bee Held on Wyandotte Farm

Crew of 36 Men Put in Crop for Morris Johnson

A group of 36 men equipped with 16 tractors and six trucks assembled Sunday at the Morris Johnson farm in Wyandotte township, and put in about 60 acres of crops for Mr. Johnson, who had recently been incapacitated. A large number of women contributed food and helped serve it to the workers.

Contributors to the lunch included the Hartz and Piggly-Wiggly supermarkets and Community Dairy of this city, and DuChamp Bros., the Co-op store and Heavens of Plummer.

Gas and diesel fuel were supplied by Midland Co-op and grease by the Standard Oil Co., both of TRF, while seed was furnished by Peterson Biddick Co. and Osborne McMillan of this city and the Plummer elevator and Hilman Flaten of Plummer.

Waterfowl Status 'Good' at Mud Lake

Ducks and Geese Plentiful on Refuge, Dill Reports

"The spring migration of waterfowl at the Mud Lake National Wildlife Refuge was good," states Herb Dill, refuge manager.

Supplementary feed was heavily utilized by the early migrants. Approximately 1500 bushels of grain was fed just before the ice went out. This grain was completely cleaned up by ducks and Canada geese.

The breeding population of both ducks and geese is equal to last year's record number, and, in some cases, surpasses it. An increase in redheads was noted with mallards about the same.

Canada geese have been incubating since early May and the prospect is for a successful hatch. Nesting by all species will be in full swing by the latter part of this month, Dill said.

French traders and missionaries settled in Wisconsin in abou 1670.

The truths that fill our minds, the ideals that mold our character, the purposes to which our courage is given, the realities in which we believe; these can fill our lives with rich beauty and happiness or drab ugliness and sorrow.

For centuries, the Church has been the maestro of these strings of life — helping men to bring from their own souls the harmony and beauty God has put there.

You can find music in everyday living through participation in the work of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
